

1: INTRODUCTION

Welcome to a universe with endless possibilities.

In the Star Trek Customizable Card Game, you will venture into the final frontier. Using cards representing personnel, ships, missions, events, and more from the Star Trek universe, you will complete missions to score 100 points and win the game.

But beware! If your ships and crews aren't being torn apart by the natural (and unnatural) hazards of deep space, your rivals will be one step behind you, undermining you at every turn, profiting from your losses, and even engaging in open warfare against you — determined to reduce you to one more footnote in galactic history books. Get ready to Boldly Go Where No One Has Gone Before!

ABOUT THIS GAME (1.1)

"It took us centuries to learn it doesn't have to take centuries to learn."

—Anij

Most card games have just one deck of cards that never changes, but a Customizable Card Game (or CCG) works differently. In a CCG, you construct your own playing deck using cards from your collection. In this game, you and another player establish a shared universe, where you each establish operational bases, deploy ships and personnel, and complete missions in order to score points.

Copyright Notice: Printing cards (1.1.0.2)

Printed cards are for personal use only, and absolutely may not be bought or sold for profit under any circumstances. Everyone associated with the Star Trek CCG supports and protects CBS/Paramount's intellectual property!

Tip: First vs. Second Edition (1.1.0.1)

From 2003 to 2006, Decipher produced a brand new Star Trek card game, called simply the "Star Trek Customizable Card Game (Second Edition)". This was a completely different game, and you should be careful when buying from wholesalers to make sure that you are buying cards from the correct Star Trek CCG. The two games are commonly referred to as "1E" and "2E", respectively. Like 1E, 2E is maintained today by the Continuing Committee, and you can find more information about it at the Committee's website.

Some older cards, like Daniel Kwan, include a gray bar in the bottom left corner. This "converted card indicator" indicates a card's relationship with a corresponding "backwards-compatible" card from 2E. Backwards compatibility is no longer supported, so this indicator is no longer used.

The Star Trek Customizable Card Game (First Edition) is a universe of over 4200 different cards, representing people, places, events, equipment, missions, and more from Gene Roddenberry's Star Trek universe.

This game was published on physical cards by Decipher, Inc. from 1994 until 2003. You can still purchase many of the cards Decipher produced at specialty gaming stores or online wholesalers.

Since 2009, the Star Trek CCG has been produced and organized by the volunteers of The Continuing Committee. The Continuing Committee (CC) regularly releases new sets.

You may print copies of any and all cards on your home printer. Printed cards are legal in tournament play. (They must be sleeved and backed by a physical card.) New players should consider printing one of the CC's virtual starter decks, available on their website, for a quick way to jump into a game using a pre-constructed, competitive deck.

While even a single virtual starter deck is competitive in today's game, additional cards unlock more options and new ways to play. Download, print, purchase, and trade cards in order to Expand Your Power in the Universe!

ABOUT THIS RULEBOOK (1.2)

"You can't play a foolie without rules. Even Grups ought to know that."

—Miri

This rulebook explains the generally applicable rules of the Star Trek CCG (1E).

The companion to this rulebook is the Glossary. The Glossary is available at the CC's website, and includes many rulings and clarifications related to specific cards and terms. If the rulebook and the Glossary ever conflict, the Glossary is correct.

Tip: This Is The Compendium (1.1.0.-1)

You are currently viewing the Compendium, which automatically merges the Rulebook and the Glossary into a single document. To find the Glossary, just scroll to the bottom.

The Compendium has all sidebars open by default, for ease of ctrl-F searching.

Keep in mind a few things as you begin:

The Borg: Special Rules (1.2.0.3)

Several special rules apply only to the  Borg affiliation. Borg rules are explained throughout this rulebook in sidebars like this one. For reference, there is also a Borg Rules Sheet, which puts all those sidebars together in one place.

Formats: Modern, Traditional, and Open Rules (1.2.0.2)

This rulebook describes the game's current rules ("Modern" rules).

Some players prefer using "Traditional" rules, the official rules as of July 7th, 2006 (the day Decipher released The Enterprise Collection). Others prefer "Open" rules, a compromise between Traditional and Modern.

This rulebook fully describes Open rules in blue sidebars (like this one). Open players do not need to refer to any other document.

If playing Traditional, disregard this rulebook. The definitive rules documents for Traditional are Glossary 1.8 and CRD 7/14/03. These should be used instead. To see all differences between Traditional and Modern, consult the Rule Change Viewer. The Rules Committee does not issue updates, rulings, or clarifications for Traditional rules.

"Modern" was previously known as "Official Tournament Format" ("OTF").

Tip: Try the Basic Rulebook (1.2.0.1)

This is a comprehensive rulebook for the Star Trek CCG. It covers the basics, but it also delves into advanced subjects and some pretty detailed minutiae. If you're a new player, that's a lot to take on, especially in one sitting.

You might want to try the Basic Rulebook instead. The Basic Rulebook is simply an abridged edition of the Complete Rulebook, explaining the core gameplay but leaving out the more "fringe" parts of the game (like Sites and infiltration) so you can jump in and start playing your first game faster.

And don't worry — once you've read the Basic Rulebook, you can quickly and easily digest the rest of the rules by reading the Advanced Rulebook, which covers everything the Basic Rulebook left out.

- Allow a couple hours to read the rules, and a few more to play your first game. What seems complicated in the beginning becomes quite natural in subsequent games. This game aims to allow you to do virtually anything in the Star Trek universe; it takes a little practice and patience to master its infinite possibilities.
- You don't have to memorize what each card does. Usually, using written information and a handful of important icons, the cards themselves explain what you can do with them.
- A specific rule overrides a more general rule, and a card's specific text overrides an otherwise applicable rule.
- Throughout the rulebook, sidebars contain in-depth discussion of certain topics. (Or, if you're feeling very daring, expand them all by clicking here: .) If this is your first time reading the rules, ignore the sidebars, except for the green "tips" sidebars, which are written for novices. Most other sidebars discuss complications and ambiguities in the rules, and should be absorbed gradually over the course of many games.
- The various rule documents, the rulesmaster, your local tournament directors, and the CC forums are always available to answer your rules questions. If you want a definitive answer, you can always find it, usually from an enthusiastic player.
- That said, if you and your gaming partners need to resolve a rules dispute quickly, especially during a casual game, try applying a little "Trek Sense": if this were an episode of Star Trek (or, if you're not familiar with Star Trek, the science fiction of your choice), how do you and your gaming partner think the situation should resolve? Look at it in the friendly spirit of Gene Roddenberry's vision of the future, then proceed with the game.

2: THE CARDS

ODO: I don't play cards.

QUARK: I'll teach you. It's a very simple game.

ODO: Let me put it another way. I don't want to play cards. And even if I did, I wouldn't want to play with you.

QUARK: Afraid you'd lose?

—"The Ascent"

There are seventeen card types in the Star Trek CCG, some of which you'll use in every game, and others which you'll rarely see. The following pages are a brief overview of the card types .

Clarifications: Double-Sided Cards (2.0.1)

Double-sided cards in a face down deck or pile are considered face down. (See Looking At Cards.) When you seed or play a double-sided card, and both sides are seedable/playable, you choose which side will be face up initially.

The cards feature many different icons. Some have built-in gameplay functions, which will be explained in this rulebook. Other icons are only referenced by other cards; they are explained in the icon legend at the end of this rulebook.

MISSIONS (2.1)

Every player begins the game with exactly 6 missions. Missions represent locations within the cosmos. Each mission has a span, representing the distance that must be traveled to visit or pass this location. Some missions are Planets, where personnel and equipment can beam down to the surface. Others are Space missions, where everyone remains aboard their ships.

Clarifications: Dual-Icon Missions (2.1.0.1)

A few missions are Dual-Icon — that is, they are both planet and space missions.

Most missions also define a goal, in which case they show which affiliations may attempt the mission, usually through affiliation icons. They also have requirements, which state what skills are needed to accomplish the mission, and a point box, specifying the number of points a player receives for completing the mission. If a player completes at least one Planet mission, one Space mission, and scores 100 points, that player wins the game.

Clarifications: Two Kinds of Attemptability Icon (2.1.0.3)

The "regular" attemptability icons (🌐, 🏠, etc.) and the "summary" attemptability icons (📋, 📋, etc.) are normally equivalent. For example, if a card plays on "a 🏠 mission," you can seed it at a mission with a 🌐 or 🏠 icon facing you. (Remember: you ignore your opponent's end.)

However, when a card uses both the "regular" and "summary" icon, it is overriding the general rule and instructing you to look at (or alter) both ends of the mission. For example, when Cold Station 12 seeds "at a 🌐 or 🏠 mission," it may seed at your opponent's Intercept Dignitary, even though a 🌐 icon only faces your opponent.

Tip: Homeworlds (2.1.0.2)

A few missions state in their lore that they are the homeworld for their affiliations. For example, the location of Alter Records is Bajor, which, as the lore states, is the Bajoran homeworld. Homeworlds are used by many cards, and including your affiliation's homeworld in your deck can be an excellent strategic move. "Homeworld" is a characteristic, and every homeworld is listed at the end of this Rulebook.

The opponent's side of the mission contains a convenient mission summary. However, the information on the opponent's end may be different from the information on your end. You may only use (or alter) the requirements, gametext, attemptability, point box, and span facing you, ignoring the corresponding information on opponent's end (and vice versa).

Both players' missions are played together in a row called the "spaceline," representing locations in one quadrant of the galaxy. If missions belong to different quadrants, each quadrant has a single, separate spaceline. All spacelines, together, form the shared universe you and your opponent inhabit during the game.

A dilemma is a problem or obstacle personnel must face when attempting to complete a mission. They are your main tools for preventing your opponent from solving missions and scoring points. They are placed under missions at the beginning of the game, to be discovered later. 🌐 Planet dilemmas can be encountered only at planet missions. 🌌 Space dilemmas can be encountered only at space missions. 🗺️ Dual dilemmas may be encountered at any mission.

ARTIFACTS (2.3)

Artifacts represent rare and precious objects with special powers. They are discovered at Planet locations during mission attempts, and can only be earned by completing the mission. Some are then kept as equipment, some play on the table as events, and others are placed in your hand for later use.

Clarifications: Earning & Using Artifacts (2.3.0.1)

You earn (or acquire) an Artifact when you complete the mission where it was found. You may only play or use the gametxt of an Artifact that you have earned. You may not replay an Artifact that has left play without earning it again. When a card, such as Reclamation or James Tiberius Kirk's Special Download icon, specifically permits you to play and use an artifact, that artifact is earned.

EVENTS, INCIDENTS, & OBJECTIVES (2.4)

Events and Incidents represent developments within the universe. Objectives represent tasks you may complete, usually for points or some other benefit. Although they have different names, they all function the same way. While most events, incidents, and objectives have lasting effects, a few say to discard them after use.

Borg Rule: Objectives, Not Missions (2.4.0.2)

Unlike other affiliations, the  Borg do not score points by solving missions, but by completing Objectives. (See   Borg-Only Objectives.)

Tip: What's the Difference? (2.4.0.1)

The difference between Events and Incidents is that incidents are harder for your opponent to nullify. Likewise, the difference between Incidents and Objectives is the concept they represent; they are otherwise used in exactly the same manner.

The "real" reason there are three such similar card types is because Decipher launched the game with Events, but, over the years, discovered that the Events gametext box was not big enough for some of the cards they wanted to design. Incidents are also used in lieu of Events to avoid interacting with certain cards (such as Quinn).

DOORWAYS (2.5)

 Doorways represent a physical door or a passage to another time or place. They open up side decks, link different spacelines together, allow special cards to be played, and more. Most doorways are seeded (they enter play before the game begins), but many doorways can be played during your turn.

INTERRUPTS (2.6)

 Interrupts represent sudden developments or unexpected changes of fortune in the universe. Unlike other card types, Interrupts can be played at any time between other actions — even during your opponent's turn! Interrupts normally have a short-lived effect, and they are automatically discarded after use (unless the card says otherwise).

PERSONNEL (2.7)

Personnel are your primary resource in the race to one hundred points. Personnel solve missions, face dilemmas, staff ships, and fight battles. All personnel have an affiliation (see the list of affiliations). Cards from different affiliations do not normally work together, so you will probably have cards from only one or two affiliations in your deck.

All personnel have attributes (STRENGTH, INTEGRITY, and CUNNING), a single classification (OFFICER, ENGINEER, MEDICAL, SCIENCE, SECURITY, V.I.P., CIVILIAN, or ANIMAL), and one or more skills.

Many personnel also have characteristics, such as human, female, admiral, cook, bodyguard, and many more. For example, Benjamin Sisko is a human, a male, the commander of Deep Space 9, the Emissary of the Prophets, a cook, and a friend.

EQUIPMENT (2.8)

Equipment cards represent portable tools and other devices. Your personnel carry Equipment to add skills, improve attributes, or do things they otherwise would not be able to do. Like personnel, equipment often have characteristics.

SHIPS (2.9)

Ships move your personnel and equipment around the universe. You also need ships to attempt space missions. Like personnel, ships have affiliations and characteristics (such as class). They have attributes (RANGE, WEAPONS, and SHIELDS), and some have special equipment (like Tractor Beam or Cloaking Device) or abilities (like the I.K.S. Pagh's extra Tactic draw). Ships also have staffing requirements.

Clarifications: Special Equipment (2.9.0.1)

There is a full list of special equipment at the end of this Rulebook.

Regular transporters (which all ships have unless otherwise specified), special downloads, and other game text on the ship card, usually expressed as a sentence with a period, are not special equipment. For example, the U.S.S. Stargazer's text ("Once each game, may be taken from discard pile to hand.") is not special equipment.

FACILITIES (2.10)

Facilities are installations throughout the universe. Your ships, personnel, and equipment typically enter play at one of your facilities. Facilities are usually well-shielded, and can extend their shields to friendly ships that dock at them. There are three main facility types:

Tip: Facility Types Aren't Card Types (2.10.0.1)

Outposts, Headquarters, and Stations are not separate card types. They are all Facilities.

- Outposts are operational bases on the frontiers of known space. Only the player who controls an outpost may use it, and only Outposts have built-in docking and repair functions.
- Headquarters are the centers of government located on each affiliation's homeworld. If both players are playing the same affiliation, they share control of its headquarters.
- Stations represent all other facilities. Like Outposts, only the player who controls a Station may use it. Each Station card specifies where it plays and what it can do.

SITES (2.11)

The diagram shows a 'SCHOOLROOM' facility card. Red arrows point from labels to specific parts of the card: 'Card Title' points to the title 'SCHOOLROOM'; 'Gametext' points to the main text block; 'Supported Facility/ies' points to the bottom bar showing 'Deep Space 9'; 'Expansion Icon' points to the icon in the top right corner; 'Facility Level' points to the '54 V' indicator; and 'Collectors' Info' points to the bottom bar showing 'Ops Module 1 Promenade 1 Habitat Ring 1 Docking Ring'.

Sites represent areas within facilities where personnel can report for duty, perform tasks, and interact. At present, sites are used only on Nor-type stations.

Clarifications: Facilities Contain Their Sites (2.11.0.1)

Anything at a site, including special equipment, is also at the facility the site is aboard, but not at the facility's other sites. For example, if Colonel Kira is at Commander's Office on Deep Space 9, she can be killed by Symbolene Blood Burn targeting Deep Space 9. If Docking Ports (which has a Tractor Beam) is on Alliance Nor, Alliance Nor has a Tractor Beam, but Guest Quarters does not.

Although usually seeded, Sites can be stocked in your draw deck. Playing one uses your normal card play.

TIME LOCATIONS (2.12)

The Star Trek: Customizable Card Game is set in the latter half of the 24th Century. Time locations represent important places in the past or future.

Time Locations are not part of the spaceline.

Time locations are usually seeded before the game starts, but, if you do play one, it uses your normal card play. Getting to and from Time Locations requires a special form of movement called Time Travel.

Every unique time location is paired with a spaceline location named in its lore. For example, Camp Khitomer states that it is located on 2293 Khitomer, so it is paired with the mission Khitomer Research, which states that its location is 24th-Century Khitomer. A time location may only seed or play if its corresponding spaceline location (if any) is in play. (Universal time locations have no corresponding spaceline location.)

TACTICS (2.13)

Tactics are side deck cards — they may play only through a Battle Bridge side deck, which requires a Battle Bridge Door. Tactic cards increase your offensive and/or defensive abilities during ship battles, and double as damage markers, doling out penalties to enemies who cannot withstand your firepower.

TRIBBLES & TROUBLES (2.14)

Tribbles and Troubles are side deck cards — they may play only through a Tribble side deck, which requires a Storage Compartment Door. They are designed to impede (and irritate) your opponent by burying his or her operations under piles of adorable, unstoppable tribbles. Tribble groups start small, then breed into larger and larger groups. Troubles play on large groups of tribbles and add even more complications, making life very difficult for your opponent!

Tip: Tribbles CCG (2.14.0.1)

Tribble side decks are rarely used today, but Tribbles are also used for a Decipher game called Tribbles CCG. Almost every tournament group will invite players to a couple hands of this quick, casual Uno-like game between rounds or after the tournament is over. For more information about the Tribbles CCG, visit the CC website.

Q-ICON CARDS (2.15)

 Q-icon cards are side deck cards — they may be stocked only through a Q-Continuum side deck, which requires a Q-Flash, and are drawn out through other cards, like Q: Enter the Supernova. Q's meddling creates all kinds of cosmic chaos... for both players!  icon cards have a normal card type, such as Event or Dilemma. For example, a  Event is still an  Event, and may be nullified by Kevin Uxbridge.

BANNED CARDS (2.16)

The Continuing Committee maintains an Official Ban List, updated on the first Monday of every month. Banned cards may not be included in your deck.

Open Rules: The Only Ban

Under Open Rules, the only banned card is Raise the Stakes. Other cards may be stocked and played. If playing Open, you would be well-advised to include many of the cards from the Modern ban list, since they are extremely powerful!

3: BUILDING A DECK

Your Star Trek CCG game deck consists of a seed deck of up to 30 cards, plus a draw deck of at least 30 cards. Your seed deck consists of the cards you play during the game setup, while your draw deck consists of the cards you will play during the main game. You may also use any number of side decks, if you include the doorways to open them in your seed deck.

Borg Rule: Non-B Borg Cards in Your Deck (3.0.1)

A player using any B Borg Use Only or B-affiliation cards may not stock any non-B-affiliation Personnel, Ships, or Facilities in any part of his or her deck. There are no exceptions: a player under this restriction may not use former Borg drones such as One (who is N Non-Aligned), or even use a Mission card that happens to have a built-in non-B outpost. The Borg are a perfect organism, and the Collective has no tolerance for intermingling with those creatures who are not part of its perfection.

SEED DECK (3.1)

Your seed deck contains the cards you will use before the first turn. Your seed deck will probably include Dilemmas and Facilities, and might include Artifacts, Doorways, and other cards that state they may be seeded. You may include as many copies of each card as you like, as long as the total size of your seed deck is no larger than 30 cards.

Tip: A Typical Seed Deck (3.1.0.2)

A "typical" seed deck consists of 6 missions, 18-24 dilemmas, 1-2 facilities, a Q's Tent or Q's Tent: Civil War, 1-3 other doorways, and an assortment of objectives, incidents, and events. Some of the perennials in that last category are Defend Homeworld, Assign Mission Specialists, Continuing Mission, and Tribunal of Q. New players are advised to pad their dilemmas, rather than skim on them; only a handful of experts have ever won a tournament with 12 dilemmas or fewer.

Clarifications: Unique Seed Cards (3.1.0.1)

A seed card marked as "unique", such as Dead End, may technically be seeded more than once, but — like all unique cards — only one copy may be in play at any given time. If a second copy of the same card played by the same player is encountered, earned, or activated while the first is still in play, the second copy is immediately discarded.

Exception: Dilemma Seed Limit

No more than two copies of any single card may be seeded under Missions during the seed phase.

Alongside your seed deck, you must bring a mission pile, and you may bring a site pile. These are separate from the seed deck, and they do not count toward its 30-card limit. (You may not include Missions or Sites in your 30-card seed deck.)

Open Rules: No Dilemma Seed Limit (3.1.0.3)

The Dilemma Seed Limit rule does not apply under Open Rules. Open-format decks may seed any number of copies of the same dilemma.

MISSION PILE (3.1.1)

Your mission pile must include exactly 6 missions. Each of your missions must be at a different location. For example, Study Rare Phenomenon and Attack at Rare Phenomenon have the same location ("Compression anomaly"). Therefore, you cannot use both in your deck.

Exception: ♠ Universal Missions

If a mission has the ♠ universal symbol, like Analyze Radiation, you may include multiple copies.

SITE PILE (3.1.2)

Your optional site pile includes up to 6 site cards.

Tip: Sites Without A Nor (3.1.0.4)

Sites only seed or play on Nors, such as Terok Nor. However, even if you do not have a Nor in your deck, you may want to bring some Site cards. If your opponent seeds a Nor, you can put your sites on that! Otherwise, your sites are placed out-of-play at the end of the Facility Phase.

If you think you might want to board an opponent's Nor, you should include at least one docking site that fits your ships, in case your opponent doesn't include any -- and maybe an Ops or Ops: Mirror Universe, in case you want to commandeer it!

DRAW DECK (3.2)

Your draw deck may be of any size, as long as it contains at least 30 cards. You may put any card in your draw deck, except  Tactic,  Tribble,  Trouble, and  Q-Icon cards. However, you should avoid cards that must be seeded rather than played, such as  Dilemmas and  Artifacts, since you will normally have no way of using them if stocked in your draw deck. You may include as many copies of each card as you like.

Tip: There Is No Card Limit (3.2.0.1)

Most CCGs, like Magic: the Gathering, Pokemon, and Star Trek Second Edition, place a limit on how many copies of a single card you can have in the deck. Not the Star Trek CCG. Many decks include 6, 10, or (in a handful of "stunt decks") as many as 100 copies of certain cards, ensuring that even the most unlucky shuffle will still draw out a few copies early in the game.

SIDE DECKS (3.3)

Your side decks are optional additional decks separate from your seed deck and draw deck. Each side deck is shuffled and placed face-down on the table. It must be opened by a Doorway card during the seed phase. Cards in your side decks are not seed cards and do not count toward the 30-card seed limit. (However, the Doorway cards that open them are seed cards and do count.) While you may have as many side decks in a game as you like, you may have only one side deck of each type (one Battle Bridge side deck, one Q-Continuum side deck, one Q's Tent side deck, etc.).

Clarifications: Side Deck Draws (3.3.0.2)

Whenever you "draw" a card from a side deck, it is not defined as a card draw for purposes of cards affecting card draws (for example, Subspace Schism).

Tip: Q's Tent & Dyson Sphere as Download Warehouses (3.3.0.1)

You will quickly realize that most people who use Q's Tent side decks do not stock a single copy of Q's Tent in their draw decks. This is counter-intuitive. At first glance, without more copies of Q's Tent, there is no way to get cards out of the side deck, right? But this assumption is wrong.

Many cards allow players to download other cards into play, and many players rely on downloads early in the game to get their ships and personnel on the table. A player can download from a Q's Tent to get a desired card into play. Why not stock these cards in the draw deck, then, and save yourself the seed slot? Because players already know they are going to get these cards into play early on, and do not want to risk wasting valuable card draws getting them into their hands only to download them immediately. Q's Tent is like an offshore tax haven — you can get your downloadable cards into play without risking the tax on your card draws — and they are a worthwhile investment for most decks.

The Dyson Sphere Door dilemma side deck, which also makes little sense at first glance, is also based on downloading, taking advantage of seeded cards like All Available Personnel and I'm Not Going To Fight You to get its contents into play.

Unless the enabling doorway states otherwise, your side decks may be of any size.

4: THE SEED PHASES

"Ah, the game's afoot, eh?"

—General Chang

The Star Trek CCG begins with four seed phases, in which players establish the universe, followed by the play phase, in which players take alternating turns until one player wins.

Clarifications: Cards (4.0.1)

If you wish to play cards with the  Alternate Universe icon during this game, you should seed a card during one of the seed phases that allows you to play them.

The most common  enabling cards are doorways like Alternate Universe Door or Temporal Conduit, but you can also use cards like Seal Rift and Where No Man Has Gone Before. The enabling card must use the icon in the context of enabling the report: for example, Marlena Moreau has an  icon, and a special download of Classic Tricorder, which is an  card, but the download does not reference the icon, and so does not overcome this restriction.

You do not need an -enabling doorway to report  personnel to Time Locations where they are "native". Thus, for example, if you are playing an all- deck, you may seed Sherman's Planet and Agricultural Assessment, report all your ships, personnel, and equipment there, and never be forced to play an  doorway. However, the moment you put a single non-  in your deck, be it Ressikian Flute or T'Pol, you will need a doorway or some other means of getting that card in play.

 cards already in play or already seeded are unaffected by closed or discarded doorways. If the doorway is closed (or has been discarded) when a legally seeded  card is encountered, the  card still has its normal effect. However, if an earned  artifact goes to your hand, you do need an open doorway to play it later.

The  icon originally meant "Alternate Universe", and is referred to as the "AU" icon. However, as the game evolved, it came to encompass all cards from the past, from possible futures, and from various delusions (such as Barash's illusion). A separate mechanic was eventually devised for the cards from the Star Trek's most iconic alternate universe, the  Mirror Universe, and so they generally do not have the  icon.

The seed phases use your seed deck to "set the stage" for your adventure. Don't confuse them with mere setup, though! Victory or defeat often hinges on decisions you make in the seed phases.

Clarification: Seed Phase Actions (4.0.2)

The only actions you may take during the seed phases are:

1. seeding cards;
2. carrying out immediate game text on a just-seeded card (for example, rotating Rura Penthe upon seeding Operate Dilithium Gulag); and
3.  Special Downloads.

All other actions, including "at any time" actions, must wait until the play phase begins. You cannot draw cards without a hand.

If a seeded card (such as Assign Mission Specialists or Ultimatum) permits a download, and it is not limited to the play phase with a phrase like "in place of a card draw" or "once per game", then that download must occur immediately. Cards downloaded in this way are stocked in your draw deck or side deck, not your seed deck. They are not seed cards and do not count toward your 30-card seed limit.

There are four seed phases that occur in sequence. Each card type should seed in its corresponding phase:

1. Doorway Phase: Doorway cards
2. Mission Phase: Mission cards
3. Dilemma Phase: Dilemma and Artifact cards
4. Facility Phase: All other card types (including Facility cards)

Seed a card by placing it face-up on the spaceline or table; it is now in play. However, cards seeded under a mission, and any card with a  Hidden Agenda icon, always seed face-down. Face-down cards are not considered "in play" until encountered or activated. You do not have to announce the title of cards seeded face-down, but your opponent may count them, or require you to announce how many face-down cards you have seeded, whenever he or she chooses.

A card with the  Alternate Universe icon may only be seeded if a card (such as Alternate Universe Door; see sidebar) expressly allows you to seed  cards.

Determine by any mutually agreeable method (often a coin toss) which player will be the starting player. The starting player will go first in each of the seed phases, and will have the first turn of the play phase. Then, shuffle any side decks you have and proceed to the first seed phase. The game has now begun.

DOORWAY PHASE (4.1)

"We exist in a universe which co-exists with a multitude of others in the same physical space. At certain brief periods of time, an area of their space overlaps an area of ours."

—Mr. Spock

Both players simultaneously seed their Doorways on the table. Then, starting with the player who will go first, each player announces the title of all cards he or she seeded face-up.

Open Rules: Alternating Seeds (4.1.0.1)

Under Open Rules, instead of playing their cards simultaneously, players during the Doorway Phase alternate playing cards one at a time, beginning with the starting player. Either player may say "pass" at any time, and, as soon as both players pass, the phase immediately ends — even if either player still has cards they wish to seed in it.

MISSION PHASE (4.2)

"In this galaxy, there's a mathematical probability of three million Earth-type planets. And in all of the universe, three million, million galaxies like this."

—Dr. McCoy

In this phase, you and your opponent create one or more lines of Mission cards, called spacelines, representing different quadrants of the galaxy. Each spaceline functions like a gameboard where your cards move and interact. Each card that is part of a spaceline is a separate location.

Every Mission card states its native quadrant in the lower-right corner: Gamma Quadrant missions have the  symbol, Delta Quadrant missions , Mirror Quadrant missions , and Alpha Quadrant missions have no symbol.

Both players shuffle their six missions and place them in a pile face-down. The starting player draws the top mission from his or her pile and places it face up on the table, beginning the first spaceline. The second player then draws and places his or her first mission.

A mission may be placed on either end of the appropriate spaceline. If it is the first mission in the quadrant, it is placed on a new spaceline, separate from the others. Cards that specify they are inserted into the spaceline may be placed anywhere in their native quadrant, including between two missions already seeded. If a spaceline location is placed in a quadrant other than its native quadrant (like  Nebula), it becomes part of that quadrant, gaining (or losing) the appropriate quadrant icon. This continues until both players are finished.

Some cards specify that they are part of a region, such as the "Bajor region" or the "Neutral Zone region". These cards must be next to each other, forming a single, contiguous region within the quadrant. The first location in a region is placed normally. Subsequent locations within that region may be inserted into the spaceline at either end of the region.

Clarifications: Inserting Into a Region (4.2.0.1)

Some cards, such as Gaps in Normal Space, Blade of Tkon, and Space, allow non-regional locations to be inserted between regional locations. When a spaceline location is inserted between two other locations that are part of the same region, it becomes part of that region (losing any region it already has).

If two players seed the same location in the same quadrant, it becomes a shared mission. The first version to appear is seeded normally, but the second version is placed on top of the original, wherever it is on the spaceline, leaving half of the original exposed. The two missions form only one location and may be completed only once. Each player uses only their own mission card for gameplay purposes; players may not use the "opponent's end" of their opponents' mission card at a shared mission. For example, if you seed Aftermath and then your opponent seeds Aftermath II, they are the same location ("Lifeless Planet") in the same quadrant ( Delta). Place Aftermath II atop Aftermath; both players may attempt it. If you solve it first, you get 35 points; if your opponent solves it first, he or she gets only 30 points.

Tip: "Spaceline End" Isn't a New Location (4.2.0.4)

A "spaceline end" is just the last location at either end of the spaceline. When you play a card at "spaceline end," like Transwarp Network Gateway, it plays at the current spaceline end; it doesn't create a new location.

Clarifications: Shared Missions are Both Players' (4.2.0.3)

Since "your" missions are the ones you seeded, and since both players seeded any shared mission location, a shared mission is both "your mission" and "opponent's mission" for cards like Warrior's Birthright and Issue Secret Orders.

Clarifications: Built-In Cards ("Mission II") (4.2.0.2)

Some missions, like Secret Salvage II, have other cards "built in" to them. Such missions are called "Mission II"s, and are always two-sided. See Double-Sided Cards.

Mission II's are usually elaborations of a different mission card. A Mission II and its original function as the same card (for most purposes) under The Colon Rule. Thus, Timicin scores 10 points for solving Test Mission II just as he would at Test Mission.

Built-In Outpost: Mission II outposts do not prevent you from seeding another outpost of the same affiliation. However, as always, you may not establish a second facility at the same location where you already have a facility, including a built-in Mission II outpost. Outpost-related cards work normally with Mission II outposts. If the outpost is destroyed, flip the mission over to signify this (and cards on the outpost are discarded as usual). If the outpost is placed out-of-play, flip the mission over and place a token on it to signify that it is out-of-play; the Mission II outpost may not be rebuilt for the rest of the game. A Mission II outpost shares the uniqueness of its mission card.

Finally, a card management issue: normally, docked ships and personnel at an outpost are placed face-up beneath the outpost to show their presence there. Because there are already seed cards at the mission, this is impossible at built-in outposts. Instead, place docked ships and personnel face-down in a pile directly in front of the outpost.

Built-In Wormhole: You may move in either direction between your own built-in Wormhole and a Wormhole Interrupt you play at another mission (or any player's other built-in Wormhole). You may not use your opponent's built-in Wormhole with a Wormhole Interrupt; you must use your own built-in Wormhole. However, you may use your opponent's built-in Wormhole if the opposite end is also your built-in wormhole. If you move between two built-in Wormholes, flip one (your choice if both yours; otherwise your own).

You may not pair Space-Time Portal's Wormhole function with a built-in wormhole. (The Wormhole for Space-Time Portal must be played.) Since the Wormhole is played only as a cost, you ignore its gametext and are not stopped after using it.

Exception: ❖ Universal Missions May Multiply

Missions with the ❖ Universal symbol, like Survey Star System, may seed multiple times as multiple locations, despite the fact that they have the same location text. This signifies the generic nature of ❖ Universal cards.

After the mission phase is over, your table may look something like this:

DILEMMA PHASE (4.3)

"It's a chess game. Move, counter-move. Guile and deceit."

—William T. Riker

In this phase, you and your opponents hide dilemmas and artifacts face-down under missions, where they will be encountered during the game.

Space dilemmas seed under any Space mission. Planet dilemmas and all artifacts seed under planet missions. Space/Planet dilemmas seed under any mission. Q-dilemmas may not seed unless a card allows it. Whenever you seed a card beneath a mission, that card always goes on the bottom of any other cards already stacked there.

Tip: Hurt Opponent, Help Yourself (4.3.0.1)

Typically, you should seed dilemmas under your opponent's missions and artifacts under your own.

You may seed any number of cards beneath a mission, but only one copy of each. You may only seed one artifact per mission.

Tip: Strategic Mis-seeds (4.3.0.2)

It is sometimes advantageous to deliberately mis-seed as a bluff. For example, if your opponent seeds Empok Nor and you have no dilemmas that may be encountered there, you may wish to mis-seed something in order to scare him away for a turn or two. (Of course, this has repercussions: you will not be able to take control of the station. See mis-seeds.)

Some cards, like Cryosatellite, Orb Negotiations, and The Nexus, provide specific exceptions to these rules. All other cards seeded beneath missions are mis-seeds and will be removed from the game when revealed. If you seed more than one artifact at a single Mission, all your artifacts there are mis-seeds.

Once both players have considered their dilemma phase strategies for a brief period, seeding proceeds. The Dilemma Phase is divided into 4 stages:

- 1. Opponent's Missions: Both players place all cards they wish to seed under their opponent's (non-shared) missions in front of each such mission, in the order they are to be encountered, creating a face-down stack of cards. (Cards on bottom will be encountered first.) Once both players have placed all cards they wish to seed under opponent's missions, all stacks are seeded by sliding the stack under their missions.
- 2. Shared Missions: Both players now create stacks in front of all shared missions. Once all stacks are created, players alternate seeding cards. The player who owns the bottom seeded mission card seeds the bottom card (the one encountered first) then his or her opponent places a card on top of that card. Repeat until all cards have been seeded, then move on to the next shared mission.
- 3. Your Missions: Both players now create stacks in front of missions that they seeded. Once both players have placed all cards they wish to seed under their own missions, all stacks are seeded by placing each stack on top of any existing cards under the mission. These cards will therefore be encountered last.
- 4. Everything Else: Starting with the player who will go first, players alternate seeding any cards that may seed during the dilemma phase but do not seed under missions. If you have no cards remaining to seed, you may pass. Once you pass, you may not seed any more cards during this phase, and your opponent may seed their remaining cards immediately.

Open Rules: Alternating, Again (4.3.0.3)

Under Open Rules, players alternate seeding every single seed card in this phase individually, in any order they choose. This adds a small additional tactical dimension to this phase (for example, you may seed an artifact under your own planet early in the phase in order to get your opponent to seed extra dilemmas under that mission, reducing the amount of dilemma coverage on other missions, which was your real plan all along).

FACILITY PHASE (4.4)

"Referring to the map on your screens, you will note, beyond the moving position of our vessel, a line of Earth outpost stations. Constructed on asteroids, they monitor the Neutral Zone established by treaty after the Earth-Romulan conflict a century ago."

—Mr. Spock

In this phase, you and your opponent establish Facilities (your bases of operation) and seed cards from your seed deck that do not seed in another phase, like Establish Landing Protocols. (These seeds usually facilitate your deck's distinctive strategy.) Beginning with the starting player, players alternate seeding their cards one at a time.

SEEDING AND PLAYING FACILITIES (4.4.1)

Most Facilities state on their cards where they may be seeded (or played) — Nor enters play at a mission with  affiliation icon; Tower of Commerce enters play at Deliver Message (Ferenginar).

Like Missions, every Facility has a native quadrant:  Delta Quadrant,  Gamma Quadrant,  Mirror Quadrant, or Alpha Quadrant (no icon). A facility must be seeded in its native quadrant. (If played rather than seeded, facilities can play outside their native quadrant, but such facilities lose certain abilities.)

You may not seed (or play) a facility at a location where you already own one. Your opponent may seed (or play) a facility where you already own one, and you may control two facilities at one location during the game if one of them has been moved or commandeered.

All facilities are located in space, unless their gametext states they are played "on" a planet.

Tip: Facilities are in Space by Default

Reread that last sentence. Plenty of facilities — especially outposts — have pictures that make it look like they're on a planet. But, for game purposes, they are in  space. Only Headquarters and a few of other facilities (for example, Colony and Son'a Observatory) are actually on the planet. This has significant implications for Volcanic Eruption, Breen CRM114, Thine Own Self, and others.

WHERE CAN OUTPOSTS SEED AND PLAY? (4.4.2)

Unlike Stations and Headquarters, most Outposts do not state where they may enter play. Such outposts must enter play at a mission with a matching affiliation icon. Thus, a  Federation Outpost may seed at any Alpha Quadrant mission with the  Federation affiliation icon, such as Investigate Dead Planet or Repair Mission.

Tip: "Any" on Outposts (4.4.2.0.2)

Some outposts state that they may seed or play at "any" mission that meets certain requirements. For example, Neutral Outpost seeds or plays at "any  mission".

Tip: "Outposts" (4.4.2.0.3)

When a card refers to an "outpost", it only refers to outposts, and not to other kinds of facilities. You may use Assign Mission Specialists or Attention All Hands to download only to an Outpost, not to a Headquarters or Station.

Tip: Be Careful with Homeworlds (4.4.2.0.4)

Make sure you don't accidentally seed a homeworld, only to learn at game time that you can't use it for an outpost. Homeworlds do not call much attention to themselves (they merely state in lore that they are a homeworld for the given affiliation) so it's easy to make this mistake.

This gametext overrides the matching affiliation icon requirement. However, it does not override other requirements. Thus, Neutral Outpost can seed at Repair Mission (a  mission that is not a [Neu] mission), but it can not enter play at a homeworld (even if the homeworld is  nor seed at a mission outside the Alpha Quadrant.

Clarifications: "Seed one" (4.4.2.0.1)

Most outposts say, "Seed one". You may seed only one copy of each such outpost. (You may seed other, different outposts, and you may build more outposts during the game.) Outposts without this limitation may be seeded in multiples.

You do not have to be playing an affiliation to seed an outpost for it. (Some old cards that suggest otherwise have received errata.)

No outpost may enter play at the homeworld of any affiliation. For example, you may not seed a  Outpost at Deliver Message, because it is the  Ferengi homeworld.

SEEDING SITES (4.4.3)

During the Facility Phase, you may seed the Sites in your site pile. You are not required to seed all of them. You may not mis-seed your Sites, nor misrepresent them as part of your seed deck. Each site may be added to any facility where it is allowed to play (identified on the lower left corner of the Site card), no matter which player seeded that facility. Sites are added to a facility in a line associated with that facility. Each site indicates which level of the facility it belongs to (Ops Module, Promenade, Habitat Ring, Docking Ring, etc.), and the Sites from each level must be grouped by level, in that order. When seeding or playing a Site on the table, you may insert it between other sites, as long as you keep Sites from the same level adjacent to each other.

By default, sites are "unique per station". That is, each station is limited to one copy of each Site card. However, some sites are  universal and thus may exist in multiple on each station.

Although you are limited to 6 Sites during the seed phases, you may not seed additional sites beyond the 6 free ones, even by using seed slots. You may stock Site cards in your draw deck and add them to your facility during the game using your normal card play.

STARTING THE GAME (4.4.4)

5: THE PLAY PHASE

"There's more to this than just the cards, Data."

—Geordi LaForge

The starting player takes the first turn. Then players take alternating turns until one of them wins.

Each turn consists of a series of actions taken by the player. Actions may be permitted — or required — by the rules or by the cards on the table. There are three basic kinds of action, which each player normally must do during his or her turn in the following order:

1. Play a card to the table (normally at the start of the turn)
2. Do something with the cards on the table (normally in the middle of the turn; this is called "executing orders")
3. Draw a card from your draw deck (normally at the end of the turn)

You may not normally interrupt your own actions, or your opponents' actions, unless you use a card that is a valid response to that action or a card that suspends play.

The next three chapters will detail the three basic actions described above.

Tip: Valid responses are hard!

Understanding what is and is not a valid response, how they affect the action-response cycle, and who gets to respond when is often the hardest part of the game for beginners, and gives rise to many, many rules questions. Ironically, it also one of the least important parts of the rules. Don't feel the need to get it exactly right in the first few games. Accept what you just read above and take your best shot. When you're ready for it, after a few games, come back and read the below clarification on valid responses.

Clarifications: Valid responses

A card can be used as a valid response to an action if that card specifically modifies the action it is responding to (usually by name). For example, Hugh is a valid response to a Borg Ship dilemma initiating battle against your ship, because Hugh's gametext specifically modifies the dilemma (by name) by preventing its attack. Temporal Rift is not a valid response to a Borg Ship battle, because Temporal Rift does not mention Borg Ship, nor does it directly modify the action of the Borg Ship starting a battle. As a player, you might want to escape the Borg Ship dilemma using a Temporal Rift, but the fact that a card would be a useful response does not make it a valid response.

The cards are usually very clear about when they can be used as valid responses. If a card is not a valid response to the current action, it cannot be used until after the current action has resolved. In our example above, you cannot play Temporal Rift until after the battle with the Borg Ship has been resolved — by which time it's probably too late. The only exception is cards which state that they suspend play. A card that suspends play (like The Guardian) may interrupt any action.

When Responses Happen

Every action consists of an initiation followed by a resolution. During the initiation, the action is announced. If necessary, relevant cards are played, targets are chosen, and costs are paid. Valid responses take place immediately after the initiation. After all responses (if any) are resolved, the action proceeds to its resolution. During the resolution, the action finally takes effect within the game. Lastly, "just" responses to the resolution may take place (see "just" responses below).

Hidden Agendas as Responses

 Hidden Agenda cards that are face-down on the table may be activated (flipped face-up) and used as a valid response where applicable. When this occurs, they take immediate, retroactive effect, as though they were already in play when the action they are responding to was initiated. This can make the initiated action illegal, in which case the action is undone (as if it was never initiated; for example, a card played would be returned to hand). However, in most cases, a  Hidden Agenda card does not illegalize an action, but instead punishes a player for taking it. There are few things more satisfying than flipping a Feedback Surge on your opponent who thinks he just scored 25 points off Establish Gateway.

Group Actions and Valid Responses

Some actions are composed of a series of other actions. These are referred to as group actions, and the actions that compose them are called sub-actions. Like all actions, they may not be interrupted, but each sub-action may be responded to. For example, a mission attempt is a group action: it consists of a series of dilemma encounters (each of which is a sub-action) and concludes in a mission solve sub-action (which may or may not succeed). The mission attempt itself, the dilemma encounters, and the mission solve can all be validly responded to (for example, by Adapt: Negate Obstruction, or Emergency Transporter Armbands to escape Firestorm, or Particle Fountain after a successful solve), but no other action may take place until the mission attempt is complete. For example, no player may play Fitting In during a mission attempt, not even to add a needed skill to the crew or Away Team attempting the mission.

Alternating Actions

Normally, the action-response cycle alternates between the two players, starting with the player whose turn it is. For example, on her turn, Alice always takes the first action. Then, Bob has the opportunity to take an action (assuming it is legal during her turn, like playing an Interrupt). Then Alice takes another action. The same is true within actions. Suppose Alice initiates an action. Bob has the first opportunity to validly respond to that action. After Bob's response (if any) is over, Alice may give a response to her own action. (For the purposes of determining response precedence, the current action is the active sub-action, not any of the group actions the sub-action may be a part of.)

"Just" Responses

Some cards specify that they are played or used "just" after an action is initiated or resolved (usually with a phrase like "just initiated", "just played", "just completed", "just encountered", and so forth). These responses, which are called "just" actions or "just" responses, automatically take precedence over all other responses, overriding the normal alternation between players.

For example, if Bob downloads Maihar'du to a planet, it is normally Alice's turn to take an action (perhaps by playing Remember the Alamo). However, if Bob has Crossover in play, he may use its gametext to download Multidimensional Transport Device before Alice's action. The only way Alice can interrupt Bob's download is with a card that suspends play (such as discarding Access Denied to download Fractal Encryption Code) or with a "just" card of her own (such as Manheim's Dimensional Door). If she plays a "just" card of her own, Alice's "just" card takes precedence over Bob's, because they have equal precedence and ties go to the player who did not initiate the current action.

Any number of "just" responses may be taken in response to a given trigger. However, once a non-"just" response or a new action has been taken, no more "just" responses may be made.

Responses to Responses

Making a valid response is a sub-action of its own, which means that it, too, can be responded to. This can sometimes go on for a while. For example:

Alice announces that her Away Team is attacking Bob's Away Team, initiating an action called a personnel battle.

Bob's Away Team includes Anya, who has the "shape-shifter" characteristic, and a Klingon Disruptor. He also happens to have Salia in his hand, so he plays In The Bag as a valid response. He announces that he will use In The Bag to "morph" the Klingon Disruptor into Salia, exchanging the Salia in his hand with the Disruptor in play, and that he will also download Strike Three, which Anya and Salia will use to stun a total of six opposing personnel (a very powerful move). Bob's play of In The Bag is a new sub-action, though, which means Alice gets to respond. She says, "Not so fast!"

As her response to Bob's response, Alice plays Howard Heirloom Candle, which will prevent Salia from morphing.

Bob responds to this sub-action by playing Amanda Rogers on Howard Heirloom Candle, nullifying it before it can prevent Salia's morph.

Alice responds by playing Q2 on Amanda Rogers, nullifying it, restoring Howard Heirloom Candle, and blocking the morph.

Bob doesn't have anything that can stop a Q2, but he does have The Line Must Be Drawn Here played face-down on the table using its  Hidden Agenda icon. So, as his response, he flips it face-up, activating it as his final valid response.

Alice is satisfied, and makes no further response. Her Howard Heirloom Candle takes effect, successfully blocking Salia's morph. Salia returns to Bob's hand, and the Klingon Disruptor remains in play. Alice loses 5 points from The Line Must Be Drawn Here for playing Q2 against Bob's Amanda Rogers. Bob does not lose 5 points for playing Amanda Rogers, however, because The Line Must Be Drawn Here was not in play when he played Amanda, and The Line Must Be Drawn Here's retroactive effect only reaches back to Alice's play of Q2 (the action The Line Must Be Drawn Here was responding to) and does not affect any prior actions. Strike Three also remains in play, and will be resolved by stunning three opposing personnel immediately, unless someone suspends play to intervene. (For example, Bob might decide to suspend play by using Anya's  Special Download icon to fetch Salia, which would allow him to use Strike Three to stun six personnel as he planned all along.)

Once this chain of actions and responses has been resolved, Alice or Bob could play another card that responds to the start of battle (such as Smoke Bomb or Emergency Transporter Armbands). Once all responses have been made and resolved, the actual battle begins.

6: PLAYING A CARD

YOUR NORMAL CARD PLAY (6.1)

At the beginning of each turn, you have the option to play any single card from your hand to the table. This is referred to as your "normal card play."

Your normal card play must take place before you take any further actions. If you begin executing orders before using your card play, you forfeit your card play for the turn.

Tip: Interrupts and Doorways Don't Use Your Card Play (6.1.0.1)

 Interrupts and  Doorways play at any time, so they do not need to use your normal card play. (See at any time.)

Exception: "Start of turn" actions

When a card expressly states that an action takes place at the "start" of your turn (such as a We Are Back card draw or a White Deprivation battle), it must happen before your normal card play, and you do not forfeit your card play as a result.

Most card types may play directly from your hand. However, personnel, ships, and equipment must report for duty to enter play.

PLAYING "FOR FREE" (6.1.1)

Some cards say that they play "for free", or allow other cards to play "for free". This means that they play normally, but they do not count as your normal card play for the turn. You may play cards "for free" before or after your normal card play (or both!), and there is no limit on the number of cards you may play "for free" during your turn. However, like your normal card play, you must play all your "for free" cards before you begin executing orders.

Tip: You Need Free Plays (6.1.1.0.1)

Since you only get one normal card play per turn, most successful decks rely on finding ways to play 1-3 cards "for free" on each turn. The easiest way to do this is with New Arrivals, a popular card that is particularly valuable for new players.

ENTERING PLAY (6.2)

"For nearly a century, we've waded ankle-deep in the ocean of space. Now it's finally time to swim."

—Maxwell Forrest

To play a card, announce the title of the card and place it face-up on the table (or wherever the card directs). It has now been played. Any player may examine the card. Any player may respond to it. Then, any immediate effects in the gametext are played out and resolved. If the card's immediate effects do not discard the card played, it enters play. Cards remain in play until they are nullified, discarded, killed, destroyed, or otherwise leave play.

Clarifications: Not Yet Played (6.2.0.2)

Cards not yet played (or encountered) cannot generally be nullified, modified, or used. For example, if you use Alien Probe to discover a Parallax Arguers in opponent's hand, you cannot use Plexing to nullify it until your opponent actually plays it. Likewise, even if you discover Empathic Echo at a mission using Ocular Implants, Plexing cannot nullify it until encountered.

Cards that have been played, but which have not finished entering play, can only be modified by direct responses.

Likewise, selected or shared features or skills on a personnel do not exist until they have finished entering play. For example, the card Soong-type Android may not report to a site allowing a certain classification to report, because it has no classification during the initiation of its card play.

Clarifications: Cards Played as Costs (6.2.0.1)

Sometimes, a player is permitted or required to play a specific card in order to resolve an action. When this is the case, use only the game text of the action; ignore the game text of the card being played as a cost.

For example, I Hate You can be nullified by playing Vulcan Nerve Pinch as a cost. If a player chooses to do so, then I Hate You is nullified, but the gametext of Vulcan Nerve Pinch is ignored. Both cards are then discarded.

Cards which are played as a cost may be responded to normally, and, if the card played as a cost is nullified, the original action resolves as if the card were not played; no other costs are paid.

For example, ❖ Nebula allows a player to initiate battle at its location, at the cost of a Scan card. When Scan is thus played to initiate battle, its gametext is ignored (do not examine the cards beneath the mission). The opponent may nullify the Scan (for example, with Quinn), causing Scan to be discarded and the battle to be cancelled. (However, the player may immediately play another Scan from hand, if one is available.) By the same token, if you play a Wormhole in conjunction with a face-up Relief Mission II in order to move to another location, and your opponent nullifies the Wormhole, the Wormhole is discarded, but, because "no other costs are paid," Relief Mission II remains face-up.

Exception: Discard interrupts

Interrupts are always discarded as soon as they are used, unless gametext states otherwise.

If a card is marked "unique", you may not play it, seed it face-up, or activate it if a copy you own is already in play. When either player earns or encounters a unique card you own, if you already own a copy of it in play, the new copy is immediately discarded. Ships, Personnel, and Facilities are unique by default; Sites are "unique by station".

Borg Rule: Counterpart Limit (6.2.0.3)

Some 👤 Borg personnel are counterparts, as stated in their lore. You may own only one counterpart in play at a time. Like the Borg Queen, counterparts are not drones.

If a card is marked "not duplicatable", there may not be more than one copy in play anywhere in the game, and any additional copies that enter play for any player are immediately discarded. Missions and Time Locations are non-duplicatable by default. (Duplicated missions become shared missions.)

A very small number of cards are marked as ★ enigmas. Their nature is mysterious or unexplained. For most purposes, ★ enigmas are treated like uniques: you may not play (or earn, activate, encounter, etc.) an ★ enigma card if you already own a copy in play (the persona rule applies). However, ★ enigmas are not unique, so they are immune to cards that specifically target uniques, such as The Arsenal: Separated.

Otherwise, cards are presumptively ❖ universal, meaning there is no limit on the number of copies that can be in play at the same time.

An 🚪 card may enter play only if another card (typically an open doorway or time location) explicitly allows it.

A card with the 🔒 Hidden Agenda icon must be played face-down on the table. The player does not announce its title or use its gametext at this time. It is not in play, and may not be examined by the opponent. The player who controls the 🔒 card may, at any time, activate the 🔒 card by flipping it face-up. It enters play and takes immediate effect. If a player seeds or plays a card as a hidden agenda (face-down) when it does not have a 🔒 icon, that player forfeits the game.

Clarifications: Showing your 🔒 cards (6.2.0.4)

If a 🔒 card is brought into play other than by seeding it or playing it as a normal card play (for example, if it is downloaded by A Change of Plans), an opponent may examine it to ensure that it is entering play legally. At the end of the game, any player may require his or her opponent to show all face-down cards to verify that they were legal 🔒 cards.

REPORTING FOR DUTY (6.3)

KIRA: Captain, as a Major in the Bajoran Militia, I must officially protest Starfleet's refusal to turn over this station to my government.

SISKO: Your protest is duly noted.

KIRA: Good. Now that that's over with... Kira Nerys, reporting for duty.

Your Personnel, Ship, and Equipment cards do not simply play on the table like other cards. Normally, they must play at a usable, compatible outpost or headquarters in their native quadrant, or to a time location where they are native. Announce the title of the card you are reporting and where you are reporting it, then place it there.

Tip: Headquarters Aren't Restricted (6.3.0.1)

Many headquarters cards list characteristics (like "Founder" or "any Neral") which may report for free there. However, reporting to headquarters is not restricted to these; you may, for example, report a compatible, native card there using your normal card play.

You do not have to be playing an affiliation to seed an outpost for it. (Some old cards that suggest otherwise have received errata.)

USABLE

A card is usable if you control it. In addition, some cards, like Ferengi Trading Post, state that they are usable by both players.

COMPATIBLE

A card is compatible with another card if they both belong to the same affiliation. Cards from different affiliations are compatible only if some other card (such as Treaty: Romulan/Klingon) permits them to "mix", "mix and cooperate" or otherwise interact "regardless of affiliation".

For example, a  Cardassian personnel like Jerax can report to a  Cardassian Outpost (they are naturally compatible), or a  Ferengi Trading Post (which allows "mixing"), but not a  Federation Outpost (they are incompatible).

Exception: Non-Aligned compatibility

Cards with the  Non-Aligned or  Neutral affiliations may mix and cooperate with cards of every other affiliation (except  Borg). This makes the  affiliation extremely useful, since they are able to function both as their own affiliation and as a support team for virtually every deck type in the game.

Equipment cards have no affiliation, and are compatible with all cards.

Borg Rule: Borg Compatibility (6.3.0.2) cards are compatible only with other  — and, since  players can't stock non- cards in their decks to begin with, it's not easy to overcome this limitation.

NATIVE QUADRANT

A card's native quadrant is indicated by an icon on its right side. Cards that are native to the Delta Quadrant have the  icon, cards native to the Gamma Quadrant have the  icon, cards native to the Mirror Quadrant have the  icon, and cards native to the Alpha Quadrant (the majority of cards in the game) have no quadrant icon. When reporting for duty, both the card reporting and the facility it reports to must be in their native quadrants.

Equipment cards have no native quadrant, and may report to any quadrant.

REPORTING TO A TIME LOCATION

A card may report for duty at any time location where it is native (as defined by a listing on the Time Location). It may report directly to the Time Location card (if a  Planet location), to any of your ships there, or to any compatible, usable facility there. No additional -enabling card is required to report native  cards to a time location.

SPECIAL REPORTING

The above rules describe the game's built-in reporting rules. Some cards provide special reporting: additional reporting options at specific locations. When a card provides special reporting, native quadrant restrictions do not apply. Thus, you can use Assign Mission Specialists to download Narik and Amarie (who are Alpha Quadrant natives) to a Primary Supply Depot (which is in the  Gamma Quadrant), or report a Vulcan (even a  Delta Quadrant Vulcan like Tuvok) to Observe Ritual, even if you have no facility there.

Clarifications: Seeded Reportables

Cards seeded under a mission (for example, personnel in a Cryosatellite) do not report for duty when earned, but simply come under your control (or, if they are personnel your opponent seeded, they are captured).

However, special reporting does not allow your cards to report aboard your incompatible ship or facility (unless reporting using a card that makes them compatible, like Temporal Micro-Wormhole).

Exception: Site & Station Reporting

When using a special reporting function on a Site or Station card, both the card reporting and the facility must be in their native quadrants, just like with built-in reporting. However, they do not need to be compatible.

AFTER REPORTING

Once your card has "reported for duty", and your opponent has had the opportunity to inspect the card reported, you may place it face-up underneath the facility (or face-down atop the time location), so that your opponent can no longer see it. (See Looking At Cards.)

DUPLICATION AND PERSONAS (6.3.1)

Unlike other cards, Ship, Personnel, and Facility cards are unique by default: you may not play another copy of a ship, personnel, or facility in play if you already own a copy in play. Just as there is only one Jean-Luc Picard in the Star Trek universe, you may only have one copy of Jean-Luc Picard in play at once.

Clarifications: Personas and Requirements (6.3.1.0.1)

When a mission, dilemma, or other card specifies a personnel as a requirement, you may not normally use a different version of the same persona to meet the requirement. For example, Attend Mysterious Rendezvous can be completed by any card with the exact card title Jean-Luc Picard. It could not be solved by Galen, even though Galen is a different version of the Jean-Luc Picard persona. Nor would Galen count as the matching commander of the U.S.S. Enterprise, since his lore does not call him the Enterprise commander, and the Enterprise lore does not name him as one.

An "any" requirement can be met by any personnel with the given characteristic. For example, only the card titled Pel could meet the Pel requirement on Tulaberry Wine Negotiations, but any card identified in title or lore as "Quark" (including Deputy Quark, Mr. Quark, and Quark Son of Keldar) can meet the "any Quark" requirement.

In addition, if you have in play a version of any given persona, you may not bring another into play. A few personnel in the game (and even some ships!) have several cards representing them, each one showing a different side of the subject's personality. For example, there is Benjamin Sisko, commander of Deep Space Nine... but there is also Benjamin Sisko \(Chain of Command\), a young exec at the Battle of Wolf 359; Lt. Sisko, the time-travelling crewman on Kirk's Enterprise; The Emissary, the central figure in Bajoran religion; and Dr. Noah, the holographic criminal mastermind. All of these are different representations of the same persona, and you may not play another if you already have one in play.

Tip: Be careful with personas (6.3.1.0.2)

It is sometimes surprising that certain cards are not versions of the same persona. For example, Lt. \(j.g.\) Picard and Admiral Picard are different personas, and you may have both in play at once. (This is because both are from alternate realities and therefore are not "true" Picards.) To take a stranger example, Mr. Spock and Captain Spock are versions of the "Mr. Spock" persona, but Spock and Ambassador Spock are versions of a different persona (the "Spock" persona). Thus, you could have Captain Spock and Ambassador Spock in play at the same time. At first glance, this seems very strange, perhaps even a mistake, but it is actually a careful decision by the design team based on the meaning of the  icon. Bottom line: never presume two cards are versions of the same persona, especially if you are a Trekkie. Always check, or you'll miss out on some great and unexpected play opportunities.

You can identify whether a card shares the persona of another in three ways:

- if the two cards have the exact same card title, letter-for-letter, they are the same persona (for example, the Miles O'Brien from Star Trek: The Next Generation and the Miles O'Brien from Star Trek: Deep Space Nine)
- if one card has the exact name of the other card written in bold in its lore, they are the same persona (for example, Falcon and Miles O'Brien)
- if the two cards both have the same name written in bold in their lores, they are the same persona (for example, Falcon and Ensign O'Brien)

Clarifications: Bold Italics is Not Plain Bold (6.3.1.0.3)

If a name in a personnel's lore is written in bold italics rather than plain bold, that personnel is not a version of the named persona and is not prevented from entering play if a version of that persona is already in play. (For example, First Officer Spock is not a version of the Mr. Spock persona.) Bold italics is used in lore to designate two very different relationships between cards: opposite versions and impersonators. These two characteristics are explained in greater detail below.

As always, if a card is specifically marked  universal, then there is no limit on the number of copies and versions of that persona you may have in play.  Universal ships and personnel are typically representative of a genre. For example, Linda Larson represents all young Starfleet engineers.

HOLOGRAPHIC PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT (6.3.2)

Holographic  personnel and equipment, or holograms, are inorganic computer programs that must be "projected" into the real world using photons and forcefields.

ACTIVATION AND DEACTIVATION (6.3.2.1)

Holographic  cards must always exist in one of two states: activated or deactivated (conceptually stored in memory). They may exist activated if present with a holodeck (on cards like U.S.S. Galaxy), but they may exist deactivated aboard any ship or facility. They may not exist anywhere else.

Clarification: Using Opponent's Holodecks; Captive Holograms (6.3.2.0.2)

An opponent may allow your hologram to use that opponent's ships, holodecks, and other cards that allow holograms to exist (even deactivated). This allows an opponent to capture your  personnel, as long as they can be immediately moved to that opponent's -enabled environment. (Otherwise, captured  personnel without Mobile Holo-Emitters are deactivated rather than captured, because they cannot be moved to the trap card.)

Clarification: Allowing Holograms to "Exist" Elsewhere (6.3.2.0.1)

If a card (like Holographic Settlement) allows holograms to "exist," without specifying that they be activated or deactivated, holograms present may exist in either state. Mobile Holo-Emitter also allows this.

Holograms may not report or voluntarily move any place where they cannot exist. Whenever a hologram would be moved somewhere it cannot exist, it deactivates instead. If holograms are somewhere where they cannot exist, they are immediately erased (discarded). (This can happen if, for example, a hologram's worn Mobile Holo-Emitter is destroyed while on a planet.)

While deactivated,  personnel are disabled, and equipment may not be used in any way. If an activated hologram is deactivated, it may not be reactivated during the same turn.

A  hologram may report activated, if possible. Otherwise, a hologram reports deactivated; it may be activated (even on the same turn) by any of your unstopped personnel present (even an activated hologram).

DEATH AND ERASURE (6.3.2.2)

Any time a hologram is targeted to be killed or destroyed, it is deactivated instead (not erased).

HOLOGRAPHIC SAFETY PROTOCOLS (6.3.2.3)

 cards are normally restricted by Holographic Safety Protocols, which prevent them from killing "organics" (non- cards) in personnel battle. They may stun organics, but may not mortally wound them. If, at the end of a personnel battle, the total STRENGTH of the stronger force is derived entirely from holograms, they win the battle but may not kill an opposing personnel as a casualty.

MULTI-AFFILIATION CARDS (6.3.3)

A few cards have more than one affiliation icon. For example, The Emissary has both the  and  affiliation icons. However, a card may have only one affiliation at a time. When a multi-affiliation card is played, you must decide its current affiliation. All regular reporting restrictions apply (for example, you may not report Tallera to a Romulan Outpost in  mode). You may change the affiliation of a multi-affiliation card at any time (except during another action). There is no limit on the number of times you may do this.

Clarifications: Ambiguities — Multi-affiliation cards (6.3.3.0.1)

If not on board your ship or facility, you may change the affiliation of a multi-affiliation personnel, even if it causes incompatibility. The newly-incompatible personnel simply leaves his or her current Away Team and forms a separate one.

Until played, multi-affiliation cards count as all their affiliations (for cards like Diplomatic Contact).

A multi-affiliation personnel may not change affiliations to create an incompatibility situation while at a site. However, that personnel may walk away from his or her comrades to a different site, where there are no other non-opposing personnel (or only compatible non-opposing personnel), and then may change affiliations.

You may not simultaneously change the affiliations of one or more Personnel cards, ships, and/or facilities; each change is a separate game action. Thus, if the Sisters of Duras are aboard the Cha'Joh, both in  mode, you may not change either the Sisters of Duras or the Cha'Joh to  mode without removing the Sisters first, because changing either affiliation alone would make them incompatible.

If a single-affiliation personnel gains a new affiliation without losing his or her original affiliation, it functions as a multi-affiliation card.

If a multi-affiliation personnel, whose features are dependent on their affiliation mode (such as Major Rakal) is assimilated or made Non-Aligned (for example, by Memory Wipe), that personnel may still switch "modes" as a game action, changing his or her features without changing the now-locked affiliation.

As always, a card is a copy of another if both have the same title and gametext. Prints of the same card with different affiliation border colors, such as Prot and Prot \(Identity Crisis\) are copies.

If a multi-affiliation card is reported using an affiliation-specific benefit, it must report in that affiliation mode, while following all applicable restrictions. For example, Dar can use Dominion War Efforts only if reported in  mode to a  ship or facility. If you download him in  mode to a  ship or facility, you must discard Assign Support Personnel.

However, you may never change a card's affiliation in such a way that it causes your personnel aboard your ship or facility to become incompatible. For example, if you have Koral \(The Next Generation\) in  Non-Aligned mode aboard the H.M.S. Bounty in  mode, surrounded by a crew of other  personnel, you may not change Koral to  mode, since this would make him incompatible with his shipmates. Similarly, you may not change the H.M.S. Bounty to  mode, since this would make many of the crew incompatible with it.

DUAL-PERSONNEL CARDS (6.3.4)

A few special personnel cards, such as Sons of Mogh and The Trois, have two individual personnel printed on the same card. They count as two personnel, but the individuals on a dual-personnel card have a linked destiny: what happens to one usually happens to the other.

Clarifications: Dual-Personnel Couples (6.3.4.0.4)

A personnel represented on a dual-personnel card may identify another personnel on the same card as a romantic partner. Thus, Sergey and Helena are a couple.

Clarifications: Dual-Personnel Attributes and Icons (6.3.4.0.3)

Attributes, classifications, and icons on a dual-personnel card appear in the same order as the individual personnels' skills are listed. For example, on Sons of Mogh, Kurn's skills, STRENGTH (8), staffing icon () , and classification (OFFICER) are listed before Worf's skills, STRENGTH (10), staffing icon () , and classification (SECURITY).

Clarifications: Dual-Personnel Downloads (6.3.4.0.2)

Dual-personnel cards are downloaded normally; if you download Seska (on Cullah and Seska) with Defend Homeworld, Cullah automatically downloads, too. If a card allows the download of multiple personnel, all legal targets on a dual-personnel card must count towards the limits of the download. For example, suppose you use Ferengi Conference to download  CIVILIANS with up to 11  . First, you download Jake and Nog. They are both CIVILIANS and both count, using 6 of your  . Then, you download Deanna Troi on The Trois, using 2 of your  . (Lwaxana is not a CIVILIAN, so her  do not count.)

Clarifications: Random Selections and Dual-Personnel Cards (6.3.4.0.1)

When a dual-personnel card is in a group that is facing a random selection, it is treated as though it were one personnel (in order to maintain the randomness and effectiveness of the selection). If selected, the effects of the random selection are applied to both personnel on the card. For example:

- Armus - Skin of Evil, enhanced by All-Consuming Evil, randomly selects two personnel in the Away Team to die. Shuffle all personnel in the Away Team and select two cards at random. All selected personnel die. (That is, if one of the cards selected is dual-personnel, both personnel on the card are killed, even though this means Armus kills three personnel instead of two.)
- An Away Team consists of one dual-personnel card and one regular personnel card (a total of 2 cards and 3 personnel). Denevan Neural Parasites randomly selects "half the Away Team" (rounded up) to face death. The dual-personnel card is treated as a single personnel during the random selection, so "half the Away Team" equals $2 \text{ personnel} / 2 = 1 \text{ card}$. That card is selected. All personnel on that card face death, and will die unless protected by a phaser or disruptor. Because the random selection has ended, the dual-personnel card is now treated as two personnel again — which means that, if selected, they will require two guns, not one, if they want to escape with their lives.
- Lineup selects four members of the Away Team at random. If a dual-personnel card is selected, both personnel on the card are affected equally, both join the "lineup", and either can meet the INTEGRITY requirements.
- Chula: The Chandra randomly selects one personnel, and a dual-personnel card is drawn. Both are affected equally, so the attribute numbers of either can be used to pass the dilemma.

Dual-personnel cards are treated as single personnel only during random selections, and only during the selection (not the effect, which hits them both equally). In all other selections, a dual-personnel card is treated as two separate personnel. For example:

- Reluctant Informant targets lowest INTEGRITY member of the crew or Away Team. That happens to be Nog on the card Jake and Nog. Nog is stopped. (Jake is then stopped because if either personnel on a dual-personnel card is stopped, both are stopped.)
- On a successful probe, Chula: Crossroads forces a player to choose two personnel from his or her own Away Team to be stopped. If that Away Team includes The Twin Mistresses of Evil, that player may choose to satisfy the dilemma's effect by stopping Demonica and Mallica. This contains the stop to one card, but counts as stopping two personnel.

Include a dual-personnel card in all selections that are applicable to either personnel on it. It is thus possible for a dual-personnel card (such as Beverly and Will) to be randomly selected as both the male and the female for a card like Parallel Romance. (If one is selected but not the other, both are nevertheless stopped, because if either personnel on a dual-personnel card is stopped, both are stopped.)

If either personnel on a dual-personnel card is: stopped, killed, captured, moved, removed from play, downloaded, reported for free, or otherwise experiences some change in status or position (for example, is phased, "held by aliens", or changes affiliation), then the same thing automatically happens to the other personnel on the card. One cannot survive without the other, so they can never be separated.

MIRROR OPPOSITES AND IMPERSONATORS (6.3.5)

If a personnel's lore contains a name written in bold italic text, the named personnel is either an opposite version of that persona from the  Mirror Universe, or an impersonator who is pretending to be that personnel.

It is easy to tell the two apart: impersonators have a diamond-shaped  infiltration icon, and opposite versions have a Mirror  quadrant icon.

For example, O'Brien Founder (who has a  infiltration icon) is an impersonator of the Miles O'Brien persona.

On the other hand, Smiley (who has no infiltration icon) is the  Mirror Universe opposite of our man Miles.

Opposite versions and impersonators are not versions of the original persona, so players may have copies of both in play at the same time. Impersonation matters during infiltration. Opposite versions have no built-in gameplay function, but several cards, like Transporter Mixup, make use of them.

LEAVING PLAY (6.4)

When a card leaves play (or is "discarded"), it is placed in its owner's discard pile. Cards in the discard pile are stacked face-up. If the discarded card was unique, its owner is now free to play another copy during his or her turn (if he or she has one!). You may not discard cards unless a card or rule allows or requires it.

Dilemmas do not stay in your discard pile. After discarding a dilemma, immediately place it out-of-play. Cards put out-of-play are placed in a separate pile from the discard pile. They are now conceptually outside the game, and cannot be retrieved by any means, except a card that specifically allows you to seed a card from your discard pile.

Open Rules: Discard Dilemmas (6.4.0.1)

Under Open Rules, dilemmas are discarded in the discard pile, not placed out-of-play. Under Open Rules, cards are only placed out-of-play when specifically required by gametext.

If a card leaves play, other cards played on or under it also leave play in the same manner. For example, if a ship is destroyed, all personnel aboard are killed and discarded to their owners' discard piles. If a ship affected by Cytherians and Tactical Console is returned to hand by Space-Time Portal, all personnel aboard are returned to their owners' hands, as are Tactical Console and Cytherians (which, as a dilemma, cannot normally be played again).

Your card may require you to choose a long-term target (other than the card it is played on). If the long-term target leaves play, your card leaves play in the same manner. For example, if the male targeted by Assimilate Counterpart returns to hand, so does Assimilate Counterpart.

Some cards have a bonus point box in their gametext — a black box with a specified number of points inside it:

Borg Rule: Borg Points (6.4.0.2)

A  player scores points, both positive and negative, only from   Borg-Only Objectives (these are not bonus points), from other  cards (these are bonus points), and from cards that specify they affect Borg players, like Assimilate This! (these are also bonus points).

When a Borg player is confronted with any other card that offers positive or negative points, play out the card, but ignore the points. If the card presents a choice, you must choose an option that is not related to points, if possible.

If a card with a bonus point box is worth points to you when it leaves play, place it in a point area on your side of the table so that you remember those points. These cards are not in play, nor are they part of your discard pile.

Clarifications: Other bonus points (6.4.0.3)

If points are scored from a card without a point box (such as Lack of Preparation), that card is disposed of normally when resolved, not placed in the bonus point area. You must keep track of these points by some other method.

Likewise, a card with a bonus point box may be diverted from your bonus point area even after scoring (for example, by You Can't Kill the Captain).

When a mission has you discard cards, they must come from the team attempting the mission (not from your hand), at the time the mission is solved. All other discards (for instance, from Static Warp Bubble) come from the hand, unless otherwise specified.

OTHER WAYS TO PLAY A CARD (6.5)

"Captain, we've detected six more Hirogen ships. They're converging on us from all directions."

—Chakotay

PLAYING "AT ANY TIME" (6.5.1)

 Interrupts, and several other cards (like Out of Time), play "at any time." You may play them at any time, during any phase of your turn or your opponent's.

Cards played "at any time" do not count as your normal card play.

You may activate a face-down  Hidden Agenda card by flipping it face-up at any time (as if it were an "at any time" card play). It enters play when flipped. Its gametext takes immediate effect (or retroactive effect, if a valid response). It may not be flipped face-down again.

Even a card that plays (or activates) "at any time" may not interrupt another action in progress, unless it suspends play or is a valid response to that action. For example, you may not play Near-Warp Transport during a mission attempt, but could play Renewed Spirit if a combo dilemma was encountered during the attempt.

Cards that play "at any time" likewise may not play between start-of-turn or end-of-turn actions, like probing or using Tyranny. If a card says it has to be the first thing done on your turn, the only thing that can go before it is another card that says it has to be the first thing done on your turn!

PLAYING A DOORWAY (6.5.1.1)

 Doorways, by default, may play at any time during your turn only.

However, if a Doorway specifically states it plays "at any time" (for example, Holodeck Door), then it may also play during your opponent's turn.

PERSONA REPLACEMENT (6.5.2)

At the start of each of your turns (before your normal card play), if you have one version of a ship or personnel persona in play and another version of that persona in your hand, you may exchange them for free. (Facility personas, such as Terok Nor and Deep Space Nine, may not be exchanged in this way.) Persona replacement does not count as a card play, and it is not a reporting-for-duty action. All cards affecting the first version (for example, Framed for Murder) are transferred to the version entering play, if applicable; inapplicable cards are returned to their owners' hands.

Clarifications: No Clone Swaps (6.5.0.1)

Cards like Clone Machine may allow you to put more than one copy of a unique card in play. This does not change the rule that you may have only one version of a unique persona in play. If you have two Tom Parises in play, you may not exchange either for a Captain Proton in your hand.

All persona replacements for a turn occur simultaneously. You must own and control all cards you replace. The replacement cannot add or remove any personas from play. For example, you may not replace Lursa with Sisters of Duras unless you also replace B'Etor at the same time.

DOWNLOADING (6.5.3)

When a card instructs you to download a card, search through your hand, your draw deck, and/or your open side decks for the target card. Once found, you must immediately play it. (If you cannot, the download is invalid; see sidebar.) You must follow all the normal rules for playing a card, such as reporting restrictions. Then reshuffle any face-down decks you looked through.

Clarifications: Side Deck Downloads (6.5.3.0.10)

When searching an open side deck for a download, include face-up cards placed under or atop that side deck.

Clarifications: Discard Pile Downloads (6.5.3.0.9)

Your discard pile is not a "side deck," so you may not download cards from your discard pile. However, some cards (like MACO Training Camp) allow it.

Clarifications: Downloading Hidden Agendas (6.5.3.0.8)

Ordinarily, you must download a  Hidden Agenda card face-down, and you may not immediately activate it (by flipping it face-up and putting it "in play") unless activating it would be a valid response to the current action. By contrast, if you  Special Download a  Hidden Agenda card, you may and must immediately activate it.

Clarifications: Downloading Tactics (6.5.3.0.7)

 Tactic cards may not be downloaded as damage markers. They must be downloaded during the Tactics stage of ship battle, when they could normally be played.

Clarifications: Where Facilities May Download (6.5.3.0.6)

When downloading a Facility into play, you must meet all requirements for building that Facility at the location where you are playing it.

For example, you may not download Primary Supply Depot with Establish Dominion Foothold, because that facility must be seeded, not built. You may instead download Remote Supply Depot, but only if the location is a non-homeworld mission with a  affiliation icon where you have no other facilities and you have the required  ENGINEER present to build it.

This is, of course, just a restatement of what was already said in the rules — you must follow the normal rules for playing a card when downloading, except when specifically overruled by gametext.

Clarifications: Where Personnel May Download (6.5.3.0.5)

If a card allows you to download a personnel, ship, or equipment and is not a Facility or Site and provides a specific location for that download (for example, Assign Missions Specialists or Starry Night), then it is providing special reporting: The requirement to report the personnel to a facility in their native quadrant does not apply.

By contrast, if a card allows you to download a ship, personnel, or equipment but does not provide a specific location for the download (for example, Wall of Ships or Activate Subcommands), or if it is a Facility or Site (for example, Son'a Observatory or Cargo Bay), these downloads are normal reports, and you must follow normal reporting rules.

Clarifications: Required Downloads (6.5.3.0.4)

If a card requires downloads (for example, 22nd-Century Japan), but the required cards cannot be downloaded, the card cannot be played.

Clarifications: Showing Your Downloads (6.5.3.0.3)

Your opponent is always allowed to see a downloaded card, if necessary, to confirm that it was a legal, valid download, even if downloading to hand or downloading a face-down  Hidden Agenda card. The only exception is when cards "download and seed" (as on Shore Leave): you do not need to immediately reveal those cards, but must do so after the game if asked. If you illegally download and seed a card, you lose the game.

Clarifications: Invalid Downloads (6.5.3.0.2)

A download is invalid if the target card cannot be found in the available cards, or if, once found, the target card is required to be played but cannot be.

An invalid download is cancelled, and any target cards are returned to their sources, which are then shuffled. If a single download action requires multiple target cards (such as the download on Activate Subcommands), and any of the targets cannot be found, the entire download is invalid.

If any resources were spent to initiate an invalidated download (such as a card draw for Officer Exchange Program, a card play for Spacedoor, or a  special download icon), those resources remain spent. If a download is invalid because the target card could not be found, an opponent may look through the downloader's deck and all other download sources to verify that the target is not there, and the same download may not be attempted again until one of its downloading sources have been replenished (for example, the draw deck is replenished by Regenerate) or reopened (for example, by nullifying a Revolving Door played on your Q's Tent).

A download action can be rendered illegal by the activation of a  Hidden Agenda card that is a valid response (such as Computer Crash). Like an invalid download, an illegal download is cancelled and target cards are returned to their sources, which are shuffled. However, resources spent to initiate an illegal download do not remain spent and can be used later. If you initiated the download by playing a card and selecting a function that requires a download (for example, the second function of Bajoran Civil War), the card goes to your hand.

Clarifications: Download Timing (6.5.3.0.1)

There is no limit on the number of times you may download in a turn, as long as you have the cards to trigger them. However, each download is a separate action, and you may not interrupt another action to start a download, except when it suspends play or is a valid response.

As always, you must use your normal card play (and all free plays) before taking any other actions for the turn. Many cards, like Study Protonebula, Quark's Isolinear Rods, and Assign Support Personnel require you to take an action in order to trigger a download. These downloads can therefore only be used after you have played your cards for the turn and started "giving orders."

Some downloads (like Quark's Isolinear Rods) specify your hand as the destination. When you use such a download, you must place the target in your hand instead of playing it. Some downloads (like Blood Oath) work "in place of one card draw." When you use such a download, you may choose whether to play the target immediately or place it in your hand for later use. Some downloads (like High Rollers) "download and seed" the target. When you use such a download, seed the target card (instead of playing it). You do not need to show it to your opponent.

You may not download  artifacts or  Q-icon cards unless specifically permitted by a card (for example, Starry Night). Facilities and Sites do not provide downloads unless they are in their native quadrant.

A Facility card (or its attached Site card) may not provide downloads outside its native quadrant. (This is in addition to all normal reporting restrictions.)

General Quarters: The Personnel Download Limit

Personnel cannot be downloaded as easily as other cards. When you recruit specially-picked personnel (instead of reporting personnel who are already "available" in your hand), you must locate, enlist, and reassign them to your forces — all of which takes time and effort. For this reason, you may not download personnel into play more often than once every turn.

Open Rules: No Personnel Download Limit (6.5.3.0.3)

Under Open Rules, there is no General Quarters rule. Instead, Shape-Shift Inhibitor is legal under Open Rules.

For example, suppose you use Ferengi Conference to download Leeta and Lumba. Because you did this as a single action, you are allowed to download both personnel at once. Leeta may then immediately use her  Special Download to download Dabo — Dabo is not a personnel. However, because of the personnel download limit, you must wait until your opponent's turn to use Lumba's  Special Download of Nilva — Nilva is a personnel, and you have already hit the once-every-turn download limit for personnel this turn.

SPECIAL DOWNLOADING (6.5.4)

A card with a  Special Download icon allows you to suspend play at any point during the game (including during a seed phase or an opponent's turn), interrupting other actions as necessary, while you download the target card and immediately play it.

Tip: Suspends Play (6.5.4.0.2)

 Special downloading is by far the easiest and most common way to suspend play. Refer back to the section on actions for more on the significance of suspending play.

Clarifications: Ambiguities — Special Downloads (6.5.4.0.1)

A  special download may download anywhere at the target location (see "here"). One classic trick is to begin a mission attempt with Starship Enterprise in orbit, encounter the first dilemma, then use the ship's  to download a personnel who can solve that dilemma directly to the planet, where that personnel immediately joins the Away Team and the mission attempt.

Because  special downloads provide a specific location for the download ("here"), they provide special reporting to any ships, personnel, and equipment that are special-downloaded: normal reporting restrictions like native quadrant and compatible facility do not apply.

When you use a  Special Download icon to download a  Hidden Agenda card, you must play that card, then immediately activate it and follow its gametext (targeting something at the location of the special download, if applicable). You may not use a  special download to play a  Hidden Agenda card face-down. This rule is the exact opposite of the rule for non-special downloads, which require you to download  Hidden Agenda cards face-down.

A  special download icon on a personnel card is a special skill, and can count for cards like Rascals which add, remove, or count skills. However, an  Special Download icon is not a  skill dot, so it does not count for cards like Hero Worship.

If a  special download inserts a new card into the spaceline, the personnel downloading it must be adjacent to the location where it is inserted. For example, The Emissary must be in or adjacent to the Bajor Region in order to use his special download of Bajoran Wormhole, and must insert the wormhole into the spaceline between his location and the location on his left or the one on his right.

If the target card is location-based, it must be downloaded to the location of the  icon. For example, Arandis may download Jamaharon to nullify a Horga'hn, because that effect is not location-specific. Arandis may also download Jamaharon to relocate a male at her location to Risa. But she may not download Jamaharon to relocate a male at another location to Risa.

Each  icon on a particular card grants a Special Download only once per game, regardless of how many copies of that card you have in play. Thus, Admiral Kirk \(Life From Lifelessness\) may download both The Genesis Effect and Khan! during a game, but, if you later get another copy of Admiral Kirk into play (using Aid Clone Colony), he could not use those spent downloads.

7: EXECUTING ORDERS

Once you have played all the cards you intend to play at the start of your turn, signify this by announcing that you are now "giving orders". This is the part of your turn where you and your cards get stuff done.

MOVE (7.1)

QUARK: 'Come to Quark's, Quark's is fun, come right now — don't walk, run!' Oh, I love the part where my name rotates around.

KIRA: If all your little 'advertisements' aren't purged from our systems by the time I get back from the Gamma Quadrant, I will come to Quark's. And, believe me... I will have fun.

—"The Quickening"

During the game, your personnel will move throughout the universe. They may visit facilities, board starships, beam down to planets, invade an opponent's ship, travel across the galaxy (or across time), or stop by the bar for a relaxing hand of Tongo.

Clarifications: Crews, Away Teams, and Movement (7.0.1)

A crew is not an Away Team, and an Away Team is not a crew. A Flintlock Rifle can unstop your personnel after they're stopped by a Founder Secret on a planet, but not after they're stopped by Ankari "Spirits" in space.

Your Away Teams are usually associated with the last ship or facility you control that they visited. This "association" rule is only occasionally relevant, for cards like Memory Wipe and Magic Carpet Ride OCD. They only remain associated with the ship or facility while that ship or facility is at their spaceline location; if it leaves, then the Away Team becomes unassociated, and remains unassociated until they visit another ship or facility that you control. If your Away Team is made up of personnel from multiple ships or facilities, you must designate which one of those ships or facilities will be the one officially associated with the Away Team as soon as the merged Away Team is formed.

All your compatible personnel present automatically form one Away Team. If you have incompatible personnel present, they automatically form as many separate Away Teams as necessary so that nobody is incompatible with anybody else in an Away Team. Personnel who are compatible with multiple Away Teams present (such as  personnel) may join any compatible Away Team at that location.

This only applies to Away Teams, however. On your ship or facility, all your personnel present, compatible or incompatible, form one crew. Incompatible personnel are simply placed under house arrest.

You may not ever move any of your cards into space unless specifically allowed to do so by a card (such as Airlock or Anti-Matter Pod).

Unattended Equipment cards are not part of an Away Team.

When your personnel move to a ship or space facility that you control, stack them face-up underneath the ship or facility card. (If the facility has sites, stack the personnel face-down on top of the appropriate Site card.) These personnel, collectively, form the crew of that ship or space facility.

When your personnel are on a planet (or in a planet facility) stack them face-down on the planet (or on the planet facility). They now form a single Away Team. You may not divide your crews or Away Teams into separate groups, except when permitted or required to do so by a card or another rule.

Tip: Separate Crews and Away Teams (7.0.2)

Later, we'll discuss dilemmas and mission attempts. In practice, dilemmas will frequently cause your crews and Away Teams to become separated, by stopping, disabling, dividing, or putting in stasis your personnel. This is actually a good thing: personnel who are the victim of early dilemmas like Blended form a separate team for the rest of the mission attempt, which protects them when a team-wiping dilemma like Barclay's Protomorphosis Syndrome shows up. It won't save you from V'Ger or Crytalline Entity, but it helps!

When your personnel are on a ship or facility you do not control, they still form an Away Team, but they also become intruders. Intruders cannot attempt missions, but they can start personnel battles, and they are in a good position to commandeer their hosts. Intruders are not necessarily hostile; indeed, cards like Open Diplomatic Relations and Ferengi Trading Post positively invite friendly "intruders" to board opposing ships and facilities.

Borg Rule: Extraneous Factors are Irrelevant (7.0.3)

"You're nothing to him. He's not interested in your life form. He's just a scout, the first of many."

—Q

The Borg have a single-minded focus on their current objective. They are concerned only with outside elements if they interfere with that objective. Thus,  Borg personnel may not form Away Teams unless permitted by another card (for example, Assimilate Planet, Devidian Door, Emergency Transporter Armbands, or Near-Warp Transport) or when counter-attacking.

Whenever your personnel move, whether by choice or by force, they may carry any number of Equipment cards with them. Equipment is not carried by any specific personnel, but is carried (and used by) the entire team as a whole. (There are a few exceptions, like Mobile Holo-Emitter and Data's Head, which are "worn" or "placed on" a single, specific personnel.)

BEAM (7.1.1)

"I signed aboard this ship to practice medicine, not to have my atoms scattered back and forth across space by this gadget!"

—Dr. McCoy

In the Star Trek universe, all modern facilities and vessels are equipped with transporters, which are devices that allow near-instant teleportation of personnel and equipment en masse. In the Star Trek CCG, using the transporters ("beaming") is the normal way to move your crews and Away Teams between ships, planets, and facilities. All Ships and Facilities have transporters unless the card indicates otherwise.

Clarifications: Compatibility (7.1.1.0.4)

As always, you may not deliberately place any personnel in a house arrest situation, so you may not beam one of your personnel onto one of your own incompatible ships. However, you may beam them aboard opponent's incompatible ships, since house arrest applies only to your personnel.

Clarifications: "Unshielded" (7.1.1.0.3)

A card is unshielded if its SHIELDS are disabled, offline, or equal 0. Also, SHIELDS are always dropped during a transport in order to allow the transport (which you can exploit with Dropping In).

Clarifications: Card-Activated Transport (7.1.1.0.2)

Special beaming cards such as Near-Warp Transport, Emergency Transporter Armbands, or Extradition do not provide transporters and do not allow you to use your opponent's transporters. They do not overcome obstacles to beaming, such as Atmospheric Ionization, Barclay Transporter Phobia, Katherine Pulaski's beaming restriction, or being stopped. Special beaming cards simply allow you to use existing, functional transporters in unusual ways.

Clarifications: Transporter Limits (7.1.1.0.1)

There is no limit to the number of times you can beam during your turn.

All cards in a group beam simultaneously unless you specify otherwise.

You may not beam cards into space.

All beaming is to or from a set of transporters. Thus, you may not use the transporters of one ship or facility to beam cards directly between a planet and another ship or facility without transporters.

Any ship or facility that you control, even if it has no personnel onboard, may use its transporters to beam your personnel and/or equipment to or from that ship or facility. You may beam to (or from) your other ships or facilities at the same location, to (or from) your opponent's unshielded ship or facility at the same location, or, if your transporters are at a  Planet location, to (or from) the planet's surface. Announce the beaming, remove the cards from their origin, and place them at their destination.

You may only use your opponent's transporters at a usable facility or ship.

Tip: Boarding? Have a Plan! (7.1.1.0.5)

Since you can't use most of your opponent's transporters, you should always have a plan for extraction before boarding an opponent's ship or facility. Otherwise you may find your Away Team trapped on a docked ship at an enemy outpost for the rest of the game!

WALK (7.1.2)

"I think it's time that we took a little stroll."

—Jean-Luc

Your personnel may also walk around at a location. Specifically, your personnel at a facility may walk on or off of your ships docked there ("embarking" and "disembarking"). On a planet, your personnel may walk in or out of your facilities or landed ships on that planet ("entering" and "exiting"). At a station with sites, personnel may walk from one site to another (they must pass through each site in between, but do not have to stop at each). There is no limit to the number of times personnel may walk during a turn.

STAFF A SHIP (7.1.3)

"I've had my share of piloting experience. Actually only two lessons, and they were in a shuttlecraft on the Holodeck, but I showed great intuition. Where's the helm?"

—The Doctor

In order to dock, undock, or move a ship, you must meet its staffing requirements. A ship's staffing requirements are listed on the card, usually as icons representing Command ability () or Staff ability (), but sometimes as specific skills or characteristics. A ship is staffed when:

Clarifications: Ship Staffing (7.1.3.0.1)

A dual-personnel card has only one affiliation icon (even if multi-affiliation, it has only one affiliation at a time) which may be used for staffing by either of the personnel, but not both. For example, Third and Fourth may contribute one  icon and one  icon toward staffing a Borg Cube, but not two  icons.

One personnel cannot supply more than one required staffing icon, even if the personnel has more than one of the required icons. For example, a Borg Cube normally requires seven personnel to staff it, even if the Borg Queen or Locutus of Borg is aboard.

Staffing icons requirements must be met by a personnel. For example, you may not use the  icon on a Classic Tricorder to staff a Starship Constitution.

- There is at least one personnel of matching affiliation on board; and
- Each staffing requirement is met by a compatible personnel onboard.

For staffing purposes only, a personnel with  may substitute for a required .

Full staffing is required only for movement. Any ship which has at least one personnel of matching affiliation on board can attempt a mission, initiate battle, or fire weapons, even if the ship is not fully staffed. Any ship, including an empty one, may use its transporters.

DOCK & UNDOCK (7.1.4)

"Close exterior hatches, depressurise the airlock. Detach umbilicals, clear all moorings."

Your staffed ships may dock and undock at any compatible outpost you control.

Clarification: No Docking at  Planet Facilities (7.1.4.0.4)

Ships cannot dock at planet facilities. Thus, when a ship is played to a  planet facility (like a Headquarters), it must enter play in orbit of the planet.

Clarification: Crew Need Not Be Compatible To Dock (7.1.4.0.3)

Only your ship must be compatible to dock at your outpost. For example, you may dock your  ship at your  outpost even if the ship's crew includes  personnel.

Clarification: No Undocking from Opponent's Facilities (7.1.4.0.2)

You may not undock a ship docked at an opponent's facility (even a commandeered ship) unless a card specifically allows it (for example, Croden's Key or Docking Ports).

Clarification: "Return To Outpost" and Docking (7.1.4.0.1)

Some cards, such as Rhetorical Question, Rescue Personnel, and Vole Infestation, require that a ship "return to", "evacuate at", "stop at", or otherwise visit a compatible outpost (or other space facility). Ships must be docked to meet the conditions of this gametext; they may not simply be at the same location.

Docking and undocking are forms of ship movement that use no RANGE. Since it uses no RANGE, there is no limit on the number of times a ship may dock or undock in a turn. Place docked ships beneath the facility card (or atop the site card).

While docked, your ship gains SHIELDS equal to 50% of the facility's SHIELDS. Docked ships may not attempt missions or fire WEAPONS (even to return fire when attacked). A docked ship is conceptually within the facility's SHIELDS bubble, but not aboard the facility itself. Thus, docked ships are not destroyed if the facility is destroyed.

When a ship is played to a facility (or its site) that allows docking, it must enter play docked. A ship reporting to a facility with sites must report to an appropriate docking site.

FLY A STARSHIP (7.1.5)

"Number One, set a course for the Neutral Zone."

—Jean-Luc

A staffed ship can move along your side of the spaceline in either direction. The distance your ship can move on one turn is limited by its RANGE. You determine how far it can travel by adding up the span of each location the ship moves to (or passes), not counting the location where it begins. For example, three consecutive missions A, B, and C on a spaceline have spans of 3, 2, and 4. A ship with full RANGE of 12 starting at mission A will use 6 RANGE to reach mission C, and 5 RANGE to return from C to A.

Clarifications: RANGE Boosts in Regions (7.1.5.0.3)

Some cards, like Deranas and Used To Being Outnumbered, increase a ship's RANGE in a region. To benefit from this RANGE boost, the ship's entire movement must be within the same region.

For example, if Bajoran Interceptor (RANGE 5 + X, X = 4 in a region) moves from Establish Station (no region) to Kressari Rendezvous (Cardassia Region, span 2) adjacent, its RANGE is 5. At the end of the move, its remaining RANGE is 3. If it then makes a second move from Kressari Rendezvous to the adjacent Orb Negotiations (Cardassia Region, span 4), its RANGE at the start of the move will be 7 (9 - 2 used), and at the end its remaining RANGE will be 3 (as long as any further movement is within the Cardassia Region).

Clarifications: No Default Docking (7.1.5.0.2)

When moving a ship to the location of a usable space facility, your ship remains undocked unless you dock it by placing it beneath the facility (or on top of an appropriate Site).

Clarifications: Warp Speed Immunity (7.1.5.0.1)

A ship "flying by" a location cannot affect, and is not affected by, cards at that location (unless the card says it affects ships flying by or passing by), even if an action suspends play at the moment the ship is passing the location. (A ship flying by a location is conceptually at warp speed.) For example, if play is suspended when a ship is passing the ♦ Nebula mission and the opponent scores points while play is suspended, that ship does not face a dilemma.

The diagram illustrates the movement of a ship through various mission cards, showing how range is calculated and used.

Top Row (Mission Cards):

- Intercept Sleeper Ship: Leadership x2 + WEAPONS-8 OR Any K'Elkayr + INTEGRITY-35. L.K.S. T'Pol may report here (with up to 3 personnel). 5 (Range)
- Amnesty Talks: Near Acamar system: Mediate an end to Gornier raids in this area. Anthropology + Diplomacy x2 + Low OR Leadership + SECURITY + Treachery x2 OR Marok. Any crew may attempt mission. 3 (Range)
- Advanced Combat Training: Inhospitable planet: Participate in tactical training scenarios in harsh environment. Computer Skill + SECURITY + Leadership + MEDICAL. 2 (Range)
- Locate Terrorist Leader: Volo Region + Third moon of Volo: Find Bajoran terrorist's resistance cell. Anthropology + SECURITY + Computer Skill + (Honor OR Treachery OR Resistance). 4 (Range)

- U.S.S. Danube: DANUBE CLASS. Class of runabout often named for Tarron rivers. First commissioned in 2368. The following year, the U.S.S. Enterprise delivered three Danube-class vessels to DS9. Reports for free to Docking Pods. RANGE 7, WEAPONS 4, SHIELDS 5.
- U.S.S. Enterprise-E: SOVEREIGN CLASS. The latest in the Enterprise line, it gets "all the easy assignments." Commanded by William T. Riker in the Bior Patch incident with the Sor'a. WEAPONS and SHIELDS +1 for each aboard. Holodeck, Tractor Beam. RANGE 10, WEAPONS 7, SHIELDS 8.

Range Calculations (indicated by blue arrows):

- U.S.S. Danube: $3 + 2 = 5$ RANGE used, $7 - 5 = 2$ RANGE remaining.
- U.S.S. Enterprise-E: $2 + 3 + 5 = 10$ RANGE used, $10 - 10 = 0$ RANGE remaining.

A ship does not have to move all of its RANGE on a turn. A ship can stop at each location as it moves, or it can "fly past" locations (conceptually passing them at warp speed) without stopping there (but still using RANGE).

LAND & TAKE OFF (7.1.6)

"Harry, vent all plasma from the nacelles, transfer available power to atmospheric thrusters and stand by to commence landing sequence."

—Kathryn Janeway

Some ships are able to take off or land on  Planets. Landing and taking off is a movement action that uses no range (unless stated); thus, it requires full staffing.

Landed ships may not attack or be attacked by ships or Away Teams unless a card specifically allows it. Landed ships may not be targeted by any card or effect that targets a ship (such as Loss of Orbital Stability), unless the card specifically allows it to target a landed ship (such as Hirogen Hunt). However, cards may report and beam to (or from) a landed ship as normal.

CARRIED SHIPS (7.1.6.1)

Some small ships can be carried aboard larger ships. A ship can never be carried unless a card explicitly allows it to be "carried", "loaded", or "reported aboard" another ship (like Engage Shuttle Operations). Like docking and undocking, launching and recovering a carried ship is a movement action that uses no RANGE, which requires the carried ship to be fully staffed.

Clarifications: Carried Ships (7.1.6.1.0.1)

Game text that allows you to launch carried ships also (implicitly) allows you to recover such ships.

Personnel aboard a carried ship are also part of the crew of the carrying ship, or are intruders if the carrying ship is controlled by a different player.

Cards that may not target docked ships also may not target carried ships. Carried ships cannot be targeted in battle (they are not present with opponents' ships).

If you launch a carried ship into space from a landed ship, it counts as both launching and taking off; reloading a ship aboard a landed ship counts as both reloading and landing. For example, to launch the Delta Flyer from your landed U.S.S. Voyager, you must have a card such as Blue Alert to allow it to take off, using 2 RANGE.

Carried ships are present with the carrying ship, and with the crews of both ships.

If a carried ship is destroyed (for example, by Warp Core Breach), the carrying ship is damaged.

MOVE BETWEEN QUADRANTS (7.1.7)

"Captain, if these sensors are working, we're over seventy thousand light years from where we were. We're on the other side of the galaxy."

—Harry Kim

It is not legal to move between quadrants unless permitted or required by a card.

Clarifications: Which Cards Count? (7.1.7.0.1)

Any gametext which allows or requires a card to move directly from one location to another may potentially move that card to a different quadrant. Examples of cards that could cause movement between quadrants include Iconian Gateway, Wormhole, Where's Guinan?, and Mysterious Orb.

However, cards whose gametexts refer to the "spaceline", "any spaceline location", or to a distance (such as the "most distant planet") can only cause movement within the current quadrant. Examples include The Traveler, Where No One Has Gone Before, Female Love Interest, and Magic Carpet Ride OCD.

Tip: Inter-Quadrant Strategies (7.1.7.0.1)

Typically, players use Bajoran Wormhole to move between the Alpha and Gamma Quadrants, and Bajoran Wormhole: Mirror Universe to move between the Alpha and Mirror Quadrants. Mirror players also use Crossover and Multidimensional Transport Device. The Caretaker's Array is useful for non- Delta Quadrant travel, while Transwarp Network Gateway is typical for  players. Other cards that frequently appear in decks that need quadrant travel are Barzan Wormhole and the classic Wormhole.

TIME TRAVEL (7.1.8)

"The Vulcan Science Directorate has determined that time travel is impossible."

—T'Pol

Time Travel is movement between a time location and a spaceline location, or between two time locations. It is not legal unless expressly permitted or required by a card.

Tip: Time Travel Strategies (7.1.8.0.2)

The five main cards used for time travel are (from most to least common): Temporal Conduit, Out of Time (especially for  decks, thanks to Daniels), Temporal Vortex, The Guardian of Forever, and finally Orb of Time (which is the most flexible time travel device, but also the hardest to set up).

Clarifications: "Corresponding" Time Locations (7.1.8.0.1)

Some time travel-enabling cards, like Out Of Time, specify that they only permit time travel between a time location and its corresponding spaceline location. The corresponding spaceline location (if any) is the card (usually a Mission card) whose location (stated in its title or lore) matches the location stated in the time location's lore. For example, playing Out Of Time allows you to move your temporal agent between Khitomer Conference (located on 2293 Khitomer) and Khitomer Research (the Mission card for present-day Khitomer), or between Montana Missile Complex (located on 2063 Earth) and Espionage Mission (the Mission card for present-day Earth), but it would not allow you to move between Montana Missile Complex and Khitomer Research (a time location and a non-corresponding spaceline location), or between Montana Missile Complex and Khitomer Conference (two time locations).

It is possible for multiple time locations to exist at the same spaceline location. For example, a player (if he or she were insane) might play Espionage Mission (Earth) with Montana Missile Complex (2063 Earth), Cetacean Institute (1986 Earth), and 22nd-Century San Francisco (2154 Earth). If you want to travel between time locations at the same spaceline location without having to pass through the spaceline location (for example, you want to go straight from Cetacean Institute to Montana Missile Complex without stopping at Espionage Mission), you will have to carefully read the gametext of the card that is making your time travel possible. For instance, Orb of Time supports this use, because it permits "time travel" without restriction. But Out Of Time only permits time travel "between a time location and the corresponding spaceline location," which means it cannot support direct time travel between two time locations.

ATTEMPT A MISSION (7.2)

The mission. Whether it's exploration or relief, diplomacy or combat, the mission is at the heart of every Star Trek episode — and the Star Trek CCG.

Of course, missions rarely go as planned. You'll beam down to do some Changeling Research with a research team, but you'd better bring weapons and Security officers to keep them safe, or they might fall prey to a Berserk Changeling. It's even more important in space, where a mission to Observe Stellar Rebirth could end in catastrophe for an entire starship if they're not prepared for everything they might find. But, if you survive the dilemmas your opponent has left for you and solve the mission, you're one step closer to winning the game.

BEGINNING AN ATTEMPT (7.2.1)

"Well... it seems we're truly sailing into the unknown."

—Jean-Luc Picard

You may attempt any mission with a point box that you seeded. You may also attempt a mission with a point box an opponent seeded if its point box shows 40 points or more, or (if  universal) there is more than one copy in play. You may not attempt or solve other missions.

Open Rules: Attempt Opponent's Missions (7.2.1.0.1)

Under Open Rules, any player may attempt any mission as long as the attempting crew or Away Team meets the affiliation requirements.  Borg may scout any mission.

At a  Planet mission, any single Away Team that is present on the planet's surface may begin a mission attempt. At a  Space mission, any single undocked ship may begin a mission attempt. (The ship's crew must include at least one personnel of matching affiliation.)

Clarification: "Any Crew" / "Any Away Team" (7.2.1.0.5)

The phrase "Any crew may attempt mission" (or, at , "Any Away Team") allows attempts by personnel of any affiliation (except ). It does not remove other restrictions on mission attempts, like the rule against attempting from a docked ship, or attempting opponent's 30-point unique, unshared mission.

Clarification: Meeting Requirements is Mandatory (7.2.1.0.3)

During a mission attempt, you cannot choose not to meet mission or dilemma requirements (including conditions, cures, and nullifiers). If your mission team meets the requirements, they overcome the dilemma or solve the mission.

You can choose which personnel or equipment in the mission team fulfill the requirements of a dilemma (including conditions, cures, and nullifiers). You do not need to use everyone if a smaller group can meet the requirements. Thus, a personnel with Picard's Artificial Heart will not die when facing a dilemma with a STRENGTH requirement if you can satisfy the requirement with other personnel in the Away Team, and Matthew Dougherty will not score points from Collect Metaphasic Particles if his Treachery is not specified as contributing to the requirements.

Clarification: Attempting a Dual-Icon Mission (7.2.1.0.2)

To attempt (or solve) a  Dual-Icon Mission like Deliver Cargo, you must have both an Away Team on the planet and a crew in orbit, both of which must have at least one personnel who allows the attempt (for instance, by matching one of the affiliation icons on the Mission).

During a mission attempt at a Dual-Icon Mission,  Planet dilemmas are encountered by the Away Team only, and  Space dilemmas are encountered by the crew only. When  Dual dilemmas or  Q-icon cards are encountered, the attempting player may choose which team encounters it. When a card like Kobayashi Maru Scenario targets attempting personnel randomly, the attempting player chooses which team it targets. When a card like All Available Personnel checks or restricts how many personnel are attempting the mission, it includes both teams unless otherwise specified. (For example, Villagers With Torches uses the words "on planet," specifying the Away Team only.)

Once all dilemmas are cleared, the two teams may combine their skills to meet the mission requirements.

To begin a mission attempt, there must be at least one personnel attempting whose affiliation matches one of the icons (or meets alternate qualifications) given in the mission's affiliation box. All compatible personnel in the crew or Away Team may assist that personnel, and may contribute skills and other attributes to the mission requirements. You do not need to meet the mission's requirements in order to begin a mission attempt.

Some cards, like Quantum Torpedo or Homefront, may add further restrictions on beginning a mission attempt. However, they do not affect a mission attempt while encountering seed cards.

Clarification: Attempting, Scouting, and Empok Nor Commandeering

The rules for mission attempts, mission scouting (by ), and Empok Nor commandeering are largely identical. For simplicity's sake, all references in this section to a "mission attempt" include scouting and Empok Nor commandeering attempts, unless patently inapplicable. Likewise, when a rule forbids "solving" a mission, it also prevents completion of scouting and Empok Nor commandeering.

Simply announce that you are beginning a mission attempt with your ship or Away Team. Mission attempts are a single action, so, once the attempt has started, you will not be able to do anything else (except as a valid response or by suspending play) until the entire mission attempt is completed.

If there are cards seeded under this mission, slide the bottom seed card out from under the mission, reveal it face-up, and begin working through the mission's challenges! If there are no seed cards, you then try to solve the mission.

ENCOUNTERING DILEMMAS (7.2.2)

Most cards seeded under a mission are probably Dilemmas, or are cards that function as Dilemmas. Either way, you're in trouble!

Clarification: Dilemma Triggers (7.2.2.0.4)

Some effects are subject to triggers. If the trigger is not met, then the effect is nullified. For example, Maman Picard has the automatic effect of sending your ship to the end of the spaceline, but the trigger for this effect is "If this is a Federation ship...". If the attempting ship is not , this effect is nullified. Since there are no remaining effects on the dilemma, it is removed.

Some triggers have alternative effects. For example, Cybernetic Homing Device has an automatic effect ("opponent may move ship up to printed range") with the trigger ("If android or non- Borg aboard"). If a trigger is not met, that effect is nullified, but is replaced with a different conditional effect (cannot get past without CUNNING > 36).

Clarification: Dilemma Targets (7.2.2.0.3)

If an effect requires you to choose a target, and there is no valid target in play, the effect is not carried out (or "fizzles"). For example, if you encounter Conundrum and cannot meet its conditions, but your opponent has no targetable ships, it cannot be placed on an opponent's ship and must be discarded instead. (You have still failed the mission attempt.) If you encounter Hippocratic Oath but there are no planets on the spaceline, it is removed. However, the absence of targets does not affect other elements of the dilemma encounter. If you don't meet the conditions of Empathic Echo (SECURITY and MEDICAL), the mission attempt fails and the dilemma is reseeded even if you have no Empathy (the target) in your Away Team.

If there are not enough targets for the effect of a dilemma, do as much as you can. (Dilemmas are an exception to the normal rule that gametext is all-or-nothing.) For example, Armus: Roulette specifies that four target personnel are to be selected, but, if only two personnel are present, it selects those two. Likewise, Dejaren targets one  personnel and one non-; if there are no  personnel present, select a non- personnel to die, then proceed to Dejaren's next effect.

Borg Rule: Some Dilemmas are Irrelevant (7.2.2.0.2)

Gender is Irrelevant: Gender-related requirements or targets on dilemmas are ignored, unless the dilemma is specifically identified as "Borg-related." If there is an alternative which is not gender-related, a  Borg must use that. Otherwise, the dilemma is discarded (it is not considered overcome). For example,  must meet the first requirement on Unexpected to avoid its conditional effect, but Matriarchal Society and Talosian Cage are discarded without effect. The Borg Queen is female. All counterparts are male. Borg drones have no gender unless specifically identified.

Classification is Irrelevant: Any cards which specifically require or change a "classification", such as Scottish Setter, do not affect .

Bonus Points are Irrelevant: Because  cannot score bonus points, any dilemma which shows bonus points must be played out normally, but any bonus points scored are ignored. When overcome or cured, the dilemma is placed out-of-play as normal (instead of the bonus point area). If a dilemma presents a choice between scoring bonus points and some other option, a Borg player must select the option without bonus points.

Missions are Irrelevant: Because  attempt to scout locations instead of directly attempting missions, all game text referring specifically to a mission attempt (such as Edo Probe's "Abandon mission attempt", Dead End's "Mission may not be attempted", or Linguistic Legerdemain's "Place on mission; it may not be attempted") do not affect . Ignore such text, and discard the dilemma if it is wholly inapplicable. However, the word "attempt", by itself (for example, Buried Alive's "attempt ends") includes scouting attempts and does affect .

Moreover, the phrase "Mission continues" is uniquely important in dilemma resolution (see conditional effects), and means "Scouting continues" for Borg.

Clarifications: Reading and Responding to Dilemmas (7.2.2.0.1)

Dilemmas are intended to be read by the encountering player. All references to "you", "your", and "your choice" refer to the encountering player. "Opponent" or "opponent's choice" refer to the encountering player's opponent.

On a dilemma card with more than one effect, each effect should be encountered and resolved in sequence. For example, Menthara Booby Trap first causes the effect of preventing the ship from moving, then causes the effect of killing a member of the crew.

A requirement such as STRENGTH > 40 refers to the total STRENGTH of the Away Team or crew. When requirements or targets include attributes, apply any relevant attribute modifiers, such as Lower Decks, phasers, The Emissary, etc.

Only personnel in the crew or Away Team attempting the mission are present with a dilemma during the mission attempt, or may trigger, be targeted by, overcome, nullify, or cure it. Personnel who are "stopped," disabled, in stasis, intruders, etc. are separated and are not affected by dilemma text targeting "crew," "entire crew," "all crew," "Away Team," or "entire Away Team" (which refer only to the crew or Away Team facing the dilemma). Only dilemmas using broader terms such as "all personnel on ship" (Crystalline Entity) or "personnel at this location" (Dal'Rok) can affect personnel not involved in a mission attempt when the dilemma is encountered.

A personnel placed atop a mission by a dilemma and/or "held" there is in stasis (but is not a captive).

If a dilemma looks for something like "strongest" or "highest total attributes," and there is a tie, the opponent of the encountering player chooses. See Ties.

Each dilemma encounter is a sub-action of the mission attempt (which is a group action). Like the mission attempt itself, the encounter cannot be interrupted except by a valid response or a card which suspends play. Normally, you may not respond to a dilemma until all potential targets for the dilemma have been chosen and the crew or Away Team's ability to meet any requirements has been checked. (Only at this point is the dilemma considered "just encountered" for cards like Hologram: Deadwood.)

Playing a card that nullifies certain dilemmas, such as Plexing, is a valid response to encountering such a dilemma. Likewise, activating a A card that enhances certain dilemmas, such as Shades of Gray: Anguish, is a valid response to any player encountering one of those dilemmas.

After you flip a dilemma face-up during a mission attempt to reveal it, the crew or Away Team begin an encounter with that dilemma.

Each dilemma has one or more effects, such as, "kills one personnel with SCIENCE (random selection)", "when countdown expires, ship is destroyed", or "cannot get past". Effects may be automatic or may have requirements: conditions, cures, or nullifiers.

A dilemma is removed from the mission's seed cards once all its effects have been resolved. Some removed dilemmas enter play, with long-term effects. However, most removed dilemmas are discarded.

Clarifications: "Combo" Dilemmas (7.2.2.0.7)

There are a total of six "combo dilemmas" in the game. These rules apply only to them and may otherwise be ignored.

A combo dilemma is a two-dilemma combination in one Dilemma card. (Example: Male's Love Interest & Plague Ship) Encountering a combo dilemma is like encountering two separate dilemmas: if you meet the conditions of the first half, you continue on to face the second half; if not, you place the card back under the mission and will have to face the first half again. However, some combo dilemmas with conditions say "not repeatable" in the first half; this phrase takes the place of "discard dilemma" and means that the first half is conceptually discarded after you face it; when you or your opponent encounter that same exact card on another attempt, the first half of the combo is skipped. If the first half has no conditions (for example, Male's Love Interest), it is always conceptually discarded after it has its effect.

Cards that specifically affect the first half of a combo dilemma do not automatically affect the second half. For example, if Male's Love Interest is discarded by Senior Staff Meeting or nullified by Kareen Brianon you still encounter the Tarellian Plague Ship half of the card. Similarly, if, during an encounter with Alien Parasites & REM Fatigue, you fail to overcome Alien Parasites and your opponent uses your personnel to re-attempt the mission, they will begin by facing REM Fatigue. Any Mission Fatigue in play "stops" a personnel before each dilemma, so one personnel will be "stopped" before each half of the combo.

You may not legally seed a combo dilemma at the same location as either of the original dilemma cards on which it is based; the second one encountered would be a mis-seed. If the mis-seed is the first half of a combo dilemma, place it "conceptually" out-of-play while you encounter the second half, then place it physically out-of-play once the second half has been resolved.

Likewise, you cannot legally seed more than two of any dilemma, including a combo dilemma that includes it. For example, if you seeded two copies of Radioactive Garbage Scow and an additional copy of Female's Love Interest & Garbage Scow, that would count as three copies of Radioactive Garbage Scow, and your deck would be disqualified.

Even though combo dilemmas and the original dilemmas on which they are based are considered copies, they sometimes have different gametext. For example, Microvirus excludes inorganics, but Ancient Computer & Microvirus does not.

Clarifications: Doubling (or Tripling) Dilemmas (7.2.2.0.6)

If a dilemma is "doubled" (for example, by Lore), all features of the dilemma are doubled, including requirements, effects, and point values. However, some cards double only parts of a dilemma, like Howard Heirloom Candle, which doubles effects only, and Shades of Gray: Brutality, which doubles requirements only.

Clarifications: Dilemmas Entering Play (7.2.2.0.5)

Some dilemmas, when removed, are not discarded, but instead are placed elsewhere, such as atop the mission, on the attempting ship, or on table...often as a consequence of failing to meet the dilemma's conditions.

If the dilemma is not placed on a valid target, all subsequent text on the dilemma is ignored. For example, if you encounter "God" and you prevent it from being placed on the mission (by having two personnel present with INTEGRITY > 7), the dilemma is removed and the mission continues — even if you do not have a ship in orbit.

Reminder: Put Discarded Dilemmas Out-of-Play

Remember that discarded dilemmas are placed out-of-play just after they are discarded. See Leaving Play.

AUTOMATIC EFFECTS (7.2.2.1)

"You may win this war, Commander, but I promise you, when it is over, you will have lost so many ships, so many lives, that your victory will taste as bitter as defeat."

—Founder Leader

Effects that have no requirements happen automatically. Examples include Artillery Attack, which automatically kills some number of personnel, Murasaki Effect, which penalizes beaming at the mission where it is encountered and the first effect of Armus: Energy Field, which stops (at least) one personnel. (The second effect of Armus: Energy Field is conditional.)

When your mission team encounters an automatic effect, simply follow its gametext. If all of the effects your mission team encounters on a dilemma are automatic, the dilemma is automatically removed at the end of the encounter. Thus, Chula: Crossroads is removed as soon as the personnel targeted by it have been stopped. I'm Not Going To Fight You is removed as soon as its download is complete and placed on the mission for a persistent effect. Chula: The Lights has both an automatic effect (returns a personnel to hand) and a conditional effect (cannot get past without a certain amount of CUNNING), so it is not removed until the condition is met.

CONDITIONAL EFFECTS (7.2.2.2)

"If we can't find a way to stop them, they'll tear the ship apart."

—B'Elanna Torres

Many effects can be prevented if you meet certain conditions. If you meet the conditions for all such effects on a dilemma, the dilemma is overcome and removed. Examples include "God", which has a condition of two personnel who each have INTEGRITY > 7, Ancient Computer, which has multiple options for defeating its effect, and Dead End, which has a condition of having at least 50 points. Conditions are prefaced with the words "unless", "to get past", or "cannot get past".

However, if you fail to meet the conditions of any of the active effects on a dilemma, the dilemma is not removed. Failing to overcome a conditional effect has all of the following consequences:

Tip: Condition Examples (7.2.2.2.0.1)

Basic Example: if you encounter Astral Eddy, check your crew. If they have Navigation, Physics, and 2 ENGINEER, the dilemma is overcome (remove it). Otherwise, they fail to overcome the dilemma. One crew member is killed, the mission attempt fails, the ship and crew are stopped, and the dilemma is replaced under the mission to be encountered again.

Advanced Example: if you encounter Spatial Rift, first resolve the automatic effect ("Two personnel (random selection) are discarded unless their combined CUNNING > 14"). Then face the conditional effect ("To get past...") with its conditions ("...requires Astrophysics and 2 ENGINEER). If you still have those requirements after potentially losing your two personnel, the dilemma is overcome; discard it and proceed with the mission. If not, you fail to overcome the dilemma. It takes effect (you can't get past), the mission attempt fails, and all your involved ships and personnel are stopped. Then the dilemma goes back under the mission to be encountered again (in full). Next time you attempt it, you will probably lose two more personnel to the automatic effect before you get a second chance to meet the requirements and overcome it!

"Discard Dilemma": Alice has a condition of 2 Computer Skill and Biology. If that condition is not met, the personnel with most Navigation is captured, the mission attempt fails, and the mission team is stopped (along with their ship, if at a  mission)... but Alice itself is removed and discarded, instead of being put back under the mission to be encountered again.

"Mission Continues": Hunter Probe has the effect of (eventually) killing two personnel, which can be prevented by meeting the condition of having 2 SECURITY and 2 Anthropology present. Normally, failing to meet this condition would not only mark two personnel for death, but would also stop the mission attempt and mission team. However, because the card says, "Mission continues," the dilemma is removed, and the mission attempt goes on. (The two personnel then die at end of turn).

- The effect occurs.
- The mission attempt fails (see mission failure below).
- The ship, crew, and/or Away Team involved in the mission attempt are all stopped.
- The dilemma is reseeded as the bottom card under the mission, to be encountered again on the next attempt.

There are two main exceptions to these consequences for dilemma failure:

If a dilemma says, "Discard dilemma", then the dilemma is removed and discarded after it is encountered, even if the mission team failed to overcome it. The mission attempt still fails, and the mission team is still stopped, but at least the dilemma will not be encountered again!

If a dilemma says, "Mission continues", then the dilemma is removed even if the mission team fails to pass it. The mission attempt continues and the mission team is not stopped.

CURABLE EFFECTS (7.2.2.3)

"By golly, Jim, I'm beginning to think I can cure a rainy day!"

—Dr. McCoy

Some dilemmas have an ongoing effect that can be cured by meeting a set of cure requirements — after the dilemma has taken effect. First, the dilemma has its effects, which removes the dilemma from the mission's seed cards (it will not be encountered again). Then, if the required skills are present, it is cured immediately, before the next dilemma is encountered. If not, then the dilemma remains in play until cured or otherwise discarded. The cure requirements on a dilemma apply to all its effects; once a dilemma's cure requirements are met, the entire dilemma is discarded. Curable requirements are always marked with the word "cure." For example, Komar Possession stops personnel every turn until cured with 3 SECURITY.

Tip: Cure Examples (7.2.2.3.0.1)

Basic Example: when encountered, Horta is removed from the mission's seed cards, placed atop the mission, and kills a member of your Away Team. This kill repeats each turn, an ongoing effect. It can be cured with 2 Leadership, 2 Mindmeld, and 2 Exobiology — but only after the first person has been killed (hopefully it didn't get one of your Exobiologists!). If it can't be cured immediately, the mission continues, but the dilemma remains on the planet until its cure requirements are met.

Multiple-Effect Example: when encountered, Menthara Booby Trap is automatically removed from the mission's seed cards and placed on the attempting ship. Its first effect is that the ship cannot move, with a cure requirement of 2 ENGINEER. This is followed by a second effect (killing a random crew member), unless the crew meets the condition of having MEDICAL present. The mission team may cure the first effect with 2 ENGINEER, but only after it has been placed on the ship and after any deaths that result from the dilemma's second effect.

Multiple-Condition Example: Ankari "Spirits" has a single effect — killing large numbers of your personnel — but two conditions. The first requirement ("3 Honor and INTEGRITY > 35") is a normal dilemma condition; if the crew does not meet this condition, they fail to overcome the dilemma. The dilemma is placed on the ship, two personnel are killed (and an ongoing effect begins), the mission attempt fails, and the ship and crew are stopped. Now the original condition goes away, and is replaced by a cure requirement ("Cure with 3 ENGINEER and Exobiology"). If it can be met now, the dilemma is cured and placed out-of-play (but the dead people remain dead, and the ship and crew are still stopped, because they failed to overcome its conditions). Otherwise, it remains on the ship until it is cured by 3 ENGINEER and Exobiology. Since 3 Honor and INTEGRITY > 35 is not a cure requirement, it is irrelevant after the initial encounter.

Cure requirements are often harder to meet than normal requirements, because the effect hits first. For example, Data Has Some Issues is cured with 3 ENGINEER, but first it stops a personnel present. If that personnel happens to be one of your engineers, and you don't have any extra, too bad! You can't cure the dilemma this turn, and people are going to start dying!

Failing to immediately meet a cure requirement does not cause mission failure.

NULLIFIABLE EFFECTS (7.2.2.4)

"This is the nanovirus Axum designed to prevent the Borg from detecting those with the genetic mutation. But I've modified it to nullify their cortical inhibitors instead."

—The Doctor

Some dilemmas state they can be nullified. Some form of the word "nullify" is always used. When a nullifier requirement is met, the dilemma is removed. A nullifier can be met either immediately when the dilemma is encountered and before it takes effect (like a condition) or, if it has an ongoing effect, at any time after it takes effect (like a cure).

Tip: Nullifier Examples (7.2.2.4.0.1)

Nullification Example: Framed For Murder plays on a unique personnel present and prevents that personnel from using skills or staffing icons. It has a nullifier: "Nullify with any personnel who has CUNNING > 9 and Biology OR Law." If you have a personnel who meets those conditions, the dilemma is immediately removed, before your opponent has the chance to place it on one of your personnel. Otherwise, the dilemma is placed on one of your personnel and remains there until some personnel arrives who has CUNNING > 9 and Biology or Law. Either way, the mission continues.

Another Nullification Example: Do You Smell Something Burning? has the effect "stops half your Away Team" with the nullifier "Nullify with a cook, ANIMAL, or Lure of the Nexus." If a cook or ANIMAL is present, the dilemma is immediately removed, before any personnel are stopped. If the player encountering the dilemma has Lure of the Nexus available to play from hand or by download, he or she may do so, which also discards the dilemma before any personnel are stopped. If those conditions cannot be met, the effect occurs. The mission continues with the remaining unstopped Away Team members. (The "Mission continues" text at the end is redundant.)

For example, Dial-Up stops some personnel, but has the nullifier "Nullify with 3 Computer Skill and Anthropology." An Away Team facing this dilemma may check immediately for 3 Computer Skill and Anthropology, before stopping any personnel. If the requirements are not present, mission continues, but the dilemma can still be discarded later whenever 3 Computer Skill and Anthropology are present. The dilemma self-nullifies when its countdown timer reaches zero.

Failing to immediately meet a nullifier does not cause mission failure.

OTHER SEEDS (7.2.3)

Besides Dilemmas (and cards that function as Dilemmas), you may encounter other cards beneath a mission.  Artifacts may be seeded at any planet mission, and several other cards (such as Search for Weapons and Cryosatellite) will allow you to seed personnel or equipment beneath a mission. If you encounter one of these cards during a mission attempt, place it face-up beneath the mission and continue to the next seed card. The player who solves this mission will earn all these cards.

MIS-SEEDS (7.2.4)

Any card revealed at a mission that cannot be legally encountered at that mission is immediately placed out-of-play (it is not encountered).

Mis-seeds include (but are not limited to):

Clarifications: Becoming Mis-seeded (7.2.4.0.1)

In rare situations, it is possible for a card seeded legally to become a mis-seed during the course of play. For example, Cryosatellite allows you to seed three  personnel under a mission. If you discard your own seeded Cryosatellite during a mission attempt (for example, with a Pla-Net), those personnel become mis-seeds. These mis-seeds are placed out-of-play as normal when encountered, but they do not affect your ability to solve the mission.

- non-seed cards (such as Event cards) placed under a Mission as a bluff,
- multiple copies of the same card seeded under one Mission by a single player,
-  space Dilemmas revealed under  planet Missions (and vice versa),
- -icon cards without an -enabling card,
- multiple Artifacts seeded under one Mission by a single player (all that player's artifacts at that Mission become mis-seeds), and
- personnel with no game text allowing them to seed (such as Mirasta Yale under a mission other than First Contact).

If a player encounters his or her own mis-seeded card at a Mission, that player cannot attempt or solve that mission (or any Objective targeting that Mission) for the rest of the game. At Empok Nor, encountering your own mis-seed permanently prevents you from taking initial control of the station (but you may commandeer later).

SOLVING THE MISSION (7.2.5)

Once all seed cards under a mission have been encountered, and there are no dilemmas remaining beneath the mission, check your remaining personnel present. If they still have a personnel whose affiliation matches one of the mission's, still meet additional conditions for attempting the mission (from Homefront, for example), and meet the mission requirements, they solve the mission; slide it a half-card length toward you to mark it complete. The completed mission remains on the table as a spaceline location, but cannot be attempted again. (It can be scouted.)

Clarification: Individual Requirements (7.2.5.0.3)

Some cards, like For The Cause and Cytoplasmic Life-form, manipulate individual mission requirements separately. Each required skill (including classifications), total attribute level, characteristic (or combined characteristic), or condition is considered a single requirement. For example:

- Find Hidden Base has 7 requirements: 3 requirements of SECURITY (which can be satisfied by skills or classifications or both), 2 requirements of Leadership, and 2 requirements of a hand weapon.
- Patrol Neutral Zone has 2 requirements: 1 Leadership and the condition that there be no opposing ships in the Neutral Zone Region.
- Search For Rebels has 5 requirements: 2 requirements of SECURITY, 1 requirement of CUNNING > 30, 1 requirement of Professor Sisko (a characteristic), and 2 requirements of " leader." The latter is a combination of two characteristics; both characteristics must be on the same personnel. For example, The Intendant counts as one " leader", but Commander Leeta and Dorza do not. The "OR" wording means that not all these requirements must actually be met to solve the mission.

If requirements overlap due to replacement, they are added. (If attribute requirements overlap, the larger is used.) For example, if For The Cause is used to replace the OFFICER requirement on Intercept Maquis (with Leadership + SECURITY + CUNNING > 30), the requirements change from OFFICER + SECURITY + CUNNING > 24 to Leadership + SECURITY x2 + CUNNING > 30.

Clarification: Alternative Mission Requirements (from Objectives) (7.2.5.0.2)

A mission attempt using alternate requirements provided by an objective is exactly like any other mission attempt. You do not need to have the requirements in the Away Team, and you score the point value of the underlying mission when you complete it. The mission cannot then be completed with its normal requirements. In order to gain any additional benefits from such an objective (such as Establish Trade Route's download of a Ferengi Trading Post and equipment upon completing the mission), you must complete the targeted mission using the objective's alternate requirements. If an objective allows a different affiliation to attempt a mission than the icons on the Mission card, only that affiliation may use the requirements provided by the objective.

You must declare before the mission attempt begins which card's set of requirements you are attempting under. You may not solve the mission using the other set(s) of requirements during this attempt.

Clarification: Mission Points (7.2.5.0.1)

Additional points provided by a Mission card's gametext (such as the additional points for discarding Youth personnel at Conceal Unlikely Society) or an Objective explicitly affecting that Mission's point value (such as Launch the Phoenix) are part of the points earned for solving the mission, not bonus points. Points provided by any other card card, such as Assign Mission Specialists, are bonus points. This matters both for the official win conditions, which limit the number of points that can come from bonuses, and players, who cannot score bonus points.

Once you have completed a mission, its points cannot normally be taken away from you. Even if a Mission is destroyed by a card like Black Hole or Supernova, you retain the points scored from it. Only cards that explicitly modify the point value of completed missions, such as I Tried To Warn You and Hero of the Empire, can do that.

Now, any gametext triggered by solving the mission is resolved. (For example, after solving Host Metaphasic Shield Test, you may download Metaphasic Shields to any of your ships at that location.)

Then, artifacts are earned and other hidden seeds are resolved (the solver may decide the order in which they are earned and resolved). If you earn personnel from a mission attempt, any personnel you seeded join your crew or Away Team if compatible, form a separate Away Team if not, or are placed under house arrest if aboard a ship. Personnel seeded by your opponent are captured. Earning seed cards is neither a card play nor a reporting-for-duty action. (However, some Artifacts are played immediately when earned; these card plays do count as a free card play.)

Finally, you score the mission points, plus any bonus points you earned (for example, with Assign Mission Specialists)... even if the personnel who earned those points have been moved away (for example, by Magic Carpet Ride OCD). A mission with no point box cannot be solved.

The mission attempt is now complete, and cards which respond to that (such as Particle Fountain) may be played.

MISSION FAILURE (7.2.6)

During a mission attempt, a lot can go wrong, but your hardy crews and Away Teams will try to venture out through great adversity. Only a few dire conditions can completely stop a mission attempt:

Clarification: Failing a Dual-Icon Mission (7.2.6.0.3)

During a mission attempt at a Dual-Icon Mission, if either the crew or the Away Team fails the mission for any reason, then both fail the attempt. Additionally, if either team is stopped (for example, by failing to overcome a dilemma), both are stopped.

Tip: Mission Failures Don't Stop the Team (7.2.6.0.2)

Failing a mission attempt does not automatically stop the ship, crew, or Away Team that is making the attempt. If your Away Team clears out all dilemmas under Insurrection, but then doesn't have the STRENGTH to solve the mission, they fail the mission, but the unstoppable personnel can still beam up and fly away, or even beam down reinforcements and attempt the mission again.

On the other hand, by far the most common cause of mission failure is failing to overcome a dilemma. Failing to overcome a dilemma with conditions does automatically stop the Away Team or ship and crew that encountered it.

Clarification: Reseed After Escapes (7.2.6.0.1)

If, just after encountering a dilemma, but before it has any effects, the entire crew or Away Team leaves the mission attempt, reseed the dilemma. On the other hand, if the dilemma encounter has begun to resolve when the entire crew or Away Team leaves the attempt, continue resolving the dilemma as if it were being faced by a crew or Away Team with zero members. For example, if you special download The Gift just after revealing Disgraceful Assault, it has had no effects; reseed the dilemma. However, if your ship is destroyed after the first effect of Disgraceful Assault, resolve the rest of the dilemma (including its "discard dilemma").

- No one remains in the crew or Away Team. (This may be because they are dead, stopped, disabled, relocated elsewhere, or removed by some other means.)
- After a dilemma is encountered, it is reseeded under the mission to be encountered again.
- After resolving all dilemmas, the crew or Away Team cannot meet the mission requirements with its remaining personnel.

When a mission attempt fails, unstopped personnel (on an unstopped ship, if at a Space mission) may reattempt the mission. This is a new mission attempt, not a continuation of the previous attempt.

COMPLETE BORG OBJECTIVES (7.3)

Borg Rule:   Borg-Only Objectives & Scouting

"In their collective state, the Borg are utterly without mercy; driven by one will alone: the will to conquer. They are beyond redemption, beyond reason."

—Jean-Luc Picard

The  Borg affiliation does not attempt the petty missions of lesser, imperfect species. Instead,  players complete   Borg-Only Objectives, such as Establish Gateway, Assimilate Homeworld, or Reassimilate Lost Drone.   Borg-Only Objectives, not missions, are how the Borg Collective climbs to 100 points. Points scored from  Objectives are regular points, not bonus points. (See Borg Points.)

IN GENERAL (7.3.1)

  Borg-Only Objectives function like other  Objective cards. Follow the instructions on the card. All probing takes place at the end of your turn, unless the specific card says otherwise.

 Borg may never probe for a   Borg-Only Objective if they've battled at the target's location since the end of their last turn (even if the target has since moved). The single-minded Borg cannot adequately analyze an objective while also defending the hive.

Finally,  Borg may have only one face-up incomplete   Borg-Only Objective in play at a time, referred to as the current objective. ( Borg players may still have any number of non- Objectives in play.)

SCOUTING (7.3.2)

Many  Objectives state that, before the  Borg can bring the full might of the Borg Collective to bear and complete them, they must first scout a location. This means sending a single crew or Away Team to gather relevant data while neutralizing any resistance.

Once scouting is complete, it is permanent. Even if your opponent seeds an extra dilemma beneath a scouted mission using Beware of Q or kills the last Borg aboard his ship, you do not have to complete scouting again.

You may not probe for an objective on the same turn that you completed scouting for that objective. Objectives that require scouting are complex tasks, and the single-minded Borg cannot even begin those tasks until the area has been pacified. (However, cards like Service the Collective and Relentless can accelerate the Collective's processing power.)

Missions Are Irrelevant: Scouting Locations (7.3.2.1)

Instead of solving missions,  Borg use objectives like Assimilate Planet and Consume: Technology to scout locations. As with mission attempts,   Borg-Only Objectives targeting missions for scouting may only target missions with a point box that you seeded (unless its point box shows 40 points or more or there is more than one copy in play). Scouting functions much like a mission attempt: a Borg crew or Away Team announces the start of a scouting attempt, then encounters seed cards, just like during a mission attempt. (However,  do not need a personnel with matching affiliation to begin a scouting attempt.)

While this is a kind of "attempt," it is not a "mission attempt," and it will not culminate in "solving the mission."  Borg ignore any card text that refers specifically to "mission" attempts or "solving" the mission, such as the first two sentences of Radioactive Garbage Scow.

Exception: "Mission Continues"

The phrase "Mission continues" is uniquely important in dilemma resolution (see conditional effects), and means "Scouting continues" for Borg.

Scouting a location is completed at the end of your turn if:

1. The location is targeted by your Objective;
2. You have scouted it at least once for that Objective; and

3. No dilemmas remain to be encountered.

You do not need to have any surviving or unstopped  Borg at the location for scouting to be completed. You may begin probing for the objective on your next turn (assuming there have been no subsequent battles there).

When the probe is successful, the objective is complete. Borg cannot acquire artifacts or other seeded cards unless a Survey Drone or similar card allows it. If not, then the artifacts or other seeded cards are placed face-up on the planet, and can be acquired (or earned) at any time by a Survey Drone (or similar)... or by any non- personnel.

A dilemma that has remained in play, such as Friendly Fire or Cytherians, no longer remains to be encountered, and so does not prevent scouting from being complete.

An objective that allows you to scout a location requires you to complete scouting for that objective in order to probe to complete it. For example, if you scout a mission with Establish Gateway and resolve all dilemmas, then switch to Harness Particle 010 by downloading A Change of Plans in place of your normal card draw at the end of your turn, scouting is complete at the end of that turn for Establish Gateway, but not for Harness Particle 010. You must scout the mission again before scouting is complete for the new objective.

Planetary Assimilation (7.3.2.1.1)

If a planet is assimilated by the completion of an objective, the planet becomes part of the Borg collective. All opposing personnel, equipment, and landed ships on the planet are assimilated, becoming  Borg under your control. All opponent's facilities at the location are also assimilated, as are all opponent's cards aboard them. (You may report cards there, but still must follow native quadrant restrictions.)

An assimilated planet cannot be attempted, its affiliation attempt icons are considered irrelevant, and facilities requiring a matching icon can no longer be built there.

Scouting Ships (7.3.2.2)

Scouting a ship is complete at the end of your turn if you have any active, unstopped Borg aboard.

(Assimilate Starship may allow you to beam one Borg drone aboard as a scout. If so, you must also have a way to beam through opponent's SHIELDS, such as Transport Drone.)

If your opponent attacks your  Borg at that location, you may counter-attack during your next turn by beaming any number of  Borg aboard and initiating battle. Those  Borg are free to remain aboard.

Ship Assimilation (7.3.2.2.1)

When the Borg assimilate a starship, the following transformations occur as the Borg retrofit it:

- Its affiliation changes to .
- Any Borg staffing requirements (such as those on Assimilator) remain.
- Staffing requirements are converted to Borg subcommand icons, as follows:
 -  command stars become  communications subcommand requirements.
 -  staff stars become  navigations subcommand requirements.
 - All other staffing icons become  defense subcommand requirements.
 - Staffing requirements that do not have an icon (such as "Vulcan" on Vulcan Lander) are irrelevant. They are ignored.

Any ships carried aboard are assimilated. Personnel and equipment aboard are not. Any cards played on or placed on the ship prior to assimilation (such as a Pride of the Fleet, Cytherians, or a Pulse Disruptor damage marker) transfer to you.

BATTLE (7.4)

"To all ships, this is Captain Sisko! Assume attack formation Delta Two! There's an old saying: fortune favours the bold. Well... I guess we're about to find out."

The final frontier is a dangerous place, and not everyone will want to be your friend. Your rivals may attack your vessels, your outposts, your personnel, and even your planets. Whether in hand-to-hand ground battles or space-based fleet actions, combat gives your enemies an opportunity not just to destroy you and your assets, but to capture your personnel, paralyze your fleet, disrupt your operations, and even score points from your suffering. You must always be prepared for it. You may even find it necessary to begin combat yourself in order to defend your interests — or your honor.

INITIATING A BATTLE (7.4.1)

Your ships, facilities, and Away Teams may initiate battle ("attack") as an action during your turn.

Borg Rule: Combat is Irrelevant (7.4.1.0.4)* may never initiate battle unless permitted or required to by a card, usually an objective (such as Eliminate Starship or Conundrum), or as a counter-attack (see After the Battle). When allowed to initiate battle, they may attack any affiliation, including .

Clarification: Battle "Opponent" (7.4.1.0.3)*

After a battle is initiated but before a winner is determined, the opposing force is considered the "opponent" of your cards in the battle, even if that card is self-controlled or under your control. In other words, cards like Ablative Armor do not stop working while fighting the Planet Killer.

Clarification: Cancelled Battles (7.4.1.0.2)*

If a properly initiated battle (or "attack") is cancelled, prevented, or nullified (for example, with Magnetic North or I'm a Doctor, Not a Doorstop), all cards involved have still participated in a battle and are stopped.

Reminder: Actions and Valid Responses (7.4.1.0.1)*

A battle is a single action composed of many sub-actions. Thus, once a battle has been declared (or initiated), no player may take any other action until the battle has resolved... unless that action either suspends play or is a valid response to the battle (or one of the battle's sub-actions).

For example, valid responses to battle actions could include playing Asteroid Sanctuary to escape a just-initiated battle, Weak Spot to reduce a ship's SHIELDS during the battle's Open Fire or Return Fire stage, or activating Federation Flagship: Recovered (even if currently face-down) when your ship is destroyed during the battle's Resolution stage.

On the other hand, once your opponent has declared an attack, it is normally too late to use Out Of Time to escape by time travelling, even though the card states it may be used "at any time," because both the card play and the time travel are new, separate actions, not valid responses to the battle action, and therefore may not be made until the battle action is resolved. However, if you have Daniels in play anywhere at the location of the battle, you could use his  special download (if valid) to play Out Of Time from your deck or hand. Special downloading suspends play, so Out Of Time would immediately play to the table, allowing your crew to escape the already-initiated battle.

Your personnel may attack any opposing personnel (or Rogue Borg) present with them. Your ships and space facilities with WEAPONS and your personnel of matching affiliation aboard may attack your opponent's ships and facilities at the same location. This is referred to as "ship battle" or "space battle" (even if neither ships nor space are involved).

Each of your ships, facilities, or Away Teams that wishes to initiate an attack must have a leader present. (A leader is a personnel with OFFICER or Leadership.) Moreover, you may only initiate battle against cards you do not control. (For example, you may not normally order your  Klingon ship to attack your own  Romulan ship.)

Borg Rule: Leaders are Irrelevant (7.4.1.0.5)*

 do not use leaders for battle. Instead,  forces initiating an attack must have a  personnel present.

Finally, you must obey affiliation attack restrictions:

Clarifications: Affiliation Attack Restrictions (7.4.1.0.6)

A "mixed" force is subject to all the attack restrictions of its members. All cards in the force must be compatible. A Romulan crew on a Non-Aligned ship is a Romulan force, may not be attacked by other Romulans, and prevent their Non-Aligned ship from joining forces with with another Non-Aligned ship that includes Ferengi crew. A Federation/ Klingon Away Team (enabled by Treaty: Federation/Klingon) is a Federation force, and may not initiate battle (except against Borg). A Nor you control is "crewed" by all compatible personnel aboard and has all their battle restrictions.

If a card specifically allows you to attack a specific affiliation (or faction), then you may attack any forces that include that affiliation (or faction), even if other cards are working with them. For example, Admiral Leyton, who allows present to attack , implicitly allows you to attack a mixed / force as well.

When a card, such as Emblem of the Empire, removes affiliation attack restrictions from a group of cards, they may attack any affiliation, including their own. If cards from that group mix with other cards whose affiliation attack restrictions have not been removed, the entire force is subject to the restrictions of the second group.

A card that allows a specific attack (for example, Captain Kirk may initiate battle against non-) does not permanently or universally remove affiliation attack restrictions. A card (like Kirk) that allows your force to override affiliation attack restrictions applies only to its own crew or Away Team, unless otherwise specified (for example, Admiral Leyton's effect applies to all your cards at the location). Each ship in the force must either be following affiliation attack restrictions or have permission to override it.

Most affiliations (, , , , , , , , , , and) have standard attack restrictions: they may attack opponents' cards of any affiliation except their own. For example, your Starfleet-affiliation ships may attack your opponent's Ferengi or Federation ships, but may not attack your opponent's Starfleet ships (or ships with Starfleet personnel aboard).

, , , and have no attack restrictions. For example, your Klingon Away Teams may attack any opposing Away Team, including another Klingon Away Team.

may initiate battle only against . Otherwise, may battle only during counter-attack, or when permitted or required by a card.

PERSONNEL BATTLE (7.4.2)

Personnel battles are fought between two opposing crews or Away Teams (the forces) that are together on a planet, aboard a ship, on a station, or anywhere else they are present with each other. A force normally includes Personnel, who may be using Equipment (such as Klingon Disruptor). However, a few exotic cards, like Satan's Robot and Rogue Borg, can also join (or form) a personnel battle force. Normally, you will battle cards you do not control, but some cards allow you to battle your own cards.

The battle proceeds in 6 stages:

1. Initiation: The attacking player announces an attack, chooses which single force is performing the attack, and which single opposing force present they are targeting in the attack. The battle has now been initiated.

2. Responses: Players that control a force in the battle may now play or use cards that apply at the initiation of battle, such as Antique Machine Gun, Bodyguards, D'k Tahg, or I Do Not Take Orders From You!.

3. Form Up: Create a combat pile for each force. The combat pile consists of all personnel (and other cards with STRENGTH) in the force, except for those that are disabled, stunned, in stasis, mortally wounded, or otherwise excluded from battle. These combatants are shuffled and placed face-down in a pile on the table.

4. Combat: Simultaneously reveal the top combatant in each combat pile. These combatants are now adversaries. They fight. After applying relevant STRENGTH modifiers (such as El-Aurian Phaser and Lower Decks), compare their STRENGTH attributes:

Reminder: Holographic Safety Protocols (7.4.2.0.3)

If there are personnel involved in the personnel battle, remember that their Holographic Safety Protocols limit their lethality in battle.

Clarifications: Response Precedence in the Combat Stage (7.4.2.0.2)

If both cards in a combat pairing have special abilities, or if both players wish to respond to a combat pairing, the player whose turn it is has the first opportunity to do so. For example, your Data has just engaged your opponent's Fek'Ihr who has '45 Dom Perignon present. You wish to play Android Headlock, while your opponent wishes to use the ability on the '45 Dom Perignon. If it is your turn, you may play Android Headlock first (stunning Fek'Ihr, which prevents him from using the '45 Dom). Otherwise, your opponent may use the '45 Dom Perignon first (stunning Data instead). If either or both combatants are stunned, mortally wounded, killed, abducted, returned to hand, or otherwise removed from the combat before comparing their STRENGTHs, do not compare their STRENGTHs. Proceed to the next combat pairing.

Clarification: Dual-Personnel Cards in Combat (7.4.2.0.1)

In a personnel battle, both personnel on a dual-personnel card engage the same adversary, combining their STRENGTH scores into one total after making any applicable adjustments to each personnel's STRENGTH. For example, The Trois may each make use of a Starfleet Type II Phaser, for a total STRENGTH of $(3+2) + (4+2) = 11$ versus their adversary.

- If one combatant's STRENGTH is greater than their adversary's STRENGTH, the player controlling that combatant may choose to stun the adversary. (You may rotate stunned cards 90 degrees to signal their condition.)
- If one combatant's STRENGTH is more than double the adversary's STRENGTH, the player controlling that combatant may choose to stun or mortally wound the adversary. (You may rotate mortally wounded cards 180 degrees to signal their condition.)
- If both combatants have equal strength, neither is stunned or mortally wounded.

Repeat this stage of the battle until either combat pile is empty.

5. Determine Winner: Add the total STRENGTH of each force's combatants who are neither stunned nor mortally wounded, including any combatants who remain in a combat pile. Apply modifiers as usual. The force with the higher total STRENGTH is the winner. The other force loses. (If the winning force's controller does not control any other forces in this battle, the player wins the battle as well, and his or her opponent loses.) Randomly select a combatant from the losing force who is not already mortally wounded. That combatant becomes mortally wounded.

If STRENGTH totals are equal, the battle has no winner.

6. End of Battle: Players that control a force in the battle now play or use cards that apply at the "end of battle," such as Assimilate Species. Effects that last until "end of battle" end now.

7. Resolution: All mortally wounded cards die (non-personnel, non- cards are destroyed). Stunned cards become unstunned. All surviving cards in both forces are stopped. Then, the battle is over.

SHIP BATTLE (7.4.3)

A ship battle is fought between two space forces, which are composed of ships, facilities, or other cards with WEAPONS and/or SHIELDS, like the Planet Killer dilemma. (References in this section to "ships" include all such cards.) Some of the rules of ship battle depend on whether each player is using a Battle Bridge side deck or not.

A ship battle proceeds in 8 stages:

1. Initiation: The attacking player announces an attack, chooses an attacking force (which can include any or all of that player's compatible cards at that location), and one opposing card to target. The targeted card forms the defending force. The player controlling the targeted card may add any or all compatible cards with WEAPONS at that location to the defending force, as long as they have at least one matching, compatible personnel aboard. The defending player must then decide whether to return fire during this battle. If so, he or she selects one card in the attacking force to target. The battle has now been initiated.

Clarifications: Multitargeting (7.4.3.0.1)

Normally, each force in a space battle may target only one ship in the opposing force. However, whenever a  self-controlling card, such as Spaceborne Entity, is the target of a player's attack, it returns fire against all attacking ships. Also, some cards, like Multiplexor Drone, allow a ship to target multiple opposing ships, which are all targeted during the initiation step.

If the multitargeting ship is in the attacking force, repeat the Open Fire step, with one engagement for each target. In each engagement, add together the WEAPONS of only the ships attacking that target, plus the ATTACK bonus from the current Tactic, then register a miss, a hit, or a direct hit on that target. Once all Open Fire engagements are done, the defending force may Return Fire.

If the multitargeting ship is in the defending force, repeat the Return Fire step instead.

If your multitargeting ship scores a hit or direct hit against two or more targets, and your current tactic has a  symbol, use that card as the damage marker for one of those targets (your choice), and treat that symbol as  for damage to each remaining target. All damage markers drawn from your side deck must be placed on the hit targets randomly, without looking at the markers before placing them; choose a ship, draw and place the markers for it, choose another ship, and so on.

2. Responses: Players that control a force in the battle may now play or use cards that apply at the initiation of battle, such as Awaken, 34th Rule of Acquisition, or Attack Pattern Delta.

Tip: Always Return Fire (7.4.3.0.2)

If attacked, you should declare your wish to return fire even if you intend to escape the battle using a card like Asteroid Sanctuary. Otherwise, you will not be able to return fire if your escape card is nullified (for example, by Amanda Rogers).

3. Tactics: Each player who has an open Battle Bridge side deck may draw up to two Tactic cards from that side deck. (Players may look at each drawn card before choosing whether to draw the next.) Then, each player may choose to play one drawn Tactic face-down on the table (the current tactic). Unused Tactics return face-up to the side deck. Once all current tactics are chosen, reveal them all simultaneously.

Clarifications: Applying Tactics (7.4.3.0.3)

Tactics are not part of your hand, and thus are not affected by cards like Alien Probe or Energy Vortex.

Facilities may use Tactics just like ships. However, a facility with no usable WEAPONS may not target an opponent's card and thus cannot use the ATTACK bonus.

A card that attacks multiple targets in a single battle, such as a multiplexed  ship, uses the same current tactic in each engagement throughout the battle.

 self-controlling cards do not use Tactics (except as damage markers).

Players without an open Battle Bridge Door or who have no remaining Tactic cards in their Battle Bridge side deck may not select a current tactic.

4. Open Fire: Compute the attacking force's ATTACK total by adding all WEAPONS (including applicable attribute enhancements, such as Tactical Console), plus the ATTACK bonus from the force's current tactic (if any). Note that the tactic bonus applies only once, not once per target.

Clarifications: Downloading Tactics (7.4.3.0.4)

Some cards, such as Captain Picard and Expert Pilot, allow downloading of a Tactic card. If you choose to use such a download, you must do so instead of drawing Tactics, and you must use the downloaded Tactic as your current tactic.

Compute the target's DEFENSE total by adding the SHIELDS of the single targeted card (including any applicable attribute enhancements, such as Nutational Shields), plus 50% of the SHIELDS of the facility the target is docked at (if any), plus the DEFENSE bonus from the force's current tactic (if any).

If the ATTACK total is greater than the DEFENSE total, the target suffers a hit.

If the ATTACK total is more than double the DEFENSE total, the target instead suffers a direct hit.

Otherwise, the attack misses the target.

No damage is applied at this time.

5. Return Fire: If the defending force is returning fire, repeat Stage 4: Open Fire with the forces reversed: compute the defending force's ATTACK total against their target's DEFENSE total. The target will receive a hit, direct hit, or miss.

6. Damage: If any opposing cards took a hit or a direct hit, apply damage to them as follows:

- If you have a current tactic, the amount of damage is determined by the text of your current tactic. Place the appropriate damage markers on the damaged card. These are determined by the symbols on your current tactic:  means that you must use the current tactic as a damage marker.  means you must draw a new Tactic card from your side deck to place on the target as a damage marker.
- If you have a Battle Bridge side deck but do not have a current tactic, apply default damage: draw two cards from your Battle Bridge side deck for a hit () or four cards for a direct hit (.
- If you are not using a Battle Bridge side deck, apply rotation damage. On a hit, apply a Rotation Damage Marker (or, if none is available, rotate the damaged card 180 degrees). The target's HULL is reduced 50%, its Cloaking Device goes off-line, and its RANGE (if greater than 5) is reduced to 5. On a direct hit, apply two Rotation Damage Markers, reducing the HULL by 100%. (The target will be destroyed at the end of the battle.)

7. Determine Winner: The force that sustained the least total HULL damage is the winner. The other force loses. (If the winning force's controller does not control any other forces in this combat, the player wins the battle as well, and his or her opponent loses the battle.) If both sides took equal HULL damage, there is no winner (or loser).

Clarifications: Opponent Always Applies Damage To You (7.4.3.0.5)

If the same player controls both forces in a battle, that player's opponent applies damage to both forces. Opponent ignores current tactics and applies default tactics damage or rotation damage, as appropriate. If your force battles a  self-controlling or uncontrolled force, you will apply damage to the opposing force normally, but your opponent will apply any damage dealt to your force.

Clarifications: Retrieve Damage Markers After Battle (7.4.3.0.4)

Because ships destroyed in battle are not discarded until the end of the battle, you cannot retrieve any damage markers from targets at -100% HULL integrity to use in separate engagements of the same battle.

Clarifications: Empty Battle Bridge (7.4.3.0.3)

If you have a Battle Bridge side deck, but it has run out of Tactic cards, you may not deal further damage to your opponent until some of your damage markers return to your side deck. You may never use rotation damage if you have a Battle Bridge side deck.

No card sustains more than 100% HULL damage. If more than 100% HULL damage is inflicted on a single card, the points beyond 100% do not count toward winning the battle.

8. End of Battle: Players that control a force in the battle now play or use cards that apply at the "end of battle," such as Straight and Steady. Effects that last until "end of battle," like Multivector Assault Mode, end now.

9. Resolution: Discard your current tactic (if any). All targets with 100% or greater HULL damage are destroyed. (Players may now play cards that respond to the destruction of a card, such as Escape Pod.) Surviving cards in both forces are stopped. Then, the battle is over. (Cards that are damaged but not destroyed remain damaged until repaired.)

AFTER THE BATTLE (7.4.4)

Once a battle has resolved, all cards involved in the battle are stopped.

If a player is attacked, then, during his or her next turn, that player has the option to counter-attack against any or all ships, Away Teams, facilities, crews, and other opposing cards controlled by the attacking player anywhere at the location of the original attack, regardless of which cards participated in the original attack or what form it took. A counter-attack is a new battle, not a "continuation" of the previous battle. During a counter-attack, affiliation attack restrictions do not apply and leaders are not required. For example, if your  Keldon attacks your opponent's  Pagh at Avert Solar Implosion, your opponent may respond next turn by attacking your completely separate  Away Team on the planet there by bringing a new  crew into the system, beaming them down to the planet, and attacking.

Borg Rule: Borg Counter-Attacks (7.4.4.0.1)

Borg players do not require an objective or a  personnel to launch a counter-attack.

A player attacked by a counter-attack may launch a counter-attack of his own on the following turn, and so on until either player chooses to refrain from counter-attack, or is rendered incapable of attacking at that location.

DAMAGE AND REPAIRS (7.5)

"You scratched the paint."

—Jonathan Archer

On a long space voyage, damage is inevitable. Whether sustained in glorious battle, while investigating a solar flare, or by bad luck with the Calamarain, ships left to fend for themselves for too long face degradation and perhaps even destruction. A prudent commander will ensure that his or her starfleet is given ample opportunities to repair at a friendly starbase.

DAMAGE (7.5.1)

The rules for damage depend heavily on whether your opponent is using a Battle Bridge side deck (opened with Battle Bridge Door). If your opponent is using a Battle Bridge side deck, any damage you sustain will take the form of Tactics cards. This is known as "tactics damage." Otherwise (if your opponent is not using a Battle Bridge side deck), you will follow simplified rules for damage called "rotation damage."

The two systems are described below:

TACTICS DAMAGE (7.5.1.1)

Whenever any of your ships, facilities, or other cards are damaged, for any reason, your opponent must place Tactics cards on them as damage markers. If the damage is the result of another Tactic (like during a ship battle), your opponent must place (↴) or draw (↱) damage markers as indicated by the Tactic. In any case where damage is not indicated by the card, your opponent deals default damage, which is two cards drawn from the side deck (or ↱↱).

Gametext

Damage Marker

Clarifications: Tactics Damage (7.5.1.1.0.1)

All damage markers are cumulative: multiple damage markers, and even multiple copies of the same damage card, inflict separate and cumulative penalties on the targeted ship or facility.

If, at any time, your opponent is supposed to draw a damage marker for you but cannot (because he or she doesn't have any more cards in his or her Battle Bridge side deck), then you do not suffer that damage marker. If your opponent is unable to place any damage markers after damaging you, then your ship or facility escapes completely undamaged, and cards targeting damaged ships (for example, Children of Light and Your Place Is On The Bridge) can't be used.

If you battle your own  self-controlling card, any damage you inflict on the  is drawn from your Battle Bridge side deck (or rotational damage markers, if necessary). Any damage inflicted by the  on your ships is drawn from your opponent's Battle Bridge (or rotational damage markers.)

Intruders are included in all applicable random selections for casualties inflicted by Tactics cards.

The bottom (black) area of a Tactics card is known as the damage marker, and it indicates the results of the damage. As soon as the marker is placed on the damaged ship, any immediate effects are played out, such as crew casualties, systems going off-line, or downloads (for example, Engine Imbalance may be downloaded when Target Warp Field Coils is drawn as a damage marker). Second, the ship or facility suffers any attribute damage indicated by the damage marker (for example, Maximum Firepower's damage reduces the enemy vessel's SHIELDS by 2). Finally, HULL damage is added. When a ship or facility's HULL is reduced to 0%, it is destroyed.

ROTATION DAMAGE (7.5.1.2)

Whenever any of your ships, facilities, or other cards are damaged, you or your opponent must place a single Rotation Damage Marker on them. These markers function the same way as Tactics.

If, for any reason, a Rotation Damage Marker is not available, you must instead rotate your damaged ship or facility 180 degrees to indicate its damage. If it has a cloaking device, that cloaking device is now off-line. If its RANGE is greater than 5, its range is reduced to 5. HULL integrity is reduced by 50%. If a ship with rotation damage suffers any more rotation damage, HULL integrity will fall to 0% and the ship will be destroyed.

If your opponent is using rotation damage, you are immune to any effects that would allow your opponent to  or  your ships or facilities (such as Federation Flagship: Relunched, HQ: Orbital Weapons Platform, or Breen CRM-114). No player may use both rotation damage and tactics damage during the same game under any circumstances.

SYSTEMS OFF-LINE (7.5.1.3)

PICARD: Computer. Stand by. Auto-destruct sequence omega. Recognise voice pattern Jean-Luc Picard. Authorisation alpha alpha three zero five.

—Star Trek: Nemesis

When a damage marker or other card indicates that a system is off-line, the affected item may not be used in any way as long as that damage marker is in play. When "attribute enhancements" go off-line, it affects all enhancements to the specified attribute (such as Tactical Console for WEAPONS). If a core attribute, such as RANGE, goes off-line, it is considered to be 0 RANGE and cannot be enhanced until repaired.

REPAIR (7.5.2)

At the end of each of your turns, you may remove one damage marker (random selection) from each ship that has been docked at an outpost (or other facility that performs repairs) for the full turn. As stated on the Rotation Damage Marker, however, rotation damage is only repaired after two full turns docked at an outpost or other repair facility.

Damaged facilities may only be repaired by cards that specifically allow it (such as Defense System Upgrade).

Whenever a ship or facility is fully repaired (for example, by Spacedock), remove all damage markers immediately.

CLOAK (7.6)

"Can you learn to see in the dark, Captain?"

—Shinzon

In Star Trek, some ships, facilities, and planets have the ability to render themselves invisible ("cloaked") or even immaterial ("phased").

In the Star Trek Customizable Card Game, some ships and facilities have the Cloaking Device special equipment. Once each turn, each card with this special equipment may cloak or decloak. (No personnel are required to operate a cloak.) Cloaking is represented by flipping the cloaked card face-down. Decloaking is represented by flipping the card face-up again. The following rules apply to cards that are cloaked:

Clarifications: Cloaking and Phasing are Distinct (7.6.0.1)

A card that specifically affects "cloaked" ships does not affect phased ships, and a card that specifically affects "phased" ships does not affect cloaked ships.

- Your opponent may not target your cloaked cards.
- A cloaked card may not initiate battle, nor attempt or scout missions, nor be attacked or boarded, nor be beamed to or landed upon.

- Cloaked cards are not considered to be opposing, present, "here" or otherwise located at their current location for requirements or abilities.
- Cloaked cards are affected normally by cards that do not require specific targeting. For example, cloaked ships are affected normally by Q-Net, Stellar Flare, and Navigate Plasma Storms.
- Cards aboard a cloaked card are not considered cloaked.
- Although cloaked ships are technically at locations (for movement) and may be on a spaceline or at a year (for cards like Quantum Slipstream Drive or UFP: One Small Step), they ignore requirements and abilities that would treat them as present, opposing, "here" or which otherwise acknowledge their current location. For example, if on a cloaked ship, Captain Chakotay's attribute bonus applies to personnel on his ship but not on any others.
- Other cards may not embark or disembark from, beam on or off of, undock or dock with, or take off or land on, a cloaked card.

Ships with the Phasing Cloak special equipment may phase or dephase, which is exactly the same as cloaking, except phasing includes these additional effects:

- You may not target your phased ships.
- Phased ships may not move except by using RANGE.
- A phased ship may not land or dock. If a landed or docked ship phases, it immediately takes off or undocks.
- Cards aboard a phased ship may not be attacked or targeted by cards that are not on or aboard the same ship (or vice versa). For example, a Tantalus Field played on a phased ship can target personnel aboard the same ship, but not other ships.
- Phased ships are unaffected by most cards in play. For example, a phased ship is unaffected by Q-Net, but also cannot use Bajoran Wormhole.
- Phased ships, and the cards aboard them, are still in play. Thus, they can be affected by cards like Anti-Time Anomaly and Into the Breach.

A card may not enter play cloaked or phased.

CAPTURE (7.7)

"In this room, you do not ask questions. I ask them, you answer. If I'm not satisfied with those answers, you will die."

—Gul Madred

Some cards allow you to capture your opponents' personnel. Captives are disabled.

Upon capture, captives immediately relocate to one of the capturing player's crews or Away Teams at the same location, if possible. That team immediately assumes custody and begins escorting the prisoner, who is considered held.

Borg Rule: Abduction (7.7.0.3)

The  Borg sometimes abduct personnel prior to assimilating them. This is considered different from capturing (so an abducted personnel can't be Tortured), but functions identically: the abductee is escorted, disabled, moved like equipment, and can be freed if left unattended.

Abduction may take place in the middle of a battle. If so, both the abductor and the abductee immediately cease participating in the battle, and the abductor may immediately beam away to any valid location. Both cards are then stopped.

An abducted personnel who is assimilated is no longer considered abducted.

Borg Rule: Personnel Assimilation (7.7.0.2)

The  Borg affiliation frequently practice assimilation, not capturing your personnel but actually transforming them into new Borg enslaved by the collective mind. When a card states that a personnel is assimilated, that personnel can no longer be released, becomes a new  drone under the Borg player's control, and undergoes the following transformations:

- His or her affiliation changes to .
- He or she loses gender. Drones have no gender.
- The drone's classification is treated as its first-listed skill.
- If it had any Borg subcommand icons, it retains them.
- Otherwise, it loses old staffing icons and gains Borg subcommand icons, as follows:

- Printed  command stars become  communications subcommands.
- Printed  staff stars become  navigation subcommands.
- Personnel with neither icon gain  defense subcommands.

No personnel may have more than one copy of any given subcommand.

- The drone's attributes adapt to service the collective based on its subcommand icons, as follows:
 - Drones with  now have INTEGRITY = 7.
 - Drones with  now have CUNNING = 7.
 - Drones with  now have STRENGTH = 7.
 - All other attributes are now 5.
- The drone's other icons and restriction box become irrelevant.

The Borg cannot assimilate  Holograms. Such personnel are excluded from targeting and abducting for assimilation as well. All other personnel are valid targets for assimilation.

Some cards allow the  Borg to assimilate a personnel as a counterpart, instead of as a drone. Counterparts are key members of the collective, and you may have no more than one counterpart in play at a time. (For this reason, you may not target dual-personnel cards for counterpart assimilation, nor target anyone for counterpart assimilation, if you already have a counterpart in play.) The assimilated counterpart is better than a drone in many ways:

- The counterpart gains all three subcommand icons.
- The counterpart's INTEGRITY and CUNNING remain what they were before assimilation, and STRENGTH is +3.
- The counterpart's previous affiliation and gender remain relevant for Borg-related cards that require matching affiliations or specific gender, such as Assimilate Homeworld. If he was multi-affiliation, all affiliation icons may be used. For non-Borg related cards (such as Female Love Interest and Frame of Mind), gender and affiliation remain irrelevant.
- Counterparts are very important to the Borg Collective, so any personnel targeted for assimilation as a counterpart may not simultaneously be targeted for assimilation as a drone.

Assimilated equipment simply falls under the Borg player's control.

Clarifications: Capture (7.7.0.1)

If a specific crew or Away Team performs a capture, such as with Ilon Tandro, the captive is relocated to that specific team.

A trap card is only an indicator that the personnel underneath has been captured; the card itself is not considered in play and cannot be nullified. For example, your opponent may nullify Mandarin Baliff with Q2 when he encounters it and even after the captive has been selected, but only before placing the Baliff on the personnel as a trap card.

Assuming custody is an action.

If you don't have any teams at the location, the card that caused the capture remains on the table as a trap card. Place the captured personnel under it; she is now held. Once your crew or Away Team arrives, they may assume custody by either being present with the prisoner or beaming her from the trap card to their ship. The trap card is now discarded.

An escorted prisoner may be moved like an Equipment card. Each crew or Away Team may escort any number of captives. You may not initiate battle against personnel you have captured. If the ship or facility has a brig, the captive may be placed there. (She is still held, but is no longer escorted, which affects a few cards like Suicidal Attack.)

Captives that are held (or Brainwashed) can only be released by a card that specifically releases (or "returns") captives (like Prisoner Exchange). Captives that are left unattended, however, with neither a trap card nor an escort nor a Brig holding them, are conceptually "tied up and left behind" and thus may be released by their owner's other personnel present, without any special card. When a captive is released, all capture-related cards (like Impersonate Captive) played on her are discarded.

COMMANDEER (7.8)

"I am DaiMon Lurin, and I declare this ship to be a loss and open to claim according to the Ferengi Salvage Code. You will cooperate with our salvage operations, or we will begin executing your crew."

—Lurin

Some cards allow you to commandeer a ship or facility you don't control. When you commandeer a card, control transfers to you and the card's affiliation changes to the affiliation of one of the personnel (your choice) in the commandeering crew or Away Team. It is now yours to use as if it were your card. Even if you leave it unattended and your opponent beams an Away Team aboard, they can only take control if another card allows it.

Borg Rule: Commandeering is Irrelevant (7.8.0.3)

 Borg may not commandeer. They must assimilate.

Clarifications: Affiliation After Commandeering (7.8.0.2)

A commandeered card becomes the affiliation of the commandeering card. For example, even when Deep Space 9 is commandeered by , and thus flips over to become Terok Nor, it is a  facility, not a  one.

If you commandeer a ship but control no personnel at the location (for example, using A Fast Ship Would Be Nice), the ship's affiliation does not change until your personnel arrive to take custody of the ship.

Clarifications: Can't Commandeer Your Cards (7.8.0.1)

You may not commandeer cards that you already control. For example, your Luther Sloan may not change the affiliation of your own Deep Space Nine to  by commandeering it, although he may do so if your opponent controls the station.

You do not automatically gain control over any of your opponents' personnel or equipment aboard a ship or facility that you have commandeered. Cards played on the ship, like Subspace Transporter, Cytherians, or damage markers, transfer to you. Staffing requirements still apply to commandeered ships.

INFILTRATE (7.9)

"You're too late... we're everywhere..."

Your personnel who have a diamond-shaped       infiltration icon may infiltrate your opponent's cards if your opponent is playing that affiliation (or faction), in one of two ways:

Tip: Opponent Must Play Affiliation (7.9.0.1)

Notice that, until your opponent plays or seeds face-up at least one card of the affiliation (or faction) in your personnel's infiltration diamond, they are not playing that affiliation, and you cannot infiltrate their cards with that personnel.

- They may report to your opponent's side of the table, to a facility (and crew or Away Team, if any) which it will be compatible with when infiltrating (regardless of quadrant); or
- They may report for duty normally, and infiltrate later in the game, during either player's turn, if present with an opponent's crew or Away Team which it will be compatible with when infiltrating.

Once a personnel has begun infiltrating, it becomes the affiliation or faction shown in its infiltration diamond, and it becomes an infiltrator. They are subject to your opponent's cards which allow compatibility. Thus, if you are using Bashir Founder, you could report him to your own  Dominion facilities or your opponent's  Federation facilities. If your opponent has Treaty: Federation / Romulan in play, you could also report to his or her  Romulan facilities.

Your infiltrator is part of your opponent's crew or Away Team (and does not oppose opponent's cards), but is still under your control. For example, your opponent may not treat the infiltrator as "his personnel" to benefit from his hand weapons. They may not carry your equipment while infiltrating.

Your opponent may not treat your infiltrator as an intruder (for example, by attacking him). However, you may treat your infiltrator as an intruder for the purposes of cards such as The Walls Have Ears.

Whenever any of the opponent's personnel present take any action (for example, beaming, attempting a mission, or initiating a personnel battle), your infiltrator may choose whether or not to participate (or contribute to ship staffing requirements). If they choose to participate, they must participate fully; for example, an infiltrator joining a mission attempt must contribute skills and requirements to all dilemmas and to solving. You may move your infiltrators normally during either player's turn. When beaming your infiltrators, they may use either player's transporters and beam through any SHIELDS. They may not take any other actions.

EXPOSURE (7.9.1)

An infiltration mission can end in exposure, when your infiltrator's deception is "uncovered" by your opponent. You may choose to expose your own infiltrator as an order (even during opponent's turn). An infiltrator can also be exposed by being present with any other version of the persona they are impersonating (or their mirror opposites). Thus, if Kira Founder is ever present with Kira, Colonel Kira, or The Intendant, she is immediately exposed. Finally, your infiltrator can be exposed by returning to your own crew or Away Team.

Clarification: Infiltrators and House Arrest (7.9.1.0.1)

If an infiltrator is ever in a position where he or she would be placed in an incompatibility situation while infiltrating, that infiltrator's owner may freely choose exposure instead of house arrest.

Once exposed, the infiltrator reverts to its original affiliation. If aboard an opponent's ship or facility, the exposed infiltrator becomes an intruder. The exposed personnel may not infiltrate again until it has spent any length of time not being present with any of that opponent's personnel.

REQUIRED ACTIONS (7.10)

Some cards require that you take a specific action. For example, Samaritan Snare requires Federation to attempt it if present. Cytherians and Conundrum require ships to move (and, in Conundrum's case, attack). When your cards are being compelled by a required action, they may not take any other actions until the required action is complete. A Federation ship at Samaritan Snare may not play Preparation before attempting. A Klingon ship under the influence of Incoming Message: Klingon may not cloak, dock, or initiate battle, even to counter-attack. (However, it may return fire if attacked.) If a ship is compelled by a required action, so is its crew: they may not leave by any means nor initiate battle. Additional personnel and equipment may beam or report aboard by normal means, but, once aboard, they must follow the same restrictions as the rest of the crew.

Clarification: Hazards and Shortcuts in Required Moves (7.10.0.1)

For a moving-required action, ships must normally move at "normal speed", using all available RANGE on the targeted ships, including any modifiers (such as a Plasmadyne Relay). They must do this even if it leads them into a hazard, such as Gaps in Normal Space.

They may make use of immediate shortcuts, such as The Traveler's skills, Where No One Has Gone Before, Wormholes, or Transwarp Network Gateways, but they may not take any less-direct shortcuts. For example, it is not legal for a ship influenced by Cytherians to use Orb of Time to time travel to Sherman's Peak with the intent of time travelling back to the final destination next turn (thus vastly shortening the distance traveled), because it is not a direct shortcut.

Other than the fact that they are required, required actions are just like any other actions. Valid responses are allowed (for example, playing Magnetic North when attacked). If a ship or personnel influenced by a required action is captured, assimilated, or commandeered, the influence remains; the new controller must complete the action.

Meeting conditions to cure or nullify a card affecting a ship (such as Engine Imbalance) is not an action, so it is allowed, even during a required action.

8: END OF TURN

When you are finished executing orders for the turn, announce that you are ending your turn. This section describes several things that normally happen at the end of your turn. You may address them in any order, with the exception that your end-of-turn card draw must be the very last thing you do.

Clarification: Cards That End Your Turn (8.0.1)

When a card (such as Temporal Causality Loop or End Transmission) instructs you to end your turn, it ends your turn immediately, skipping all end-of-turn actions (such as countdowns, probes, and draws).

COUNTDOWNS (8.1)

"Six... Five... Four... Three..."

—Starship Enterprise

Some cards have a  Countdown Icon. When a Countdown Icon card that you own enters play, it has a conceptual counter placed on it (equal to the number, or numerical value of X, of the icon). At the end of each its owner's turns, the counter counts down by one. When the counter reaches zero, it immediately nullifies itself (and is discarded).

Tip: Tracking Ticks (8.1.0.1)

Players commonly place a six-sided dice on countdown-icon cards to track how much longer it will remain in play. Players without dice may turn countdown cards clockwise 90 degrees for each "tick."

PROBING (8.2)

Occasionally, a card will instruct you to probe. This is a means for the game to generate semi-random outcomes. Probing takes place at the end of your turn (unless otherwise specified). Simply reveal the top card of your draw deck, called the probe card. (If your draw deck is empty, you may not probe.)

The card that allowed you to probe will have a list of various icons on it, along with gametext associated with each icon. This is called the probe list.

In order to determine the outcome, identify the first icon on the probe list. If this icon is printed anywhere on the probe card (in gametext, as a staffing icon, etc.), replace the probe card atop your draw deck, then execute the appropriate outcome for that icon. Otherwise, proceed to the second item on the probe list, then the third, then the fourth, and so on until you have identified an outcome. For example, if you probe with Secret Compartment and Wall of Ships is revealed as your probe card, your outcome is "Success." Replace Wall of Ships atop your draw deck, download two equipments or an artifact, and discard Secret Compartment.

Clarifications: Multiple Outcomes (8.2.0.1)

A probe cannot have more than one outcome. If multiple icons from the probe list appear on the probe card, the outcome is always the first match on the probe list. For example, if you are probing for Sniper, and you reveal probe card George Sanders, the outcome is "Hit," not "Sniper spotted", because (even though the  icon is listed first on the card)  is the first icon on Sniper's probe list, whereas  is in the third term.

Wall of Ships (Probe Card)

1. Are these icons
on Wall of Ships?
NO: Continue.

2. Are these icons
on Wall of Ships?
YES: Stop.

3. Follow this text.

If none of the icons in the probe list are printed on the probe card, and there is no "otherwise" clause, simply replace the probe card atop your deck and continue with the game. (This is called probing with no outcome, and is common with  Objectives like Assimilate Planet.)

If multiple cards allow you to probe at the end of your turn, you must announce which ones you are using before you probe. You then reveal only one probe card, using it to resolve all your probes, in any order.

If your draw deck is empty, you may not probe.

DRAW A CARD (8.3)

When you have finished all other end-of-turn actions, you must draw a card from your draw deck. If you are unable to draw a card from your draw deck (because a card requires you to "draw no cards this turn" or you have no cards in your draw deck), simply inform your opponent that your turn is over.

Clarifications: Card Draws (8.3.0.2)

All card draws must be from your draw deck. An action that is taken "in place of one card draw" may replace any legal card draw (including draws during your turn). Each card draw is a separate action.

A card that states "draw no cards this turn" forbids all card draws for the rest of the turn, including extra draws. However, if the first action you perform imposing a "draw no cards this turn" restriction triggers a "just" action or valid response of drawing a card, the card draw occurs before the restriction takes effect.

Tip: You Need Extra Draws (8.3.0.1)

Since you only get one card draw per turn, most successful decks rely on finding good ways to draw 1-3 extra cards on each turn. The easiest way to do this is with New Arrivals, a popular card that is particularly valuable for new players.

9: WINNING THE GAME

"As of this moment, we are all dead. We go into battle to reclaim our lives. This we do gladly, for we are Jem'Hadar. Remember: victory is life!"

—First Omet'iklan

The game continues until one player wins the game by having at least 100 points. However:

Open Rules: 100 Points, Period (9.0.1)

Under Open Rules, the first player to 100 points wins the game, period. There are no rules about completing a certain number of planet and space missions in certain quadrants, and there are no limits on bonus points.

Organized Play: Time Limit (9.0.2)

At Continuing Committee tournaments, time is called 75 minutes after the seed phases begin, as detailed in the Organized Play Guide. The current player may finish his or her turn, and the other player may take one final turn if that player did not go first. (This ensures each player gets an equal number of turns.) At this point, if neither player has won the game, the player with the most points is credited with a modified win, which, in tournament play, earns fewer victory points than a full win.

In addition, in tournament play, either player may concede at any time, crediting his or her opponent with a full win and 100 points. Finally, in the event that a tournament game ends because both players ran out of cards, the player with the most points is automatically awarded 100 points.

- Each player who has not completed (or placed a   Borg-Only Objective on) at least two missions, including one  Planet and one  Space mission, must score an additional 40 points to win.
- Each player who has not completed (or placed a   Borg-Only Objective on) at least one Alpha Quadrant mission must score an additional 40 points to win — unless neither player seeded any Alpha Quadrant missions, in which case this penalty is not applied.
- If, at any time, any player has more bonus points than non-bonus points, the excess bonus points do not count toward winning.
- If, at any time, both players' draw decks are empty, or if both players simultaneously achieve the victory conditions, the player with the most points is the winner.

10: LIFE IN SPACE

"Out there, there are no saints, just people! Angry, scared, determined people who are going to do whatever it takes to survive — whether it meets with Federation approval or not!"

—Benjamin Sisko

The facilities, ships, personnel, and equipment you bring with you on your voyage into the galaxy are more than tools — in many ways, they have a life of their own. This section explains how you can turn their quirks to your advantage — and how things can backfire.

USING SKILLS (10.1)

"Fix the replicators, Chief. My console's offline, Chief. I should've transferred to a cargo drone. No people, no complaints."

—Miles O'Brien

Skills appear on all personnel cards, usually preceded by a ● skill dot. Most skills are regular skills, such as ● Physics, ● Computer Skill, and ● Honor. (They are all one or two words long and are listed below.) Regular skills are typically used in meeting conditions for another action where present, such as curing a dilemma. Regular skills are most often used to meet mission and dilemma requirements.

Clarifications: Undefined and Variable Attributes (10.1.0.7)

Some personnel have an undefined attribute. For example, Mortal Q's CUNNING is Q. Kivas Fajo has NO INTEGRITY. Spot has an asterisk in place of STRENGTH. Undefined attributes are treated as zero. Undefined attributes cannot be modified. For example, Kivas Fajo will be killed by Firestorm (because his INTEGRITY is treated as 0), and cannot have his INTEGRITY raised by Kukulaka.

However, undefined attributes should not be confused with variable attributes. Some personnel, like Quark, have an X in one of their attribute boxes, with a corresponding special skill such as "X=2 or 7." Each time you need to know the value of a variable attribute (even when the card is in hand, such as for a Royale Casino dilemma), the controller of the card may choose one of the listed values at that time. (If the card is uncontrolled, its owner chooses.) Whenever the special skill is unusable (for example, because of Brain Drain or Hate Crime), the attribute is an undefined attribute, treated as zero.

Clarifications: Ships with Skills (10.1.0.5)

When a ship has a regular skill as special equipment, it can be used as though possessed by a member of the ship's crew. For example, the Acquisition on Dosi Trade Vessel may help solve Salvage Wrecked Ship, or allow a Small Cloaking Device that is reporting aboard to report for free. It cannot open Secret Compartment on a nearby ship, because its crew is not present with that Secret Compartment.

Clarifications: "First-Listed Skill" (10.1.0.4)

Some cards, like Invasive Procedures, affect personnel's "first-listed skill".

A personnel's "first-listed skill" is the first skill printed in the skill box, whether a regular or special skill. When a first-listed skill is "lost" (for example, to a dilemma), the skill becomes conceptually blank or "no skill" (the second skill does not "slide over" to become a new first-listed skill).

For example, Julian Bashir is a MEDICAL-classification personnel with skills MEDICAL x2, Exobiology, Biology, and a special download. His "first-listed skill" is:

- Normally: MEDICAL x2
- While aboard a ship affected by Tsiolkovsky Infection: no skill
- If assimilated: MEDICAL x3
- When present with a Science Kit: MEDICAL x3
- After changing MEDICAL to Biology with Reflection Therapy: Biology
- If affected by Rascals: Youth

If a personnel has no first-listed skill because it has been removed by a dilemma, he is not affected by subsequent cards affecting the first-listed skill, and no other personnel has "the same first-listed skill" for purposes of a dilemma such as The Clown: Playing Doctor.

Most skills are preceded by a red ● skill icon. However, the number of skills a personnel has is not necessarily the same as the number of skill dots on the Personnel card. Skill dots are not gained or lost when skills are added or removed by a card; and special download skills have a ▼ icon instead of a dot. When a card such as Assimilate Counterpart refers to the number of ● icons on a personnel, use the actual number of skill dots printed on the card.

Clarifications: Skill Multipliers (10.1.0.3)

Some personnel are so good at their skills that they have them in multiple. For instance, Mortimer Harren has Astrophysics x2. Sarek has Diplomacy x3. Luther Sloan has SECURITY classification and SECURITY skill, which is effectively SECURITY x2.

A single ● skill with a multiplier is still considered one skill. If Sarek loses his first-listed skill, he loses all 3 of his Diplomacy, not just one of them. On the other hand, if Sarek uses Vulcan Mindmeld to gain Riva's diplomacy, Sarek now has Diplomacy x5.

A personnel who has a skill with an integral multiplier also has the skill at all lower positive integral multipliers. For example, Richard Daystrom has Computer Skill x3, so he also counts as a personnel with Computer Skill x2 and may pass Ferengi Ingenuity.

Normally, multiplied skills are regular skills. However, negative skills, such as Valeris's Diplomacy -3 and Toral's Leadership x1/2, are special skills.

"I heard all of you, your thoughts inside my head, as if they were my thoughts. And I could see myself through your eyes."

—Chakotay

Some cards, such as Nine of Eleven (Interlink Drone) and the Borg Vinculum, allow your Borg to share skills. (Cards that allow personnel to add skills from other personnel, such as Vulcan Mindmeld or Classic Communicator, do not enable skill-sharing.) All regular skills are shared, including those that do not actually appear in skills boxes, such as the selected skill of the Borg Queen and the classifications of assimilated personnel which have been converted into skills.

As long as the conditions for skill-sharing are met, all Borg at the same location (sometimes referred to as a "hive") share their skills. However, skills are only shared once, at their highest level.

For example, you have an Away Team on a planet consisting of two Borg:

Tachyon Drone		Astrophysics Navigation
Heuristics Drone		Computer Skill Honor MEDICAL

...as well as a Borg ship orbiting the planet with the following crew:

Gibson (Assimilated)		OFFICER Navigation x2
Interlink Drone		[no skills, but allows sharing]

...then all four personnel have the following skills:

OFFICER (Gibson)
MEDICAL (Heuristics)
Navigation x2 (Gibson)
Honor (Heuristics)
Astrophysics (Tachyon)
Computer Skill (Heuristics).

However, if the Heuristics Drone is killed, Tachyon Drone reverts to his printed skills only, because (according to the text on Interlink Drone) he cannot skill-share without a  Borg present. The Borg on the ship continue to skill-share, but no longer have any of the skills from Heuristics Drone (who is dead) or Tachyon Drone (who is cut off).

Sharing skills is not optional. A Borg does not have shared skills until after it reports for duty. Skill-sharing does not work between cloaked or phased ships. Special skills are not shared.

Clarifications: Classifications vs. Skills (10.1.0.1)

Classifications sometimes appear as skills, and they are usually equivalent. For example, Overseer Odo has classification OFFICER and the skill SECURITY. He may contribute his OFFICER classification to nullifying Maglock, and may use his SECURITY skill to help against Kazon Bomb.

However, a few cards, like Crisis and Tricorder, specify that a requirement can be fulfilled only by a member of the correct "classification". For those cards, only a card's classification counts. Overseer Odo can use a Medical Kit, because of his OFFICER classification, but cannot report to Security Office or activate Body Armor, because both these cards require SECURITY as a classification, not a skill.

Since  have no classifications, they cannot activate the gametext on such cards (but may use such cards for other purposes). For example,  could use a Tricorder to pass Alien Labyrinth, but not to gain the SCIENCE to pass Warp Bubble Mishap.

All other skills are special skills, such as " If on Cha'Joh, it is RANGE +2." Special skills that provide general modifiers like this are "always on." Other special skills, such as, " Once per game, may capture one personnel present," may normally be used only as normal actions on your turn, although many special skills provide their own special timing.

Some cards allow you to select, add, or increase skills (for example: Frame of Mind, Fitting In, Ishka). You may only select or modify regular skills.

Attributes (INTEGRITY, CUNNING, and STRENGTH) also appear on all personnel cards, and can be used like regular skills.

LOADED SKILLS (10.1.1)

A few regular skills and classifications include additional built-in powers, beyond their regular uses in solving missions and overcoming dilemmas. They are:

OFFICER AND LEADERSHIP: "LEADER" (10.1.1.1)

Any personnel with  Leadership or OFFICER (as a skill or classification) is a leader. Leaders are needed to initiate battle.

Clarifications: Leaders (10.1.1.1.0.1)

Cards that only identify themselves as leaders in lore, such as Maques, are not "leaders", and may not make use of Data's Medals or Emblem of the Alliance.

"Leader" is a characteristic; it is not the same as  Leadership skill. Damar can help solve Clash at Chin'toka, but cannot be targeted by Gorn Encounter.

"ANY INTELLIGENCE" (10.1.1.2)

The terms "Intelligence" and "any Intelligence" (on cards like Damaged Reputation) refer to any of several skills:  FCA,  Klingon Intelligence,  Memory Omega,  Obsidian Order,  Section 31,  Tal Shiar, and  V'Shar. If a card requires multiple Intelligence skills ("any 3 Intelligence") you may use any combination of Intelligence skills to meet the requirement.

GURAMBA (10.1.1.3)

"Guramba" is a Nausicaan word meaning "courage". Wherever your crew or Away Team has  Guramba present, your opponent must have two leaders present in order to initiate personnel battle (unless counterattacking). (Guramba has no effect on ship battle.)

Borg Rule: Borg and Guramba (10.1.1.3) must have two  personnel to initiate personnel battle against a crew or Away Team with Guramba.

TRANSPORTER SKILL (10.1.1.4)

Personnel with  Transporter Skill can beam large Tribble cards, even through SHIELDS, once per turn per skill level.

GETTING HURT (10.2)

"The plasma was super-heated. It thermalised his lungs. Initialise the hyperbaric sequencer!"

—Dr. Phlox

This section describes the many ways your personnel might be injured or otherwise prevented from carrying out their duties.

STOPPED (10.2.1)

The most common "injury" in the game is getting "stopped." Stopped personnel are too busy with what they're doing to participate in movement, missions, or attacks.

Clarifications: Unstopping & Long-Term Stops (10.2.1.0.2)

When a card is stopped for longer than a turn (for example, Chula: The Game, Chinese Finger Puzzle), then becomes unstopped (for example, by Deanna Troi), it remains unstopped thereafter. It does not automatically "re-stop" at the end of the turn.

Clarifications: What Stopped Cards Can Do (10.2.1.0.1)

Stopped personnel may do anything they're not specifically prohibited from doing. For example, a stopped personnel may contribute skills or traits to Defiant Dedication Plaque, Navigate Plasma Storms, or Ketracel-White. They can even share skills where allowed (for example, with Fitting In or Nine of Eleven). Stopped cards are prohibited from participating in a mission attempt or dilemma encounter, but not entirely prevented from using their skills and characteristics in other ways.

Stopped cards may also be targeted by other cards, as long as the card does not require them to take a prohibited action. For example, you may relocate a "stopped" ship with Magic Carpet Ride OCD, because the ship is merely being moved by the card, but you may not play Emergency Transporter Armbands on your stopped personnel, because that card requires them to actively beam themselves, which they cannot do.

A minor rules quirk: as stated in the rules, if an entire crew or Away Team is stopped, their Equipment is also stopped. However, if individual members of a crew or Away Team are stopped by a card that specifically stops only selected personnel (for example, Lineup), their Equipment is not stopped — even if the selected personnel are the only ones in the crew or Away Team.

Examples: Devastating Communique, failing a conditional dilemma, Oo-mox, finishing a battle

Specifically, stopped cards may not: move on their own power (they may be relocated by other cards), time travel, participate in an attack (they may battle defensively), get stopped again, or participate in any mission, commandeering, or scouting attempt in any way. Stopped personnel also become separated, they may not beam or walk, and they may staff ships only if the ship is also stopped. Stopped ships may not fly, dock, undock, take off, land, beam, cloak/decloak, or phase/dephase.

Your personnel become stopped when they board your stopped ship. When your ship is stopped (or unstopped), your crews aboard become stopped (or unstopped). Using up a ship's RANGE does not stop it.

Equipment carried by a crew or Away Team are stopped if the entire crew or Away Team is stopped (whether by battle, failure to overcome a dilemma, or other means).

Stopped cards become unstopped automatically at the start of either player's next turn.

KILLED OR DESTROYED (10.2.2)

Cards that are killed or destroyed leave play normally, usually to the discard pile. All personnel aboard a ship or facility when it is destroyed are killed, and all equipment and ships aboard are destroyed.

Reminder: Docked Ships Not Destroyed (10.2.2.0.2)

Remember, docked ships are not destroyed if their facility is.

Clarification: Death Terminates Disability (10.2.2.0.1)

If a personnel who is disabled or in stasis is killed (or such a ship is destroyed), the disabled/stasis effect ends at the moment of death. Thus, if Aamin Marritza dies in stasis, he scores his bonus points.

Examples: Armus - Skin of Evil, Vulcan Stone of Gol, V'Ger, Disruptor Overload

DISABLED (10.2.3)

A disabled personnel is unconscious.

Examples: Hypospray, getting captured, deactivated  holograms

Clarification: "Disabled" Ship Systems (10.2.3.0.1)

Occasionally a card will state that a ship attribute or system is "disabled". This is a slight misnomer on some old cards (like Vole Infestation). Treat disabled systems and special equipment as off-line and disabled attributes as undefined attributes. The ship itself is not disabled.

Disabled personnel may not be used in any way. They may not take actions, use gametext or characteristics, or even enable gametext on other cards that depend on the disabled personnel being in play. For example, if Lore is disabled, you cannot use his skills to cure dilemmas, cannot use his Treachery for Recruit Mercenaries, and cannot prevent a ship from being relocated at Paxan "Wormhole". However, disabled personnel may be moved and beamed like equipment cards, and may be targeted by effects that target their card types. For example, disabled personnel may be battled by opposing personnel, captured by Ilon Tandro, or targeted by Release This Pain.

Disabled personnel are separated during mission attempts.

STASIS (10.2.4)

Personnel or ships in stasis are in suspended animation, where they remain until released.

Examples: The Whale Probe, Vulcan "Death Grip"

Clarification: Global Effects Affect Stasis Cards (10.2.4.0.3)

Cards or rules that have a global effect on all ships and/or personnel in play, such as Anti-Time Anomaly and Stop First Contact's timeline disruption, affect cards in stasis normally.

Clarification: Ship in Stasis, Crew Not (10.2.4.0.2)

If personnel who are not in stasis are aboard a ship in stasis (for example, because a Cyber Drone was aboard when the ship entered stasis), they cannot move the ship, or beam off using that ship's transporters.

Tip: Disabled vs. In Stasis (10.2.4.0.1)

These two conditions are very similar. In both cases, affected cards can't do anything. However, disabled cards can have things done to them, like being attacked or relocated. Cards in stasis generally can't.

Cards in stasis may not take actions, use gametext, or characteristics, and may not be targeted or moved by any effect except the one placing them in stasis. Ships and personnel in stasis therefore cannot be attacked in battle. For example, no player may play Diplomatic Contact on Kai Winn if she is in stasis. Cards already targeting ships or personnel in stasis are suspended until stasis ends. For example, Federation Flagship: Renewed does not generate extra card draws while the Enterprise is in stasis, and REM Fatigue does not count down.

Personnel in stasis are separated during mission attempts.

SEPARATED (10.2.5)

During mission attempts, your personnel who are stopped, disabled, in stasis, or under house arrest are separated. Any personnel who are stopped, disabled, placed in stasis, or house arrested during a mission attempt automatically and immediately form a new "separated" crew or Away Team (or join it, if one already exists). Separated personnel automatically rejoin the main team as soon as they are able (when unstopped, removed from stasis, etc.).

Because separated personnel are no longer part of the main mission team, this means they are no longer present. They can no longer be targeted by dilemmas from the mission attempt (unless expressly specified, like on Crystalline Entity). They are not considered to be "aboard" their ship, for the purposes of dilemmas. Furthermore, separated personnel cannot contribute characteristics or skills toward overcoming, curing, or triggering dilemmas encountered during mission attempts. They are completely sidelined.

All opposing personnel are considered "separated" from your mission attempts, as well. For example, if you encounter Kazon Bomb during a mission attempt at Liberation, your opponent's Away Team will not suffer casualties, even if it is on the planet's surface with your Away Team.

RELOCATED (10.2.6)

Some cards can "relocate" ships and personnel in play. (Equivalent euphemisms are sometimes used, too, including "hurled", "transported", and "towed".) Relocation is a form of forced movement. As such, it does not require full ship staffing, and even stopped cards can be relocated.

QUARANTINED (10.2.7)

When a card places a ship, facility, or planet under quarantine, personnel may board the ship or facility, or beam to the planet, but none may leave. Example: Aphasia Device

Exception: Dilemma-Forced Relocation (10.2.7.0.1)

If a dilemma (or a card that plays like a dilemma) instructs you to move or relocate a personnel (either as a condition for passing the dilemma or as part of the results), it may require you to move them out of a quarantine. This is legal. For example, Male Love Interest, Hippocratic Oath, Make Us Go, Tarellian Plague Ship, and Abandon Ship! all override quarantines. (This applies only to dilemma relocations. Relocations from other cards, such as Mysterious Orb, do not override quarantines.)

IN PLAY 'FOR UNIQUENESS ONLY' (10.2.8)

When a card is in play "for uniqueness only", the card is considered "in play" only insofar as its owner may not report another copy of the same persona. For all other intents and purposes, they are considered not in play. For example, if The Emissary is trapped in a Kobayashi Maru Scenario or placed in your point area with Duranja, Bajorans do not have their INTEGRITY enhanced by his ability, but you cannot report another The Emissary or Benjamin Sisko.

NEMESIS DESTRUCTION (10.2.9)

"From hell's heart, I stab at thee. For hate's sake, I spit my last breath at thee!"

—Khan

Nemesis icons identify a destructive relationship between personnel and/or ships. Two cards that have a nemesis relationship will have icons of the same color but pointing in different directions.

For example, Kor  and The Albino  are nemeses. Kang  and The Albino  are also nemeses. But Kor  and Kang  are allies, because their nemesis icons point the same direction. Kor  and I.K.S. Chang  have no relationship, because their nemesis icons are different colors.

If two or more personnel or ships with opposing nemesis icons are present with each other at the end of any turn, the player whose turn it is must choose one of them to be immediately killed (personnel) or destroyed (ships). This is not a battle.

For example, if your Pralor Unit 3947 is on a planet with your opponent's Cravic Unit 122 at the end of your turn, you must choose one of them to be discarded. If you have left your Pralor Unit 3947 aboard your Cravic Warship at the end of your turn, you must choose one to be discarded. (If you choose to destroy the ship, all personnel aboard — including Pralor Unit 3947 — will be killed.)

HOUSE ARREST (10.2.10)

If your personnel who are mixing and cooperating become no longer compatible, they are in a house arrest situation. (This typically happens because a card allowing different affiliations to cooperate, such as Treaty: Cardassian/Bajoran, has been nullified, or when incompatible personnel are acquired from a Cryosatellite.) When this occurs on a ship or facility, the personnel who are incompatible with the ship or facility they are aboard are placed under house arrest. If this is not applicable (because they are at a Neutral Outpost, at a site on a Nor, aboard an opponent's ship, etc.), the minority group is placed under house arrest. If on a planet, the incompatible personnel simply split into two separate Away Teams.

Tip: Don't Worry About House Arrest (10.2.10.0.1)

The House Arrest rule comes up extremely rarely. House Arrest is simply a worst-case rules fallback for when nothing else in the compatibility rules fit. The main thing to remember about House Arrest is that you cannot make it happen, so it almost never does. You are much better served by learning the compatibility rules really well, and looking up this rule on the rare occasion that it makes a difference.

While under house arrest, personnel are treated as disabled. (During mission attempts, they are separated.) However, they may freely walk and beam, and can thereby end the house arrest situation as soon as the opportunity presents itself.

You may never voluntarily place your personnel in a house arrest situation. You may not report a 🗡️ Klingon to a 🚩 Romulan Outpost without a treaty, nor to a Neutral Outpost where you have 🚩 Romulans present, without a treaty in place. You may not beam your 🚩 Romulan personnel aboard a 🗡️ Klingon ship, stop your 🗡️ Klingons and 🚩 Romulans at the same site, or switch the Sisters of Duras's affiliation to 🗡️ while they are aboard a 🚩 ship.

CHARACTERISTICS (10.3)

You are The Sisko.

—Kira Prophet

Apart from regular gametext and icons, many cards have additional characteristics, such as "female", "cook", "Jem'Hadar attack ship", "maje", "disruptor", and "Vulcan". Characteristics have no built-in gameplay function, but characteristics are used by many cards, such as Matriarchal Society, Klingon Restaurant, Engage Shuttle Operations: Dominion, The Kazon Collective, Phaser Burns, and Fal-Tor-Pan.

Clarifications: Named In Lore (10.3.0.12)

A few cards and rules, like Dramatis Personae and matching commanders, check to see whether a card is "named in lore" of another. But this can raise questions: does William Samuels name Bok in lore, simply because he bombed the freighter Bok'Nor? (No.)

A card names another card in lore only if the named card's title exactly matches the name given in lore, including any capitalized modifiers (such as ranks, titles, and descriptors). Standard word form variations, such as declined or possessive nouns, do not "break" a match, and the capitalization of articles ("a", "the") may be disregarded. For example, I.K.S. K'elric names Captain Kang in lore (but not Kang), Ezri names Mr. Brunt in lore (but not Brunt), Gorta names Duras (but not Sisters of Duras, because, in Gorta's lore, "sisters" is not capitalized), Bareil's lore names The Intendant, and Els Renora's lore names Jadzia Dax.

Context matters for determining whether the lore is naming the subject. Incidental uses of a word, like "One" in Kovat's lore, do not count. For example, Telle mentions "data" in lore, but does not name Data; Kor's lore does name Kahless (who owns the "Sword of Kahless"); and Zegov's lore names both Sisters of Duras and Duras.

Moreover, a card's lore may refer to its own subject by a different name. This can be used to identify the card's as (for example) a matching commander; the lore of Jean-Luc Picard (Premiere) identifies the card's subject, Jean-Luc Picard (Premiere), as a matching commander of U.S.S. Enterprise. (It would also name a card with the title "Captain Jean-Luc Picard," if any existed.)

Automatic Characteristic: Ship Origin (10.3.0.11)

The "origin" of a ship describes which affiliation built it. A ship's origin is presumed to match its affiliation. For example, virtually all  ships, like the Kurdon, originated in the Ferengi Alliance, even if they don't explicitly say so. However, B'Rel states in its lore that it is a "surplus Klingon bird-of-prey," which means its origin is .

Exceptions: Ship Origin (10.3.0.11.1)

The Rules Committee has seen fit to issue these explicit clarifications in the few cases where the above rules are inadequate, incorrect, or ambiguous:

-   Cha'Joh is of  Klingon origin.
-  Naprem is of  Klingon origin.
-   Stolen Attack Ship is of  Dominion origin.

Origin is important for cards like Klingon Civil War and Ferengi Energy Weapon, which specify that a "Klingon ship" or "Ferengi ship" must be involved. A ship is a Klingon ship if either its current affiliation or its origin is . Therefore, B'Rel could use gain the ATTACK bonus from Ferengi Energy Weapon as a Ferengi ship, then score points from Klingon Civil War as a Klingon ship.

A commandeered ship retains its origin. Thus, a  Romulan-origin ship that becomes  by commandeering is a " ship", a "Klingon ship," and a "Romulan ship," but not a " ship".

Automatic Characteristic: Ship Class (10.3.0.10)

Every ship has a class defined in its class box. The class box may also suggest more characteristics. For example, Cha'Joh's class ("Class D-12 Scout Vessel") also identifies it as a scout ship that can be used with Scout Encounter.

"Unknown Class" is not a distinct class. Ships like Fesarius and Bothan Vessel, which are "Unknown Class," are always considered to be different classes.

When a ship's class box states that it is an "advanced" or "modified" version of another class, then that ship is treated as a member of both classes. For example, I.K.S. Kla'Diyus's class ("Modified B'Rel Class") identifies it as a B'Rel-class ship for the purposes of Duj Saq.

Automatic Characteristic: Species (10.3.0.9)

Personnel are presumed to belong to the "usual species" that corresponds to their printed affiliation. 🗡️ cards are presumed to be Klingon species, 🧑🏽 cards are presumed to be Cardassian species, 🧑🏻, 🧑🏿, 🧑🏾, and 🧑🏼 cards are presumed to be Human species, 🧑🏽 cards are presumed to be Changeling species, 🧑🏽 are presumed to be Kazon species, and so on.

Some cards explicitly state that the personnel represented on the card does not belong to the "usual species" for his or her affiliation. For example, 🗡️ Jodmos's lore states his species is human. 🧑🏽 The Viceroy states his species is Reman. This overrides the "usual species" presumption; the Viceroy's species is Reman and is not Romulan.

If lore states a native planet, this indicates the species if no other species is given. For example, 🧑🏽 T'Lor is "from Tiburon", so his species is Tiburonian.

Mixed-race personnel are members of all their native species. Tora Ziyal is both Bajoran and Cardassian. She could be targeted by Hate Crime as the only Bajoran member of an otherwise all-Cardassian Away Team, or as the only Cardassian member of an otherwise all-Bajoran Away Team.

When comparing species between two cards, they are the same species if they have at least one species in common, and are different species otherwise. Thus, a Morphogenic Virus on K'Ehleyr also affects Spock (because they are the same species), and Gul Evek cannot use Tora Ziyal for Comfort Women (because she is not of a different species). When counting species within a group, count each species. Thus, Tora Ziyal, Weyoun 8, and Thot Gor can use One Big Happy Family (the four different species are Bajoran, Cardassian, Vorta, Breen).

Terran is equivalent to Human, used in the Mirror Universe.

"Android" is a species. All personnel identified in their title or lore as androids belong to this species. "Soong-type androids" are not a different species.

Any personnel who has a 🧑🏽 Ketracel-White icon is Jem'Hadar species.

Any personnel who is 🗡️ Borg affiliation or who has a Borg subcommand icon (🧑🏽🧑🏽🧑🏽) has two species. One of those species is Borg. Their second species is determined by the rules above. For example, Five of Eleven (Cyber Drone) is Borg (because their affiliation is 🗡️) and Klingon (because the lore says so). Ensign Jameson is Borg (because she has a subcommand icon), and her second species is human (because her affiliation is 🧑🏽).

Holographic 🧑🏽 personnel always have the species "Hologram". This overrides all other card features, including affiliation, appearance, subcommand icons, and lore. 🧑🏽 Holograms can only be holograms; they cannot be mixed-race.

Humanoid (or Alien, which is equivalent) is not a distinct species, and cannot be targeted by a card which targets a particular species by name (such as Assimilate Species). Moreover, a humanoid is always the only member of its species. Therefore, a card like Hate Crime can target anyone in a team of humanoids, and a player could use Seek Out New Life to download multiple copies of Vekor.

Exceptions: Species (10.3.0.9.1)

The Rules Committee has seen fit to issue these explicit clarifications in the few cases where the above rules are inadequate, incorrect, or ambiguous:

-  The Artificial Intelligence is Alien (equivalent to Humanoid).
-  The Borg Queen (all versions) is Borg and Species 125.
-  Captain Picard is Human.
-  Commander Data is species Android.
-  Commander Troi is Human and Betazoid.
- All Cravic Units ( Cravic Unit 122) are species Android.
-  Inge Eiger is Human.
-  Jean-Luc Picard is Human.
-  K'mtar is Klingon and Human.
-  Mr. Horn is Humanoid.
- All Pralor Units ( Pralor Unit 3947,  Pralor Unit 6263) are species Android.
-  Stefan deSeve is Human.
-  T'Pol (Straight and Steady) is Vulcan.
-  William T. Riker is Human.

In the past, multi-affiliation cards were not always clear which "usual species" they favored, leading to the following rulings:

-   Agent Garak Cardassian.
-   Captain Nog is Ferengi.
-   The Emissary is Human.
-   Jake and Nog are Human and Ferengi, respectively.
-   Kasidy Yates is Human.
-   Kira Meru is Bajoran.
-   Koral is Klingon.
-   Koval is Romulan.
-   Sardo is Humanoid.
- The   Sisters of Duras are Klingon.
-   Tora Ziyal's species are Bajoran and Cardassian.

Automatic Characteristic: Gender (10.3.0.8)

If a personnel's gender (or lack of gender) is indicated somewhere on the card, it has that gender. This indicator may be explicit ("male," "genderless") or implicit ("his," "Queen," "it"). Otherwise, if the personnel's gender is obvious from its image, it has that gender. If all else fails, treat the personnel as male.

Male and female are opposite genders. Other genders, like cogenitor, have no opposite.

Borg Rule: Gender is Irrelevant (10.3.0.8.1)

Gender is irrelevant to the Borg.  cards and  players are not affected by gender-related gametext (for example, Venus Drug). However, if gender is invoked on a Borg-related card, such as Borg Kiss, gender becomes relevant. When gender is relevant,  Queens are female and  counterparts are male.  drones are genderless, even if gender-specific pronouns are in their lore or gametext. An assimilated  drone becomes genderless.

This applies only to  cards. Members of the Borg species who are not  (like Jean-Luc) have normal genders.

Clarifications: Ignore Card Image (10.3.0.7)

Characteristics can not normally be inferred from the card image. Nick Locarno is not a cadet, even though he is wearing cadets' pips in his image.

A card's image may only be used to infer the gender of a personnel, and only when it cannot be determined from other printed information on the card.

Clarifications: Ignore Information Outside the Card (10.3.0.6)

Information from outside a card may not normally be used to determine that card's characteristics. For example, John Doe does not have the characteristic "fugitive", because there is no statement on his card that he is a fugitive, even though the lore on Zalkonian Vessel identifies him as one. Similarly, characteristics are not shared across similar cards. William T. Riker (Premiere) is a cook, because his lore states that he is a cook. Will Riker, Riker Wil, and William T. Riker \(First Contact\) are different aspects of the same character (or persona). They do not state in their lore that they are "cooks", so these cards are not cooks.

Clarifications: Characteristics Aren't Skills (10.3.0.5)

The presence in lore of a word or phrase that is the name of a skill does not confer that  skill on a personnel. For example, Antaak (who "had a knack for diplomacy") does not have the skill  Diplomacy, and therefore he cannot overcome dilemmas or solve missions that require Diplomacy.

Clarifications: Disguises as Characteristics (10.3.0.4)

A card who has a characteristic as part of a disguise has that characteristic. Vedek Dax has the "vedek" characteristic; Selok is both Romulan species and Vulcan species.

Clarifications: Former & Future Characteristics (10.3.0.3)

A card that identifies its subject as formerly having a characteristic or gaining it in the future has that characteristic. Thus, Bok, the "former Ferengi DaiMon", is a DaiMon, and Beyor, who "later rose to become a minister," is a minister.

Clarifications: Characteristics: Context Matters (10.3.0.2)

Context matters when determining whether a card has a characteristic; the mere appearance of a particular word on a card does not necessarily confer a characteristic on the card. For example, the phrase "uses the same hull as the Cardassian shuttlecraft" in the lore of Patrol Ship does not give it the characteristic "shuttlecraft," and Eli Hollander is not "any Data" just because he "assumed Data's traits". Likewise, Makbar is not a human, even though her lore includes the word "human". The card must clearly state that the subject of the card has the characteristic.

However, if a card has a characteristic in bold (or bold italic), it has that characteristic, regardless of context. For example, Falcon is "any Miles" and J-25 Cube is a "Borg cube".

Tip: Characteristics Are Usually Obvious (10.3.0.1)

99% of characteristics are obvious and intuitive. For example, you don't need to know the rules to see, at a glance, that Kurak is a female, a Klingon, and a scientist; nor does it take any knowledge of Star Trek to realize that a Mirror Dagger counts as both a "blade weapon" and a "hand weapon".

For this reason, we reiterate our strong recommendation that you skip over the sidebars in this section (which are very long), unless you have some particular issue you need to clarify. Beginners can skip this section altogether.

A card has a characteristic if that card says it has that characteristic, whether in lore, title, affiliation, icons, or some other area of the card. For example:

- Norah Satie's lore states that she is an admiral, as does Admiral McCoy's card title, so they are both "admirals".
- The title, lore, and class of Type 9 Shuttlecraft state that it is a shuttlecraft, as does the class of Quark's Treasure, so both are "shuttlecraft".
- In an unusual example, Krax's special skill provides him with the characteristic of "nagus" only if certain conditions are met. He loses the characteristic if another nagus (such as Grand Nagus Zek) enters play.

A few characteristics are defined or fleshed out by rule. They are:

- hand weapon: in addition to cards which identify themselves as "hand weapons," Equipment that has the "phaser", "disruptor", "blade weapon", or "tommygun" characteristic also has the "hand weapon" characteristic.
- inorganic: in addition to cards which identify themselves as inorganics, cards with the characteristic "android" or "hologram" are inorganic.
- shape-shifter: In addition to personnel which identify themselves as shape-shifters, all members of the changeling species are shapeshifters. "Shape-shifter" is not a species.
- romantic partner: A personnel is the romantic partner of another personnel if the lore on either card both names the other (see named in lore sidebar) and states that they have been "romantically involved". For example, Pel and Quark are romantic partners of one another, but Pel and Deputy Quark are not.

The following terms (even if preceded by "ex-") are considered equivalent to the phrase "romantically involved": "husband", "wife", "mate", "married", "wedded", "bride", "imzad", "beloved", "mistress", "widow", "divorced", and (naturally) "romantic partner". A personnel and their romantic partner are collectively called a couple.

Clarifications: Matching Commanders (10.3.0.13)

A few personnel, such as Rinnak Pire and Regent Worf, have special game text that allows them to act as, or assign another personnel as, the matching commander of a ship.

A statement that a ship "transported" or was "used by" a personnel does not qualify that personnel as a matching commander. Kivas Fajo is not a matching commander for Zibalian Transport, but he is matching commander of Jovis.

To gain matching commander benefits, the matching commander must not be disabled or in stasis.

Unless specified, a ship (or facility) can only gain benefits from one matching commander at a time.

If a card provides matching commander benefits specifically on ships, the benefits do not apply for facilities (or vice versa). For example, Ready Room Door can download a matching commander to a ship, but not a facility.

Matching commanders for facilities are called "facility commanders".

- matching commander: A personnel is a matching commander for a ship (or facility) if either card both names the other in lore and states that that personnel is (or was) the commander or captain of that ship (or facility). For example, Worf \(First Contact\) and Kudak'Etan are both matching commanders for all ship cards with the title U.S.S. Defiant, but not Stolen Defiant. All cards with the title "Benjamin Sisko" are matching commanders for U.S.S. Sao Paulo — but substitutes like Ben Sisko and The Emissary are not. Many cards provide benefits to cards with a matching commander aboard.

11: STRANGE ENCOUNTERS

"If you can't take a little bloody nose, maybe you ought to go back home and crawl under your bed. It's not safe out here. It's wondrous, with treasures to satiate desires both subtle and gross. But it's not for the timid."

—Q

There are some strange things in the galaxy. Most of it can be catalogued, documented, analyzed. But there are a few entities out there whose operation is unlike anything else in our seemingly simple universe. They require somewhat deeper explanation.

SELF-CONTROLLING CARDS (11.1)

"They say there's no devil, Jim, but there is. Right out of hell, I saw it... miles long, with a maw that could swallow a dozen starships."

—Commodore Decker

Cards with the  Self-Controlling icon move, operate, and attack on their own. If encountered during an attempt, a  enters play at that location. After entering play, they are under the control of neither player. At the end of every turn (both players'), each  card in play acts according to its gametext.

Clarification:  Battling Multiple Players in Space (11.1.0.1) attack all relevant targets at a location simultaneously. "Multiplexing" (multiple simultaneous ship targeting) is described in the section on ship combat. However, it is not possible to attack multiple ships controlled by different players at the same time. When a  card is attacking multiple players in space, it must be done as two separate battles. The player whose turn it is chooses which happens first.

When a  card with RANGE moves, it moves its full available RANGE toward the far end of the spaceline. (Exact ties are settled by the owner's opponent.) A  card at the far end of the spaceline uses 1 RANGE to move off the spaceline (discarded).

A  card does not need matching personnel or a leader to attack, and may attack any affiliation, but needs usable WEAPONS or STRENGTH (as appropriate) and is subject to restrictions that affect all cards, such as "We Are The Metrons".

When a  attacks in space, it attacks all eligible targets at that location at once. (For a detailed explanation, see Multiplexing & Multiple Targets.)  cards do not use either player's Tactic cards in battle. However, if your ships take a hit and your opponent has a Battle Bridge side deck, he or she inflicts default damage on your damaged ships. Otherwise, you suffer rotation damage. If attacked in space,  cards automatically return fire against every ship and facility involved in the attack, but not bystanders.

In personnel battle, a  attacks all eligible crew or Away Teams, one after another, and the player whose turn it is decides in what order. A  card stuns or mortally wounds its adversary when possible.

Any affiliation, including , may initiate battle against  cards. ( must obey their usual restrictions.)

 cards are not considered ships or personnel for the purposes of cards that affect ships or personnel (such as Q-Net, Shrouded Assailant, Dead in Bed, or Wormhole).

PLANETARY DESTRUCTION (11.2)

"I have confirmed the location of Praxis, sir, but... I cannot confirm the existence of Praxis."

—Dmitri Valtane

Cards such as Unstable Matrix and Redirect Energy Ribbon may cause a  mission to be "converted to space". When this occurs, the mission's icon becomes  Space. If any player has completed (or placed a  Borg-Only Objective on) that mission, that player has now completed a space mission for the purposes of cards like The Big Picture or the game's win conditions.

Clarification: Converting a   Dual-Icon Mission to  (11.2.0.1)

If a dual-icon mission is converted to , it loses its .

However, all cards on the planet or played on the planet are destroyed and discarded. This includes personnel, equipment, landed ships, and planet facilities on the planet surface. It also includes cards which were explicitly seeded on, played on, or placed on a  (or "planet"), or on that location by name, for example:

- The Guardian of Forever ("Plays on planet Gateway")
- Hotel Royale ("Plays on Theta VIII")
- Unstable Matrix ("Seeds on Genesis")
- Labor Camp ("Plays on... your non-homeworld planet mission")
- We'll Need a Starship ("Seeds or plays on a Neutral Zone Region ")
- The Genesis Device ("place on  mission here")

However, cards which merely play at the mission or the location generally (like Venus Drug and Dal'rok) remain.

TRIBBLES (11.3)

"They do nothing but consume food and breed. If you feed that thing more than the smallest morsel, in a few hours you'll have ten tribbles, then a hundred, then a thousand."

—Worf

"Oh, it's purring! Listen, it's purring!"

—Lt. Uhura

Tribbles are small, furry, adorable creatures, but their rapid reproduction can cripple a fleet.

Tip: Tribbles CCG Cards (11.3.0.2)

Cards from the Tribbles CCG have no Trek-related gametext. They are not legal in the Star Trek CCG for this reason. At this writing, the only legal Tribbles and Troubles cards are those found in booster packs from 2000's The Trouble with Tribbles expansion.

The "Go", "Poison", and "Discard" symbols in the upper-left corner of each legal Tribble card are for use in the Tribbles CCG and should be ignored. All versions of a denomination are treated as the same card in the Star Trek Customizable Card Game.

Clarification: Tribbles are Non-Cumulative (11.3.0.1)

Tribbles and Troubles are non-cumulative; multiple copies of the same tribble card in the same place does not multiply their effect, and only one copy of any given Tribble card may have an effect on any given turn. For example, if you have seven copies of 10 Tribbles present at a single location, Klingons present are INTEGRITY -1, not INTEGRITY -7.

Moreover, because the effect on 1 Tribble is "once every turn", you may only use it once every turn, regardless of how many copies you have in play. For example, if you have one copy of 1 Tribble in each of seven different locations, only one of them may stop one personnel at one of those locations.

 Tribble cards may be played only from a Tribble side deck (opened with Storage Compartment Door). All your tribbles on one ship, facility, site, or planet form one group.

Small tribble cards (1 Tribble and 10 Tribbles) cards may report anywhere.

Large tribble cards (100 Tribbles and greater) may only be bred from your other Tribble cards in play (not your opponent's). For example, the 100 Tribbles card "breeds from 10 tribbles." To play it, you must control at least 10 tribbles there (ten 1 Tribble cards or one 10 Tribbles card). Those tribbles remain in play.

You may play only one tribble card on a group of tribbles each turn (including the first one, if creating a new group).

Worse still, the Storage Compartment Door may disgorge  Trouble cards, like ...On The Bridge, which compound the tribble troubles exponentially. Trouble cards are played on tribble groups of any size (limit one per turn per group). However, portions of the Trouble card's gametext will not "activate" until the listed "minimum" number of tribbles is present. Whenever tribbles within the group are moved, the Trouble card may move with them, at the owner's discretion. A Trouble is discarded if there are no tribbles present.

Small Tribble cards may be carried like equipment by either player's personnel. Each personnel may carry only one small Tribble card; when they eventually "drop" it, they are stopped. They are not required to put it down while they perform other actions, such as attempting a mission.

Large Tribble cards may be beamed only by Transporter Skill. As an order, a personnel may beam up to one large Tribble card for each multiple of Transporter Skill that they have, then are stopped. (Thus, Emory Erickson could beam up to three large Tribble cards, then become stopped.) They may be beamed anywhere your transporters could beam personnel. Large tribble cards cannot be carried and moved like equipment.

BOTANY BAY CARDS (11.4)

"...Botany Bay? Oh, no! We've got to get out of here—now!"

—Commander Chekov

Cards with the  Botany Bay icon represent an unpleasant surprise for players who try to uncover what is better left buried. If a player examines a dilemma with the  icon any time other than during a mission or scouting attempt (for example, by using Ocular Implants to peek at it), place it on the mission where it was seeded. That player may not attempt or scout this mission until another mission has been completed (or scouted) by either player, then re-seed the dilemma at the same mission.

Clarification:  Botany Bay reseeds (11.4.0.1)

If multiple dilemmas are to be simultaneously re-seeded in this way, re-seed them so that they are encountered in the original order.

THE MIRROR UNIVERSE (11.5)

ARCHER: According to some theories, everything that exists in our universe should also exist there.

HOSHI: Another Terran Empire? Another Starfleet?

—"In A Mirror Darkly, Part I"

Cards from the  Mirror Quadrant are not just native to a different spaceline; they are from a mirror universe, similar to our own but far more savage.

Some locations in the  Mirror Quadrant, such as Mirror Bajor, correspond to locations in the Alpha Quadrant (like Bajor): they have exactly the same location text, just in the opposite quadrant.

Cards from the  Mirror Quadrant are often written from the perspective of the mirror universe, so  Mirror Quadrant cards that refer to specific locations mean the  Mirror Quadrant versions of those locations. (All other references to locations refer only to the Alpha Quadrant version unless otherwise stated.)

For example, Imperial Palace may seed on 22nd-Century Japan ( 2155 Earth), but may not seed on 22nd-Century San Francisco (Alpha Quadrant 2155 Earth). Likewise, The City of B'Hala may seed under Alpha Bajor, but not Mirror Bajor. For the same reason, Homeworld-related effects do not apply to cards from the opposite quadrant. For example, Commander Leeta's homeworld is Mirror Bajor; she cannot use Homefront ("personnel matching homeworld's affiliation") at Alpha Bajor, because she does not match Alpha Bajor's universe.

12: MISCELLANEOUS RULES

"You are now subjects of the Klingon Empire. You'll find there are many rules and regulations. They will be posted. Violation of the smallest of them will be punished by death."

—Captain Kor

There are a few other rules you should know when you start playing.

SELECTION (12.1)

"Execute them. I think you'll find that random and unprovoked executions will keep your entire workforce alert and motivated."

—The Intendant

Some cards require one or more cards to be chosen. The selection may be automatic, one player may choose, or it may be random. If the card (or rule) does not specify, the player who played or encountered the card selects. For example, on Odo's Cousin, you choose which SCIENCE to stop. The selecting player may see the cards.

Clarification: Zero-Target Selections (12.1.0.1)

When a card is removed from a selection before it is made, it might leave the selection with no valid targets. Resolve the card normally. For example, if you play Alien Groupie on an Away Team that includes Elim Garak, he may use his special skill to avoid the random selection. If he is the only male in the Away Team, that leaves no valid targets of Alien Groupie, which discards without effect. (It is still considered a random selection.) See reseeding after escapes.

Make random selections by any mutually agreeable means; or shuffle together all eligible cards, hold them so the faces of the cards cannot be seen, and let your opponent draw a card, at random, from this group.

There are special rules for tied selections; see Ties.

URNS: "EACH", "EVERY" & "FULL" (12.2)

When a card states that something happens "every" turn, it means every turn of any player. However, when a card says that something happens "each" turn (or "per" turn), it means each turn of the card's subject, skipping opponents' turns. Thus, Harvester Virus kills every turn, but Dal'Rok kills only on the turns of the player who encountered it.

Clarification: Who's the Subject? (12.2.0.1)

The "subject" of a given card's gametext is usually indicated by a word such as "you," "opponent" or "owner." ("You" or "your" refers to the person playing the card or encountering the dilemma.) It may also be implied by game text instructing the person who played the card to take specific actions. If no player is specified or implied, then the subject of the game text is the player whom it affects. If it affects both players equally, the subject is the person who played or encountered the card.

A "full turn" is one complete turn of one player, from beginning to end. It does not include the current turn.

CONTROL AND OWNERSHIP (12.3)

You control each card you seed or play, as well as any Headquarters of an affiliation you are playing. You do not control cards which are in your deck, hand, or discard pile, except while seeding or playing them.

Clarification: Affiliation Control (12.3.0.2)

A card with an affiliation is "under control" of that affiliation. For example, Alliance Nor, is under  Cardassian control when seeded. If later commandeered by  Klingons, it is then under  control, and Ore Processing Unit no longer processes ore.

For example, if Rinnak Pire is in your hand, he is not "yours," does not benefit from Lower Decks, and thus will not automatically win Royale Casino: Craps. However, if D'jaras is in play, and you later declare that you are playing Rinnak Pire, he immediately gains CIVILIAN, which allows him to then report for free using First Minister Shakaar.

Clarification: Start of Control (12.3.0.1)

A card comes under your control as soon as you declare that you are playing, seeding, or downloading it. (This is the first part of the initiation step of the action.)

For example, if Rinnak Pire is in your hand, he is not "yours," does not benefit from Lower Decks, and thus will not automatically win Royale Casino: Craps. However, if D'jaras is in play, and you later declare that you are playing Rinnak Pire, he immediately gains CIVILIAN, which allows him to then report for free using First Minister Shakaar.

The word "your" is often used as shorthand to refer to cards you control. For example: Each of your Treachery personnel is CUNNING +2. This gametext affects the CUNNING of each Treachery personnel you control.

Similarly, the word "opponent's" is used as shorthand for cards your opponent controls.

You are the owner of each card you begin the game with. You remain the owner of a card for the entire game.

During a game, your opponent may take control of some of your cards (through commandeering, Brainwash, Alien Parasites, etc.). Such a card is no longer "yours." (It becomes your opponent's.) However, you still own it, and therefore you still "have it in play." For example, if your opponent assimilates your unique Jean-Luc Picard, you may not play another Jean-Luc Picard, because you still have the first one in play. At the end of the game, all cards are returned to their owners.

"HERE" AND "PRESENT" (12.4)

Each member of a crew or Away Team is present with every member of that crew or Away Team, including themselves. Cards that are present together are also "with" each other. Your separated cards are not present, nor are your other cards in different crews or Away Teams (for example, if you have incompatible  and  Away Teams on the same planet).

Your crews and Away Teams are present with other cards (such as Duck Blind or opposing Away Teams) that are on the same ship, inside the same facility (at the same site, if any), or on the same planet surface. They are also present with that ship, site, facility, or planet. Away Teams are present with a planet only while on its surface; crews and Away Teams at a space location are always present with it. (During attempts, opposing crews and Away Teams become separated.)

Clarification: A Planet's Surface (12.4.0.1)

An Away Team that is aboard a landed ship or in a planet facility, such as Terraforming Station, is not present on the planet's surface. The Away Team must first exit the ship or facility. An Away Team cannot attempt a  mission unless on the surface.

All facilities and uncarried ships at a location are present with each other (and with other cards at the location like The Nexus). They are not present with one another's crews. Planet facilities and landed ships are present with the planet. Ships docked at a site are present with that site. A carried ship is only present with the ship carrying it and any cards on or aboard either ship.

Clarification: "Present" with Seeded Cards (12.4.0.2)

A seeded card is not "present" with any other cards until encountered. For example, Madam Guinan may nullify Frame of Mind if she is in the mission team, or after the attempt if she is present with the affected personnel, but may not nullify it when examined by Ocular Implants.

An artifact just earned is not present unless it joins the crew or Away Team. Thus, an Orb of Prophecy and Change is present with the Away Team when earned, but a Mysterious Orb or Horga'hn is not.

"Here" means "anywhere at this location." Whether in open space, aboard a ship or facility, or (at planet locations) on the surface, all ships, personnel, facilities, equipment, events, and any other cards that are at the location are "here". For example, Venus Drug affects all females, in orbit or on the planet, including opponents' females.

Exception: Sites and Facilities Mean Themselves (12.4.0.3)

If a site or facility says "here", it means present with that site or facility. Cargo Bay can only download personnel to the Cargo Bay site, not anywhere else at the same spaceline location. Cards that play on sites and facilities follow the same restriction: Process Ore requires unopposed OFFICER or ENGINEER at Ore Processing Unit, not just at the spaceline location.

Similarly, "there" means "anywhere at that spaceline location." For example, your Greed personnel don't have to be on the surface to use Bribery's first function at a planet mission.

TIES (12.5)

In general, the player who controls a card breaks ties for that card. For example, if you play Arbiter of Succession and there is a tie for strongest two Klingons, you determine who battles.

Since just-encountered dilemmas are not controlled by either player, the opponent of the player encountering the dilemma breaks the tie. Thus, if you encounter Archer, and your crew has a tie for highest total attributes, your opponent chooses the victim.

FAR AND NEAR (12.6)

When a card like Fire Sculptor or Gomtuu Shock Wave requires you to find the "far end of spaceline" or "nearest ship," compare the number of cards in each direction. If there is a tie, compare the total span in each direction. If there is still a tie, resolve it using the ties rule.

Clarification: "Far end of spaceline" (12.6.0.1)

When a card, such as The Nexus or a  card, is supposed to travel toward the spaceline's far end, that destination is not changed after it is initially determined. For example, if the far end is the left end, it remains the left end when the card traveling there passes the halfway point, or if the spaceline is rearranged.

COPIES AND "DIFFERENT" (12.7)

A card is a copy of another if it has the same card title and gametext. For example, Dead End \(Homefront\) is a copy of Dead End.

A card is different from another card if:

1. they are not copies, and
2. they are not versions of the same persona.

Cards that are not different are considered the same, even if they are not strict copies.

For example, if U.S.S. Voyager is destroyed, Federation Flagship: Recovered may download U.S.S. Intrepid, because that is a different ship, but not U.S.S. Voyager \(Virtual Promos\), because it is a copy, nor Voyager \(Engage\), because it is a version of the same persona (thus "the same ship").

"ONCE PER GAME" AND SIMILAR LIMITS (12.8)

When a card has an effect that may be used "once" or "once per game", you may use that card's effect only once during a game, no matter how many copies of that card you have in play during that game (even  universal cards).

For example, you may download an Armus dilemma only once per game with All-Consuming Evil, even if you play a second copy of All-Consuming Evil. You and your opponent may each use such text once per game if you each control a copy of that card. If the same "once per game" skill is included on different cards, you may use the skill once for each card; for example, you may use the ability to peek at seed cards once per game for Ajur and once per game for Boratus.

"Once each turn," "twice," "twice per game," "thrice a battle," "thrice," and other similar phrases work similarly — you may use the card's effect only as often as the card allows, even if you have multiple copies in play.

THE CUMULATIVE RULE (12.9)

Multiple copies of the same card have the same effect on the same target at the same time only if they are cumulative.

Clarification: Targets (12.9.0.3)

The target of an effect includes every card, every deck (or hand), and every player that is altered by the effect.

A deck (or hand) is only targeted if the entire deck (or hand) is directly altered, not just individual cards within it. For example, Regenerate targets your draw deck or discard pile, but Orb of Prophecy and Change only targets the top card of your draw deck. Alien Probe targets both players' hands, but Chula: The Lights only targets the personnel returned to hand (not the hand itself).

A player is altered if he or she is permitted or required to take an action (or score points) that would not be permitted under normal rules. This is a continuous effect (as explained in the clarification on timing) and thus cannot be multiplied using extra copies of the same card.

Further examples:

- The target of Science Kit is "all of your OFFICER-classification personnel" present. (Result: multiple Science Kits do not cause OFFICERS to gain extra levels of SCIENCE skill.)
- The target of Woteln's special ability is "opponent's span" at the mission he is at. (Result: multiple Wotelns at the same location do not increase opponent's span by +4, +6, etc.)
- The target of Taar's special ability is copies of Ferengi Attack in the same quadrant. (Result: multiple copies of Taar in the same quadrant do not triple or quadruple Ferengi Attack there.)
- The target of Canar is both the female personnel it is played on and the male personnel it specifies.
- The target of the objective Process Ore is the player, who gains the ability to "process ore" each turn. (Result: multiple copies of Process Ore played on different Ore Processing Facilities do not grant the ability to process ore multiple times each turn.)
- Fajo's Gallery and The Traveler: Transcendence target the player. (Result: multiple copies do not generate extra card draws.)
- Colony targets the player who is scoring points. (Result: if you have multiple Colonies in play, you must choose one to score points from each turn.)
- Telepathic Alien Kidnappers targets both the player who is guessing and the card that he or she guesses. (Result: multiple copies do not allow multiple guesses.)
- The target of Young Jem'Hadar's special ability is both the Young Jem'Hadar himself and the card he is being exchanged for. (Result: multiple Young Jem'Hadars may be exchanged in a turn.)

Clarification: Timing (12.9.0.2)

Effects only take place at the same time if they are continuous, or are part of the same action.

For example, Transwarp Conduit allows a ship to move double RANGE for a single turn. The effect lasts for the entire turn, so it is continuous. Since Transwarp Conduit is not cumulative, playing it twice on the same ship in the same turn will still only allow it to move double range (not triple or quadruple).

Suppose two of your ships both have War Games placed on them, and they are both at the same spaceline location. If your opponent's ship moves to that location, both dilemmas are discarded. Because they are discarded as part of the same action (the resolution of the move action), your opponent scores only 5 bonus points (instead of 10).

On the other hand, during a personnel battle, a player could play multiple copies of Android Headlock in rapid succession, killing one personnel after another, because each engagement is a separate action within the larger action of the battle. A player could even use multiple copies of Antique Machine Gun in response to the start of a personnel battle, because each use of each copy is a separate response to the start of the battle — and therefore a separate action.

Clarification: Effects (12.9.0.1)

An effect is any material change in the game. Examples include modifying skills, attributes, or mission or dilemma requirements; killing a personnel; damaging a ship; generating card draws (or forcing discards); and scoring points.

In the Star Trek: CCG, most cards are not cumulative. For example, you may play a copy of Space Boomer on Travis Mayweather and a second copy on Daniel Leonard. However, because two copies of Space Boomer do not have the same effect on the same target at the same time, if you put them both aboard Columbia, its RANGE would only be +3 (instead of +6).

Tip: Why Are Old Cards Marked "Not Cumulative"? (12.9.0.4)

Originally, all cards in the Star Trek: CCG were cumulative by default, so all cards that were not cumulative had to be marked. This rule changed in 1999, but the now-redundant "Not cumulative" gametext remains on many pre-1999 cards.

By contrast, some cards are marked cumulative. For example, if your  Away Team has three Romulan Disruptors, every personnel in the Away Team is STRENGTH +6 (instead of +2), because it is marked cumulative.

All damage markers are cumulative by default. All other cards are not cumulative unless specifically marked.

THE COLON RULE (12.10)

Normally, when a card specifies another card by title, only a card with that exact title may be used. For example, only a Scan can be used to initiate battle at Nebula, not a Full-Planet Scan or a Tactical Scan.

The exception to this is the "colon rule": when a card references a particular card title, cards that have that exact title followed by a colon, dash, or the numeral "II" are equivalent to that card title.

For example, Calamarain is immune to both Kevin Uxbridge and Kevin Uxbridge: Convergence. Launch Portal may download either Engage Shuttle Operations or Engage Shuttle Operations: Dominion. Subspace Interference nullifies Incoming Message: Attack Authorization, Incoming Message: Federation, and any other card whose title begins with "Incoming Message" followed by a colon or a dash.

On the other hand, Weyoun's Warship can download only Engage Shuttle Operations: Dominion, not Engage Shuttle Operations or Engage Shuttle Operations: Starfleet, because the card making the reference (the Warship) specifies that specific card, not the card group.

SET, ADD, MULTIPLY (S.A.M.) (12.11)

A card or rule may set numerical values (such as attributes or point boxes) to a specific value (for example, Frame of Mind sets all attributes to 3). Other cards may add, subtract, multiply, or divide numerical values. When a single card is affected by more than one such effect, first apply any set values, then add or subtract, then multiply or divide. For example, if Kromm is affected by Frame of Mind while armed with a Klingon Disruptor and a Varon-T Disruptor, his total STRENGTH is 10 $((3) + 2) * 2$. (This is sometimes called the "S.A.M. Rule".)

LOOKING AT CARDS (12.12)

Any player may examine any face up card, whether or not it is in play.

However, you may see and inspect your opponent's Personnel and Equipment only:

Clarification: Necessity and Card Inspection (12.12.0.1)

You have the right to verify the legality of any action your opponent takes. For example, if your opponent tries to move a ship, you may ask him or her to prove the crew meets staffing requirements. Or, if your opponent encounters a dilemma that randomly kills a personnel with Diplomacy, you may ask your opponent to prove that he or she has included all the Diplomacy personnel in his or her mission team in the selection.

Your opponent does not need to show the entirety of every card, but only the portion relevant to the action he or she is taking. For example, if proving staffing, your opponent needs only show the necessary staffing icons. If proving that all Diplomacy are in a selection, your opponent only needs to show skill boxes.

If you have a card in hand that may play on your opponent only under certain conditions, you may require your opponent to reveal to you whether he meets those conditions. (However, you must reveal the card.) For example, if you have Dal'Rok in hand, you may reveal it to your opponent, then require your opponent to reveal the location of his or her Orb Fragment (if any), then decide whether or not to play Dal'Rok.

If your opponent fails to do something required because he or she is unable to meet the requirement, you have the right to verify that. For example, if your opponent tries to use The Trois  of Wolf, but then finds that Wolf isn't in his or her hand, deck, or open side decks, you may search through all those sources to verify it.

- when they are played,
- when permitted or required by a card (such as an "opponent's choice" dilemma),

- when a card allows the opponent to target one of a group of cards in a non-random manner (for example, Brain Drain or Assimilate Counterpart), or
- when necessary to verify that your opponent is complying with the rules

Furthermore, you may not see or inspect Ships that are docked, cloaked, or phased (the same exceptions apply).

When a card (or a tie) grants you "opponent's choice" to select one of your opponent's personnel, you may inspect all cards present in their entirety. For example, if your opponent falls victim to Antedean Assassins, you may fully inspect all personnel (not just those with Anthropology and Empathy) in your opponent's crew or Away Team.

You have a right to know the number of cards in any player's hand.

You may see and inspect your own cards in play at all times (including  Hidden Agendas), and you may look through the cards in your discard pile (without rearranging them). You may not see face down cards in your draw deck or side decks.

You may also count the seed cards under a mission and check their orientation to determine the owners.

"RELATED" (12.13)

A card is "related" to a term if the card uses that term in its title, lore, icon, or gametext.

For example, Q2 nullifies "Q-related" dilemmas. "Q-related" cards include Q Gets the Point (title), Helpless (lore), Risky Business (icon), and I Tried To Warn You (gametext). Likewise, Hoshi Sato nullifies any "female-related" dilemma. This includes Female's Love Interest (title), No Mention of Crime (lore), and Talosian Cage (gametext).

Exception: Gender-related, Capturing-related, and Infiltration-related

GENDER-RELATED (12.13.1)

"Male-related" and "female-related" cards also count as "gender-related."

INFILTRATION-RELATED (12.13.2)

This term, used only on Covert Agent means only non-personnel cards that use "infiltration" (or similar) in gametext. Dial Martok for Murder is infiltration-related, but Founder Secret and Valeris are not.

CAPTURING-RELATED (12.13.3)

This term, used only on Internment and Prepare the Prisoner, refers to any card says "capture," "captive," or any derivative in gametext or title (not lore), even when referencing another card (for example, Number One is capturing-related because her gametext includes "Rescue Captives").

EQUIVALENTS (12.14)

"Look in the mirror. See yourself."

—Shinzon

A few words and phrases have been ruled equivalent. Equivalent terms are interchangeable. (All other terms are not interchangeable.)

- The icon and names of card types are equivalent. For example, all equipment is " for Quality of Life (even equipment that doesn't have the  icon).
- "DS9" is equivalent to "Deep Space 9". Thus, Quark's Bar may seed on Deep Space 9.
- "I.K.C." is equivalent to "I.K.S." Thus, Kavok is matching commander of the I.K.S. Buruk and the I.K.S. Chang reduces the staffing requirements of the I.K.C. Fek'lhr.
- "Alien" species is equivalent to "humanoid" species.
- "Terran" species is equivalent to "Human" species.
- A "vice-admiral" is equivalent to an admiral, a "vice-chairman" is equivalent to a chairman, a "vice-president" is equivalent to a president, and so forth.
- Gendered characteristics are equivalent to their opposite-gendered counterparts. (For example, an "empress" is equivalent to an "emperor.")

- For facilities, "build" is equivalent to "play".
- "Gaining" a skill is equivalent to "adding" a skill.
- "Rogue Borg Mercenaries" is an equivalent (obsolete) name for Rogue Borg.

A card that functions "like" or "as" another card type in a particular context is not equivalent to that card type. However, when a card functions "like" or "as" another card type generally (such as when the card says it "plays as," "seeds like," or is "used as" a different card type), it is equivalent to both card types.

Clarification: "Like" or "As" Examples (12.14.0.2)

Cards used as another type generally (equivalent): an Artifact that "plays as an event," like Stone of Gol, is both an Artifact and equivalent to an Event. It can be nullified by Kevin Uxbridge. An Artifact that is "used as equipment" may be targeted by Vorgon Raiders (as an artifact), stolen by a Procurement Drone (as an equipment), discarded to satisfy Rebel Encounter, or (if re-earned with Reclamation) reported in any way that an Equipment card may be reported.

(Of course, Artifacts must still always be earned legally before use.)

Cards used as another type in a "particular context" (not equivalent): Satan's Robot, an Equipment card that "participates in battle like a personnel," is an Equipment card and is not equivalent to a Personnel. It may never be targeted by Sniper (which targets personnel) and is still vulnerable to Disruptor Overload (which targets equipment).

Likewise, Calamarain may not be targeted by Hail.

Mobile Holo-Emitter specifically states that it does not count as an Equipment card when worn, which overrides this general rule.

Tip: "In Place Of" Not Equivalent (12.14.0.1)

An action taken "in place of" something is not that something. For example, you may not target a personnel downloaded with Group Therapy using Subspace Schism, nor target a Spacedoor download using Energy Vortex.

WHAT DOES THIS CARD MEAN? (12.15)

This rulebook has now conveyed all generally applicable rules of the Star Trek CCG. You should be able to play with every card in the game, interpreting them with the ordinary English language.

However, there are still some specific cards with particularly difficult gametext, and a few specific words that can be interpreted ambiguously. For help working through these issues, look up the card (or word) in the Glossary. If you understand this rulebook, however, you should rarely (if ever) have to open the Glossary.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I BREAK A RULE? (12.16)

"You are out of order!"

—Q

The Star Trek Customizable Card Game is a complicated game. You will make mistakes. You will break rules. It will happen by accident. It happens in casual home games and it happens at the Worlds championship series.

For this reason, it is a good idea to pay attention to everything your opponent is doing to make sure that it is fully legal.

If a rules violation is discovered and an easy fix is available, take it. However, if a rules violation took place several actions, several turns, or even (at a tournament) several games ago, it is generally not possible to redress it. Play continues normally, without correction.

Tip: Common Quick Fixes (12.15.0.1)

If a stopped personnel (or a hologram without holo-projectors) is beamed down with an Away Team and helps attempt a mission, and it is discovered during the mission attempt, simply remove the card from the Away Team and put it back on the ship where it came from.

Any cards that cannot legally be in play are removed from play immediately upon discovery. For example, if you discover that you have both Chakotay and Captain Chakotay in play at the same time without an enabling card (which they can't be, because they are versions of the same unique persona), immediately discard one of the illegal Chakotays. In general, discard the last one played. However, any actions that Chakotay has taken previously (such as overcoming Founder Secret or helping solve Investigate Disturbance) cannot be undone; these remain.

If you forget to tick down a countdown or remove a damage marker at the end of your turn, simply tick it down to where it should be whenever you discover it.

This rule presumes the good faith of both players. If a player is seen to have deliberately or negligently violated the rules, sanctions may be imposed. At official events, all questions, fixes, and penalties are settled by the Tournament Director, pursuant to the Organized Play Guide and the Code of Conduct.

Above all, keep having fun after an accidental rules violation. That's the spirit of Star Trek.

CLOSING (12.18)

The Star Trek CCG was developed by Tom Braunlich, Rollie Tesh, and Warren Holland. As they wrote in the end of the original rulebook more than twenty years ago, and we say again today...

We hope you enjoy the endless possibilities in our universe.

See you on the spaceline.

13: ICON LEGEND

ICONS WITH BUILT-IN RULES

-  - Alternate Universe: Cards with this icon are from parallel realities, other time periods, illusions, or even dreams. They may not enter our universe unless  cards are specifically permitted by a card (or if they report to their native Time Location). See Red cards.
-  - Hologram: Cards with this icon are holograms. They are "deactivated" (disabled) unless present with a holodeck or holoprojectors. See Holographic Personnel and Equipment.
-  - Borg Use Only: These cards may only be used in  Borg decks. See Building A Deck.
-  - Hidden Agenda: These cards are played face-down, then flipped and activated during a turn. See Entering Play and Playing "At Any Time".
-  - Self-Controlling Card: These cards move, operate, and attack on their own. See Self-Controlling Cards.
-  - Botany Bay: These dilemmas prevent you from attempting a mission if you peek at them too early. See Botany Bay Cards.
-  - Nemesis Arrows: Cards with opposed Nemesis arrows of the same color must destroy each other if they encounter each other. See Nemesis Destruction.
-  - Infiltration Icons: Permits cards to infiltrate an opponent's personnel of the correct affiliation. See Infiltration.
-  - Countdown Icon: Cards with this icon "count down" at the end of each turn, and are discarded when the count reaches zero. See Countdown Tickdown.
-  - Planet: Refers to a planet, or a dilemma that may seed only at a planet location.
-  - Space: Refers to a space location, or a dilemma that may seed only at a space location.
-  - Dual: Designates a dilemma that may seed at either a planet or space location. Also called "Space/Planet."
-  - Skill Dot: Indicates a regular or special skill. See Using Skills.
-  - Special Download: Cards with this icon may suspend play to download the named card. See Special Download.
-  - Damage: Draw: Instructs a player to draw a Tactic card from their Battle Bridge Side Deck (if any) and place it on a target as damage. See DAMAGE.
-  - Damage: Place: Instructs a player to place this card on a target as damage. See DAMAGE.

Staffing

-  - Staff Ability: These personnel can meet  staffing requirements on ships. Staffing Requirements.
-  - Command Ability: These personnel can meet  or  staffing requirements on ships. See Staffing Requirements.
-  - Borg Subcommands: These staffing icons represent  Communication,  Defense, and  Navigation for the  Borg affiliation. They are used in lieu of  and  Stars for  ships.

Quadrants

-  - Delta Quadrant: This card is native to the Delta Quadrant. Also appears on missions. See Mission Phase and Reporting for Duty.
-  - Gamma Quadrant: This card is native to the Gamma Quadrant. Also appears on missions. See Mission Phase and Reporting for Duty.
-  - Mirror Quadrant: This card is native to the Mirror Quadrant. Also appears on missions. See Mission Phase and Reporting for Duty.

Affiliations

-  - Federation: An interstellar alliance dedicated to peace and progress
-  - Klingon: An honor-driven warrior race
-  - Romulan: A cunning people known for their political intrigues

-  - Ferengi: A big-eared species whose culture is built on the doctrines of greed and grift
-  - Cardassian: A crumbling military dictatorship that eventually aligned itself with the  Dominion
-  - Bajoran: Ancient, religious people oppressed by  Cardassians for decades, then aided by the  Federation
-  - Dominion: Aggressive "anti-Federation" bent on order through conquest. Mostly native to the  Gamma Quadrant.
-  - Kazon: Primitive spacefaring race divided into gang-like "sects". Native to  Delta Quadrant.
-  - Vidiiian: Once-great race suffering from a terminal illness called The Phage. Native to  Delta Quadrant.
-  - Hirogen: Hunter race dedicated to killing challenging "prey". Native to  Delta Quadrant.
-  - Borg: Cyborg race seeking perfection through assimilation of the galaxy. Native to  Delta Quadrant.
-  - Starfleet: The earliest human space explorers, who predated the  Federation.
-  - Vulcan: Before they joined the  Federation, the Vulcan species explored the galaxy on its own
-  - Xindi: Five species from the same shattered homeworld in the Delphic Expanse who united against the perceived  Starfleet threat.
-  - Neutral: Neutral facilities and some ANIMAL personnel
-  - Non-Aligned: Everyone else

ICONS WITHOUT BUILT-IN RULES

These icons do not have any inherent impact on the game. However, they are referenced by other cards. To view those cards, press the  card icon to search.

Eras & Series

-  - 22nd Century: Cards with this icon are from the 22nd Century (the time frame of Star Trek: Enterprise).
-  - Original Series: Cards with this icon are from the time period of the original Star Trek series, approximately 2250-2270.
-  - Classic Films: Cards with this icon are from the time period of the classic Star Trek films, approximately 2270-2300.
-  - The Next Generation: Cards with this icon are from the time period and milieu of Star Trek: The Next Generation, approximately 2364-2371. No card in the game actually has this icon, but it can be added to hundreds of cards using Continuing Mission, then exploited with cards like Seek Out New Life and Attention All Hands.
-  - Deep Space Nine: Cards with this icon are from the time period and milieu of Star Trek: Deep Space Nine, approximately 2370-2377. No card in the game actually has this icon, but it can be added to hundreds of cards using Reshape the Quadrant, then exploited with cards like New Frontiers and Gagh Tek Or?.
-  - Enterprise-E: Indicates personnel with the special training necessary to staff the U.S.S. Enterprise-E.

Factions

Factions are not affiliations, but some cards refer to them in a similar fashion.

-  - Maquis: Indicates an association with the Maquis, a rebel group battling for independence in the disputed territory between Federation and Cardassian space.
-  - Alliance: Indicates an association with the Klingon-Cardassian Alliance (KCA), the dominant power in the present-day  Mirror Universe.
-  - Terran Empire: Indicates an association with the Terran Empire, the dominant power in the  23rd Century  Mirror Universe, and later the Terran Rebellion, the contemporary revolt against the  Alliance.

Other

-  - Shielded: These cards have immunity to certain nullifying effects, such as Kevin Uxbridge.
-  - Referee: Referee cards are designed to counter certain powerful cards or strategies. They are readily accessed with Q the Referee and Tribunal of Q.
-  - Rule of Acquisition: The Rules of Acquisition are Ferengi scriptures that ground their profit-oriented philosophy.

-  - Warp Core: These cards are designed to "power" your deck, usually providing free plays or card draws at the price of following certain restrictions on your deck design. They are normally found in  decks.
-  - Reactor Core: These cards are designed to "power" your deck, usually providing free plays or card draws at the price of following certain restrictions on your deck design. They are normally found in  decks.
-  - Ketracel-White: Indicates a dependence on the drug Ketracel-White, common for  Jem'Hadar soldiers.
-  - Orb Experience: Personnel with this icon have had an encounter with one of the Bajoran Tears of the Prophets (or "Orbs").
-  - Punishment: These cards relate to punishments and torment, usually for captives.
-  - Sha Ka Ree: These cards joined Sybok in his quest for Sha Ka Ree.
-  - Barash's Illusion: Indicates that the card was part of the illusion generated by Barash, a lonely, abandoned alien boy who wanted William T. Riker to be his friend.
-  - Emergency Transporter Armbands: These dilemmas can be escaped using Emergency Transporter Armbands.
-  - Interphase Generator: These dilemmas can be escaped using Interphase Generator.
-  - Optical Compact Disc: Indicates that this personnel can staff Zefram Cochrane's first warp-capable vessel, the Phoenix.
-  - Pursuit: These cards relate to pursuit.
-  - Crime: These cards relate to criminal activity.

Expansion Icons

Expansion icons appear at the top of the right gutter on each card. There are many expansion icons, but only those with gameplay relevance or retroactive icons are listed here.

Gameplay-Relevant Expansion Icons

It is extremely rare for an expansion icon to be relevant to gameplay, but here are the exceptions.

-  - Fojo Collection: Special collection of especially novel 18 cards, released 1997.
-  - First Contact: 130 cards about the new movie Star Trek: First Contact, released 1997. Introduced  and many major rules changes, ending what is called the "PAQ" (Premiere/AU/Q-Continuum) period of the game.
-  - Deep Space 9: 276 cards, released 1998.
-  - Holodeck Adventures: 141 cards, released 2001.

Retroactive Expansion Icons

Decipher did not begin using expansion icons until 1998. As a result, there were no expansion icons for pre-1998 sets, but they were added later to at least some cards, by reprints, errata, and corrections.

-  - Premiere: The original set of 363 Next Generation cards, released 1994.
-  - Alternate Universe: 122 cards, first expansion set, released 1995.
-  - Q-Continuum: 121 cards, released 1996.
-  - Introductory 2-Player Game: 21 cards, released 1997.
-  - First Anthology: 6 cards, released 1997.

GLOSSARY

'45 Dom Perignon

Discarding this equipment to replace a ship is not a valid response to any other action (such as battle) and does not suspend play. You may replace a ship with one of different affiliation only if the class name is identical and any personnel aboard are compatible with the new ship (you may not place them under house arrest). You may not replace one "UNKNOWN CLASS" ship with another (e.g., Mercenary Ship with Fesarius). See ship class, exchanging cards.

-related

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

... on the Bridge

When this Trouble card is present with at least 1,000 tribbles on a ship with more than 10 personnel in its crew, that crew may not attempt missions.

1 Tribble

See once per turn.

1962 Roger Maris Baseball Card

You may not trade this artifact for another unless you are immediately able to play that artifact as your own (this does not count as your normal card play). Traded artifacts are returned to their owners at the end of the game. See in play.

35th Rule of Acquisition

You may not use this event for a download or card draw at the end of your first turn. Playing a 35th Rule card nullifies all 34th Rule cards already in play, and vice versa. A 35th Rule card in play does not prevent the play of a 34th Rule card (or vice versa). See turn.

62nd Rule of Acquisition

This event is nullified if you play or have played Scan or Full Planet Scan on any mission, or if you begin an attempt of the mission on which it is played with <3 or >7 personnel. Attempts of other missions have no effect on this event.

75th Rule of Acquisition

See helps.

A Fast Ship Would Be Nice

When encountering this dilemma, you may not substitute a ship for the victim if your opponent is playing Borg. See commandeering.

Aamin Marritza

This personnel is a Gul. See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Abandon Ship!

For this dilemma, you may choose which of your personnel will fulfill the staffing requirements. A  personnel may fill a  requirement. In addition to printed staffing requirements (if any), a ship requires at least one matching personnel aboard to be staffed.

You may not rescue or capture the abandoned personnel during a mission or scouting attempt or during your opponent's turn. See damage, attribute modifiers, capturing, quarantine, Rulebook 7.1.3: Staff a Ship.

abduction

See Rulebook 7.7.0.3: Abduction.

aboard

See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present", Rulebook 10.2.5: Separated.

acquired

See artifact.

actions

An action is one operation that you perform in the game. Examples of actions include playing, drawing, or discarding one card, moving a ship from one location to another (possibly passing other locations on the way), moving personnel by beaming or other means, using a personnel's special skill (except automatic modifiers), battle (from initiation until a winner has been determined and damage or deaths have been resolved), and attempting or scouting a mission. Applying automatic modifiers (e.g., "your personnel are STRENGTH +2 where present") and checking conditions (e.g., battle affiliation restrictions) are not actions.

actions - "just"

Some actions may be initiated only just after some other action or condition has occurred, before anything else can intervene (except another "just" action). These are typically indicated by the word "just" in game text. It may be a response to another action (e.g., "just initiated," "just played"), or it may be a new action that follows the result of the other action (e.g., "just completed," "just reported"). An action may be responded to or followed by any number of applicable "just" actions. "Just" actions always take place before non-"just" actions. This may allow or require you to initiate an action when it would otherwise be your opponent's turn to do so. For example, you initiate a planet mission attempt and solve the mission. Although it is normally your opponent's turn to initiate the next action, you may first play Particle Fountain ("play...on just completed planet mission").

actions - group

An action may cause other actions to occur within itself. For example, a personnel battle includes sub-actions of creating a combat pile, individual personal combat engagements, determining the winner of the battle, and discarding killed cards. An action in place of your normal card play, in place of a card draw, etc. may also consist of several sub-actions (such as playing multiple cards under Red Alert!). This is called a group action, and until it has finished, neither player may initiate any other actions except actions that suspend play, or responses to the group action or a sub-action. Valid responses may be made to each sub-action of a group action. For example, you may play Android Headlock or use Hypospray's text in response to a specific combat pairing.

actions - interrupting

You may not interrupt an action by another action, unless the second action:

- is a valid response to the first action or one of its sub-actions; or
- explicitly "suspends play" (according to a card text or rule).

For example, you may make valid responses to the encounter of specific dilemmas during a mission attempt, but you may not play interrupts between dilemma encounters. See actions - step 2: responses.

actions - required

Required actions are usually indicated by "must" or "must do nothing but." For example, if Anya is present where Salia has just been randomly selected, Anya must replace her. Responses to a required action work normally.

During your Execute Orders segment, you must take required actions at your first opportunity. If you are required to take multiple actions at the same time, you may resolve them in any order. For example, if, at the beginning of your Execute Orders segment, your U.S.S. Galaxy affected by Cytherians and Saltah'na Clock is at Samaritan Snare with an opponent's ship, you must immediately choose to move the ship (Cytherians), attack opponent's ship (Clock) or attempt the mission (Snare); you may not take other, non-required actions. (If you allow Cytherians to forcibly move you away from Snare, attempting Snare is no longer required. Likewise, if you choose to have the Clock force a battle, your ship will be stopped and unable to move for Cytherians.)

A required action that affects a ship automatically affects its crew. "Normal speed" means a ship must use all available RANGE each turn to accomplish a required action, even if this places the ship at a hazard such as Gaps In Normal Space.

"Must do nothing but" means that the affected ship and/or crew cannot initiate or continue any other voluntary actions (cloaking, beaming, attempting, battling, etc.) until the required action is completed, even if that takes more than one turn. (Outside personnel and equipment not yet compelled by the required action may report to or board it, but are then compelled. They may not use the affected ship's transporters.) The ship and crew may defend themselves in battle and use skills to cure/nullify cards affecting the ship, since those are not voluntarily initiated actions.

If required to move to a destination, a ship may take shortcuts, such as Wormhole or Lakanta, but only if it directly shortens the travel. For example, if Two of Nineteen is affected by Cytherians, it may use its special skill to download Transwarp Network Gateway to move between two existing Gateways, but not to play a new Gateway. Shortcuts are never required.

actions - sequence of steps

Every action has three steps that must occur in order:

1. Initiation (declaring the use of a multifunction card, meeting conditions, choosing targets, and paying costs).
2. Optional responses (attempts to cancel or modify the action).
3. Results (gameplay consequences of the action).

These steps are described in more detail in the following sections.

actions - step 1: initiation

Initiating an action may include any or all of the following, in this order:

- declaring the use of a multi-function card (for example, you may discard a Space-Time Portal from the table for one of five possible results);
- meeting conditions of rules and game text (e.g., battle affiliation restrictions; an open Alternate Universe Door to play an  card; game text such as "plays at start of battle");
- choosing targets (e.g., selecting a player to draw cards with Kivas Fajo - Collector, an outpost at which to report a personnel; choosing a ship to attack, or a drone to download from your draw deck with the Borg Queen's skill); and
- paying costs required by rules or game text (e.g., using your normal card play to report a personnel card; forfeiting a card draw to initiate a download; using a special download icon).

Once you begin to choose targets for an action, you must complete the initiation of that action (if legal). For example, if you start looking through your draw deck for a target card to download with the Ops text, you may not decide to abort the download by not selecting a target; if you have any valid target card available, you must select one and complete the download. See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Cards played as a cost

Some actions require a specific card to be played as a cost in order to resolve. When this is the case, use only the game text of the action; ignore the game text of the card being played as a cost. Cards which are played as a cost may be responded to normally and if the card played as a cost is nullified, initiation of the original action fails, no other costs are paid and the action's performer may attempt to use the action again at their next opportunity. Examples:

- I Hate You allows you to play Vulcan Nerve Pinch as a cost to nullify itself.
- Relief Mission II (front side) allows you to play a Wormhole as a cost to move your ship between it and another location.
- ? Nebula requires you to play Scan as a cost to initiate battle at its location.

Dilemmas revealed and encountered

The initiation of a dilemma encounter begins (i.e. it has been "just revealed" but cannot otherwise be responded to) when the seeded card has been slid out from under the mission, turned face-up, and both players have had the opportunity to read it. After a dilemma is revealed, the dilemma encounter proceeds: targets are chosen and conditions are checked. The initiation of the encounter is complete (i.e. the seed card has been "just encountered" and may be responded to) only when any targets for the dilemma have been chosen and you have checked to see if the crew or Away Team can meet the dilemma's conditions (if any). If the dilemma requires a trigger or specifies targets with specific features which are not present, the dilemma will have no effect, but the initiation is still complete. (See dilemma resolution.)

For example, your Away Team encounters Nausicaans. The target must be selected and you must check the Away Team's total STRENGTH to see if it is greater than 44 before you may nullify the dilemma with Interphase Generator.

actions - step 2: responses

After an action has been initiated and before its results begin, optional responses are allowed. A valid response must specifically relate to (modify, cancel, nullify, or prevent) the action.

For example, if you initiate a personnel battle at a site, any action that says it "plays at start of battle," occurs "during battle," "cancels (or prevents) a personnel battle," plays when an adversary is "just engaged," etc. would be a valid response. Smoke Bomb, Hail, Establish Tractor Lock, and Phaser Burns are valid responses to battle. Space-Time Portal is not a valid response to ship battle; although returning a ship to hand or reporting one with crew could affect the outcome of the battle, Space-Time Portal does not specifically say that it is related to battle. Likewise, Change of Heart is a valid response to an encounter with Rules of Obedience, because it nullifies that dilemma, but playing Near-Warp Transport to beam everyone away is not a valid response to encountering Rules of Obedience. Similarly, neither Loss of Orbital Stability nor What Does God Need With A Starship? are valid responses to a ship beginning movement.

A card play or other action that may occur at any time (e.g., playing an Interrupt card, revealing a hidden agenda) is not a valid response to an action unless it specifically relates to that action. For example, a card may not be played via "Devidian Door" to an Away Team during a mission attempt or battle. A card which says it suspends play may be played at any point during a turn (not just during the response step of an action), and may temporarily suspend any action, whether related or not. (The suspending action may be responded to normally, and after it is complete, the suspended action resumes.) Using a special download icon also suspends play. Thus, a personnel's special download icon may be used to download a card during a mission attempt or battle, and Launch Portal may be used to download and launch a shuttle during battle. See at any time, suspends play, downloading.

More than one valid response may be made to an action. For example, if I play Palor Toff, you may respond first with Countermanda to place three cards out of play, and then with Amanda Rogers to nullify Palor Toff. Interrupts and skills that "prevent" an action may be used as a response to that action. If the action thus prevented is a card play, it nullifies that card play. For example, if I play You Dirty Rat on Anya to morph her into a rat, you may respond with Howard Heirloom Candle to prevent her from morphing and nullify You Dirty Rat. (See battle.)

When all responses are over, or if neither player chooses to respond, the action has its result. If a properly initiated card play is nullified, any costs paid are not recovered, but all results of the card play are canceled. For example, you play Q's Tent and I nullify it with Wrong Door. You cannot play another Q's Tent this turn (a cost of playing the card), but you do not lose the ability to draw cards this turn (part of the results of the Q's Tent).

Responses modifying targets or conditions

If a hidden agenda is activated as a response to an action, all of its effects are retroactive to the start of the initiation of the action, as if the hidden agenda had already been revealed before the action was initiated. Thus, if the hidden agenda invalidates a condition for an action, the action becomes illegal. If the action was a card play, the card returns to your hand.

For example, you initiate the play of Activate Subcommands, and I respond by activating Computer Crash. Since Activate Subcommands requires a download, it is now illegal and returns to your hand. If a condition for an action becomes invalid before the action resolves, for any reason other than the activation of a hidden agenda (e.g., through the play of another card in a Manheim effect "hiccup"), it has no effect on the initiation. For example, if you initiate the play of K'chiQ, and I close your Alternate Universe Door with a Revolving Door during a "hiccup," you can still play K'chiQ because the condition was met during the initiation and is not re-checked. If a target of an action becomes invalid after the action is initiated, then the action is "played out" without results. If the action is a card play, that card is discarded. For example, if you target an outpost to play K'chiQ, and I then destroy the outpost with a Supernova during a Manheim "hiccup," you must discard K'chiQ.

actions - step 3: results

When an action begins to have its results, this typically causes one or more other actions to occur. For example, the result of playing Kivas Fajo - Collector is that the target player must draw three cards. Each of the three card draws is an action with its own three steps, and each may be responded to (e.g., with Subspace Schism).

However, the original action can no longer be responded to or otherwise modified, because its optional responses step has passed, and it is currently having its result. For example, failing to meet the requirements of Barclay's Protomorphosis Disease causes everyone present to die. These deaths can be responded to, but the dilemma's targets can no longer be adjusted. Empathic Touch, as a direct response, can stop an Empathy to save another personnel, but that Empathy (despite no longer being present) remains targeted and still dies.

actions - taking turns

Players alternate initiating actions. You may initiate the first action of your turn. After your action has had its result or is cancelled, then your opponent may initiate the next action, and so on. Whenever it is your turn to initiate an action, if you do not wish to do so you may "pass." You must allow your opponent ample time to initiate an action or "pass." When an action you initiated is in its optional responses step, your opponent has the first opportunity to initiate a response; when that response is complete you may initiate a response, and so on. Whenever both players pass consecutively during the optional responses step of an action, that action proceeds to its result. In the rare case where both players initiate an action at the same time (e.g., revealing adversaries for a combat pairing), and both players wish to respond to that action, the player whose turn it is may initiate a response first; players then alternate actions as usual. For example, if both players wish to make a response to a combat pairing (such as playing an interrupt or using a personnel's "stun" skill), the player whose turn it is may respond first. You cannot initiate any action (including using your personnel's skills which are not automatic modifiers) during your opponent's turn except:

- you may make valid responses;
- you may play interrupts (between other actions or as valid responses); and
- you may play a card or use game text that specifies it may be used "at any time" or "every turn," that "suspends play," or that in some other way indicates that the action may be taken on the opponent's turn. See use (skills).

Activate Subcommands

This event may download a drone which has all three subcommand icons (e.g., Seven of Nine) as any one of the three subcommands. You must also download two other drones of the other two subcommands.

Activate Tractor Beam

The first function of this interrupt allows you to tow one ship for the extent of your available RANGE on the current turn; the interrupt is then discarded. When played for the second function, the interrupt remains on the ship to add the Tractor Beam permanently. You may play two copies of this interrupt on a ship, one to add a Tractor Beam and one to tow a ship. See towing.

active

An active personnel is one which is not "stopped," not disabled, and not in stasis.

Adapt: Modulate Shields

See immune, Remodulation (errata).

Adapt: Negate Obstruction

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

Add Distinctiveness

For this incident, seed cards (which must be placed out-of-play) include missions, dilemmas, artifacts, and any other card which is only seedable (has no normal "play" function). See outside the game.

Any non-Borg personnel or ships obtained from an expansion pack with this incident are considered assimilated as drones (see assimilation - personnel) before you report them for duty. You may report such cards immediately (ships to any spaceline location or your Borg Outpost; personnel to any of your ships or outposts or to a planet) without regard to  icons or native quadrant. If you place them in your hand to play later, you must obey all normal reporting requirements. If you obtain Jean-Luc Picard from an expansion pack using this incident, you may not play him immediately if you have Locutus of Borg in play, but may later perform a persona exchange with the two cards.

Personnel you assimilate as drones who are later killed, placed out-of-play, released, etc. are no longer counted in X for this incident.

Two spaceline locations are adjacent to each other if there is no other location between them (even if a card which does not form a location, such as Q-Net, is between them.)

affiliation

There are 16 affiliations: Bajoran, Borg, Cardassian, Dominion, Federation, Ferengi, Hirogen, Kazon, Klingon, Neutral, Non-Aligned, Romulan, Starfleet, Vidiian, Vulcan, and Xindi. Each affiliation has a distinct border color (but see Captain Proton cards) and a unique affiliation icon in the upper left corner of each Personnel or Ship card (lower left corner of each Facility card). A few cards are multi-affiliation. (Equipment and Site cards have no affiliation.)

See: compatible.

affiliation and ship origin

See Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

affiliation and species

Cards that affect "Klingons", "Romulans," etc. apply to personnel of that affiliation as well as that species (including hybrids). Thus, Worf, K'Ehleyr, and Quark Son of Keldar (in Klingon mode) all are Klingons for Klingon Death Yell. Ba'el and Simon Tarses are Romulans for D'Tan's INTEGRITY enhancement. Miles O'Brien \(Fajo Collection\) will not work with Garak (in either mode), Dukat, or Evek.

A "non-Klingon" personnel is neither Klingon by species nor Klingon affiliation. Espionage cards and cards that refer to an affiliation by its icon (such as Kira Nerys) refer only to affiliation, not to species.

affiliation attack restrictions

See battle.

affiliation icon

A round icon in the upper left corner of a Personnel or Ship card or lower left corner of a Facility card, indicating the card's affiliation. Also, a rectangular icon on a Mission card indicating which affiliations can attempt the mission.

Airlock

Either player may use the text of this doorway if their personnel is present with an appropriate target, but only on each of their own turns. An opposing personnel must have lower STRENGTH or CUNNING than the personnel tossing them out. A Rogue Borg must have lower STRENGTH. See battle - non-battle cards.

Ajur

This personnel (as well as his fellow Vorgon, Boratus) may use his special skill to peek at only cards that are seeded face down under the mission, and only if there more than three. See alone, once per game.

Alien Parasites and REM Fatigue

This entry covers only the combo dilemma Alien Parasites & REM Fatigue, not the original dilemmas on which it is based.

When you encounter this dilemma and fail to meet its conditions, the mission or scouting attempt immediately ends. At a planet mission, beam the Away Team back to the ship or facility with which they are associated, if any (see Away Team and Crew). If they are not associated with a ship or facility, they remain on the surface. If associated with a landed ship or planet facility, they may walk aboard instead.

If the affected personnel are now aboard a ship, your opponent takes control of the ship and its entire crew. (If any personnel aboard are already "stopped," they remain so unless your opponent plays a card that "unstops" them, such as Distortion of Space/Time Continuum; they then join the rest of the crew.) Your turn is suspended (you may not initiate actions except as normally allowed during your opponent's turn) while your opponent temporarily controls the ship (if any), the Away Team or crew which encountered the dilemma, and any other personnel aboard that ship or facility. Your opponent does not control any other ship or facility at the location or any personnel who were previously "stopped" on the planet.

Your opponent may not take any actions that would normally occur only during their turn, except those using your ship and crew which they control. Your opponent may take legal actions with the ship and crew until they become "stopped" (they may not then take any action to "unstop" them) OR they cannot take any further meaningful actions with them (e.g., they may not simply beam them up and down endlessly) OR they chooses not to take any further actions with them. Then control returns to you and your suspended turn resumes. If the ship and crew are not already "stopped" , the personnel who originally encountered the dilemma (and the ship, if encountered at a space mission) are now "stopped" by their failure to overcome it. The dilemma is replaced under the mission to be encountered on the next mission or scouting attempt.

While your turn is suspended and opponent controls your cards, your opponent treats them as your opponent's own with regard to attempting missions, encountering dilemmas, having Q-Flashes, scoring points, playing cards that play on "your ship" (such as Auto-Destruct Sequence), and so on. The only exception is that your cards are not compatible with his, and therefore your opponent may not bring your cards aboard their ships, nor bring their personnel aboard your ships, nor dock your cards at their facilities.

The controlled ship and crew must continue obeying other rules, such as respecting affiliation attack restrictions , attempting only missions of appropriate affiliation, etc. Within those constraints, your opponent may move the ship, abandon personnel on planets, engage in battle, attempt missions, and so forth. (If your opponent solves a mission with your controlled crew, your opponent scores the points, unless playing ).

If you take control of your opponent's  cards, you must follow all Borg Away Team and battle restrictions with them, and they may not attempt missions.

You may use the controlled Borg to scout for your own current objective if you are playing Borg. If you are playing Borg and control a non-Borg ship and crew, they may attempt and solve a mission, but neither player scores the mission points.

The second half of this dilemma is a copy of REM Fatigue, by virtue of the combo dilemma's card title.

Alien Probe

See Telepathic Alien Kidnappers , Battle Bridge side deck, Tribble side deck.

All Threes

To play this interrupt, you must have at least six cards in your draw deck to reveal. Reveal the first three cards and the next three cards from the top of your draw deck in two sets, which you may not rearrange. See any, in play.

Alliance Interceptor

See interceptor.

alone

A personnel "is alone" if there are no other personnel (belonging to any player) present. A personnel is "alone with" a personnel, or a characteristic which that personnel has, if that personnel or characteristic is the only other personnel present.

Example: Ajur is "alone with Archaeology" if the only other personnel present has Archaeology.

Alternate Universe Door

A seeded copy of this doorway allows your -icon cards to enter play. See Rulebook 4.0.1:  Cards. You may not play or download this doorway to the table for this purpose. You may play this doorway to nullify a Temporal Rift only during your own turn (unless downloaded by discarding a Space- Time Portal). This use is a card play that returns to your hand rather than discarding (not "showing a card").

Alternate Universe icon

See Rulebook 4.0.1:  Cards.

Altonian Brain Teaser

On this dilemma, the phrase "if their CUNNING < 15" means "if that personnel's CUNNING < 15." If the affected personnel's CUNNING is less than 15, any bonus points (positive or negative) scored at that location are not lost or cancelled, but are not counted in your final score for the game, whether scored before or after the dilemma was encountered. See points, Balancing Act , In the Zone , Rulebook 6.3.4: Dual-Personnel Cards.

"Bonus points scored at this location" do not include points scored at another location by a seed card encountered at this location. For example, they do not include points earned from Cytherians if that dilemma is resolved at a different location

Amanda Rogers

For how this card interacts with other card types (like Artifacts) that may be played as Interrupts, see Rulebook 12.14: Equivalents.

Ambush Ship

See WEAPONS.

Anastasia Komananov

To use her special skill, this personnel must have been aboard the opponent's ship (like an infiltrator) since the start of the opponent's last turn.

android

A species of artificial life-forms. See Rulebook 10.3.0.9: Species.

another

See other.

Anti-Matter Spread

The phrase "opposing ships'WEAPONS" on this interrupt refers to ships that are opposing the ships of the player playing the card. You may not play it on behalf of the Borg Ship dilemma to reduce the WEAPONS of your opponent's ships being attacked by the dilemma. The reduction of WEAPONS for personnel with CUNNING < 8 applies only to Ship cards, including Borg-affiliation ships. The reduction of WEAPONS to 16 applies only to the Borg Ship dilemma.

Anti-Time Anomaly

As the card says, this event affects all personnel (but not  interrupts) in play on or off the spaceline, in all quadrants, at time locations, in a Penalty Box, in stasis, in play "for uniqueness only", etc. Since most cards in your point area (like Kova Tholl  or under other cards (like Assert Authority) are not in play, they are unaffected, but Duranja targets and Temporal Benefactors are Rulebook 10.2.8: in play "for uniqueness only" and so, as the card says, they are affected. (You lose the Duranja points; see worth points for details.)

For Hero of the Empire , the player who initiated this action is the player who played Anti-Time Anomaly. As established by Q-Flash 's gametext, this is typically the opponent of the player who owns Anti-Time Anomaly.

any

If a card refers to a characteristic preceded by the word "any" (or "a", "an", or "one"), it refers to a card with that characteristic. For example, "any disruptor" includes Varon-T Disruptor, Klingon Disruptor Rifle, and Breen CRM114, while "Any Emblem card" includes Emblem of the Empire and Emblem of the Alliance (but not cards displaying the icons representing those emblems) and "any Odo" can refer to Odo, Curzon Odo, Overseer Odo, and Odo Founder.

When a card refers to a specific card title without a modifier such as "any", it refers only to a card of that exact title (or a member of that card title group). For example, Investigate Coup requires Tomalak and cannot be solved by Ambassador Tomalak.

any Intelligence

See Rulebook 10.1.1.2: "Any Intelligence".

anywhere

When a card allows a personnel or tribble to report, beam, or relocate to "anywhere," it must be aboard a ship or facility, or on a planet surface. You may not report, beam, or relocate personnel or tribbles off the spaceline or timeline (such as to a Penalty Box) or into space.

Aphasia Device

See quarantine.

Arachnia

See Borg (Borg-affiliation ships).

Arbiter of Succession

The two Klingons targeted by this interrupt may belong to the same player.

Arms Deal

You score the points if you meet the requirements during the attempt. If you do, place it in your bonus point area.

Arne Darwin

This personnel does not allow you to draw a card for his own report aboard K-7.

The Art of Diplomacy

see use \(skills\).

Articles of Jurisprudence

This card is unique only while in play for its first function. When in play for that function, it does not prevent another copy from being played for the other function artifact

A card type representing a rare object with special powers. Artifacts must be seeded during the dilemma phase, under planet missions only, unless a card allows or requires seeding at a space mission, and you may seed only one artifact under each mission unless otherwise specified (see mis-seeds).

A seeded artifact is earned when the mission is completed, not when the artifact is encountered. ( must complete an objective that allowed scouting a location and have a card which allows acquisition of artifacts before they can acquire any artifacts seeded at that location.) "Earned" is synonymous with "acquired." Cards seeded like artifacts are earned or acquired in the same way as artifacts. See scouting.

Artifacts cannot be used until they have been earned, for example:

- by completing the mission (or a  objective targeting the mission, if a card gives those  permission to acquire artifacts);
- with a card such as The Charybdis or HQ: Return Orb to Bajor; or
- with a card that allows an artifact to be earned without seeding, such as Reclamation or Starry Night.

An artifact may be downloaded only by a card that specifically downloads artifacts (e.g. Secret Compartment) or that has a special download icon for a named artifact (e.g., James Tiberius Kirk for Tantalus Field). For example, Bareil may not download a Varon-T Disruptor. When a card specifically downloads an artifact, that artifact is earned.

If an artifact leaves play, it cannot be brought back into play unless it is earned again (for example, by re-seeding under Q's Planet and completing that mission, or with one of the cards listed above). See Masaka Transformations .

An artifact that is "used as equipment" joins your crew or Away Team when earned; some artifacts are placed in your hand to play later; and others are resolved immediately, according to their game text.

When you acquire multiple artifacts or cards seeded like artifacts at a single mission, you may generally resolve them in any order you choose. For example, if you acquire your opponent's Magic Carpet Ride OCD and your own Varon-T Disruptor, you may choose to have the Varon-T Disruptor join your Away Team before your opponent may relocate your ship and Away Team.

However, if two copies of a non-duplicatable card are earned, the first one encountered is acquired and the second copy is discarded. For example, if both you and your opponent seed a copy of Ressikan Flute under a mission, you acquire only the first copy encountered and discard the second. (This also applies if you acquire another instance of a persona which you already have in play, or a Borg counterpart when you already have a counterpart in your collective.)

The Artificial Intelligence

This personnel's "NO STRENGTH" is an undefined attribute.

Assign Mission Specialists

This objective has two effects. First, it allows a one-time download of two mission specialists to an outpost (not to any other type of facility). If you choose to use the optional download, you must do so immediately upon seeding or playing the objective. (The mission specialists are not seed cards.) If you wish to play another Assign Mission Specialists later to download two more specialists, you must first discard the one in play at the start of your turn. (See unique and universal.)

If the download of the mission specialists is prevented by the activation of Computer Crash , the objective remains in play on the table for its second function. The download opportunity is permanently lost.

Second, while you have any Assign Mission Specialists card in play, any mission specialists you have in play (regardless of whether downloaded or played normally) score 5 points when using their skill to complete a mission (once per mission). See use \(skills\).

For example, the mission Reported Activity requires Navigation + Honor x2. It is solved by the following Away Team: mission specialists B'Jik (Navigation), Konmel (Navigation), Kahless (Honor x2), and two copies of Batrell (Honor), plus non-mission specialist Governor Worf (Honor x2 plus other skills). Any of the mission specialists may score 5 points. Batrell need not meet the entire requirement to store the points; Kahless may choose to contribute only 1 Honor (to allow Batrell to score the points, if it matters who scores them), and Governor Worf need not use his Honor at all.

A skill with a multiplier, such as Honor x2, is one skill. Any special skill, including a special download, disqualifies a personnel from being a mission specialist. For example, Tarus (Stellar Cartography) and Kahless (Honor x2) are both mission specialists. John Doe, whose only skill is a special skill, and Madam Guinan, who has two skills (one regular and one special), are not mission specialists.

You cannot create a mission specialist by removing skills from a multi-skilled personnel (e.g., with Tsiolkovsky Infection). If a card replaces a mission specialist's single skill with another regular skill (e.g., Reflection Therapy), that personnel remains a mission specialist. If a personnel loses mission specialist status due to a card such as a Medical Kit or Mot's Advice, that personnel regains it if separated from the kit or if the card is nullified.

Assign Support Personnel

A skill with a multiplier, such as Honor x2, is one skill. Any special skill, including a special download, disqualifies a personnel from being a support personnel for this objective. See Major Rakal .

Assimilate Counterpart

Participating in any battle at the location of the target prevents you from probing to complete this objective, even if the target is no longer at the location of that battle. Simply placing an unabducted target on an Assimilation Table (e.g., by relocating him there with Mysterious Orb) is not sufficient to allow you to probe. You must first battle and abduct the target as stated. See drone, Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Assimilate Homeworld

If the target of this objective is destroyed (e.g., by a Supernova), discard the objective (and any Stop First Contact or Build Interplexing Beacon suspending it) immediately. See homeworld.

Assimilate Planet

See point box.

Assimilate Species

Since no one in the crew or Away Team may mortally wound, they may not select a casualty if they win the battle. Compare Rulebook 6.3.2.3 Holographic Safety Protocols.

See also Rulebook 10.3.0.9: Species, assimilation - personnel, Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Assimilate Starship

See active, Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards, scouting ships.

assimilated counterpart

See assimilation - personnel, counterpart, He Will Make An Excellent Drone.

Assimilated Vessel

The player who scores the points is the opponent of the player who encounters this card (or otherwise brings it into play, such as with Obsession). This card does not award points when it is destroyed in battle.

assimilation

You may assimilate planets or your opponent's personnel and ships by using Objective and other cards that allow assimilation. You may assimilate only cards which you do not already control, and only if a card or rule allows it. Assimilated cards undergo specific transformations detailed in the following sections.

assimilation - facility

See assimilation - planet.

assimilation - personnel

When your Borg assimilate an opposing personnel, it becomes a Borg drone under your control (however, your opponent must still obey the persona rule and may not report another instance of a non-universal persona) and it undergoes the following transformations:

- Its affiliation changes to .
- Its gender becomes irrelevant to the Borg.
- Its classification (if any) becomes its first listed regular skill.
- It loses  and  icons and gains Borg subcommand icons, as follows:

Printed Staffing New Staffing

A drone will never have more than one copy of each subcommand icon. For example, if   Seven of Nine is assimilated as a drone, her  icon is lost rather than converted.

Its attributes adapt to service the collective based on its subcommand icons, as follows:

Icon Sets attribute...

-  INTEGRITY to 7
-  CUNNING to 7
-  STRENGTH to 7

Any attribute not set by a subcommand icon is set to 5.

Its other icons and restriction box become irrelevant.

Borg do not assimilate  holographic personnel (or target them for assimilation). Such personnel are excluded from any selections for abduction or assimilation. All other personnel, including androids, changelings, and your opponent's Borg, may be assimilated normally unless otherwise specified by a card. For example, if your opponent has The Kazon Collective in play, their Kazon are immune to assimilation.

In addition to drone assimilation, you may assimilate a male personnel as a counterpart by completing the Assimilate Counterpart objective. When this occurs, the counterpart undergoes the same transformations as a drone, with the following exceptions:

- He is considered male for Borg-related cards only. For example, a counterpart is not affected by Male's Love Interest unless Let Me Help is in play.
- His staffing ability adapts to service the Collective by changing to all three subcommand icons: .
- His INTEGRITY and CUNNING remain the same, and his STRENGTH is +3 (if he was already a counterpart, all attributes remain the same).
- His previous affiliation remains relevant for all cards requiring a matching counterpart, such as Assimilate Homeworld or Service the Collective. If he is multi-affiliation, all of his affiliation icons may be used for this purpose.

Your Collective is limited to one counterpart (or personnel targeted as such) at a time. While any personnel is targeted to become a counterpart, that personnel may not be assimilated as a drone and is excluded from all such selections. Dual-personnel cards may not be targeted for assimilation as a counterpart. A counterpart may be converted to a drone with He Will Make an Excellent Drone .

Any cards already played or placed on the personnel before assimilation remain in play (you do not recheck the conditions or targets for playing that card).

The Borg overlays from the Enhanced First Contact product do not allow assimilation of cards and cannot be placed on non-Borg cards to allow them to be stocked in your deck. They may be sleeved with Personnel cards you assimilated as a memory aid for the transformations.

assimilation - planet

When you assimilate a planet, any opposing personnel, equipment, and landed ships on that planet are assimilated. Any opposing facilities at that location, all personnel and equipment in or aboard a facility, and all ships docked at a facility are also assimilated. Personnel and equipment aboard a docked or landed ship are not assimilated. The affiliation of an assimilated facility changes to , and you may report cards to it in accord with normal native quadrant reporting rules.

If your Survey Drone, Sixteen of Nineteen, is on the planet when it is assimilated, it may acquire any seeded artifacts. If not, any artifacts (or cards seeded like artifacts) are placed face up on the planet and may be later acquired by your Survey Drone or by any non- personnel present. Mission attempts may not be made at assimilated planets, and the mission affiliation icons become irrelevant (facilities requiring a matching affiliation icon may no longer be built there).

assimilation - ship

When your Borg assimilate an opposing ship, you take control of that ship (but your opponent must obey the persona rule) and it undergoes the following transformations:

- Its affiliation changes to .
- Borg staffing requirements do not change.
- Non-Borg staffing requirements adapt to service the Collective:

Old Staffing New Icon

Other

Any other non-Icon staffing requirements are irrelevant.

Any carried ships aboard are assimilated (but personnel and equipment aboard are not). Any cards played on or placed on the ship prior to assimilation (such as a Kurlan Naikos) come under your control.

Assimilation Table

Connecting a personnel to (or disconnecting the occupant from) this equipment is an order. See executing orders. The Assimilation Table's controller may connect it to any personnel he or she controls (including a captive), and may disconnect it from any personnel. See implant card, Assimilate Counterpart .

Asteroid Sanctuary

As established by Rulebook 7.4.1.0.2: Cancelled Battles, this interrupt is a valid response to the initiation of a ship battle. It cancels the battle (but all cards involved are still "stopped"). See actions - step 2: responses. See exposed.

at any time

This phrase indicates that an action may be used during any segment of either player's turn (except start-of-turn or end-of-turn), between other actions or as a valid response. It may not interrupt other unrelated actions. See actions - step 2: responses.

Atmospheric Ionization

As the card says, it prevents all beaming "from" or "to" the planet, which includes beaming between different vicinities on the planet (such as between a landed ship and a planet facility).

ATTACK bonus

A feature of Tactic cards. In a ship battle, the ATTACK bonus on your current tactic (if any) is added to the total WEAPONS of your ships firing to calculate your ATTACK total. The ATTACK bonus is not an attribute enhancement. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

attempt

Non-Borg affiliations may make mission attempts and commandeering attempts. Borg may make scouting attempts.

attribute

A feature of Personnel, Ship, and Facility cards. Personnel have three attributes: INTEGRITY, CUNNING, and STRENGTH. Ships have three attributes: RANGE, WEAPONS, and SHIELDS. Facilities may have WEAPONS and/or SHIELDS. See attribute enhancements, attribute modifiers, Rulebook 10.1.0.7: Undefined & Variable Attributes.

attribute enhancements

Attribute enhancements refer only to positive changes in the attributes of a ship or personnel. SHIELD extension from a facility and ATTACK and DEFENSE bonuses are not attribute enhancements; thus, Shipwreck and Weak Spot do not affect a facility's ability to extend its SHIELDS around ships. See attribute modifiers, Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

The attributes of ships with a restriction box such as the Keldon Advanced are not enhanced by the presence of the required skill or characteristic aboard (in this case, Obsidian Order); rather, they are reduced if the required skill or characteristic is not aboard.

attribute modifiers

When resolving dilemmas, determining STRENGTH in battle, etc., always apply any relevant modifiers to cards in play. Modifiers do not affect cards in your hand (e.g., for Royale Casino dilemmas). See automatic modifiers.

An attribute is considered reduced (for cards such as Abandon Ship! or U.S.S. Enterprise-B) if it is affected by a card or rule that says it is reduced, disabled, or set to a value lower than its printed value, even if it is also affected by a card or rule that increases that attribute by the same amount. A ship that "cannot move" (Menthara Booby Trap) does not have its RANGE reduced. Attributes may not be reduced to less than 0.

See modifier order, Rulebook 10.1.0.7: Undefined & Variable Attributes.

automatic modifiers

Any modifier which simply states that it occurs, without a word such as "may" to indicate that it is optional, is automatic and mandatory. For example, "While on your ship, RANGE is +1" is an automatic modifier, whereas "if on a ship, may reduce RANGE or WEAPONS by 2 until end of turn" is optional.

Bajoran

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species.

Bajoran Interceptor

See interceptor.

Bajoran Raider

See report with crew.

Bajoran Resistance Cell

A Resistance personnel is one with Resistance skill. This objective only allows you to report Resistance personnel aboard  ships. (The "" modifies both "facility" and "ship".) See Espionage cards.

Bajoran Shrine

"Using a disruptor at an adjacent site," which can destroy this site, means that a personnel is present there with a disruptor which that personnel can legally use (see equipment). For example, a Klingon could destroy the site if that klingon is carrying a Klingon Disruptor, but not a Romulan Disruptor. The disruptor does not have to be used in battle, nor does destroying the Shrine count as a battle.

The "other Bajoran" who must be present for the Prylar, Vedek, or Kai to conduct services may be any other Bajoran Personnel card, including another Prylar, Vedek, or Kai (even a copy of the first one).

See Rulebook 12.3.0.2: Affiliation Control.

Bajoran Wormhole

Whenever you play or download this doorway to the Alpha Quadrant, you must download another copy to the Gamma Quadrant (creating that spaceline if there are no missions there yet). The Alpha Quadrant Bajoran Wormhole  card must be placed or inserted adjacent to a Bajor Region location if any are on the spaceline. If not, the doorway may be inserted anywhere on the spaceline that is not within another region, creating a Bajor Region. If one end of the Bajoran Wormhole  is destroyed, the other end is discarded also. See doorways, wormholes - movement through.

Bajoran Wormhole: Mirror Universe

When you seed or play this doorway, you are not required to download Bajoran Wormhole , but if you fail to do so, the download opportunity is lost. Only one player may download Bajoran Wormhole ; the player who seeded or played Bajoran Wormhole: Mirror Universe gets the first opportunity to do so. This doorway is not discarded if the Bajoran Wormhole  is destroyed. See between, Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, wormholes - movement through.

Balancing Act

The point loss for this dilemma is not scored at any specific location and thus is not affected by Altonion Brain Teaser. To see if you are affected by this dilemma, count all your missions with point boxes in all quadrants. A dual-icon mission is both  and  and is counted as one of each. Examples:

5 -1  or 5 -1  = 4. You lose points. 4 -2  or 4 -2  = 2. No point loss. 1   + 4  + 1  = 5 -2  = 3. You lose points.

banned cards

See Rulebook 2.16: Banned Cards.

Bardlay Transporter Phobia

This interrupt plays as a response to the initiation of transport. The affected personnel refuses all beaming, including the transport just initiated. Place the interrupt on the affected personnel as a marker.

Bareil

This personnel cannot download an artifact used as equipment.

Barzan Wormhole

See between, Supernova , wormholes – movement through.

Bashir Founder

This personnel cannot use his special download while aboard a cloaked or phased ship. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak, WEAPONS.

battle

See Rulebook 7.4: Battle, Rulebook 7.1.4: Dock & Undock, Rulebook 10.2.1: Stopped, Rulebook 6.3.2: Holographic Personnel and Equipment.

Battle Bridge Door

The second function of this doorway enhances the WEAPONS of only those ships and facilities involved in the battle, and only for the duration of that battle.

Battle Bridge Door: Auxiliary Control

See leaves play.

Battle Bridge side deck

This side deck is made up of Tactic cards which increase your offensive and/or defensive capabilities during ship battle and also indicate damage affecting your opponent's ships and facilities.

You can have as many Tactic cards in your side deck as you like, even duplicates. The side deck is activated during the doorway seed phase by a Battle Bridge Door card placed face up on top of the side deck. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Your Tactic cards are not part of your hand, and thus are not affected by cards such as Alien Probe and Energy Vortex. Your used Tactic cards do not go to your discard pile. Instead, whenever one of them is discarded or otherwise leaves the table, place it face up underneath your side deck. When your side deck runs out of face-down Tactic cards, shuffle the face-up cards and place them face down again underneath your seeded Battle Bridge Door.

See Rulebook 7.1.1: Beam.

become when a card "becomes" a characteristic (such as a new gender, species, or affiliation), it gains the new characteristic and simultaneously loses any other characteristics of the same kind, for as long as the card causing the change is in play (and/or the condition causing the change holds true). For example, if Mardah is affected by Frame of Mind, she gains  but loses  and  (until Frame of Mind leaves play). If affected by Q-Type Android, she ceases to be Bajoran species and becomes android or human species (unless Chef nullifies it).

between

When a card allows a ship or personnel to move between one location and another, it may move in either direction. For example, Bajoran Wormhole: Mirror Universe allows a ship to move "between here and a Bajoran Wormhole .

Beware of Q

When you seed this objective (and have a Q-Continuum side deck), you must declare which function you are seeding the card for. If you wish to use both of the first two functions, you must have two copies in play. The first function does not require a Q-Continuum side deck or a seeded Q-Flash. It allows seeding of Q-icon dilemmas only (not other Q-icon card types). Using this objective to replace a dilemma with a dilemma named "Q" is a valid response to the reveal of the dilemma. See actions - step 1: initiation. If you replace a dilemma with a dilemma named "Q" at a location where you seeded another copy of the same dilemma, the second one revealed is discarded as a mis-seed. The second function of this objective can be used to replace a dilemma seeded at Empok Nor . If a mission has already been solved (or a Borg objective has been placed on it), seeding a dilemma named "Q" under it does not allow it to be solved again, or targeted with another Borg objective. See encountered, Q-icon cards, scouting locations.

Beyond the Subatomic

If the last card in your deck is the card type you named when you played this interrupt, you do not lose the game.

The Big Picture

Once you have solved (or begun a scouting attempt at) both a space mission and a planet mission (either before or after The Big Picture is played), this event no longer affects you. See Rulebook 9.0: Winning the Game, scouted.

Birth of "Junior"

Because RANGE is considered 0 while off-line, a ship whose RANGE is off-line (for example, due to "Pup"  or Green Energy-Dampening Weapon) will be destroyed by this dilemma at end of turn.

Black Hole

This doorway will pull in all cards (including ships) at the adjacent location even if a Q-Net is between the Black Hole and the adjacent location. Cards that can close a doorway (e.g., Revolving Door) suspend the Black Hole's game text and are not pulled in.

When a time location's corresponding spaceline location is destroyed by a Black Hole, the Black Hole becomes the corresponding spaceline location.

Blade of Tkon

See Rulebook 7.1.7.0.1: Movement Between Quadrants: Which Cards Count?.

Blended

See "any".

Blood Screening

On this event, "pooling skills" refers to two or more personnel combining their skills together for a dilemma, mission, etc.

bonus point area

Some cards have point boxes, even though they are not missions (or   Borg Objectives). These boxes represent bonus points. If a card with a bonus point box is worth points to you when it leaves play, place it in a point area on your side of the table so that you remember those points. These cards are not in play, nor are they part of your discard pile. If a card or rule diverts a bonus point card from your point area, whether permanently (You Can't Kill The Captain) or temporarily (Federation Flagship: Recovered); or if you score bonus points from a card without a point box (such as Lack of Preparation), then you must keep track of those bonus points by other means.

bonus points

See points, bonus point area, Altonian Brain Teaser , Intermix Ratio .

Boratus

See Ajur .

Borg

There are a number of rules specific to the  affiliation. Some are described below; others in the Rulebook. See:

- Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-Borg Cards in Your Deck
- Rulebook 6.3.0.2: Borg Compatibility
- Rulebook 6.4.0.2: Borg Points
- Rulebook 7.0.3: Extraneous Factors Are Irrelevant
- Rulebook 7.4.1.0.4: Combat is Irrelevant
- Rulebook 7.8.0.3: Clarifications: Commandeering
- hive
- See generally: The Borg Rulebook

Borg Personnel

Most  Personnel cards represent drones. A drone's lore identifies it as such and lists its species of origin (or "Biological Distinctiveness"). The Borg Queen, assimilated counterparts such as Locutus of Borg, and former Borg of non- affiliations are not drones. A Borg is considered to be both Borg species and its species of origin.

Gender is largely irrelevant to the  Borg.  cards are not affected by gender-related game text on non--related cards (e.g., Love Interests, Matriarchal Society, Arachnia). For  Borg-related cards, the Borg Queen is female and counterparts are male.

 personnel have no classifications, though several of the personnel types appear as skills. Regular skills (including the Borg Queen's selected skill) may be shared throughout a  hive using the Interlink Drone's skill or the Borg Vinculum. (See Rulebook 10.1.0.2: Sharing Skills.) Your  may also share CUNNING using the Unity Drone's skill.

Each  personnel has an icon identifying which subcommand ( Communication,  Navigation, or  Defense) it is assigned to within the Borg Collective. Subcommand icons are used primarily to staff  ships, but also have other uses indicated by cards. Rulebook 7.1.3.0.1: Clarifications: Ship Staffing.

Borg-Affiliation Ships

Each  ship has a bonus point box. These bonus points do not contribute to a  player's score, but are earned by your non- opponent whenever that player destroys your  ship in battle (and only in battle).

-affiliation ships are not affected by Isabella, Into The Breach, or the second function of Anti-Matter Spread. (They are affected normally by the first function of Anti-Matter Spread, like any other ship.)

Borg-Only Objectives

 personnel may never begin or join mission attempts. Instead, a  Borg player uses Objective cards to accomplish goals such as destroying a ship, scouting a space location, or assimilating a planet. Some Borg objectives score points; others confer different benefits.

When you are playing  Borg and you have an uncompleted  (Borg Use Only) Objective card face up in play, this is defined as your current objective. You are limited to one  current objective at a time. You may have any number of non- objectives in play at a time. (You may also have other  cards such as incidents in play.)

When you play (or activate) a  Objective card, you must immediately target an appropriate location, ship, personnel, etc., as specified by the objective. Objectives may target solved or unsolved mission locations. The objective then allows your  to scout the ship or location, initiate battle, abduct a target, etc. See scouting, scouting locations, scouting ships.

Your  Borg must complete scouting (if an objective involves scouting) and meet any other listed requirements (such as having  Borg present at the location) before you may probe (usually at the end of your next turn) to determine your current objective's outcome and score its points, if any. See probing.

Assimilation

You may assimilate planets or your opponent's personnel and ships by using Objective and other cards that allow assimilation. (Also see abduction.)

Borg Cube

This ship (as well as the other Borg cubes with similar wording, like Locutus' Borg Cube) allows reporting of any equipment aboard (not just ). Personnel may report to this ship using its game text even while affected by a moving required action. See actions - required, Borg Tactical Cube.

Borg Nanoprobes

This Equipment card is not a hand weapon. A "Species 8472-related dilemma" is one that mentions Species 8472 in its lore. See drone.

Borg Outpost

A Borg Outpost may be played at an assimilated homeworld. (As a temporary ruling, this ruling should not be applied as precedent in other cases.)

This is a temporary ruling, issued June 2026, subject to modification or reversal.

Borg Tactical Cube

bottom seed card

The bottom seed card at a mission is the card on the bottom of the mission stack (the first card you would encounter if attempting the mission).

Brain Drain

See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Brainwash

This event does not change a captive's affiliation, but makes it compatible with your personnel and removes all affiliation based restrictions on using the Brainwashed personnel as your own. (See capturing.) Examples:

- Galen will work with the Federation if Brainwashed, or with a Brainwashed Federation personnel (even if not Brainwashed himself).
- A Brainwashed captive in your crew or Away Team does not add affiliation-based attack restrictions (e.g., a Brainwashed Federation captive will not prevent your Klingons from initiating battle).
- A non-Borg captive Brainwashed by the Borg is not assimilated and thus may not share skills or scout, but may attempt missions of their affiliation (the Borg may not join the mission attempt and the Borg player may not score the mission points). The captive's skills may be used for other purposes, such as using SCIENCE to enhance SHIELDS with Metaphasic Shields.
- A Borg captive, Brainwashed by a non-Borg captor, will work with that affiliation, but may not join mission attempts. The captive's skills may be used in other ways, such as using Transporter Skill to nullify an Anti-Matter Pod. A Brainwashed Talon Drone could assimilate an opposing personnel stunned in battle (it would immediately be placed under house arrest or would become a separate Away Team).

Breen CRM114

This Equipment card may report wherever your Breen or arms dealer is present, and only where your Breen or arms dealer is present, even when reporting by using another card (e.g., Devidian Door, Security Office). A Breen or arms dealer need not be present to acquire a Breen CRM114 seeded at Search for Weapons.

Using this disruptor to damage a planet facility or landed ship is a special kind of attack (battle), requiring a leader in the Away Team and subject to all normal attack restrictions. The attack automatically succeeds; place one damage marker on the target from your Battle Bridge side deck (no damage is applied if you aren't using the side deck). Cards involved in the attack are "stopped" and your opponent is allowed to counter-attack there normally. See once per turn.

brig

See capturing.

Build Interplexing Beacon

See Stop First Contact .

Calamarain

This event's owner moves it in the same way as they would move a ship, but it is not a ship, is not affected by cards that affect ships, such as Q-Nets or Wormholes, and cannot move through the Bajoran Wormhole . Discard the event after either use (damaging a ship or killing Mortal Q). Calamarain cannot damage a cloaked or phased ship. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak, Explore Interstellar Matter .

This event may not cause damage that will destroy a ship. When used with a Battle Bridge side deck, it causes default damage. Draw the two damage markers from your side deck, one at a time, and place each one on the ship unless it would destroy that ship (in which case discard that damage marker instead).

cancel

Act of preventing an action (such as a card play or a battle) from having its result. Any costs paid to initiate that action remain paid. When you cancel an action that was limited to once per turn, that action may not be initiated again during that turn. See nullify.

Captain Kirk

This personnel's special skill, "May initiate battle against non-,

" allows only his ship to initiate battle. Your other Federation ships (or ships with any Federation crew) present may not participate in that battle. (He may also lead an Away Team or crew in personnel battle.) See Rulebook 7.4.1: Initiating a Battle, non-Federation.

Captain Proton cards

Several cards in the Holodeck Adventures set represent people and things from Tom Paris' holoprogram based on the 1930s sci-fi serial, The Adventures of Captain Proton. Like the world of Captain Proton itself, these cards are entirely in black-and-white. Any icons appearing on them should be treated as normal, color versions of those icons. Thus, Captain Proton is treated as a normal, Non-Aligned personnel; also, if you are probing for Omega Directive and reveal him as your probe card, his special download icon triggers the "Threat eliminated" outcome.

Captain's Log

See matching commander.

capturing

Some cards and rules allow you to capture your opponent's personnel (never a personnel you control). Captives are disabled (unless a card such as Brainwash specifies otherwise). The captives are escorted by your personnel as follows:

- Upon capture, captives are immediately relocated to one of your crews or Away Teams at that location, if possible (to the specific crew or Away Team making the capture, if any, such as when using Ilon Tandro or Captured).
- Otherwise, the capturing card remains in play and serves as a temporary "trap" to hold the captives on your side of that location until your personnel can arrive to take them into custody. (If there is a planet at that location, the trap is on the planet.)
- Your ship with transporters (in space) or your Away Team (on a planet) can subsequently take custody of the captives if present with the trap, then discard the trap card.

Each of your crews and Away Teams may escort any number of captives, and may move them like Equipment cards.

At any given time a captive can be in one of three conditions: (1) held by a trap, in a Brig, or by escorting personnel, (2) Brainwashed, or (3) left unattended. You may change the captive's condition during your turn.

A trap card placed on a captive is not in play; it is a marker of captive status and can no longer be nullified. For example, you may nullify Mandarin Bailiff with Q2 or Miss Q when it is encountered (after the captive is selected but before placing the card on it as a trap), but not later.

You may not initiate battle against personnel you have captured, unless a card allows or requires it. See White Deprivation .

All captured cards are returned to their owner at the end of the game.

For personnel who are held by a dilemma (but have not been captured) like the targets of Primitive Humanoids, see Rulebook 7.2.2.0.1: Reading and Responding to Dilemmas.

Brigs

Some cards allow you to add a Brig to a ship or facility. While you control the ship or facility, you may move captured personnel into and out of the Brig during your turn (while in the Brig they are held but not escorted). If your opponent commandeers or assimilates the ship or facility, their personnel may subsequently release any of their other personnel held captive in the Brig (if present).

Release

Captives that are held or Brainwashed may be released only by using a card that specifically releases (or "returns" or "rescues") captives (such as Rescue Captives, His Honor, The High Sheriff of Nottingham, or Prisoner Exchange).

Unattended captives, however, are conceptually "tied up and left behind" and thus may be released by their owner's other personnel present, without any special card.

Whenever a captive is released, all capturing-related cards played on that captive are discarded.

capturing-related card

See Rulebook 12.13.3: Capturing-Related.

card draw

A card draw refers to any card drawn from your draw deck (or from your discard pile, if using Carlos' skill; but not from a side deck), either as the player's end-of-turn draw(s) or through the use of a card that specifies that you "draw cards," such as Kivas Fajo - Collector. (Downloaded cards are not "drawn.") Each card draw is a separate action.

An action that is "in place of one card draw" may replace any card draw (you may do this even if there are no cards remaining in your draw deck). Unless the action is explicitly restricted to once per turn, you may replace as many card draws as you are entitled to. For example, downloads with the Borg Queen's special skill may replace any or all of the three card draws from Kivas Fajo - Collector. The replacement action must be performed at the time you would normally make that card draw.

You may perform as many actions as you like each turn that have the restriction "draw no cards this turn" (e.g., playing a Q's Tent, downloading with Ops). You may not then draw any more cards for the remainder of the turn, by any means (normal card draw, Kivas Fajo - Collector, Masaka Transformations, etc.), or use an ability (such as the Borg Queen's special skill) that allows you to perform an action in place of a card draw.

However, if the first action you perform imposing a restriction of "draw no cards this turn" triggers a "just" action or valid response of drawing a card, the "just" action or valid response occurs before the restriction takes effect. See turn, actions - "just".

card play

A card play refers to any card played by any means (normal card play for the turn, normal interrupt or doorway play, a card played "for free," downloaded into play, Devidian Door, etc.). Card plays are of two types: Personnel, Ship, Equipment, and Tribble cards report (for duty), while all other card types are simply "played." See entries for specific card types for details of playing that card type.

Your normal card play is defined as the onecard play you are allowed each turn by rule. Although optional, this must take place before executing orders. Interrupts and doorways do not use up (or count as) your normal card play. All other playable card types use your normal card play unless otherwise specified, or unless brought into play via a mechanism such as downloading or as the direct result of playing an interrupt or doorway (such as Barzan Wormhole). If you are allowed to report a card using ongoing game text of a card in play, such as Borg Cube, then that report uses your normal card play (unless otherwise specified).

Cards are always played face up, unless they have a hidden agenda icon. Except when playing a hidden agenda card, announce the name of the card when you put it into play.

Your opponent may examine any card that you play face up at the time of play, but not later unless allowed by a rule or card. (See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.)

An action that is "in place of your normal card play" must be performed when you would make your normal card play. Such an action may be a group action with several subactions; interrupts may not be played between those sub-actions. See actions - group.

Only one such "replacement" action may be performed each turn. For example, two Spacedoors will not allow you to download two ships.

card titles

See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, combo dilemma.

card type

The current card types are listed in Rulebook 14.2: List of Card Types.

The following are not separate card types: cards of different affiliations; Outpost, Station, and Headquarters (all are Facility cards); Q-icon cards (a Q-icon dilemma is a Dilemma card, etc.); Mission II (Mission cards); and Combo dilemmas (Dilemma cards).

See Rulebook 12.14: Equivalents.

Cardassian

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species.

Caretaker's Array

As established by Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe, this incident allows a ship to relocate here only from a Badlands Region location in the Alpha Quadrant.

Cargo Bay

You begin a cargo run (as described on this site) when one or more of your personnel aboard a facility pick up one or more Equipment cards aboard that facility and carry them directly aboard your ship at the same location. You must announce the run and show your opponent which personnel and equipment are involved (but you do not have to specify now which personnel, equipment, or Cargo Bay you will use to complete it). When that ship arrives at a different facility any number of turns later, any of those same personnel who has been a member of the ship's crew since the run was announced may carry any of those equipment cards directly to the Cargo Bay to complete the cargo run.

You may not begin or complete a cargo run by beaming a crew member with equipment between universes with a Multidimensional Transport Device, or by beaming them aboard a ship with Invasive Transporters and then to Cargo Bay. You may not complete a cargo run begun by your opponent (e.g, if you take control of the ship with Neural Servo Device).

Your ship can take any path from the starting facility to the ending facility, giving you credit for each mission passed (except starting and ending locations). You may count each mission only once per cargo run. See passing locations.

While you may have multiple ships making cargo runs concurrently, a single ship's crew can complete only one at a time, earning card draws or Latinum downloads for only one piece of equipment. To deliver any additional equipment, a crew must begin a new cargo run. See report.

See Cargo Bay .

Carlos

This personnel's special skill has no effect on probing or any other function that involves the draw deck, other than drawing cards.

carried ships

See Rulebook 7.1.6.1: Carried Ships.

Cha'Joh

This is a   multi-affiliation ship of  Klingon origin ("Bird-of-Prey"); thus, it is (by origin) a "Klingon ship" regardless of its current affiliation mode, but a "Romulan ship" only in  Romulan affiliation mode. (It is only a  ship" while in  mode.)

See multi-affiliation cards, Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

Chamber of Ministers

Chamber of Ministers is not required in order to seed Deep Space 9/Terok Nor at Bajor. "A Nor" is a reference to the type of station (allowing Deep Space 9 or Terok Nor to seed there), not to the card named "Nor," which may not be established at a Bajor region location. See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Characterize Neutrino Emissions

You may seed any number of different Orb artifacts (no duplicates) under this mission, regardless of whether the artifacts may normally be seeded in space, in place of the single artifact normally allowed at a mission.

Chief O'Brien

See once per turn.

Chula: The Abyss

If more than one Quark's Bar is in play, the player encountering this dilemma chooses which one to relocate their personnel to.

Chula: The Chandra

For a personnel to continue past this dilemma, at least one attribute number must match the same attribute on the randomly selected personnel (e.g., INTEGRITY must match INTEGRITY). Apply all relevant attribute modifiers. See Rulebook 6.3.4: Dual-Personnel Cards.

Chula: The Way Home

If more than one Quark's Bar is in play, the opponent of the player encountering this dilemma chooses which one to relocate the personnel to.

Chula: Trickery

For this dilemma, your opponent "recites [the personnel's] attribute numbers" by reading the printed attributes off the card, in order (INTEGRITY, CUNNING, STRENGTH), without applying modifiers. Attributes of dual-personnel cards are not added together, but are read as printed, for example, 3 + 3, 8 + 8, 5 + 5.

class

Classic Communicator

See skills - modifying.

Classic Medical Tricorder

This works like the Vulcan Tricorder .

Classic Tricorder

This works like the Vulcan Tricorder .

classification

A personnel's classification is found only in their classification box. A personnel type such as MEDICAL in the skills box is a skill, not a classification. A card referring to "MEDICAL-classification personnel" refers only to personnel who have MEDICAL in their classification box. Borg personnel have no classification. See skills.

cloaking and phasing

See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

cloaking device

This special equipment allows a ship or facility to cloak. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Clone Machine

This incident does not allow you to have more than one version of a persona in play at one time. A personnel in play "for uniqueness only" does not count as "a copy of your personnel already in play". (The rule is clear that "for uniqueness only" cards can only restrict plays, not enable them.) See Rulebook 10.2.8: In Play 'For Uniqueness Only', Rulebook 6.5.2.0.1: No Clone Swaps.

The Clown: Playing Doctor

See skills - first-listed skill.

Coalescent Organism

This dilemma can be passed on to anyone who is present at the end of the turn, regardless of ownership. The dilemma is played on the selected personnel. Discard it if the personnel dies alone or from some other cause.

coexist

When a card allows two or more cards to coexist, it removes the restrictions for those cards that would otherwise prevent them from being in play (or entering play) at the same time and/or at the same location. For example: Continuing Committee states that it may coexist with Office of the Proconsul, so if either headquarters card is in play the other may be played or seeded, removing the restriction that a player may not play or seed a facility at a location with a facility they control.

collective

All of one player's  affiliation cards in play.

Colony

The Away Team must be "in" this facility to score points.

combo dilemma

See Rulebook 7.2.2.0.7: Combo Dilemmas.

Commandeer Ship

The personnel who commandeers a ship with this objective may meet any three staffing icon requirements, whether they have those icons or not. For example, Christopher Hobson may commandeer the Decius and meet its entire staffing icon requirement of   . See unopposed.

compatible

Your two non- cards are compatible with each other if they belong to the same affiliation, or if at least one is Non-Aligned or Neutral, or if a card states they may "mix" unless otherwise specified (see does not work with).  Borg-affiliation cards are only compatible with each other, not even with  Non-Aligned or  Neutral cards. Some cards that make different affiliations compatible are Treaty cards, Brainwash, Ferengi Trading Post (only while aboard), Temporal Micro-Wormhole, and Memory Wipe (seeded). Compatible personnel may mix in the same crew or Away Team and board compatible ships and facilities. Personnel and ships may report to compatible facilities. However, you must still have a personnel of matching affiliation when required by a card or rule.

Example: If you have a Treaty: Romulan/Cardassian in play, your  Romulan,  Cardassian, and  Non-Aligned cards are compatible with your Cardassian Outpost, with Central Command, and with a Cardassian Nor, but your  Klingon cards are not. Only your Cardassian cards match the facilities.

- Your Romulan and Non-Aligned cards may report to your Cardassian Outpost, to Central Command, or to a Cardassian Nor (but may not be downloaded using the Ops text, which requires a matching affiliation).
- Your Romulan and Non-Aligned personnel may supply staffing icons for your  ship, if at least one  personnel is aboard (see Rulebook 7.1.3: Staff a Ship).
- You may attempt a mission using a mixed Romulan/Cardassian/Non-Aligned crew or Away Team as long as at least one personnel matches one of the mission's affiliation icons.
- Your Romulan forces may assist your Cardassian forces in battle, but your Klingon forces may not.

If a card allowing compatibility is nullified or destroyed, incompatible personnel aboard a ship or facility are placed under house arrest. If a mixed Away Team is on a planet, the incompatible personnel form a separate Away Team and cannot return to the ship. The text does not work with means the cards are incompatible.

Computer Crash

You may activate this hidden agenda event as a response to an attempt to play a Q's Tent or a card requiring downloading (e.g., Activate Subcommands), or an attempt to download a card (e.g., by using the Borg Queen's skill or any special download icon), but not during the seed phase. The Q's Tent or card requiring downloading becomes an illegal card play and returns to the owner's hand; an attempted download is simply aborted (and does not use up any resource). See actions - step 2: responses.

If you initiate the play of a multi-function card such as Bajoran Civil War, and select a function that requires a download, it may be responded to by the activation of this event. The card returns to your hand; you may then play it for its other function, but you are not required to do so.

A card may allow but not require downloading, and thus may be played despite Computer Crash. For example, if Computer Crash is activated in response to an attempted download with Assign Mission Specialists, the download is prevented, but the card remains in play.

You may not suspend the activation of this event by using a special download icon.

Construct Depot

This mission may not be attempted or scouted by the opponent. You may not download a Remote Supply Depot if you already have a facility at this mission location.

Construct Starship

This objective allows you to download a facility only if it has text allowing it to play (or be built). For example, Husnock Outpost cannot be downloaded because it may only be seeded.

Consume: Outpost

The outpost downloaded by this objective is required to play this objective. When this objective is downloaded using The Ultimate User, the ability to ignore Computer Crash applies to the entirety of that download action, which includes the sub-action of downloading the outpost. You may still scout for and complete this objective if the outpost is destroyed (or otherwise leaves play). See Rulebook 4.4.1: Seeding and Playing Facilities for important restrictions.

Containment Field

Activating this incident will nullify a Destroy Radioactive Garbage Scow that is already in play on a mission. The mission's point value is restored (even if it has already been solved) and the owner of the Destroy Radioactive Garbage Scow places the interrupt in their bonus point area to score -10 points.

Contender-related

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

Continuing Committee

See coexist.

control

See Rulebook 12.3: Control and Ownership.

Conundrum

When you fail to overcome this dilemma, your ship and crew are "stopped" and you must immediately target one of your opponent's ships. (If there is no valid target, discard the dilemma without further effect.)

Once "unstopped," the ship and crew must chase and attack that target. This is a required action (see actions - required), and must be carried out alone; your other ships at the location may not join the battle.

Cloaked, phased, or landed ships are invalid targets. You may change targets at any time. If the selected target at any time becomes invalid or leaves play, you must target a different ship. If at any time there are no valid targets in play, the dilemma is discarded. Once you have attacked a target ship, the dilemma is "cured" and discarded.

cooperate

See mix.

copy

A copy (or duplicate) of a card is defined by its card title and, for personnel and ships, its gametext or title bar. Different images, copyright dates, collectors' info, lore, expansion icons, affiliation border colors, or property logos do not affect whether cards are copies.

Personnel and ships:

Two Personnel or Ship cards are copies of each other if their card titles and game text are the same (taking into account revised titles and game text of reprinted cards). Examples of copies:

- Alyssa Ogawa \(First Contact\) is a copy of Alyssa Ogawa \(Trouble With Tribbles starter deck reprint\). Alyssa Ogawa \(Premiere\) is not a copy of this card because her game text is different (they are two versions of the same persona).
- Quark Son of Keldar (First Anthology preview) is a copy of Quark Son of Keldar (Blaze of Glory reprint) despite a minor rewording of his game text and the Blaze of Glory expansion icon.
- Tasha Yar - Alternate (Alternate Universe) is a copy of Tasha Yar - Alternate (Reflections foil). Her special skill was changed by errata.
- Lwaxanna Troi (Premiere alpha printing) is a copy of Lwaxana Troi (Premiere beta printing).
- B'Elanna Torres (blue Federation border) is a copy of B'Elanna Torres (gold Non-Aligned border). See multi-affiliation cards.

Other cards:

Other than personnel and ships, two cards are copies of each other if their card titles are the same (taking into account revised titles of reprinted cards). Also, each half of a combo dilemma is considered a copy of the original dilemma on which it was based (the "card title" included in its game text). Examples of copies:

- Radioactive Garbage Scow \(Premiere\) is a copy of Radioactive Garbage Scow \(Voyager\) and of the Radioactive Garbage Scow half of Female's Love Interest & Garbage Scow. You may not seed more than one of these under one mission; your Borg could Adapt to any of them after encountering any version.
- Medical Kit \(Premiere\) is a copy of Medical Kit \(Voyager\). You may not use a copy of each to add two MEDICAL skills to your OFFICER.
- Ready Room Door \(First Contact\) is a copy of Ready Room Door \(Voyager\). You may not play both during one turn.
- ? Klingon Outpost (Trouble With Tribbles starter deck reprint) is a copy of the Outpost card titled "Klingon" (Premiere). The card titles of most outposts have been revised. You may seed only one.

corresponding

A location "corresponds" to another location if they share the same location text and are in the same quadrant. The location text of a mission or time location is found in bold text in its lore box. Other location cards (like Bajoran Wormhole ) use their card title.

For example, the time location Sherman's Peak corresponds to the spaceline location Agricultural Assessment, and vice versa, because both have the location "Sherman's Planet," while The Celestial Temple corresponds with Bajoran Wormhole .

See Multidimensional Transport Device .

Council of Warriors

This objective may not be nullified once it is relocated to your point area. Bringing a non-Klingon personnel into play by persona exchange, earning a Cryosatellite, or switching the affiliation of a multi-affiliation personnel is not "playing a non-Klingon personnel." See card play, report, affiliation and species.

countdown icon

See Rulebook 8.1: Countdowns.

counter-attack

See battle.

Countermanda

This interrupt is not an "Amanda Rogers card." See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, discard pile.

counterpart

A characteristic representing individuals assimilated by the  Borg to serve as "speakers" to their former affiliation.

A counterpart's former affiliation is the affiliation he had before becoming . On printed counterparts, their former affiliation is whatever affiliation is stated in lore. For example, Bareil of Borg's former affiliation is  Bajoran ("The knowledge and experience of the Bajoran..."). See Rulebook 14.1: List of Affiliations. On a  Borg Only card, a counterpart "matches" an affiliation or homeworld if his former affiliation matches it. See matching affiliation, homeworld, Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

You may own only one counterpart in play at a time. If you already have one, you may not play or assimilate another, and must discard any you acquire (for example, from Cryosatellite ).

Counterparts often have a special skill giving them an advantage in battle against their former affiliation. See Rulebook 7.4.1.0.6: Affiliation Attack Restrictions.

counting cards

See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

couple

a personnel and their romantic partner crew

See Rulebook 7.1: Move.

Crew Reassignment

Special staffing icons include any icon used to staff a ship, except for command ability , staff ability , Borg subcommand    icons, and affiliation icons (e.g, the  icons on Zalkonian Vessel).

The ship to which a personnel may report using this event must have the icon as one of its staffing icons. For example,  personnel without an  icon may not report to Starship Enterprise (Trouble With Tribbles) using Crew Reassignment. See ship staffing.

Crimson Forcefield

If opponent's tactic card is nullified, opponent's hits use default damage. See Rulebook 7.4.3: Ship Battle: 7. Damage

Crisis

Because the ship at the location is not actually attempting the mission, the ship and crew are not "stopped" if this dilemma is not overcome. Only the attempting Away Team is "stopped."

Crosis

This card has been updated. As the card says, it still plays on and enhances a group of Rogue Borg , but does not count as a Rogue Borg and does not add 1 to their X.

Crossover

When this incident allows your  personnel to ignore their  icon when reporting, treat them as if they have no quadrant icon (i.e., as if native to the Alpha Quadrant). Thus they may report to a native Alpha Quadrant facility, or (if  ) to Sherman's Peak.

The incident is discarded only when you report a Multidimensional Transport Device as your normal card play and then download one of the listed personnel to that Device.

If you report Ezri without this incident in play, and immediately use her special download for Crossover, you cannot then use Crossover to download a Multi-Dimensional Transporter Device to Ezri because it is no longer "just after" she reported. See actions - "just".

Cryosatellite

All cards seeded with this artifact count as seed cards. They are seeded one at a time, not as a group. See personnel - seeded.

Crystalline Entity

Because this dilemma kills "all personnel on ship", its effects extend beyond the personnel participating in the attempt. This includes intruders and personnel who are "stopped" or disabled. However, it does not kill personnel in stasis (see Rulebook 10.2.4: Stasis) or non-personnel cards (like Rogue Borg )

If this dilemma is encountered after DNA Clues with Lore in play, 6 MEDICAL and 2 SCIENCE are required to pass the dilemma. See Rulebook 12.11: Set, Add, Multiply \(S.A.M.\)..

cumulative

If a card is cumulative, multiple copies of the card can have the same effect on the same target\(s\) at the same time. Damage markers (Tactic cards) are cumulative, as are cards specifically marked "cumulative." All other cards are not cumulative.

While you may have multiple copies of a noncumulative card in play, they cannot have the same effect on the same targets at the same time. Also, multiple copies of a non-cumulative card "played" or "placed" on the same card may not have the same effect at the same time, even on different targets. Examples of effects include modifying skills, attributes, or mission or dilemma requirements; killing a personnel; damaging a ship; and generating benefits (such as card draws or points) for a player. For purposes of cumulativeness only, all end-of-turn actions (or start-of-turn actions) are considered to occur "at the same time." Multiple responses to a single action (such as a battle) generally resolve one at a time, and thus are not restricted by cumulativeness rules (unless they generate a continuing effect). Cards that may be played or have effects "once per (each, every) turn" are covered by the "once per turn" rule.

Examples:

- HQ: War Room: Multiple copies may not enhance the attributes of the same personnel at the same time.
- Science Kit: Multiple copies may not add multiple SCIENCE skills to the same personnel at the same time.
- Reflection Therapy: Multiple copies may not replace multiple skills on one personnel at the same time.
- Process Ore, Colony: You may not process ore at more than one Nor or score points at more than one Colony (start-of-turn actions) each turn. (The player is the target.)
- Telepathic Alien Kidnappers, The Traveler: Transcendence: Multiple copies of each card do not allow you to "guess" multiple cards or draw multiple extra cards (end-of-turn actions) each turn.
- Transwarp Conduit: This card generates a continuing effect (for the rest of the turn). A second copy played on the same ship while the first is still in effect will not quadruple its RANGE.
- Automated Security System, Dal'Rok, Establish Tractor Lock: If multiple copies are played or placed on the same Ops, mission, or ship, only one copy of each card can kill a personnel each turn or immobilize a ship, even if different targets are present.
- Fajo's Gallery: Multiple copies will not generate additional card draws when you capture a unique personnel.
- REM Fatigue Hallucinations: If two copies on the same group of personnel are cured at the same time, only one will score points.
- Romulan Disruptor: This card is marked "cumulative." Each personnel present with three disruptors will be STRENGTH +6.
- Android Headlock, Antique Machine Gun, Barclay Transporter Phobia: The effects of multiple copies of each of these cards occur as separate actions (not at the same time) and have different targets, and are thus not restricted by cumulativeness rules.
- Alas Poor Drone, Cybernetics Expertise, Borg Nanoprobes: Although these cards are not restricted by cumulativeness, they have "once per turn" effects that are governed by that rule.
- Multiple copies of the same card can be targeted by a single card at the same time. For example, two copies of Process Ore, even on different Ore Processing Units, do not allow you to 'process ore' twice, but, if two copies of Process Ore are in your discard pile they each count toward the total number of objectives in your discard pile for DNA Security Scan.

current objective

See Borg, objective.

Five of Eleven (Cyber Drone)

This personnel's special skill only prevents Borg personnel from entering stasis, and cannot release them from stasis once established. For example, a Cyber Drone in a group of Borg relocated to an unsolved Qualor II Rendezvous would prevent them from entering stasis, but it cannot release them if brought there after the relocation.

It does not prevent ships from being placed in stasis (e.g., by the Quantum Singularity Lifeforms dilemma), though it can prevent the Borg personnel aboard from entering stasis.

Cytherians

See actions - required, Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near.

Cytoplasmic Life-form

Multiple copies of the same personnel are not different personnel.

A "skill requirement" includes skills that are personnel types, such as MEDICAL.

The effect of this dilemma applies only when actually meeting the mission requirements (to solve it). It does not apply while facing Lack of Preparation  or similar cards.

D'Tan

See present.

Dabo

While you may have a copy of this incident in play on each of two Quark's Bars, you may not get probe results using both copies at the end of a turn. See cumulative, probing, Writ of Accountability .

Dal'Rok

This dilemma is an exception to the rule that dilemmas affect only the personnel in the encountering crew or Away Team. Even at first encounter, all personnel at the location (including the opponent's) must be checked for lowest total attributes. The total attributes > 150 required to nullify the dilemma must be in one crew or Away Team. See Rulebook 12.5: Ties.

When you are using a Battle Bridge side deck, any damage to your opponent's ships or facilities, whether from a hit in battle, dilemmas, or other causes, is indicated by damage markers, which are Tactic cards from your side deck. The damage results appear at the bottom of each Tactic card. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Some damage results are immediate and have a one-time effect (such as killing a crew member or downloading a Warp Core Breach). Other damage results have an ongoing effect (such as reduced attributes or off-line transporters) as long as that damage marker is in play. Most damage markers also specify a reduction to HULL integrity. When a ship's or facility's HULL integrity is reduced to 0%, it is destroyed.

Multiple copies of the same damage marker are cumulative, including reductions to attributes and HULL integrity.

If your side deck is ever completely out of Tactic cards (because they are all in play as damage markers), you will be unable to further damage your opponent until some of your damage markers return to your side deck. You may not mix damage markers and rotation damage on your opponent's ship.

Rotation damage - If you are not using a Battle Bridge side deck, any damage to your opponent's ship (from a hit in battle or from a card such as a dilemma) is indicated by rotating the target 180 degrees to indicate that it is damaged, with these effects: RANGE is reduced to 5 (if it is already less than 5, it remains the same), Cloaking Device is off line, and HULL integrity is reduced by 50%. If you scored a direct hit in battle, HULL integrity is reduced by 100% and the target is thus immediately destroyed. If a ship with rotation damage is damaged again before it is repaired, the additional HULL integrity reduction of 50% also destroys the ship. A ship is damaged (for dilemmas such as Abandon Ship!) if it has any damage markers on it (even if there is no HULL damage), or has received rotation damage. Reduction of attributes from other causes is not "damage." You may never substitute rotation damage for damage marker symbols (e.g., Breen CRM114, HQ: Orbital Weapons Platform). To use such symbols you must have a Battle Bridge side deck.

Off line

When a damage result indicates that something is off line, the affected item may not be used in any way as long as that damage marker is in play. Attribute enhancements being off line affects all enhancements to the specified attribute.

Default damage

When you are using a Battle Bridge side deck, sometimes your opponent's ship or facility will be damaged when you do not have a current tactic (such as when encountering a dilemma or during a battle in which you choose not to play a current tactic). Whenever this occurs, the default damage is two  cards from your side deck, or four  cards for a direct hit. (Default damage should not be confused with "card rotation" damage, which applies only when you are not using a Battle Bridge side deck.)

Order of damage results

In most cases, the sequence in which you apply damage results will not matter. Occasionally the order may be significant. In these cases, carry out immediate damage results first and check the HULL reduction last.

For example, suppose the HULL integrity of your opponent's ship has already been reduced by 80% when it is damaged again, and the two damage markers from your side deck each specify one casualty and HULL - 30%. If your opponent wants to play an Escape Pod, they must suffer both casualties first, so the Escape Pod saves only the remaining crew. See repair.

Data's Body

This personnel counts as a seed card if "reported" at your outpost during the seed phase. When your Data's Body is present with your Data's Head, you may declare them to be attached (or detached) as desired during your turn. See disabled. When attached, Data's Head is no longer treated as an artifact (and thus is immune to Disruptor Overload, for example); instead, the two cards together are used as a single Personnel card. If the combination is discarded, the two cards are no longer attached and Data's Head is again treated as an artifact. Like any other artifact, Data's Head must be earned before use.

Data's Head

See Data's Body.

deactivated

See holographic personnel and equipment.

Dead End

This dilemma is discarded only if the player first encountering it overcomes it by having at least 50 points. Otherwise, it is placed atop the mission and remains there permanently (unless nullified by Dropping In); you may re-attempt the mission if you have more than 50 points, but this does not nullify or discard the dilemma. Although it will "stop" a Borg scout on initial encounter, it does not prevent later scouting.

See Disrupted Continuum .

Dead in Bed

You choose the personnel in stasis to be killed when you play this interrupt.

Deanna Troi (First Contact)

This personnel must be part of the "stopped" Away Team to "unstop" them. For example, if two other personnel in her Away Team are "stopped" by Parallel Romance , they become a separate Away Team. She may not "unstop" them because she is not part of that Away Team. See once per game.

death

See discarding.

deck

See Rulebook 3.0: Building A Deck.

Deep Space 9

This station has several facility commanders. See Chamber of Ministers .

Deep Space Station K-7

Like all stations, this station has no built-in reporting, docking, or repair functions. No sites may play here. However, because this station is at a time location, compatible personnel and equipment native to the timeline may report aboard the station using the time location's reporting function.

default damage

See damage.

Defend Homeworld

When this objective allows a download of personnel and ships in response to battle, it is to a specific destination ("download there") and thus the cards may report anywhere at the location (e.g., personnel may report aboard ships), ignoring quadrants. However, a SECURITY personnel downloaded with the objective's final function must be reported to a facility or other place where that personnel may normally report, because no destination is specified. See downloading.

If a facility or site provides the place for the downloaded SECURITY personnel to report, both the personnel and facility must be in their native quadrant. You may not download cards with this objective when your opponent attacks your Non-Aligned ship at your homeworld, even if there are crew members aboard matching the homeworld's affiliation. The specific card that is attacked (the ship) must match the homeworld and its universe (see homeworld).

The "compatible ships, leaders, [and] SECURITY personnel" that you may download with this objective when your card is attacked at a homeworld must be compatible with the card that was attacked (and with each other, if they are mixing).

An attack by a Borg Ship dilemma or Rogue Borg, which are self-controlled, will not allow the download. Your opponent must attack your card with their ships or personnel.

DEFENSE bonus

A feature of Tactic cards. In a ship battle, the DEFENSE bonus on your current tactic (if any) is added to the SHIELDS of your ship that is being fired upon to calculate your DEFENSE total. The DEFENSE bonus is not an attribute enhancement. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Dejaren

See dilemma resolution: targets.

Deliver Ancient Artifact

To meet the artifact requirement, you must either discard an eligible artifact from hand (e.g. Vulcan Stone of Gol) or have an eligible artifact in play (e.g. Kir'Shara). Either way, you must have earned that copy of the artifact.

If you need to show prior to solving that you can meet the mission requirements (for example, for Lack of Preparation or Armus: Energy Field), you must either show an earned eligible artifact from hand (you do not have to discard it) or have a copy in play. See actions - step 1: initiation: cards played as a cost.

Deliver Supplies

The freighter or transport used to solve this mission must be in orbit with Transporter Skill aboard. See dual-icon missions.

Delta Quadrant

A "Delta quadrant mission" is one with a Delta Quadrant  icon in its point box.

Denevan Neural Parasites

See dual personnel cards.

destroy

See Rulebook 10.2.8 Killed or Destroyed.

Destroy Radioactive Garbage Scow

You may not reduce the same mission's points more than once with multiple copies of this interrupt. See cumulative. The points are not bonus points because the mission's value is reduced. If the mission has already been completed, no points are lost. See Containment Field .

Devidian Door

In order to play this card on table, you must have a card in play which allows the play of  cards. Showing this card from hand to avoid losing the game does not require an  - enabling card, because showing the card is paying a cost. See anywhere, Ophidian Cane , Persistence of Memory , report.

Deyos

Using this personnel's special skill to draw a card is a "just" action; it must be used immediately after the non-Youth Jem'Hadar enters play at his location, even if that Jem'Hadar enters play as a sub-action of a group action (e.g., multiple reports under Red Alert). See actions - group, actions - "just", card draw.

different

A card is different from another card if they are neither copies of each other, nor versions of the same persona. Two copies of a  mission represent different locations, and, if applicable, different planets.

dilemma

A type of card hidden beneath Mission cards, which create hidden challenges to be dealt with when attempting missions. Dilemmas must be seeded during the dilemma seed phase. There are three types: planet , space , and space/planet . See combo dilemma.

Dilemmas are encountered and resolved one at a time during a mission or scouting attempt. Each dilemma describes what happens when your crew or Away Team encounters it. It may list certain skills, attributes, equipment, or other requirements to overcome, cure, or nullify the dilemma; specific types of personnel that it affects; and various results such as damaging or destroying a ship or "stopping," disabling, or killing personnel. Some dilemmas have bonus points that you score when you overcome the dilemma. See dilemma resolution, dilemma timing.

Text following "Place on mission" (or on ship, or any other target) is only active once the dilemma has been placed on its target. If it does not get placed, that text is ignored.

dilemma resolution

See Rulebook 7.2.2: Encountering Dilemmas, actions - step 3: results.

dilemma timing

See Rulebook 7.2.2.0.1: Reading and Responding to Dilemmas.

direct hit

If your ATTACK total is more than twice your opponent's DEFENSE total, you score a direct hit on the target ship. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle, damage.

disabled

See Rulebook 10.2.3: Disabled.

discard pile

You may not rearrange cards in any player's discard pile unless a card allows you to. For example, Palor Toff: Alien Trader allows you to choose a target card in your discard pile, but not to rearrange it. You must discard face up, and any time you retrieve a card from your discard pile (except for seed cards to be placed under a mission such as Q's Planet, or with Hide and Seek), you must show it to your opponent.

When you play a card which allows you to "exchange" it for a card in your discard pile (for example, Res-Q), the two cards trade places: the card from the discard pile goes into your hand, and the card you played takes the position of that card in the discard pile.

Unless otherwise specified, all discarded cards (except those which enter play from certain side decks) go to the original owner's discard pile. (Cards with point boxes for which you score the points discard to your bonus point area.)

A discarded artifact may not be reused, even if returned to your hand, unless you re-earn it. When a card is discarded, all effects on that card end and are not reactivated if the card is retrieved and replayed. For example, if a personnel affected by Frame of Mind is killed and discarded, they are no longer affected by Frame of Mind if they are replayed. (But once per game text may not be used again.)

discarding

You may not discard cards from your hand or from the table unless a card or rule allows or requires you to do so. Discarded cards normally go to the owner's discard pile, unless a point box or other card allows or requires you to discard it to your bonus point area, under The Next Emanation, or elsewhere. (Also see side decks.)

When multiple discards result from the same action (e.g., you discard a destroyed ship and all cards aboard; you discard your entire hand using Handshake), place the cards in your discard pile one at a time (allowing your opponent to see them), in the order you choose.

When a mission allows or requires you to discard a card as part of its requirements, or for extra points, that card must come from the crew or Away Team attempting the mission, not from your hand, at the time the mission is solved. All other discards (e.g., for Static Warp Bubble) come from the hand unless otherwise specified. A single discard cannot satisfy two discard requirements. For example, the required discard for Static Warp Bubble cannot also be used to reopen a Spacedoor.

Cards that have a long-term effect on one or more personnel, such as Barclay's Transporter Phobia or Brain Drain, are "played on" the affected personnel, even if the card text does not say so explicitly. The card functions as a reminder of the effect, and will only be discarded if nullified, cured, or expired, or if the personnel is discarded. A personnel who is "discarded" according to the text of a dilemma or other card is not considered to die or be killed unless the card causing the discard specifically says so (Yuta  is an exception). See in play.

Disrupt Alliance

See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule.

Disrupted Continuum

If a Dead End (or some other unique or non-duplicatable dilemma) that you seeded is in play, and your opponent reveals another copy of Dead End (or that other dilemma) that you seeded (legally, at another mission), you may nullify the second copy with Disrupted Continuum. If you do, you may download and seed a replacement. (The second copy would not be discarded for violating uniqueness until the encounter step begins.)

Disruptor Overload

This interrupt is not a valid response to the play of an Equipment card.

Distant Control

This incident only allows your native personnel at Drone Control Room to function as a crew for the duration of the mission attempt. When your personnel are functioning as a crew aboard your empty Drone-class ship for this incident they are affected normally by dilemmas they encounter, as if they were aboard that ship, with the following exceptions:

- They may not interact with dilemmas (or other cards placed on the ship) outside of a mission attempt, e.g. to cure The Swarm.
- They may be selected to die, but they will only be killed if they have Empathy.
- They may not be relocated to the spaceline and as such may not be captured and held by a trap card, e.g. Cardassian Processing.
- They are not at the mission; therefore their special downloads do not go to it, and they are not affected by 'here' effects such as Distracted by Thoughts of Home's attribute reduction.

Additionally, since the Drone-class ship is empty, it is not staffed and if destroyed, only cards which are played on it are discarded.

Distortion Field

As the card says, it prevents all beaming "from" or "to" the planet, which includes beaming between different vicinities on the planet (such as between a landed ship and a planet facility). See Atmospheric Ionization .

Dixon Hill

This personnel's skill allows you to ignore the requirements of a mission only when solving it. Ignoring requirements is not the same as meeting requirements. For example, if his Away Team encounters Lack of Preparation and would not have been able to meet the requirements at the start of that mission attempt, they lose points and are "stopped."

Dixon Hill's Business Card

In Federation Standard, this interrupt/event would read:

Interrupt: If any personnel (except a Borg) was just killed and there were no other personnel present, select any other personnel controlled by the same player. That personnel is captured.

Event: Plays on table. The opponent's next personnel to report for duty must be universal or a holographic re-creation. Then place this card out-of-play. (Event is not duplicatable.)

If you play this card as an interrupt when one of your own personnel was killed, the selected personnel is captured by your opponent. See reporting for duty, capturing.

DNA Clues

Once this dilemma is placed on the mission and the choice is made either to continue or to "stop" (if possible), the altered MEDICAL requirements for further dilemmas encountered at that location affect both players. The DNA Clues dilemma is not encountered again, so no future Away Team or crew can alter those requirements. The dilemma remains on the mission even after it is solved. The MEDICAL requirements may be reduced to zero.

do not count toward winning

See points.

docking

See Rulebook 7.1.4: Dock and Undock.

Docking Pads

No other cards (such as Establish Landing Protocols) are needed to enable ships with no staffing requirements to land (dock) and take off (undock) at this site. The site itself allows the ship to land and take off. A ship docked at the Docking Pads site is both docked and landed, and is subject to the rules applying to landed ships.

While a docked ship is normally not affected when the facility is destroyed, a ship docked at Docking Pads is actually "aboard" the Nor and thus would be destroyed along with the facility and discarded.

The Doctor

This personnel is not a version of the E.M.H. Program persona and cannot be downloaded by Beverly Crusher.

does not use

A personnel whose restriction box states that it "does not use" a type of equipment may be in the same Away Team with it but may not enable its use and is not affected by it. For example, Odo's STRENGTH is not enhanced by hand weapons in his Away Team, and, if he is the only member of the Away Team, he may not pass Zaldan using its disruptor requirement.

does not work with

A card that "does not work with" (or "works only with") a particular group (affiliation, species, specific skills) cannot mix or cooperate with cards of that group in any way, in the same way that cards of incompatible affiliations cannot work together without a treaty (see compatible). For example:

- Lore "Does not work with  affiliation." He doesn't mix with  personnel, cannot board a  ship, and cannot report to or board a  facility.
- Miles O'Brien "does not work with Cardassians." He doesn't mix or cooperate with personnel of Cardassian species or affiliation, even under treaty. If he is aboard your ship, it cannot assist another of your ships in battle if it has Cardassians aboard.

If a personnel is inadvertently placed in a situation where they are mixing with cards that they "cannot work with," they will form a separate Away Team or (on your ship or facility) be placed under house arrest. For example, Solkar "does not work with personnel who have Treachery." If your opponent boarded your ship and played Reflection Therapy on one of your crew to give them Treachery, Solkar would be placed under house arrest. You may not deliberately place your personnel in such a situation.

"Does not work with" restrictions that are completely affiliation-based are overcome by any card that allows incompatible cards to mix, such as Release This Pain, Brainwash, or an appropriate Treaty.

Dominion

An affiliation.

Dominion War Efforts

See multi-affiliation cards.

doorway

A card type representing a physical door or a passage to another time or place in the space/time continuum. A seedable Doorway card must be seeded during the doorway phase, unless otherwise specified. Playable doorway cards do not use your normal card play and may play whenever an Interrupt card play is legal, but only during your own turn, unless its text explicitly states that it suspends play or may play at any time.

There is no limit to the number of Doorway cards you may play per turn, unless stated otherwise on a card.

Doorways in play may be "closed" (made inactive) by other cards. A card that closes a Doorway card (such as Door-Net or Revolving Door) may be played on a doorway that is already closed. When a doorway is closed, its ongoing game text related to its "doorway functions" is not active. For example, no cards may be taken from a closed side deck, a closed Ready Room Door does not protect an event from nullification; a doorway with a countdown icon stops counting down (the countdown resumes if the doorway is reopened). Game text relating to how the doorway is played (e.g., creating a spaceline location and its span) or nullified, terms such as "Not duplicatable," "Unique," or "Limit one," and icons such as  or  that are not part of the game text are not affected. Thus, while a ship may not pass through the Bajoran Wormhole  if either end is closed, it may still stop at the location and requires 1 RANGE to move to the location. Also, another Bajoran Wormhole  may not be played in either quadrant if the existing one is closed.

Doppelganger

With this event in play, if two copies of a unique Personnel card are in play at two different locations, and one moves to the location of the other, the non-moving one is discarded. If the two cards are always at the same location (even if they are moving simultaneously), no one is discarded. Reporting, beaming from a planet to a ship, or moving from one site to another is not "moving to a location."

A "duplicate" is equivalent to a copy. Other instances of the same persona (even with the same card title) are not duplicates. For example, Jean-Luc Picard \(Premiere\) is not a duplicate of Jean-Luc Picard \(First Contact\) or Galen.

double turn

When a card allows you take double turns, you take one complete turn from beginning to end, then another complete turn from beginning to end (not one turn with two card plays, two end-of-turn card draws, etc.). A double turn counts as two of your full turns.

double-sided cards

Double-sided cards in a face-down deck or pile are considered face down. See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards. When you seed or play a double-sided card, and both sides could legally seed or play now, you choose which side will be initially face up.

Dr. Q, Medicine Entity

An Event is "on the spaceline" if it is at or adjacent to a spaceline location. This includes Events on ships or personnel at a spaceline location, as well as Events that are spaceline locations (such as Gaps In Normal Space).

Dr. Soong

This personnel may "reprogram" only those androids which have variable features chosen when it reported for duty. He may replace the classification and/or gender of the ♦ Soong-type Android, and may replace one or both of Lal's two selected skills with regular skills present with her at the time of reprogramming. He may reprogram androids belonging to either player, but only once during each of his owner's turns. See skills - modifying.

drone

A Borg drone has "Drone" as part of its Identification. All personnel your Borg assimilate are drones unless assimilated as a counterpart using the Assimilate Counterpart objective. The Borg Queen, counterparts, and non--affiliation personnel who are Borg or former Borg are not drones and may not be downloaded or affected by cards that specify drones. A Borg drone has no gender and may not be targeted with Assimilate Counterpart or any card that specifically targets a male or female personnel.

The E.C.H.

This personnel can download any card with "Maneuver" in the title. See any, Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule.

E.M.H. Program

Although this holographic personnel may be downloaded to an outpost, he will be deactivated until taken aboard a ship or facility with a holodeck. If downloaded to a ship with a holodeck during a mission attempt, he joins the crew attempting that mission, even during a dilemma. A Mobile Holo-Emitter or Holo-projectors does not overcome his restriction box. See Doctor, The.

See turn.

See artifact.

The Earring of Li Nalas

This artifact must have been brought into play prior to completing Rescue Prisoners in order to double its point box. The doubling effect remains even if the Earring leaves play. See once in play.

Echo Papa 607 Killer Drone

This Equipment card does not engage adversaries in personal combat. It is used only at the end of a personnel battle to increase your total STRENGTH. It cannot contribute STRENGTH for other purposes (overcoming dilemmas or solving missions). It is not a hand weapon. The STRENGTH goes up by 10 after each separate personnel battle.

"Away Team battle" means "personnel battle." This card can be used in any personnel battle, regardless of whether it includes Away Teams or Rogue Borg . For example, you can use it when two personnel in your crew battle because of a card like Beta XII-A Entity. In that case, it would increase the total STRENGTH of both sides by the same amount. While this wouldn't affect the outcome of the battle, Echo Papa's STRENGTH will be 10 higher the next time you use it.

Edo Probe

Because this dilemma has no conditions, the Away Team or crew is not "stopped" and the dilemma should not be returned under the mission. Place it on top of the mission to serve as a marker until the dilemma is resolved, then discard it.

Edo Vessel

Any time this ship is fired upon (even by return fire), there is a 50/50 chance that the attack is nullified. You may determine the 50/50 chance by any agreeable, random method (e.g., coin toss).

Elim Garak

See selections.

The personal combat stage of a personnel battle is not considered a random selection, so he cannot avoid personal combat and may be stunned or mortally wounded in battle. He may avoid the random selection for death at the end of the battle if he is not stunned or disabled.

Eliminate Starship

See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Emblem of the Empire

This incident gives immunity to Navigate Plasma Storms to your  facilities and  ships. It removes affiliation attack restrictions only from  cards and the four personnel listed, not from other cards that they mix with. For example, while Benjamin Sisko has no affiliation attack restrictions, he cannot initiate ship battle while aboard the U.S.S. Defiant, because the ship is subject to normal Federation attack restrictions. See Rulebook 12.3.0.2: Affiliation Control.

Emergency Transporter Armbands

As the card says, you may play this interrupt at any point from the initiation of a personnel battle up to the point of determining the winner, either before or between combat pairings, except you may not interrupt a combat pairing. If you remove all your personnel from an initiated personnel battle with this interrupt before any personal combat takes place all participants are still "stopped," and the opposing force wins (since it has the higher total remaining STRENGTH).

Likewise, during a ship battle, you may play this interrupt to beam personnel between any two stages of the battle.

Emergent Life-Form

Opponent may move the target ship as stated by this dilemma, but opponent is subject to normal movement rules: the ship must be staffed, cannot move through a Q-Net unless 2 Diplomacy aboard, et cetera. Opponent may move the ship only once, from one location to another location, "warping past" any locations in between; multiple moves (for example, to exhaust the ship's RANGE by flying back and forth between two missions) are not allowed. If ship is affected by Cytherians, opponent may still move the ship, but only by moving in the direction required by Cytherians using all available RANGE. See actions - required.

The Emissary

See affiliation and species, in play, report, Ops .

The Emperor's New Cloak

See stealing.

Empok Nor

This facility allows both players to seed dilemmas that are "related to Empok Nor" (i.e. have "Empok Nor" in their lore or gametext) underneath the Facility card, which must then be encountered and resolved before the facility can be commandeered. To do so, simply announce that your Away Team in Ops is making a "commandeering attempt," then encounter and resolve the dilemmas as you would for a mission or scouting attempt. Once there are no longer any dilemmas to be encountered, the attempt ends, and any player's Away Team may subsequently commandeer Empok Nor normally with a Computer Skill personnel unopposed in Ops. (The actual commandeering is a separate action from the commandeering attempt, which does not require Computer Skill.)

You may deliberately mis-seed cards that are not Empok Nor dilemmas under this facility as a bluff. When discovered, such mis-seeds are placed out of play as usual. However, if you reveal your own mis-seeded card when making a commandeering attempt, you may not commandeer Empok Nor as long as it remains uncontrolled. (If your opponent commandeers it, you may then commandeer it from them.)

"No reporting aboard" means that you may not use the text of any site cards to report cards aboard. Another card's text may allow a card to report aboard. For example, Luther Sloan "may report anywhere," including to a site on an uncommandeered Empok Nor. The game text on all Site cards on Empok Nor is inactive until it is commandeered, other than the Ops text allowing commandeering, docking site text allowing docking and undocking, and any text related to the placement of the sites (including the module locations and the Commander's Office placement restriction). (However, a card that plays on a site, such as Weapons Locker, may be played on an uncommandeered Empok Nor site.) All non-Borg affiliations are compatible with the Neutral uncommandeered station.

When this station is first commandeered and flipped over, each player may download to the station any number of different compatible Site and Equipment cards. The commandeering player performs all of their downloads first, then the opponent. While the downloaded cards must all be different for each player, both players could download copies of the same card (but not the same unique site). These downloads are all results of the action of commandeering the station. Computer Crash may respond to any one of these downloads, cancelling it and each subsequent download. Even though Empok Nor seeds uncontrolled, and you may not seed or build another facility at the same location. See Rulebook 4.4.1: Seeding and Playing Facilities.

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

See occupied.

encountered

Seed cards are encountered only during a mission, scouting, or commandeering attempt. A card is not encountered when looked at outside of a mission, scouting, or commandeering attempt, such as with a Scan card or Ocular Implants. Dilemmas that enter play, such as Cytherians, Borg Ship, Coalescent Organism, and Friendly Fire, are not considered encountered when they affect you later on the spaceline. See actions - step 1: initiation.

Normally, an artifact is moved to the back of the seed stack when encountered. It is not earned until the mission is completed, unless a card allows it.

A mis-seed is not encountered when revealed. For example, a  dilemma misseeded at a non- mission may not be replaced by a Q: A Dazzling Flash with Beware of Q, and does not use up the effect of a Senior Staff Meeting if it is the first dilemma revealed. Also, an Orb artifact mis-seeded at a non- mission could not be earned with HQ: Return Orb to Bajor. A dilemma is not considered to be encountered if it is a unique dilemma which is discarded because another copy is already in play (e.g., Dead End). See unique and universal.

end of turn

See turn.

End Transmission

See Rulebook 8.0.1: Cards That End Your Turn.

energy dampener

A type of ship's special equipment. It has no built-in functions but is used by the Breen Energy-Weapon Dampener card.

Energy Vortex

As the card says the replacement card must be "different", it may not be a copy of the original. (See Rulebook 12.7: Copies and "Different".) The replacement card play may in turn be interrupted by another Energy Vortex; in that case, the original card may now be played.

Engage Cloak

When a cloaked or phased ship placed on this objective is about to decloak and is returned to its former location, it decloaks after it makes any of the allowed movements. No other actions may be performed between the movements or between the last movement and decloaking. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

The objective does not itself allow you to decloak or dephase a ship on your opponent's turn (but does have its effect if another card allows or requires the ship to decloak at that time).

The movements allowed for each full turn on the objective are separate movements of up to the ship's RANGE. For example, a ship with RANGE 8 which stays on Engage Cloak for three full turns may make three separate movements of up to RANGE 8 each (not a single movement of RANGE 24). A ship on Engage Cloak is not on the spaceline. It may be targeted by any card which may normally target a cloaked ship and which does not require the ship to be present or at the same location with anything else. For example, it may be targeted by Tachyon Detection Grid but not by La Forge Maneuver. If the ship's original location is destroyed by a Black Hole, upon decloaking the ship must be returned to the Black Hole location.

Any effect which would remove a ship from Engage Cloak also decloaks (or dephases) the ship before it is placed at a location.

Engage Shuttle Operations

See movement, Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics, Rulebook 7.1.6.1: Carried Ships.

Engage Shuttle Operations: Dominion

Jem'Hadar attack ships, which may be carried aboard another ship using this event, include Dominion ships with "attack ship" in the ship name or class. Any card which affects Engage Shuttle Operations  by name (such as Launch Portal) also affects this card. See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

enhancements

See attribute enhancements.

enigma icon ★

The ★ enigma symbol represents things whose nature is mysterious or unexplained, such as the Borg Queen and Fontaine. If a player has an enigma card in play, that player can not bring a second copy of it (or a second version of the same persona) into play. However, such cards are neither unique nor universal, and thus are not affected by cards that specifically affect unique or universal cards. See unique and universal, persona.

Equinox Doctor

This personnel's "NO INTEGRITY" is an undefined attribute.

equipment

A card type, representing devices such as phasers, tricorders, and plasmadyne relays which enhance the performance of your Away Team, crew, or ship. (A Ship card's special equipment is listed in game text and is not related to the Equipment card type.) Most Equipment cards are not carried by a specific personnel, but "belong to" the entire crew or Away Team, and are "stopped" by the same circumstances that "stop" personnel cards. (A few Equipment cards are "worn" or "placed on" a personnel. See Data's Head, Mobile Holo-emitter.) If an entire Away Team is killed, the equipment remains, but may not be taken or used by the opponent unless a card allows it. (See stealing.)

Equipment can "work" unattended unless its text requires the presence of personnel. For example, you may discard '45 Dom Perignon to replace a ship without any personnel present, and a Plasmadyne Relay enhances the SHIELDS of an empty ship.

Because Equipment cards have no affiliation icons, they may be reported and carried in Away Teams or aboard ships (even by Borg) without regard to compatibility. Thus, a Bajoran Phaser may be reported to a Federation Outpost and carried by Federation Away Team. However, to use equipment that is restricted to the use of a specific affiliation, species or characteristic, the Away Team or crew must contain at least one member of that affiliation or species. (See affiliation and species, Procurement Drone.) Once any requirements to use the equipment are met, it enhances all personnel specified by the card (e.g., "each of your personnel present"), not just the affiliations required to use the card. Thus, Cardassian Disruptor ("Cardassian and Non-Aligned use only") enhances the STRENGTH of all personnel of any affiliation in an Away Team or crew containing any Cardassian by affiliation or species OR any Non-Aligned personnel. Bat'leth, on the other hand, has no restrictions on who may "use" it (e.g., anyone could discard it for points at Kressari Rendezvous), but it enhances only Klingons (by affiliation or species) in the Away Team or crew.

See:

- Rulebook 2.8: Equipment (overview)
- Rulebook 7.1: Move (for carrying and moving equipment)
- use \(equipment\) ("use only" restrictions versus other "uses")

- Rulebook 12.13: Related (for "ENGINEER-related equipment" and similar) erase

See holographic personnel and equipment.

Escape Pod

See location, damage: order of damage results.

Espionage cards

These events allow your personnel to attempt a mission as if it had a specific affiliation icon in its affiliation icons box. This does not make the mission attemptable if it is unattemptable for other reasons (for example, Fair Play , HQ: Defensive Measures , or I Tried To Warn You ). If an Espionage card refers to an affiliation by name (for example, "your Bajoran personnel"), this means only the affiliation and does not include species (see affiliation and species).

A "Bajoran espionage card" is one that allows Bajorans to attempt another affiliation's missions. For example, Espionage: Bajoran on Cardassian is a Bajoran espionage card, while Espionage: Cardassian on Bajoran is a Cardassian espionage card.

Discard an Espionage card only when the mission-solving action is entirely complete (after points are scored).

Espionage Mission

You may attempt this mission if:

- you play an Espionage: [your affiliation] on Federation card on the mission (e.g. Espionage: Klingon on Federation allows your  Away Team to attempt the mission); or
- you have Selok in your Away Team; or
- an objective specifically allows you to attempt it (e.g., HQ: Secure Homeworld allows your  Away Team to attempt it); or
- a card allows you to add your affiliation icon to the mission (e.g., Bribery adds a  icon which allows your  Away Team to attempt it).

Establish Tractor Lock

A cloaked or phased ship may not be targeted with this objective. Phasing an already-targeted ship breaks the tractor lock and discards the objective; cloaking an already-targeted ship does not. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Establish Trade Route

See Rulebook 6.5.3.0:3 Downloading Facilities, mission attempt.

event

A card type representing an event that took place in the Star Trek universe. It may play on and affect another card, or may play on the table to have a widespread effect on various aspects of the game. While most events have a lasting effect on the game (unless the card is nullified or destroyed), a few say to discard them after use. Playing an Event card uses your normal card play.

every turn

See turn.

examined

See unexamined.

exchanging cards

When a card in play is exchanged for another card (e.g., persona replacement, one Founder morphing into another, Young Jem'Hadar exchanged for a universal Jem'Hadar) or replaced (discarded) by a downloaded card, any cards already played on, placed on, or aboard the card that is leaving play transfer to the replacement card unless their results are now inapplicable. You do not re-check the conditions (or targets for playing a card) for such cards. For example, you would discard Adapt: Modulate Shields from an Equipment card that morphed into a Founder using In the Bag, or discard Reflection Therapy if the skill it was replacing did not exist on a new version of a persona just exchanged. However, damage can apply to both a Borg Ship dilemma and a Borg Cube, so any damage would transfer when Retask  is played; and when a ship is transformed by '45 Dom Perignon', its crew transfers to the new ship.

When a card in play is exchanged for a card not in play (either by persona replacement or with a card that allows such an exchange, such as In the Bag or Macias), the new card is not reporting for duty. When a card in play is discarded and replaced by a card downloaded into play (e.g., Transporter Mixup), the downloaded card is reporting for duty.

executing orders

Following the card play segment of your turn, you may optionally execute orders, performing actions such as movement or a mission attempt, using your cards already in play.

Using game text such as "cycling" a  card with Q the Referee is also executing orders. There is no limit on the number of orders you may execute in one turn.

Executing orders includes (but is not limited to) the following actions during your turn:

- Moving personnel and equipment (see movement, beaming, walking)
- Staffing and moving ships (see Rulebook 7.1.3: Staff a Ship, movement)
- Attempting missions (see mission attempt)
- Scouting locations or ships (if playing Borg)
- Commandeering facilities or ships
- Initiating battle

Actions that are permitted at any time may be performed during your card play segment or your executing orders segment. Actions that you take during your opponent's turn are not executing orders.

Exocomp

See repair.

Experience BiJ!

Any player who encounters any dilemma after Experience BiJ! is placed on a mission may discard Experience BiJ!. This is optional. Only the player encountering the dilemma has this option. Multiple copies of Experience BiJ! may be discarded simultaneously.

Explore Gamma Quadrant

See Gamma Quadrant.

exposed

A ship is exposed when it is undocked, uncloaked, unphased, and not landed or carried.

Extradition

You may take only one personnel captive with this dilemma, regardless of the number of SECURITY personnel you beam onto the ship. The captive must have lower STRENGTH than the total of the SECURITY personnel. See Rulebook 6.3.4: Dual-Personnel Cards.

The dilemma does not allow a download of the SECURITY personnel, provide transporters or allow you to use your opponent's transporters, or allow beaming from a Nor. For example, the Cardassians downloaded to a planet or site with a preceding Sleeper Trap may not be used to take a captive with Extradition.

Eyes In The Dark

This interrupt adds the regular skills and attributes to the crew or Away Team as a whole, not to a single personnel. For example, if Kova Tholl is selected from the opponent's ship, your crew's total INTEGRITY is +8, total CUNNING is +6, and total STRENGTH is +2, plus one Diplomacy skill is added to the crew's pool of skills.

Ezri

facility commander

See matching commander, Intendant, The .

facility phase

See seed phases.

faction

There are 3 factions:  Klingon/Cardassian Alliance,  Maquis, and  Terran Empire. Cards may belong to one or more of these factions based on the presence of the corresponding faction icons. Factions are not affiliations, even though they may sometimes be referred to in a similar manner. See Rulebook 7.4.1: Initiating a Battle, Rulebook 7.9: Infiltrate, playing an affiliation \(non-Borg\).

Fair Play

If this card is preventing you from solving a mission, you cannot begin an attempt of that mission, either.

Activating this hidden agenda event is a valid response to solving a mission, a sub-action of the mission attempt. After the last seed card has been resolved, check conditions (having a matching affiliation personnel and the mission requirements present) for solving the mission, after which your opponent may respond by activating Fair Play, which prevents solving the mission. It is not a valid response to the initiation of a mission attempt, because it does not specifically modify a mission attempt. See actions - step 2: responses.

You may not solve your opponent's unique mission without a point box (e.g., Q's Planet). Espionage cards or other cards that allow you to attempt missions of other affiliations will not allow you to attempt an opponent's unique mission if this event is in play.

Fajo's Gallery

The card draws allowed by this event are a "just" action that must be performed immediately after the action occurs which allows the card draws. See actions - "just".

Feedback Surge

This incident causes your opponent to lose 10 points for each seed card they discard using the listed cards, whether you reseed them or not.

female-related

Ferengi

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species.

Ferengi Bug

See Telepathic Alien Kidnappers .

Ferengi Conference

If you download a dual-personnel card with this objective, only the  icons of Ferengi CIVILIANS on the card count toward the maximum of 11. For example, if you download The Trois, only Deanna's  icons count, but if you download Jake and Nog, all their  icons count.

Ferengi Financial Data Net

"Unique" means "non-universal" (not "the only copy in play"). For example, this event allows you to draw a card for each copy of Quark you have in play.

Ferengi Trading Post

Both players may use this outpost regardless of ownership. Your cards (including ships) may report and mix aboard (i.e., they are compatible with each other and with the outpost), board and disembark from your own ships, dock and undock, and beam to and from the outpost.

FGC-47 Research

The minimum span for this mission is 0.

Fifth

This personnel cannot return to hand a  objective which has been completed and relocated. See in play.

For Cardassia!

You may play multiple copies of this objective on multiple legates. If they all help complete HQ: Secure Homeworld, you may discard each objective; only one may place cards out-of-play to score points, while the rest may each download two Cardassians with Honor. See helps.

for free

A card that plays (or reports) for free does not count as your normal card play. It must be played during the card play segment of your turn, unless otherwise specified.

for uniqueness only

See Rulebook 10.2: Play 'For Uniqueness Only'.

force

A group of cards belonging to one player which may participate in a battle. In personnel battle, a force may be an Away Team or crew. In ship battle, a force may consist of one or more ships and/or facilities, including their crews (or your Away Team in your planet facility).

All cards in a force (including all crew members) must be compatible.

A force may include one or more affiliations which can restrict it from initiating battle or prevent it from being attacked. For example, any force which includes at least one  Federation-affiliation card, such as a  Non-Aligned ship with a mixed  Non-Aligned/ Federation crew, is a  Federation force and may not initiate battle except against  Borg and  self-controlling cards. A  Klingon ship with a mixed  Klingon- Romulan crew is both a  Klingon force and a  Romulan force. It may not initiate battle against  Romulans or be attacked by the opponent's  Romulan force.

Forced-Labor Camp

This objective refers to two planet locations: Cardassia IV (Rescue Prisoners) and Ligos VII (Distress Mission). See mission attempt.

Founder

See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Fractal Encryption Code

A ship affected by this interrupt may move by a means that does not require use of RANGE (e.g., Wormholes, time travel).

Frame of Mind

The personnel affected by this dilemma loses all skills. Any two regular skills in the game may be selected as replacements. See become, skills -modifying.

Friendly Fire

This dilemma is discarded immediately if its conditions (2 Leadership and 2 SECURITY) are met when encountered. It is not placed on the mission to count down. See dilemma resolution.

When placed on Empok Nor , it prevents both commandeering attempts (dilemma encounters) and actual commandeering.

full RANGE

"Full RANGE" means a card's printed RANGE plus enhancements (but not reductions). A card does not have its "full RANGE" available if its RANGE is reduced below full RANGE (for example, by Space Amoeba or damage) or if it has used any RANGE this turn.

full turn

See turn.

game deck

See Rulebook 3.0: Building A Deck.

game text

Gameplay information in the large text block at or near the bottom of each card (or on each end of a Mission card). See mission.

Gamma Quadrant

A "Gamma Quadrant mission" is a mission with a Gamma Quadrant Γ icon in its point box.

Garak Has Some Issues

The personnel affected by this dilemma is "stopped" only until the beginning of the next turn, as usual.

Gegis

This personnel's special skill makes all your  and  personnel at his location compatible.

gender

See Rulebook 10.3.0.8: Gender.

gender-related

See Rulebook 12.13.1: Gender-Related.

The Genesis Device

See playing an affiliation, point box.

genetically enhanced

This characteristic is not equivalent to the similar-sounding "genetically engineered." Hannah Bates cannot use Group Therapy. Genetically engineered personnel have genetic alterations from conception, while genetically enhanced personnel were born normal but later received genetic modifications.

Genetronic Replicator

As the card says, the 2 MEDICAL required to prevent the death must be present in the crew or Away Team with the personnel selected to die (e.g., in the combat group for a personnel battle, or in the Away Team facing a dilemma).

As the card says, the MEDICAL must not be targeted to die when Genetronic Replicator is activated. For example, Genetronic Replicator cannot save anyone from Barclay's Protomorphosis Disease, because all personnel present (including all MEDICAL) are targeted to die, and a MEDICAL personnel cannot save itself from death by using Genetronic Replicator.

As always, the 2 MEDICAL must not themselves be stunned, disabled, mortally wounded, or otherwise unable to use their MEDICAL.

See Rulebook 7.4.1: Personnel Battle.

Gi'ral

This personnel must be made compatible with Tokath to build a Colony with him.

Gift of the Tormentor

You cannot encounter this Q-icon interrupt from your own Q-Continuum side deck. See Q-icon cards.

This card's specific statement that it is placed in a discard pile (even though it is a  card) overrides the gametext that  cards are placed face-up beneath Q-Flash.

Gomtuu

This ship's WEAPONS are an undefined attribute. In a ship battle that includes Gomtuu, determine your ATTACK total normally, with Gomtuu contributing 0. Regardless of whether you score a hit, determine at this time (before damage is applied) whether Gomtuu is able to "hurl" the target; it may do so only if the target's SHIELDS (not the DEFENSE total) are less than 9. If so, "hurl" the ship after any damage for a hit or direct hit is applied. "Hurling" a ship does not in itself damage the target. Gomtuu cannot target or "hurl" any facility. See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Empathy x2 is a staffing requirement, not a special ability of the ship.

Grebnedlog

If this personnel captures an ENGINEER who received that skill from an Equipment card, the Equipment card is not relocated along with the captive.

group actions

See actions - group.

The Guardian of Forever

To use this doorway to "return here from there," at least one of the personnel returning from the time location must have originally time traveled to that time location from planet Gateway using The Guardian of Forever. They may perform other actions (including other forms of time travel) between the original time travel and the return. To draw cards, your Archaeology or Anthropology personnel must time travel to, and return from, a time location using the Guardian.

Guest Quarters

"Not cumulative" on this site means that if you have two Guest Quarters sites in play, you may not use the text of both sites to replace one card draw with a double draw. If you are entitled to two card draws during a turn, you could replace each of them with the double draw from one of the two Guest Quarters sites.

Guramba

See Rulebook 10.1.1.3: Guramba.

Hail

Although the ship targeted by this interrupt is not "stopped" (e.g., it may initiate battle or attempt a mission), it may not move this turn. See passing locations.

hand weapon

See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics: hand weapon.

Handshake

When you play this incident for its first function, the number of cards you have in hand includes the Handshake card.

Harness Particle 010

This objective does not work with Service the Collective or Population 9 Billion - All Borg, because it does not target a mission (it targets an Omega Particle ). However, because the objective allows scouting of the location, your Borg may acquire any artifact or card seeded like an artifact if the Survey Drone is present when you complete Harness Particle 010.

If this objective doubles the point box of an objective that has points added by Resistance is Futile, add points first and then double, as established by Rulebook 12.11: Set, Add, Multiply.

"has a Q-Flash"

See Q-Continuum side deck.

Hate Crime

See species.

He Will Make An Excellent Drone

Converting a counterpart to a drone with this interrupt (either a Borg pre-assimilated counterpart or your opponent's personnel that you assimilated as a counterpart) transforms the counterpart as if he were being assimilated as a drone. That is, it retains its existing three subcommand icons and its attributes become 7-7-7. See assimilation - personnel.

headquarters

A kind of facility. See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present".

held

For "held" by a dilemma, see Rulebook 7.2.2.0.1: Reading and Responding to Dilemmas. For "held" as a captive, see capturing.

helps

A personnel helps solve a mission or helps complete an objective if they actively contribute a skill, attribute, or characteristic required by the mission or objective. Just being in the Away Team or crew is not "helping."

here

See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present".

Hero of the Empire

The mission point adjustments from this objective apply to all missions completed during that game, even those completed before the timeline disruption. Because the mission points are changed, the adjustments are non-bonus points. See objective, mission, Protection Racket .

The phrase "Timeline disrupted in 2267" has no intrinsic effects other than those in this card's gametext.

hidden agenda

Cards with this icon represent secret objectives or other clandestine strategies. When you seed or play such a card, announce it as a hidden agenda card and place it face down on the table, normally without showing it to your opponent (if downloaded or played for free, e.g., using Q the Referee, the card must be shown for verification purposes). This counts as your turn during that seed phase, or as your normal card play, as appropriate. While face down, it is not in play, its identity is concealed, and it is immune to general-use cards (e.g., Kevin Uxbridge).

You may activate a hidden agenda card by turning it face up at any time, between other actions or as a valid response to another action (see actions - step 2: responses).

Activating a hidden agenda does not suspend play. (A seeded hidden agenda may not be activated until after the play phase begins.) This immediately activates the card's game text. If there are any conditions specified by the card, you must meet them at this time (if you cannot, you must immediately turn the card face down again). Once activated, the card remains face up.

When you use a special download  icon to download a hidden agenda card, you must play that card to the table, then immediately activate it and follow its game text (targeting something at the location of the special download icon if applicable).

If you seed or play a card as a hidden agenda when it does not bear a hidden agenda icon, you lose the game. Upon request, you must show any such cards at the end of the game to verify their status. If a card such as The Line Must Be Drawn Here or Mirror Image is activated in response to the play of one of the cards affected by it, it takes effect immediately in reference to that card play. For example, if you activate The Line Must Be Drawn Here in response to your opponent playing Kevin Uxbridge, they lose 5 points for playing that card (even if it is then nullified).

Hidden Fighter

This interrupt downloads a ship to your Away Team on a planet surface (outside a facility or landed ship).

highest total attributes

See Rulebook 12.5: Ties.

Hippocratic Oath

To pass this dilemma, the most CUNNING MEDICAL personnel must be able to relocate to another planet and still have MEDICAL skill after relocating. If they are unable to meet these conditions (for example, most CUNNING MEDICAL is a holographic personnel without a Mobile Holo-Emitter, or a Borg who has MEDICAL skill through skill-sharing when there is no skill-sharing hive with MEDICAL at the destination), or if there is no MEDICAL present, the Away Team or crew is "stopped" and the dilemma is replaced under the mission. (You may not choose to relocate a MEDICAL of lower CUNNING.)

Because a personnel may always carry equipment present when moving, an OFFICER using a Medical Kit to add MEDICAL may (and therefore must) relocate with the Medical Kit if she is the most CUNNING MEDICAL present.

Since it must relocate to the "nearest" planet, this dilemma may not relocate across quadrants, except when the Aid Fugitives mission is in play (in which case, it must relocate there). See Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near. If there is no other planet on the spaceline where this dilemma is encountered (and Aid Fugitives is not in play), discard the dilemma for lack of a target planet.

See quarantine.

Hirogen

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species.

His Honor, The High Sheriff Of Nottingham

When you choose the second option on this Q-icon dilemma ("return a captive to this location"), you select one of your personnel held captive by your opponent to be returned to the location of your crew or Away Team which encountered the dilemma. The dilemma has no effect on any of your opponent's personnel whom you are holding captive. See capturing.

hit

If your ATTACK total is more than your opponent's DEFENSE total, you score a hit on the target ship. "If you hit" means "if you score a hit or direct hit." See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

hive

All of one player's  affiliation cards at one location, whether in space, on a planet, aboard a ship or facility, etc.

holodeck

A type of special equipment, found on ships and a few facilities, which permits holographic personnel and equipment to be activated aboard.

Holodeck Door

This doorway in play on a facility allows your compatible  cards to report aboard regardless of quadrant.

holographic personnel and equipment

See Rulebook 6.3.2: Holographic Personnel and Equipment, Rulebook 10.3.0.4: Species, Rulebook 7.7.0.2: Personnel Assimilation.

Holoprogram: 221B Baker Street

When a personnel is placed on this incident, your copies do not have a  icon until they are in play; you may not report them as  personnel (e.g., to a ship with a Holodeck Door).

Holoprogram: The Office of Dixon Hill

If your opponent chooses the first option when you use this incident to request "the item," and you cannot legally play the card (or choose not to), you may not draw a card.

Holosuite

This site allows only personnel native to the quadrant to report.

Homefront

This incident has no effect on headquarters game text allowing seeding or playing of the headquarters or co-existence with another facility, or on normal reporting to the headquarters. A player without 4 SECURITY on the planet is prevented only from using text allowing free card plays and The Great Link's text keeping Ketracel-White from counting down.

A SECURITY personnel downloaded with this incident may not report for free using the text of a headquarters or other card. Your normal card play is an explicit cost of the download. The personnel must match both the affiliation and universe of the homeworld. See homeworld.

Most affiliations have their own homeworld, as indicated in the lore of the relevant Mission cards. For a list of all homeworlds, see Rulebook 14.1: List of Homeworlds.

The affiliation "matching a homeworld" (e.g., for HQ: Secure Homeworld) is the affiliation to whom the homeworld belongs, not the affiliation(s) whose icons may be printed on the mission. To match a homeworld affiliation, a personnel or ship must also match that homeworld's universe. See Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

Only affiliations have homeworlds, and the mission must specify that it is the "(affiliation) homeworld." Species do not have homeworlds.

No outposts may be seeded or built on any homeworld. Other facilities may be established there if the location meets the requirements of the Facility card.

Horga'h'n

You "use" the Horga'h'n (for purposes of cards such as Temporal Narcosis) each time you exercise the additional card play or draw. If you do not use the additional card play, you must draw the extra card.

house arrest

Your personnel may mix only if they are compatible. If you have personnel of different affiliations together aboard your ship or facility, and the treaty or other card that is making them compatible is nullified, the personnel who are incompatible with the ship or facility are placed under house arrest. If all are compatible with the ship or facility, or at the same site on a Nor, or aboard your opponent's ship or facility, the minority group is placed under house arrest. (Incompatible personnel on a planet surface split into two Away Teams instead.) They remain under house arrest until they are transferred to a planet or to your compatible ship or facility, or they walk to another site.

Personnel under house arrest may not staff a ship, attempt missions, participate in battle, etc. (See present.) You place under house arrest only cards you control - never your opponent's intruders, captives, etc. House arrest may also occur when you acquire an incompatible personnel aboard a ship (e.g., from a Cryosatellite or The Naked Truth). However, you may not voluntarily place your personnel in a house arrest situation. For example, without a treaty, you may not report a Klingon to a Romulan Outpost or Romulan headquarters (or to a Neutral Outpost where you have Romulans present), beam your Klingons aboard your Romulan ship, allow your Klingons and Romulans to stop at the same site, report Dr. Telek R'Mor aboard your Klingon ship, or switch Major Rakai's affiliation to Federation while she is aboard a Romulan ship. See treaties.

HQ: Defensive Measures

For this objective, "attempting" to seed a copy of a mission means seeding a copy. For example, if both you and your opponent seeded  Patrol Neutral Zone, they may attempt your copy. (Duplicated unique missions which are stacked are always considered "your mission.")

HQ: Ferengi Credit Exchange

This incident has three separate options: "score 2 points," "draw one card," and "place any one card from discard pile beneath draw deck." You may choose only one option for each Latinum discarded.

HQ: Orbital Weapons Platform

This incident may "fire upon" a target even if you do not have damage markers to place on it (you may not apply rotation damage instead), and may still exclude the target from battle. It may "fire upon" an opposing ship that was not participating in the attack; that ship becomes involved in the battle (and is therefore "stopped" afterward).

HQ: Return Orb to Bajor

The Mysterious Orb may be earned upon encounter by the  personnel affected by this objective, but it may not be "returned to Bajor" for the card draw or points, because it cannot be "present" with that personnel on Bajor. See encountered, present, stealing.

HQ: Secure Homeworld

See mission attempt.

HTSBEG

Holographic Tal Shiar Barbering and Engineering Guild. Covert intelligence agency jointly operated by Romulans, Bolians, and disguised quantum singularity lifeforms. Rumored to have infiltrated Sector 001 Headquarters and to have significant influence on expansion plans in the quadrant. Recently scored a major coup by gaining control of communications and intelligence.

Hugh

I Do Not Take Orders From You!

As the card says it targets "personnel," this interrupt cannot be used to kill Rogue Borg .

I Tried To Warn You

This dilemma destroys all points scored when the mission was solved (or just after), including bonus points such as points scored from Assign Mission Specialists or Particle Fountain.

I.K.C. and I.K.S

I.K.S. is equivalent to I.K.C.. See Rulebook 12.14: Equivalents.

I.K.S. T'Ong

This ship can report to any spaceline end, in any quadrant. It may report to a facility only if located at a spaceline end. The report with up to three personnel is not a report with crew action (full staffing is not required, and no equipment may report).

icons in game text

Game text may use an icon to refer to a trait of another card, such as a  personnel or a  card. Such a reference always refers to an icon in its normal location on a card, not to an icon within game text. For example, Q the Referee allows a  card to play for free, meaning any card identified by the  icon in its title bar (or with the icon added by Q the Referee). Saavik and Chula: Crossroads are not  cards, even though they have the  icon in their game text.

immune

If a card is immune to another card, it may not be affected by that card in any way. For example:

- An Event card that is "immune to Kevin Uxbridge" may not be nullified by Kevin Uxbridge.
- When Adapt: Modulate Shields is played on a Vidiian Harvester, your Borg may not be stunned or mortally wounded using that weapon, and it may not be used to harvest their organs with Organ Theft.

Impersonate Captive

See skills - modifying.

impersonator

See Rulebook 6.3.5: Mirror Opposites and Impersonators, Rulebook 7.9: Infiltrate.

implant card

This phrase, used on Assimilation Table, refers to any card with the word "implant" in the title, such as Ocular Implants.

Impose Order

After this mission has been solved, non-Borg players can "steal" its points back and forth from each other (slide the Mission card toward whomever stole the points last).

Impressive Trophies

See selections, Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

in orbit

A ship is in orbit or orbiting a planet when it is in space, undocked, at a planet location. A docked ship is not considered to be in orbit even if the facility is orbiting a planet.

in place of a card draw

See card draw.

in place of normal card play

See card play.

in play

A card is "in play" if it:

- has entered play (that is, it was played, was not nullified, and was not discarded as part of its results); or
- has been seeded face up; or
- has been exchanged for a card already in play; or
- has been activated by turning it face up (hidden agendas); or
- has been encountered like a dilemma or during a Q-Flash; or
- has been earned or acquired like an artifact (unless placed in the hand for later play);

AND it has not left play.

A card in play may leave play by being discarded (to the discard pile, bonus point area, The Next Emanation, etc.), placed out-of- play, re-seeded (e.g., with Q-Type Android), relocated as a marker (e.g., a completed objective such as Assimilate Homeworld), or returned to a player's hand, draw deck, or side deck; it is then no longer "in play." (A card such as Jem'Hadar Shrouding may also specify that certain cards are not in play.) Any cards placed on (or under) or played on (or aboard) that card are treated likewise (except cards which are exchanged for a card in hand or replaced by another card, and cards which are protected from Borg timeline disruption; see exchanging cards, Stop First Contact ).

Thus, a Personnel card is "in play" whether reported for duty, exchanged for another persona version, or recovered from an earned Cryosatellite. The personnel aboard a Cryosatellite are not "in play" until the Cryosatellite is earned and the personnel come aboard the ship. Personnel who are captured, in a Penalty Box, under The Nexus, "held" by a dilemma, or "lost" to Thine Own Self, are still in play.

When a personnel or ship leaves play, all previous effects on that card are cancelled (except use of a once per game function). If the same card is reported again, treat it as if it were a new copy of the card being reported. For example, replayed cards are "unstopped," a ship is undamaged and any RANGE used this turn is restored, and a personnel is no longer affected by Frame of Mind. When an effect depends on another card "in play" or when another term not specifying "present," "with," or "location" is used, it may benefit from either player's card (unless "your" or "opponent's" is specified, as with Ressikan Flute or Flaxian Assassin). Examples:

- Your opponent's Kareen Brianon enhances your Ira Graves' skills.
- Your K'nera scores points if either player's Korris or Konmel is killed in battle.
- Disabled cards and cards in play for uniqueness only cannot trigger such effects.

See Rulebook 10.2:8n Play 'For Uniqueness Only'.

In the Zone

For this incident, the points you score during a turn are the net total of positive and negative points scored. The points that do not count toward winning are the last positive points scored during a turn in which you score more than 50 points. For example:

- You complete a mission for 45 points. Later that same turn, you complete a Cytherians dilemma for 15 points, for a total of 60 points. 10 of the 15 Cytherians points do not count toward winning.

- Reversing the previous example, you complete a Cytherians dilemma and then solve a 45-point mission on the same turn. 10 of the mission points do not count toward winning.
- Continuing the second example, you then score -5 points from The Higher... The Fewer in the same turn. You now have a net total of 55 points; 5 of the mission points do not count toward winning.

The effects of In the Zone, Intermix Ratio , and Altonian Brain Teaser  are independent; each one could affect the same points. If you are affected by more than one of these cards, evaluate your points that count toward winning for each card separately; the lowest total is your current "points that count toward winning." Example:

- You are affected by both Intermix Ratio and In the Zone. At the start of your turn, you score 30 bonus points with Revenge Is A Dish Best Served Cold and 5 points with Colony, then solve a mission for 30 points. Your actual score is 65. For In the Zone, 10 of those points do not count toward winning, for a "win-capable" score of 50. For Intermix Ratio, 5 points do not count towards winning, for a "win-capable" score of 55. Taking the lower of the two, In the Zone limits you to 50 points counting toward winning.
- Next turn, you score 15 bonus points for a total actual score of 90. For In the Zone, 10 points still do not count toward winning, for a "win-capable" score of 65. For Intermix Ratio, 30 bonus points do not count toward winning, for a "win-capable" score of 60. Now Intermix Ratio is the card that limits your score to 60 points toward winning.

incident

A card type similar to an Event card. It may play on and affect another card, or may play on the table to have a widespread effect on various aspects of the game. Most incidents have a lasting effect (unless the card is nullified or discarded according to its game text). Playing an Incident card uses your normal card play.

Incoming Message: Attack Authorization

If you use this interrupt to attack your own ship when using a Battle Bridge side deck, you may draw and use a current tactic. The single current tactic applies to both the attacking and defending ships. However, if either of your ships is damaged, damage is applied as usual from your opponent's Battle Bridge side deck (or rotation damage if they have no side deck). See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

infiltration-related

See Rulebook 12.13.2: Infiltration-Related.

infiltrator

A personnel with an infiltration icon is not an infiltrator unless they are actually infiltrating the opponent's cards. See Rulebook 6.3.5: Mirror Opposites and Impersonators, Rulebook 7.9: Infiltrate.

Injector Assembly One

This card reports to the location, not to the ship. See report to.

insert into spaceline

When a card is allowed to be inserted into the spaceline, it may be placed at either end of the spaceline or between two cards already on the spaceline.

Intelligence

the terms "Intelligence" and "any Intelligence" refer to any of several skills: FCA, Intelligence, Klingon Intelligence, Memory Omega, Obsidian Order, Section 31, Tal Shiar, V'Shar. If a card requires multiple Intelligence skills ("any 3 Intelligence") you may use any combination of Intelligence skills to meet the requirement.

The Intendant

The Intendant "commands Terok Nor in the Mirror Universe," according to her lore. This identifies her as facility commander of Mirror Terok Nor, not the Terok Nor native to the Alpha Quadrant.

(This ruling applies only to The Intendant \(Mirror, Mirror\), not The Intendant \(Crossover\).)

Intercept Maquis

See WEAPONS.

Interceptor

See landed ships, Rulebook 7.1.5.0.3: RANGE Boosts in Regions.

Nine of Eleven (Interlink Drone)

See Rulebook 10.1.0.2: Sharing Skills.

Intermix Ratio

This event prevents bonus points in excess of your non-bonus points from counting toward a winning score (but does not cancel them). See points, In the Zone . Example: You have 20 non-bonus points and 80 bonus points. 80:20 is greater than a 1:1 ratio, so the excess 60 bonus points do not count toward winning. A total of 40 points (20 non-bonus + 20 bonus) count toward winning. However, if you encountered the Dead End dilemma, you would pass it, because you actually have 100 points. If you score another 30 non-bonus points, you now have 50 non-bonus points and 80 bonus points. The excess is now only 30 points, and 50 of the bonus points count toward winning, so you win with 100 points.

Your bonus point total is the total of your positive and negative bonus points; e.g., if you have 45 bonus points and then lose 10 points to Edo Probe, your bonus point total is 35. If your bonus point total is negative, you have no "excess bonus points" and the ratio will be negative (less than 1:1), so Intermix Ratio has no effect on your score.

Interrogation

You do not lose any points already scored with this event if the interrogated personnel is released. For example, if on three successive turns your opponent answers "Four," "Four," and "Five," you score a total of 12 points (1 + 1 + 10) and then return the captive to your opponent's outpost. See Madred , outpost.

interrupt

A card type which generally has a temporary impact on the game, and is then discarded (though a few enter play permanently or until a countdown has expired). An interrupt does not use your normal card play. You may play as many interrupts as you like, during either player's turn, and at any time between other actions.

Some Interrupt cards specify that they respond directly to another action, allowing them to literally "interrupt" that action (for example, to nullify it). See actions - interrupting.

Into the Breach

Because all damage is resolved as a group, this Q-icon event will not repair a ship that has received enough damage to destroy it. It does not affect  ships or the Borg Ship dilemma. See Borg: Borg-affiliation ships

intruder

Your personnel aboard a ship or facility controlled by your opponent is both an Away Team member and an intruder. Rogue Borg interrupts aboard any ship or facility are also intruders (unless Lore Returns  makes them its crew).

Intruder Alert!

Activating this incident is not a valid response to the play of Rogue Borg. See hidden agenda, Intruder Force Field , protecting cards.

Intruder Force Field

When this event "reverses Telepathic Alien Kidnappers affecting you," interpret your opponent's Telepathic Alien Kidnappers as though you had played it. That is, you now guess a card type at the end of each of your turns and point to a card in your opponent's hand. Only one copy may affect Telepathic Alien Kidnappers each turn (the copy played by the opponent of the player using Telepathic Alien Kidnappers). See cumulative.

This event disables Rogue Borg unless there are at least three aboard your ship. This effect may be extended to personnel intruders with Intruder Alert! invalid card plays

See actions - step 2: responses.

Invasive Beam-In

See landed ship.

invasive transporters

A type of ship's special equipment. It has no built-in functions, but is activated by the Invasive Beam-in card.

Investigate Legend

An outpost at this location is in space and thus is not cloaked. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

The 2 Youth discarded to solve this mission can be part of the 3 Youth used to fulfill the first part of the mission requirements. Discarding a personnel card does not use its skill (for Assign Mission Specialists ).

Investigate Time Continuum

If you need to show prior to solving that you can meet the Time Travel Pod mission requirement (for example, for Lack of Preparation or Armus: Energy Field), you must control an earned copy in play.

Investigator Odo

See does not use.

Isabella

This interrupt does not affect  ships. The ship is destroyed at the end of the next turn of the player who plays the interrupt. See Borg: Borg-affiliation ships.

Ishka

See skills - modifying.

Isolytic Burst

When this tactic is your current tactic and you hit your target, the current tactic is placed as the first damage marker. It kills one personnel with its damage text, plus an additional personnel according to its game text. Additional copies placed as damage markers take only one casualty.

The Issue is Patriotism

This Q-icon interrupt forces you to initiate a battle only if opposing ships or Away Teams are already present together at any location; if not, discard the interrupt without effect. You are not required or allowed to move a ship or personnel to another location in order to initiate battle. "Opposing Away Teams" may include any two groups of opposing personnel, whether crew or Away Team.

Issue Secret Orders

This objective requires the owner of the ship and crew to use them to move to and attempt the targeted mission. The infiltrator's owner does not control the ship and crew. See actions - required.

The opponent must attempt the mission targeted by this objective "if possible." That means the mission must be attemptable by the opponent's affiliation and must not have been made unattemptable (e.g., with I Tried To Warn You).

In general, the entire crew must participate in the attempt. However, affiliated personnel cannot be forced to beam to Qualor II Rendezvous; since they would be placed in stasis upon beamdown, it is not possible for those personnel to attempt this mission.

Ja'rod

See skills.

Jake and Nog

This dual-personnel card cannot probe for Visit Cochrane Memorial because it contains only one human with ENGINEER x1/2. The other "half ENGINEER" is Ferengi species. However, they could build a Ferengi Trading Post if in Ferengi mode, because together they have one Ferengi-affiliation ENGINEER skill. See skills.

James T. Kirk

See helps.

Jean-Luc Picard (First Contact)

This personnel is not Borg.

Juliana Tainer

This personnel is unaware that she is an android. She becomes aware if she is in a situation which either requires an android (and no other androids are present) or treats androids differently from regular personnel. Once she becomes aware, she can use her full CUNNING and STRENGTH but is "stopped" for the rest of that turn. Cards that affect androids affect her (making her aware) even if she is unaware that she is an android. For example, she becomes Non-Aligned when Lore's Fingernail  is in play.

Both her skills are special skills. See skills.

"just"

See actions - "just".

just encountered

See actions - step 1: initiation.

just initiated

See actions - step 1: initiation.

just played

A card has been "just played" when the card play has been initiated, but before it has its results. See actions - step 1: initiation.

K'chiQ

This personnel cannot select a skill when recovered from a Cryosatellite, because she is not reporting for duty. At the start of your next turn you may change her "no skill" to any regular skill. See report.

Kahlest

See present.

Kai Winn

See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Kal-Toh

See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Kazon

An affiliation and a species.

The Kazon affiliation is composed of different sects, such as Kazon-Nistrim and Kazon-Ogla. The sects represent factions of the affiliation, not different species, e.g. Culluh and Karden belong to different sects, but are both Kazon species, while Seska (in Kazon affiliation mode) is a member of the Kazon-Nistrim sect but Cardassian species. See Rulebook 7.4: Battle, affiliation and species.

Keldon Advanced

See attribute enhancement, use \(skills\).

Ketracel-White

This Equipment card prevents the White Deprivation  incident from affecting  personnel. It has a countdown icon  which counts down only if any  personnel are present with the equipment (even if White Deprivation is not in play). If no  personnel are present, all Ketracel- White cards stay at their current count. Unless rationed by a Vorta, all Ketracel-White cards present with any number of  personnel count down at the end of each of your turns.

For example, three Ketracel-White cards will all count down at the end of your turn, whether you have one  personnel present or ten. At the end of the countdown, a Ketracel-White card self-nullifies and is discarded.

Rationing: If your Vorta is present with multiple Ketracel-White cards and at least one  personnel at the end of your turn, they may "ration" them so only one counts down. Select one card to count down (turn it 90 degrees).

The rest stay at their current count. You may select a different card each turn, leaving one countdown for each card "unused" so the card is not discarded. If you let any card count down for three turns, it self-nullifies and is discarded as usual.

Resetting: Primary Supply Depot and Remote Supply Depot both "reset" countdowns of Ketracel-White aboard. You must carry or beam unexpired cards from your ship to the outpost to reset the countdowns. While aboard the outpost, they count down normally at the end of your turn (if a  personnel is present) but immediately reset.

Kevin Uxbridge

This interrupt may be played as a response to the play or activation of an event.

Kevin Uxbridge: Convergence

This interrupt nullifies all unprotected events at the spaceline location where it is played. It may be nullified by Q2. This interrupt may be played as a response to the play or activation of an event. See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, card types.

Khan

See any, does not work with, playing an affiliation.

killed

See Rulebook 10.2: Killed or Destroyed.

Kira Nerys

This personnel's fourth skill is Navigation x2 and she is a former member of the Shakaar resistance cell. The Reflections foil version is misprinted ("Navigation" and "Skakaar").

Kivas Fajo

"NO INTEGRITY" on this personnel is an undefined attribute. An "unduplicated artifact" is one that is not duplicated anywhere in play. An artifact just earned is not present unless it joins the crew or Away Team. Making "parallel use of opponent's Palor Toff" means that each time your opponent plays Palor Toff: Alien Trader, you must also use that card's game text, if possible (i.e., you must retrieve a non-Personnel card from your own discard pile). A Countermanda suspending your opponent's Palor Toff does not affect your discard pile.

Klaestron Outpost

This outpost does not provide a built-in treaty, nor does it require a treaty for use. Like all multi-affiliation cards, you must declare its affiliation when seeded or played (at a mission bearing that affiliation icon), and may switch the affiliation as a game action during play. At any time, personnel aboard and ships docked at the outpost must be compatible with the outpost's current affiliation.

Klingon

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species, Rulebook 7.4: Battle.

Klingon Civil War

Points scored with this event are based on the printed values of WEAPONS and SHIELDS on the Ship cards destroyed. No modifiers are applied.

Klingon Death Yell

Either player may play this interrupt when any Klingon with Honor dies, subject to normal timing rules. You do not need to actually yell to score the points.

Klingon Outpost

See outpost.

Klingon Painstik

If this interrupt is played to prevent a unique personnel from being reported for duty again, it prevents reporting of any instance of that persona. Because persona replacement and morphing of one Founder into another are not reporting for duty, this interrupt will not prevent such exchanges from taking place.

Kova Tholl

Retaliation against an opponent's attack may include returning fire (see Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle), attempting to kill opposing personnel (e.g., by playing Phaser Burns or choosing to mortally wound an adversary; see Rulebook 7.4.1: Personnel Battle), and counter-attacking on your next turn (see battle). If you return fire or attempt to kill opposing personnel during the battle, you may not score Kova Tholl's points. Once you score the points, you may not counter-attack.

Kressari Rendezvous

See discarding.

La Forge Maneuver

"If the next action is an attack against that ship" refers to the next action of the player who played this interrupt (or to an attack by a  dilemma). If your opponent takes an action immediately after you play La Forge Maneuver on his ship, it does not cancel La Forge Maneuver's effect.

Lack of Preparation

On this dilemma, "Non-Borg" and "Borg" refer to the player, who is "playing a non-Borg affiliation" or "playing Borg affiliation." For a Borg player, the three required subcommand icons may be provided by one or more personnel. For example, the Borg Queen can overcome this dilemma. See playing Borg.

To get past this dilemma, the non-Borg player must have been able to meet the mission requirements when the current mission attempt began (not when the mission was first attempted).

Lal

See report, skills - modifying.

landed ships

A ship may not land unless allowed by its own text (e.g., Vulcan Lander) or that of another card (e.g., Engage Shuttle Operations, Establish Landing Protocols). Landing and taking off use RANGE only if specified by the card allowing it to land. For example, the Vulcan Lander uses 1 RANGE to land or take off; the Bajoran Interceptor uses none. See Rulebook 7.1.6.1: Carried Ships, on planet.

Unless a card (such as Orbital Bombardment or Breen CRM114) explicitly allows it, a landed ship may not attack or be attacked by a ship in orbit, and also may not attack or be attacked by an Away Team. A landed ship may not be targeted by any card that targets a ship, unless the card specifically allows it to target a landed ship. Thus, landed ships are immune to cards such as Temporal Rift, Loss of Orbital Stability, Wormholes, Warp Core Breach, Magic Carpet Ride OCD, Rogue Borg, etc.

Cards may beam to and from a landed ship even if a card (such as Invasive Transporters or Transport Drone) is required to enable the transport. Such cards do not target a ship but simply allow beaming through SHIELDS. Cards may report aboard a landed ship (if reporting is allowed by card text).

Some cards have the ability to take off or land "once each turn." If another card allows the ship to land or take off, it does not use up the one landing or takeoff per turn allowed by the ship's own game text. For example, if Establish Landing Protocols is in play, a Bajoran Interceptor may land or take off once per turn using its own text, and land or take off once more per turn using the event's text (and using 1 RANGE).

Lansor

When this personnel reports, you may download Marika and/or P'Chan if each is not already in play. You must discard Lansor at the end of any player's turn unless both Marika and P'Chan are in play. Either player's Marika or P'Chan in play prevents a download and keeps Lansor from being discarded. Marika's and P'Chan's skills and restrictions work similarly.

launch

See Rulebook 7.1.6.1: Carried Ships.

Launch Portal

This doorway allows you to launch any carried ships (see Rulebook 7.1.6.1: Carried Ships) at the time you play the doorway, even without Engage Shuttle Operations in play. It may download Engage Shuttle Operations: Dominion. See Rulebook 12.10: The Colon Rule, Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics. It does not allow you to break a quarantine.

leader

A leader for battle (or for a card referring to a leader) is any personnel with Leadership skill or with OFFICER skill or classification; or any personnel allowed by a card to act as a leader (e.g., Prepare Assault Teams). Being a leader does not confer Leadership skill on a personnel. A personnel such as Lon Suder who is allowed to initiate battle is not a leader.

The Borg affiliation may not use a leader instead of a  personnel to initiate battle. However, for cards that specifically require a leader, the Borg must use a leader as defined above.

least

See Rulebook 12.5: Ties.

leaves play

When a card is placed out-of-play or in the bonus point area, discarded, or returned to hand, it leaves play, even if it was not previously in play.

This is a temporary ruling, issued April 2024, subject to modification or reversal.

Li'seria

See Son'a ships.

Life's Simple Pleasures

Because this card's text does not provide a reporting destination, the report must be to a normal reporting location. It does not have to be the same location where this card was played.

Live Long and Prosper

If this interrupt returns to your hand a personnel who scores points upon dying (e.g., Aamin Marritza), you do not score the points.

location

There are two kinds of locations: spaceline locations (e.g., missions and Bajoran Wormhole ) and time locations (e.g., Montana Missile Complex). Site cards are not "locations" for gameplay purposes. A card that refers specifically to spaceline locations (e.g., The Traveler) does not include time locations, and vice versa. Locations may be planet , space , or "unspecified type" (created by cards such as Bajoran Wormhole , or Romulan Minefield).

Cards may be "at the same location," whether in space, aboard one or more ships, facilities, or sites, on a planet, in an Escape Pod, etc. (Cards seeded face down cannot affect or be affected by other cards at the same location until encountered or earned, or unless a card explicitly allows interaction with a seeded card.) Unless otherwise specified, this definition includes both players' ships and personnel, and no treaties are required for cards to be "at the same location." See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present". Examples:

- Zalkonian Vessel will kill either player's John Doe.
- Ves Alkar can gain Diplomacy from an opponent's female Empath.
- The two leaders for Arbiter of Succession may belong to either or both players.

Locutus of Borg

See counterpart.

Locutus' Borg Cube

See Borg Cube .

Lon Suder

This personnel's special skill allows him to initiate a personnel battle in place of a leader.

Long-Range Scan Shielding

A type of ship's special equipment. Long-Range Scan says it cannot target ships with this equipment.

long-term effects

A long-term effect (on a personnel or ship) is one that lasts until the end of the turn or longer, or until cured or nullified. Examples are Brain Drain and REM Fatigue Hallucinations. The death of a personnel is not considered a long-term effect. See discarding.

lore

This text, appearing on many card types, presents background information about the characters, ships, and other elements of the Star Trek universe. Lore sometimes contains terms that are relevant to gameplay, such as persona identification, matching commander information, species, ranks and titles, etc. However, mention in the lore of a term which is the name of a skill (such as Tal Shiar) does not confer that skill on a personnel and doesnot satisfy a requirement for that skill. See use \(skills\), Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Lore

When either player has this personnel in play, all numerical features of all Crystalline Entity dilemmas seeded or encountered by either player are doubled (see Rulebook 7.2.2.0.6: Doubling \(or Tripling\) Dilemmas). Two Lores in play do not quadruple Crystalline Entities (see Rulebook 12.9: The Cumulative Rule).

See Rulebook 14.7: List of Nemesis Icons.

Lore Returns

When you play this event on a ship, your Rogue Borg take control of that ship. They may move it and initiate battles regardless of staffing or leader requirements. The use of the name "Lore" in the game text is a reference to the event itself, not to the Lore personnel card.

Lore's Fingernail

See Juliana Tainer .

loses affiliation see become.

losing battle

See Rulebook 7.4.1: Personnel Battle, Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Loss of Orbital Stability see in orbit, Rulebook 10.1.0.7: Undefined and Variable Attributes.

Lumba

This personnel is female. See skills - modifying.

Madam Pulaski

This personnel's special skill gives you additional points for each unique mission you solve which was seeded by both players (i.e., both players seeded a copy of the same mission), not all unique missions seeded by either player. She must be in play when the mission is solved (but need not be present).

Madred

This personnel does not have Obsidian Order skill. See lore, use \(skills\), Non-Aligned.

As the cards say, Madred's bonus points directly change the value of Torture and Interrogation; they are not separate scoring events. For example, if your opponent resists Interrogation and you control Madred, you score 2 points, and both points can be nullified by a single use of Khan!.

Magic Carpet Ride OCD

This artifact may relocate a docked (but not landed) ship at its location. If the ship is docked at its opponent's Nor, its crew disembarked on the Nor are an Away Team and subject to relocation with the ship. Any Away Teams associated with the ship are relocated to the planet surface at the new location. See Rulebook 7.0.1: Crews, Away Teams, and Movement.

The owner of this artifact must use its game text immediately upon either player earning or acquiring the artifact. If there is no ship at the location to relocate, or if they choose not to do so, the artifact is discarded.

Major Rakal

Her attribute adjustments in Federation mode are a special skill. See Assign Support Personnel .

Makbar

See dilemma resolution.

Make It So

This incident does not restore a ship's RANGE when it "unstops" the ship and crew.

Make Us Go

If the CUNNING requirement is met, the ENGINEER returns to the crew or Away Team that meets it (not necessarily to where it was encountered) See dilemma resolution (the paragraph about personnel placed atop a mission).

Mandarin Bailiff

You may "post bail" for this Q-icon dilemma by transferring points to your opponent even if your score is zero or less. This will give you a negative score. "Transferring points" means that you lose points, while your opponent gains points.

Manheim's Dimensional Door

When this doorway allows a card to be played during a "temporal hiccup," that card may itself be suspended and allow another card to be played, and so on. It is suggested that you take the suspended cards and put them in a stack. When no more temporal hiccups occur, resolve the suspended cards in order from the top of the stack to the bottom. Each card play may be responded to normally, and a card may be played that affects an earlier, suspended card play. See actions - step 2: responses.

Example:

1. I play K'chiQ. You show a K'chiQ from hand; mine is suspended.
2. You play Palor Toff. I show a Palor Toff; yours is suspended.
3. I play Q's Tent. You show a Q's Tent; mine is suspended.
4. You play Q's Tent (the same one you showed earlier). I show no Q's Tent (my original one has been set aside and is not in my hand), so the card plays start to resolve.
5. Your Q's Tent resolves; you retrieve Wrong Door from your Tent.
6. I attempt to resolve my Q's Tent, but you respond with Wrong Door. I play Amanda Rogers to nullify your Wrong Door. My Q's Tent resolves and I retrieve a Countermanda.
7. You attempt to resolve Palor Toff. I play Countermanda, suspend your Palor Toff, and take three cards out of your discard pile. Your Palor Toff resolves; if no card remains to retrieve, simply discard Palor Toff.
8. My K'chiQ resolves and reports for duty.

Treat this doorway as if it read, "...whenever any player has a card in hand matching one just played face up by opponent..." Thus, you may not use the Manheim effect when a hidden agenda is played (because it must be played face down, and is immune to "general use cards") or activated (because it was not "just played"). A "matching" card is a copy.

Marika

See Lansor .

Masaka Transformations

If you have earned an artifact that is placed on the bottom of your draw deck due to this event, you may still play that artifact if you later draw it (or another copy of it) back into your hand. As always, you may not play more copies of an artifact than you earned.

The Mask of Korgano

Playing this event on a unique personnel does not allow you to bring another copy of that personnel (or any other instance of the same persona) into play at the same time. The presence or absence of an  icon does not affect the underlying persona.

matching affiliation

Two cards are of matching affiliation if their affiliation icons are the same. For example, if you have a Romulan/Cardassian treaty in play, your Cardassians match your Nor, but your Romulan and Non-Aligned cards do not (they are, however, compatible). If a site refers to a matching personnel, it means matching the affiliation of that facility. See loses affiliation.

When a Nor or ship is commandeered and its affiliation changes to match one of the commandeering personnel, treat it as though the new affiliation icon were printed on the card. For example, if you commandeer your opponent's Cardassian Terok Nor with a Romulan Away Team, it now conceptually has a Romulan icon; your Romulan cards now match the station's affiliation, while your opponent's Cardassian cards do not.

A personnel matches a mission's affiliation if they have one of the affiliation icons printed on the card (or added conceptually by a card such as Bribery or Arandis). A personnel matches a homeworld's affiliation if they are of the affiliation that belongs to that homeworld. For example, Cloaked Mission (Romulus) is the Romulan homeworld, but has a  affiliation icon. Gowron matches the mission's affiliation (icon), while Tomalak matches the homeworld's affiliation.

matching commander

See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics: matching commander, Intendant, The .

Matthew Dougherty

See helps.

meeting requirements

See Rulebook 7.2.1.0.3: Meeting Requirements is Mandatory.

Memory Wipe

This event implements a special play environment when playing Starter Deck II vs. Starter Deck II. You and your opponent must each seed the card and may not nullify it. This allows each player's cards of different affiliations to mix without having to use one or more Treaty cards. It may also be used in the normal play environment for either function, but your opponent is not required to use it and either player is free to nullify it. See Rulebook 7.0.1: Crews, Away Teams, and Movement, become, Stop First Contact , multi-affiliation cards.

Menos

See selections.

Mickey D.

This personnel automatically wins a Royale Casino side game for you if he is in your Away Team attempting the mission (not if he is in your hand).

Mila

This personnel cannot download an artifact used as equipment.

Mining Survey

If you add an affiliation icon to this mission (e.g., a  icon with Bribery), you may attempt it with that affiliation without controlling a Nor with Ore Processing Unit there.

Mirasta Yale

This personnel may not be reported normally, by downloading, by Devidian Door, etc. She may only be brought into play by seeding like a dilemma under Malcor III (the mission First Contact). Unlike a personnel seeded like an artifact, she enters play immediately when encountered by an Away Team during a mission or scouting attempt, even though the mission is not solved, joining the Away Team, forming a separate Away Team, or being captured as appropriate (see personnel - seeded).

Mirror Image

When this hidden agenda event is activated in response to the play of one of the target cards, the target card immediately takes effect for all players. For example, if Kivas Fajo - Collector is played and Mirror Image is activated in response, each player must choose someone to draw 3 cards. If they both choose the same player, that player must draw 6 cards. Revealing this event is not a valid response to your opponent encountering Thought Fire. See actions - step 2: responses.

This event is a successful probe for an  or  icon, even though the icons appear reversed.

Mirror Quadrant

Missions in the Mirror Quadrant have the Mirror Quadrant  icon in their point box. (These missions are sometimes also identified in their lore as belonging to the mirror universe.)

mirror universe

See Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

mis-seeds

If you seed, under one mission:

- more than one copy of the same dilemma (or card seeded like a dilemma): the first has its normal effect, the second is a mis-seed.
- more than one artifact (whether duplicates or not): all your artifacts there are mis-seeds.
- more than one copy of a card seeded like an artifact (such as personnel at Rescue Prisoners): all copies are mis-seeds. (Personnel may not be seeded in duplicate, even if they have a universal icon.)

If you and your opponent each seed an artifact, or a copy of the same card, under one mission, each has its normal effect (unless it is not duplicatable; see unique and universal).

When a mis-seed is revealed during a mission, scouting, or commandeering attempt, it is placed out-of-play. Mis-seeds are not encountered; for example, a mis-seeded dilemma may not be replaced with Q: A Dazzling Flash using Beware of Q.

If you reveal your own mis-seeded card under any mission, you may not attempt or solve that mission (or complete any objective targeting it) for the rest of the game. (If you reveal your own mis-seeded card under Empok Nor , you may not commandeer that Empok Nor while it is uncontrolled.) Revealing your opponent's mis-seeds, or your opponent revealing your mis-seeds, does not affect your ability to attempt or solve a mission or commandeer Empok Nor.

Mis-seeds include (but are not limited to) any cards which may not be seeded beneath a mission (such as Event cards), which were placed under a mission as a bluff, multiple copies of the same card seeded under one mission by a single player, multiple artifacts seeded under one mission by a single player, space dilemmas revealed from beneath planet missions (and vice versa), and personnel with no game text allowing them to seed (such as Mirasta Yale under a mission other than First Contact).

If cards you seeded legally become mis-seeds later in the game, they will not affect your ability to complete a mission. For example, using a Pla-Net to discard a Cryosatellite will not make any personnel seeded with the artifact prevent you from completing the mission (but you may not earn the personnel).

mission

A card type representing a location in space, in the present time of the Star Trek universe, where missions and objectives can be accomplished and battles may take place. There are three kinds of missions: space , planet , and dual-icon missions  .

During the mission seed phase, missions are laid out in one or more spacelines representing different quadrants of the galaxy. A mission's quadrant may be determined from its point box (if any). Gamma, Delta, and Mirror Quadrant missions have a , , or  symbol in their point boxes. Missions with no symbol (or no point box) are Alpha Quadrant missions. All missions may be seeded only on the appropriate spaceline. Missions may only be seeded, not played (unless expressly allowed by rule; see Q's Planet ; Persistence of Memory ).

Missions (and other spaceline locations) may not be moved between quadrants by cards that relocate locations.

A mission's lore may indicate that it belongs to a specific region of space (locations in the same region must be seeded adjacent to each other).

You may seed multiple copies of missions with the universal ? icon, but only one copy or version of a unique mission persona (without the icon); if a unique mission is a copy or version of one your opponent has seeded, stack your mission card on top of their's to form a single location.

Mission cards are designed with relevant information facing both players. A summary of the mission faces your opponent; complete information faces you. Sometimes the information facing your opponent is intentionally different from the information facing you. Unless otherwise specified by a card, each player is affected by the following only on the end of the mission facing them (and only on their copy, if both players seeded a copy or version of the mission): mission requirements, special instructions (italic game text), affiliation icons (or other indication of who may attempt a mission), point box, and span. Thus, Construct Depot may not be attempted or scouted by the opponent, because the opponent's end has no affiliation icons or text enabling an attempt, and no point box. Any information not normally included in the opponent's mission summary, including quadrant icons,  and  icons, and the mission name and lore (including regions) apply to both players. Icons (or game text) at each end of the Mission card indicate which affiliation(s) or other groups can attempt the mission. Game text also lists the requirements (skills, attributes, and other features) you must meet to complete (solve) the mission. (If there are no such icons or game text, or no requirements, that mission cannot be attempted.)

Game text in italic type on a mission card represents special instructions for use of the mission (not requirements for solving the mission). Unless the text specifies when it takes effect (e.g., "when mission solved"), it is always in effect. For example, no ship-to-ship beaming is allowed at any time at Quash Conspiracy, before or after the mission is solved. All special mission text applies even when the mission is attempted and solved with alternate requirements (e.g., Subjugate Planet). See Reunion , mission attempt.

You may not reduce a mission's point value to less than zero (e.g., with The Sheliak and Hero of the Empire). A mission without a point box has no point value (it is undefined) and thus is not affected by cards that change mission point values.

See point box, Rulebook 11.2: Planetary Destruction.

mission attempt

See Rulebook 7.2: Attempt a Mission, Rulebook 7.2: Beginning a Mission Attempt, Rulebook 7.2: Solving the Mission, Rulebook 7.2: Mission Failure.

Mission Briefing PADD

This works like the Vulcan Tricorder .

mission continues

See dilemma resolution.

Mission Debriefing

This event "stops" personnel after any mission attempt, whether successful or not. For example, if your Away Team resolves all dilemmas but cannot complete the mission, that mission attempt ends (unsuccessfully), and the Away Team is "stopped" if this event is in play. Additional personnel brought to the mission may complete the mission (and then will also be "stopped"), but the "stopped" personnel from the previous attempt may not assist them.

Mission Fatigue

If no personnel remain after this stop, reseed the revealed card beneath the mission to be encountered again. See dilemma resolution: targets.

Personnel are "stopped" normally (until start of next turn), not for the duration of the countdown, even if the dilemma itself is subsequently nullified.

mission II

See Rulebook 4.2.0.2: Built-In Cards, Rulebook 2.0.1: Double-Sided Cards, Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-Borg Cards In Your Deck.

mission requirements - alternate

See mission attempt.

mission specialist

See Assign Mission Specialists .

missions - persona

Some missions represent the same location in the Star Trek universe. Two missions are instances of the same persona if they are duplicates (copies); or if they are in the same quadrant AND have the exact same location text, the bold text in lore. Some examples:

- Deliver Ancient Artifact and Observe Ritual, which both have the location text: "Vulcan", represent the Vulcan persona.
- Catalog Phenomena, which has the location text: "Nekrit Expanse Region • Plasma storm", and Study Plasma Storm, which has the location text: "Plasma storm", do not represent the same location. One has a region in the location text and one does not, and thus they do not represent the same persona.
- Alter Records and Disrupt Alliance each have the location text: "Bajor Region • Bajor." However, Alter Records is in the Alpha Quadrant, while Disrupt Alliance is in the Mirror Quadrant. Therefore they do not represent the same persona.

You may not seed, nor include in your seed deck, more than once instance of the same mission persona, unless that mission is universal.

mix

This term is interchangeable with mix and cooperate. When a card allows cards of different affiliations to mix, those cards are compatible.

Mobile Holo-Emitter

This Equipment card may be placed on a deactivated (disabled) holographic personnel. It is still being "worn" even if the hologram is deactivated. "While worn, does not count as an Equipment card" means it cannot be targeted as an Equipment card (e.g., it is immune to Disruptor Overload, Common Thief, stealing, etc.).

A hologram cannot "put on" a Mobile Holo-Emitter while reporting, but must first report to a place where it can exist, then put on the Mobile Holo-Emitter. You may not voluntarily remove a Mobile Holo-Emitter from a personnel if this would cause them to stop existing.

modifier order

When more than one effect modifies a numeric feature on a card (such as an attribute, requirement, or point box), first apply any effects that set a specific value, then apply any effects that add or subtract from the value, then finally apply any effects that multiply the value (by doubling, tripling, or halving it).

For example, if your U.S.S. Enterprise (9 RANGE) is benefiting from Space Boomer (RANGE +3) and Transwarp Conduit (RANGE doubled), but also has rotation damage (RANGE set to 5), its range is first set by the damage (RANGE 5), added to by Space Boomer (RANGE 5+3=8), then doubled by Transwarp Conduit (RANGE 8x2 = 16). See attribute modifiers, printed number, skills - modifying. (For doubled dilemmas, see dilemma resolution.)

Mona Lisa

You are directly responsible for destroying this artifact if your non-dilemma card destroys it.

Montana Missile Complex

Seeding a Phoenix from outside the game beneath this time location is mandatory. If you do not have a Phoenix to seed, you may not play the time location.

"Once Phoenix has taken off or Vulcan Lander has landed here, nullifies Stop First Contact" means that all Stop First Contact objectives are nullified for the rest of the game (similar to the once in play rule).

The Phoenix that takes off to nullify Stop First Contact must be the one seeded under the time location, not a played copy.

Mordock

If you participate in any battle at any time during the game (before or after you score points with Mordock), you lose any bonus points already scored with this personnel's skill, and you may not score any further points from his skill. You have participated in a battle if you attack or are attacked by your opponent or another force (such as Rogue Borg or the Borg Ship dilemma), whether you return fire or not. If Mordock is killed, captured, loses his skill, etc., you keep the bonus points scored as long as you do not battle (but the points are still lost if you battle after he is killed).

morph card

any non-personnel card whose gametext includes "morph", "morphs", or "morphing".

Mortal Q

This personnel's CUNNING of "Q" is an undefined attribute. It is not affected by the value of "Q" defined by Ar-Q-ologist or The Higher... The Q-er. See skills, once in play.

mortally wounded

See stunned and mortally wounded.

most

See Rulebook 12.5: Ties.

movement

There are two kinds of movement:

- Normal movement - often indicated by the word "move." This is the default type of movement provided when a card does not specify otherwise. "Stopped" cards cannot perform normal movement.
 - Normal ship movement describes all these actions: using RANGE, landing, taking off, launching, loading, docking, undocking, ship-based time travel (Orb of Time, first function of Temporal Vortex), and the use of cards such as Transwarp Network Gateways and Bajoran Wormhole . Normal movement requires full Rulebook 7.1.3: Staff a Ship.
 - Normal personnel movement includes beaming, walking between sites, boarding and disembarking from a docked, landed, or carried ship, entering and exiting from a planet facility, and time travel.
- Relocation - identified by the word "relocate" (Mysterious Orb, second function of Temporal Vortex) or by a euphemism such as "hurl" (Gomtuu), "transport" (Maman Picard), or "must follow" (Temporal Wake). Relocation does not require full ship staffing, and "stopped" cards may be relocated.

You may move a card any number of times during your turn.

Whenever a card or rule allows or requires your personnel to move (for example, Security Office, Emergency Transporter Armbands, walking between sites), they may carry Equipment cards with them. You may not transfer any card into space unless a card specifically allows you to do so (for example, Airlock, Anti-Matter Pod). When a card or rule affects (for example, Establish Tractor Lock) or checks (for example, Magnetic North) for movement using the word "move," it affects or checks all forms of movement.

A staffed ship can move along your side of the spaceline from one location to another. To determine how much RANGE a move uses, add up the span of the destination and each location the ship "warps past" along the way, not counting the starting location. There is no limit on the number of times a ship may move on a turn, but a ship can no longer move if it uses all its RANGE for the turn. For example, three consecutive missions A, B, and C on a spaceline have spans of 2, 4, and 3. A ship starting at mission A will use 7 RANGE to reach mission C ("warping past" mission B), and 6 RANGE to return from C to A. It would need at least 13 RANGE to make both moves in a single turn.

A ship flying by a location cannot affect, and is not affected by, cards at that location (unless the card says it affects ships passing by), even if an action suspends play at the moment the ship is passing the location. For example, if play is suspended when a ship is passing the ?Nebula mission and the opponent scores points while play is suspended, that ship does not face a dilemma.

You may move any number of ships on your turn, but they must move one at a time (not as a "fleet"). See Rulebook 7.1.7: Move Between Quadrants.

movement between quadrants

See Rulebook 7.1.7: Move Between Quadrants.

movement between time location and spaceline

See time travel.

movement within a region

See Rulebook 7.1.5.0.3: RANGE Boosts in Regions.

multi-affiliation cards

Rulebook 6.3.3: Multi-Affiliation Cards.

Multidimensional Transport Device

The text of this card overrides the general rule that corresponding locations must be in the same quadrant. This equipment may be beamed along with the personnel it is affecting, or left behind. See corresponding, Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

multiple targets

See Rulebook 7.4.2: Ship Battle.

Nine of Seventeen (Multiplexor Drone)

This personnel's skill allows its ship to fire WEAPONS against multiple targets during a battle, if a current objective or other card (e.g., Gowron of Borg) allows targeting of multiple ships, or if returning fire or counter-attacking. For example, if your opponent attacked any of your forces on the previous turn, and they have two ships and an outpost at the location of that attack, your Borg Cube with a Multiplexor Drone and two other  Borg aboard may attack both ships and the outpost with 24 WEAPONS against each of the three targets.

You cannot use your Multiplexor Drone's special skill during a battle initiated using your Eliminate Starship, because that objective does not allow firing WEAPONS against multiple targets. See Rulebook 7.4.3: Ship Battle: Multitargeting.

must do nothing but

See actions - required.

Mutation

This interrupt is discarded after you shuffle the top two cards of your discard pile into your draw deck or discard a card to draw two. See actions - step 3: results.

Mysterious Orb

See HQ: Return Orb to Bajor , anywhere, Assimilate Counterpart .

named in lore

See Rulebook 10.3.0.12: Named in Lore.

Naomi Wildman

This personnel doubles the first-listed skill of other personnel only if it a regular skill. See skills, skills - modifying.

Naprem

See Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

native quadrant

All personnel, ships, and facilities are native to the Alpha Quadrant, except those that have a Gamma , Delta , or Mirror  icon. See Rulebook 6.3: Reporting for Duty, Rulebook 4.4: Facility Phase.

native to this timeline

See time location.

Navigate Plasma Storms

Because this card does not have "specific targeting" of particular ships, a cloaked ship (but not a phased ship) in the Badlands triggers probing for, and may be damaged or destroyed by, this objective. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Near-Warp Transport

You may use this interrupt to transport through a Q-Net, but, as the card says, it does not allow you to overcome any obstacles to beaming. See Rulebook 7.1.1.0.2: Card-Activated Transport.

nearest

See Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near.

nebula

A location is a nebula if it has the word "nebula" in its card title or lore. See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Nebula

This mission is not attemptable. (See Rulebook 7.2: Beginning a Mission Attempt.) Dilemmas may be seeded under this mission. Dilemmas may be seeded under this mission.

If you have a ship at this location when your opponent scores points, that ship and its crew must reveal and encounter the next dilemma under the mission. If you have more than one ship at the location, you choose which ship will face the dilemma. Ships "flying by" the mission (even if points are scored while play is suspended) are not affected. This is not a mission attempt, does not require "unstopped" personnel, full staffing, or a personnel matching the ship's affiliation, and does not allow acquisition of artifacts seeded under the mission. If the ship's entire crew is disabled or in stasis, the dilemma is encountered by a "crew" of zero members, and is immediately reseeded. See Rulebook 7.2.6.0.1: Reseed After Escapes.

Since the Scan requirement to initiate battle applies only to players, and  Self-Controlling Cards are not controlled by either player, the requirement does not apply to them.

See movement (explaining "flying by"), actions - step 1: initiation (explaining the use of a Scan card "as a cost").

The Needs of the Many

A Tactic card just placed as a damage marker "would destroy your ship" if that marker will reduce the HULL integrity to 0 or less. A dilemma "would destroy your ship" if your opponent is not using a Battle Bridge side deck and the dilemma damages an already-damaged ship a second time (or a  dilemma is destroying it in battle); or if its direct effect is to destroy the ship rather than damage it (e.g., Cosmic String Fragment).

nemesis icon

Nemesis icons identify a relationship between personnel and/or ships that lead to the destruction of one of the pair. Two cards that have a nemesis relationship will have icons of the same color but pointing in different directions.

If two or more personnel or ships with opposing nemesis icons are present with each other at the end of a player's turn, that player must choose one of them to be immediately killed (personnel) or destroyed (ships), regardless of ownership. (If a nemesis ship is cloaked or phased, it is not affected by - and cannot affect - an external nemesis.) This is not a battle.

For example, if your Pralor Unit 3947 is on a planet with your opponent's Cravic Unit 122 at the end of your turn, you must choose one of them to be discarded. If you have left your Pralor Unit 3947 aboard your Cravic Warship at the end of your turn, you must choose one to be discarded. (If you choose to destroy the ship, all personnel aboard - including Pralor Unit 3947 - will be killed.)

Neural Servo Device

See control.

Neutral

An affiliation consisting of only a few cards (not a full affiliation). While similar to Non-Aligned, neutral cards are neither an aligned affiliation nor Non-Aligned.

Neutral Outpost

See repair.

The Nexus

This doorway destroys all ships at its location when it is placed on the far end of the spaceline; when it moves to a new location at the end of every turn; and whenever a ship moves to or appears at its location. See Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near.

A player may relocate their personnel from under The Nexus either while it is on the spaceline or after it is placed on table.

If The Nexus is returned to the spaceline, or is played without being encountered during a mission attempt, its end-of-turn movement is towards the far end of the spaceline.

Nightmare

This incident is not nullified if the number of cards in hand is momentarily reduced below the number of stored cards during the resolution of a card such as Masaka Transformations.

NO

Indicates an undefined attribute, as in "NO INTEGRITY."

No Way Out

This incident does not force you to initiate battle. If your personnel are involved in a battle while it is in play, mortally wounding or stunning is not optional. If you use this incident to place a dual-personnel card in your point area, you score points only for the INTEGRITY of each individual on the card who has Honor x2. For example, if Sons of Mogh are killed in battle, you score points only for Worf. See in play.

Non-Aligned

An affiliation. Non-Aligned (and Neutral) cards are compatible with (may mix and work with) cards of any affiliation (except Borg). Thus, personnel and ships of all affiliations may report for duty at Non-Aligned or Neutral outposts, but incompatible personnel or ships may not mix aboard or dock at the outpost at the same time. Non-Aligned and Neutral cards may initiate battle against any affiliation, including their own. In all other respects, the Non-Aligned and Neutral affiliations work exactly like other affiliations.

All Non-Aligned personnel of Cardassian or Ferengi species remain Non-Aligned by affiliation.

non-Federation, non-

A non- Away Team, crew, or force is one that contains no  cards.

Nor

Generic term for a Cardassian-origin mining station, a type of facility.

normal card play

See card play.

normal speed

See actions - required.

not duplicatable

See unique and universal.

not repeatable

See combo dilemma.

nullify

To nullify a card is to cancel and discard it. If a card is nullified before it resolves, the nullified card has no results. "Destroy" on a card means the same as "nullify" (except in the context of physical destruction such as battle, Black Hole, or Supernova). See actions - step 2: responses.

Some cards nullify an action or effect, rather than a card. For example, Edo Vessel may nullify a battle. This is synonymous with "cancel".

"May be nullified by..." - A card containing this phrase may be nullified by the card listed, as well as any other applicable nullifying cards. For example, Frigid is a  Q-icon event which "may be nullified by Fire Sculptor." It may also be nullified by Kevin Uxbridge or by Miss Q.

"May be nullified only by..." - A card containing this phrase cannot be nullified by any cards other than the one listed. For example, interrupts may normally be nullified by Amanda Rogers. However, the  Q-icon interrupt, Gift of the Tormentor, "may be nullified only by Countermanda," so it is immune to Amanda Rogers (and Miss Q).

"May not be nullified." - A card containing this phrase may not be nullified by any card (unless another card specifically states that it nullifies that card by name). For example, Hide and Seek, when used as a  Q-icon event, "may not be nullified." It cannot be nullified by Kevin Uxbridge, Mercy Kill, Miss Q, or any other card that may normally nullify events or  Q-icon cards.

O'Brien and Kira

The skill gain is an automatic modifier, so you must select her skill immediately after the time travel; this is not optional. The skill lasts only "during" the turn she time traveled, and she cannot gain multiple skills by time-traveling multiple times.

Obelisk of Masaka

You may use this incident to download Masaka Transformations only during your own turn. It does not allow you to convert card draws to downloads; it limits the number of card draws you may convert to downloads using another card with such a function, such as the Borg Queen.

objective

A card type representing an assignment or task to perform, which may score points or provide other benefits. It may play on the table, or play on and affect another card.

Playing an Objective card uses your normal card play.

Objectives remain in play until nullified, discarded, or relocated according to their gametext. Once an objective is completed or resolved and is relocated somewhere to mark this (e.g., Establish Gateway, Hero of the Empire), it may no longer be nullified. Points for an objective with a point box are scored when the objective is successfully completed. Performing other listed results of the objective are additional results and have no effect on scoring the points.

A Borg player is limited to one Borg Use Only  current objective at a time. Any player may have any number of non- objectives in play at a time.

Obsession

When you destroy a  Self-Controlling card, Obsession scores based on the 's printed RANGE. (The scoring happens when the  reaches the point area, when attribute modifiers no longer apply.)

Obsidian Order

See use \(skills\).

occupied

A ship, facility, or site is occupied if at least one personnel is aboard. An unoccupied ship, facility, or site is empty.

Odo

See does not use.

off line

See damage.

Omega Particle

This event may play only on your outpost, even if downloaded with Harness Particle 010.

on planet

Cards which are in a planet facility or aboard a ship landed on a planet are also "on planet," even though they are not on the planet's surface.

on table

A card that "seeds on table" or "plays on table" is placed in a special area on the table away from the spaceline. Cards on the spaceline are not considered to be "on table."

once each (every) turn

See once per turn.

once in play

When a card has an effect "once in play," that effect continues for the rest of the game, even after the card is no longer in play (unless another card specifically cancels the effect). For example, Mortal Q's special skill says, "Once in play, your Q-Continuum is inactive." Even if Mortal Q is killed, your Q-Continuum remains inactive for the rest of the game. However, if you nullify (discard) your Mortal Q with Immortal Again, your Q-Continuum is reactivated, as stated on Immortal Again. See rest of game.

once per game

When a card has an effect that may be used "once" or "once per game" (including special downloads), you may use that card's effect only once during a game, no matter how many copies of that card you have in play during that game (even universal cards). For example, you may download Reflection Therapy only once per game with Suna's skill, even if you play multiple copies of Suna. You and your opponent may each use such text once per game if you each control a copy of that card. If the same "once per game" skill is included on different cards, you may use the skill once for each card; for example, you may use the ability to peek at seed cards once per game for Ajur and once per game for Boratus.

"Twice," "thrice," "twice per game," and "thrice per game" work similarly: you may use such an effect only two or three times per game, regardless of how many copies of the card you have in play.

once per turn

A card whose effect is limited to use "once per turn," "once each turn," or "once every turn" can be used only once during a turn regardless of the number of copies of that card you have in play, except for cards with a universal  icon and cumulative cards. Each copy of a  or cumulative card may use a "once per turn" effect once during a turn.

One

This personnel shares skills from other Borg present (but they do not share his skills). See Rulebook 10.1.0.2: Sharing Skills.

He has built-in transporters, as stated in his lore, and needs no ship or facility transporters to beam. Like all personnel, he may carry equipment when beaming.

Oof!

Opponent loses 5 points for each copy of Amanda Rogers, Kevin Uxbridge, and Q2 they own which has been removed from the game. It does not require you to track who removed a card from the game.

Operate Wormhole Relays

See wormholes - movement through.

Ophidian Cane

This artifact is played as a response to saying "Devidian Door," allowing three Personnel and/or Equipment cards to be reported to the same destination.

opponent's choice

See selections.

opposing

An opposing personnel, ship, or facility is one controlled by your opponent and which is not cloaked, phased, disabled, infiltrating, or in stasis. See unopposed, Patrol Neutral Zone .

opposite

See persona, Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

Ops

The affiliation of a personnel or ship downloaded to any site using this site's text must match the affiliation of the Nor. A treaty makes cards compatible but not matching affiliation. You are not required to have a personnel in Ops in order to download a card to any site. Only the destination site must be unopposed.

A "card which may play there" is one which is allowed to play there by the text of the destination site (e.g., Security Office, "SECURITY-classification personnel and hand weapons may report here"), or by its own text (e.g., Weapons Locker "plays on ... Security Office"). If an additional card is required to allow the card to play there, it may not be downloaded (even if the additional card is present). For example, you may not download a non-SECURITY Bajoran to Security Office even if The Emissary is there; you may not download a Breen CRM114 to the Security Office even if a Breen or arms dealer is there.

Orb Negotiations

You may seed any number of different Orb artifacts (no duplicates) under this mission, in place of the single artifact normally allowed at a mission.

Orb of Prophecy and Change

On this artifact, "Insert it anywhere within your draw deck" refers to the top card of your draw deck that you just looked at, not the Orb itself.

orbiting

See in orbit.

Ore Processing Unit

A station is "under Federation or Bajoran control" if its current affiliation is  or . See Rulebook 12.3.0.2: Affiliation Control.

Organ Theft

See immune, Vidiian Harvester.

other

Refers to any appropriate target that is not the physical card referenced.

out-of-play

When directed to place a card out-of-play, place it in a pile separate from the discard pile. Discarded cards are not out-of-play (although they are not in play, either). When you place any card out-of-play (including unused seed cards), you must first show it to your opponent.

outpost

A kind of facility. Outposts are space facilities. If you have no outpost in play, no player may play a card requiring you to return a personnel or ship to your outpost, nor may you choose an effect on a card that would require an outpost.

outpost - built-in

See Mission II.

Outpost Raid

"If at your outpost" means if you encounter this dilemma at a location where you have an outpost, whether it is a planet or space mission. "Outpost" does not include other types of facilities. Personnel aboard the outpost are not affected by the dilemma.

outside the game

A card brought in from outside the game (e.g., Phoenix seeded under Montana Missile Complex or the contents of a First Contact expansion pack added by Add Distinctiveness) must be removed at the end of the game, and your deck restored to its original condition.

overcome

a dilemma is overcome once its conditions are met. A dilemma that is discarded by some other means (such as being discarded after a condition is failed) is not considered overcome. A dilemma without conditions is not considered overcome.

overlays - Borg

See assimilation - personnel.

owner

The owner of a card is the player who originally stocked that card in their game deck (or brought it into play from outside the game).

See Rulebook 12.3: Control and Ownership.

P'Chan

See Lansor .

Palor Toff: Alien Trader

See discard pile.

Parallax Arguers

This interrupt has multiple functions. During initiation of the card play, you must declare which function of the interrupt you are using and meet any conditions for using that function. If you do not meet the conditions for that function, it is an invalid card play and the card returns to your hand. See actions - step 1: initiation.

The condition for using the first function of the card is that "that [the previous game action] was cool." This means that you say it was cool, and your opponent does not disagree with you. (He does not have to actively agree.)

The condition for using the second function of the card is that "you just argued" over the coolness of the last game action. This means that you said it was cool, and your opponent disagreed. No other "arguments" count for this card.

Here's how to play Parallax Arguers (PA) for the first two functions:

1. Just after a game action is completed, say "That was cool," and attempt to play PA. If your opponent does not disagree, carry out the results of the first function: place the PA in your bonus point area, with $X=5$. If your opponent disagrees, return the PA to your hand; it was an invalid card play (the condition was not met).
2. You now meet the conditions for the second function. If you want to use that function, say, "We just argued," and play the PA. Carry out the results of the second function: play an Event card from your hand, and place the PA in your bonus point area with $X=0$. If you do not want to use this function, you don't have to.
3. Here's how the third function (nullifying another PA) works:
 1. I play a PA (for coolness). $X=5$, but...
 2. You respond by playing a PA to nullify my PA. Mine is discarded; for yours, $X=10$, but...
 3. I respond by playing another PA to nullify yours. Yours is now discarded; for mine, $X=15$.

In other words, if we play a chain of PAs, each one nullifies the previous one, and the last player to play a PA scores a total of 5 points for each PA in the chain. All PAs except the last, unnullified one are discarded. The last one goes in its owner's bonus point area. Unless nullified, this interrupt is placed in your bonus point area regardless of its use, even if its point value is 0. ($X=5$, 0, or "opponent's Arguers points + 5.") Thus, it may not be retrieved and reused after using it to play an event.

Parallel Romance

When affected by Let Me Help, the STRENGTH-2 on Parallel Romance becomes STRENGTH-3 (not STRENGTH-1).

particle scattering device

A type of ship's special equipment. It has no built-in function, but is activated by the Particle Scattering Field card.

passing locations

To "pass" or "fly by" a location (e.g., for Cargo Bay, Subspace Warp Rift, or Hail), your ship must move to it from one location and away from it to a different one, all using span numbers. The ship is not considered to pass a mission if it moves away from it back in the direction it came from (e.g., picking up someone stranded at the end of the spaceline), or if it moves to or from the mission without using span numbers (e.g., Wormhole).

Patrol Neutral Zone

There are "no opposing ships in Neutral Zone" if your opponent has no opposing ships (including landed and docked ships) at any location that is part of the Neutral Zone (see regions of space). See unopposed, Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Paul Rice

This personnel may nullify one Echo Papa 607 Killer Drone per turn.

Pel

See selections.

Penalty Box

This Q-icon event is not a capturing-related card. See Rulebook 12.13.3: Capturing-Related.

Persistence of Memory

This artifact "reverses" the effect of one of a number of cards. The following entries are the official definitions of "reversed" effects for the cards affected by Persistence of Memory:

Horga'hn - Artifact allows opponent to gain an additional card play or card draw each turn. (Not cumulative.)

Thought Maker - Name a card type, then take all cards with that card type from your draw deck, shuffle them, and place them on top of deck.

Mona Lisa - If destroyed, the opponent of the player directly causing the destruction (if any) loses points. (Not duplicatable.)

Static Warp Bubble - At the end of each of their turns, this card's controller must discard a card (their choice).

Kivas Fajo: Collector - Opponent must choose a player to draw three cards. Discard event.

The Traveler: Transcendence - End of each turn, the player not targeted by this card must draw a card. (Static Warp Bubbles are still nullified.)

Devidian Door - While in play, allows you to send a card "to the future." Once each turn, you may say "Devidian Door" and take (from anywhere in play) one of your Personnel or Equipment cards to your hand. On your next turn (or at game end, if sooner), you must show opponent a Devidian Door from your hand and place it out-of-play, or you lose the game. (Note that you play Persistence of Memory on a copy of Devidian Door played on the table, not a copy that is shown from hand.)

Black Hole - Remains a location with span of 1. Every four full turns, inserts one new  Space location from outside the game (regardless of out-of-play restrictions). Alternates, first inserting one on your left, then on your right, and so on. (Not duplicatable.)

Supernova - Remove from mission (discard event). Everything previously destroyed there remains destroyed except Mission card, which is restored (including converting back to a , if applicable) and may be attempted unless already solved.

Anti-Time Anomaly - Plays on table. At the start of each turn, you may remove a damage marker from one ship at any Devron System. When countdown expires, all players reveal their draw decks and take turns placing all of their revealed personnel into play, anywhere. This is not a card play or download. (Uniqueness and reporting restrictions are therefore ignored.)

persona

See Rulebook 6.3.1: Duplication and Personas, Rulebook 6.5.2: Persona Replacement, Rulebook 6.3.5: Mirror Opposites and Impersonators.

personnel

A card type representing a character from the Star Trek universe. Personnel have eight different classifications and three attributes: INTEGRITY, CUNNING, and STRENGTH. These classifications and attributes, along with skills listed on the cards (e.g., Navigation or Stellar Cartography), are used to overcome dilemmas and complete missions. Personnel also may have icons indicating such features as ship staffing ability, origination in an alternate universe or timeline, Orb experience, or membership in the Maquis. (Borg have no classifications, and have special subcommand icons.)

personnel - seeded

Some game text allows you to seed Personnel cards under a mission (e.g., Cryosatellite, Rescue Prisoners, Tora Ziyal, Q-Type Android). Such cards are seeded face-down, like artifacts, and are earned when the mission is solved or a  objective targeting the mission is completed (if a card gives them permission to acquire artifacts). (Mirasta Yale  is an exception; she seeds like a dilemma and is earned when encountered.) Seeded personnel that you own join your crew or Away Team, if compatible; otherwise they are placed under house arrest (on a ship) or form a separate Away Team (on a planet). Seeded personnel owned by your opponent become your captives. See capturing, misseeds, Rulebook 6.2: Entering Play.

personnel movement

See movement.

personnel type

The eight personnel types (OFFICER, ENGINEER, MEDICAL, etc.; see Rulebook 14.3: List of Personnel Types) appear as classifications; some also appear as skills. If a card requires a personnel type without specifying either a classification or a skill, either will satisfy the requirement.

Phased Matter

If there is only one personnel in the Away Team, that personnel is the "larger group" (compared to a size-zero group) and is placed in stasis. See Rulebook 12.4: Stasis.

phasing

See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

phasing cloak

This special equipment allows a ship and its crew to go "out of phase" with the universe. The ship is both invisible and untouchable, and thus can fly through planets and other navigational obstructions. While phased, the ship receives a RANGE enhancement as indicated on the card providing the phasing ability. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Phoenix

"NO WEAPONS" is an undefined attribute. Acquiring the Phoenix at Montana Missile Complex is a normal action.

Picard's Artificial Heart

This Q-icon artifact can be stocked only in your Q-Continuum side deck. When your opponent encounters it, immediately seed it under the mission where encountered. Whenever the mission is completed, you - the card's owner - always take it into your hand. (If scouting, it is taken into hand as soon as it is encountered.) See meeting requirements.

Plain, Simple Garak

This personnel's special skill allows you to perform a persona replacement at any time, rather than only at the start of your turn. He may be replaced only by another true version of the Elim Garak persona. (The  Garak and  Security Chief Garak are not true versions of the Elim Garak persona.)

planet facility

A planet facility is any headquarters or station which says that it seeds or plays on a planet (whether it names a specific planet or not). All other facilities, including all outposts, are space facilities. See landed ships, on planet, and surface.

Planet of Galactic Peace

You may move non-compatible personnel between two missions affected by this card. However, you must be able to "fly by" any intervening locations (including any Q-Nets) and may not stop voluntarily (even to avoid damage from a Subspace Warp Rift ) , because stopping at a location without Planet of Galactic Peace would create a voluntary house arrest situation. If stopped involuntarily (e.g. by an opponent's Hail ) , your incompatible personnel are placed under house arrest.

planet surface

See surface.

Plans of the Obsidian Order

The personnel with Obsidian Order skill (or Tal Shiar skill, on the similar Plans of the Tal Shiar) must be at the mission location where you play your Espionage card for free. You do not need such a personnel in play to use the other functions of these objectives.

Plans of the Tal Shiar

See Plans of the Obsidian Order .

play phase

After the seed phases are over, the starting player (chosen before the seed phases began) takes the first turn, then players alternate turns until one player wins. See Rulebook 9.0: Winning the Game.

played as

See Rulebook 12.14: Equivalents.

playing an affiliation

You are "playing [affiliation or faction]" or are an "[affiliation or faction name] player" if you control or have controlled at least one card belonging to that affiliation or faction (or any  Borg Use Only card, if  Borg), or used a multi-affiliation card you have controlled in that affiliation mode at any time during the game, regardless of whether any such cards are still in play. Active infiltrators, cards you do not own, and cards whose affiliation was changed by an opponent's card are not considered when determining if you are playing an affiliation or faction. See faction.

You are "playing only [affiliation, faction, or combination]" if you are playing that affiliation or faction and all cards you own and control (or have controlled) belong to that affiliation, faction, or combination (except active infiltrators and cards whose affiliation was changed by an opponent's card).

The phrases "playing Borg", "Borg player", and "Cardassian player" refer to the affiliations, not the species. Thus, a player with non- Cardassians (like -mode Joret Dal) is not vulnerable to Tekeny Ghemor's special skill that targets "Cardassian players."

Remember that a player who stocks any  or  cards may not stock any cards from other affiliations. See [Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-!\[\]\(f40fcf1439bdf0ff0174e7d9c96d1715_img.jpg\) Cards in Your Deck](#).

playing Borg

See playing an affiliation, [Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-!\[\]\(83bbbd261710c59db0214aa27b2edc0d_img.jpg\) Cards in Your Deck](#).

point box

A point box on a card may contain a number (a point value) or a variable such as X or 10X. "A point box" is any point box regardless of its contents. "A point box with a number" is one with just a number and no variable.

A point box "shows" only the integer value in the point box (for example, X is showing no points; 30* is showing 30 points). Only ignore a variable if checking what the point box "shows." Calculate the full current value of the mission for other purposes (such as Establish Trade Route).

points

"Scoring points" refers to any change in a player's score, either gaining or losing points. A card with a negative point value reduces your score by those points, possibly resulting in a negative score. For example, if your score is 0 and you score a dilemma with a -10 point value, your score is -10. Points scored from Mission cards and  Objective cards are non-bonus points. Positive or negative points from any other source are bonus points.

When points are transferred between players, the changes in score are treated independently. For example, if you nullify a point loss from Mandarin Bailiff with Bribery, your opponent still gains points. If you are playing Borg and cannot gain bonus points, your non-Borg opponent will still lose them.

If a card, such as Intermix Ratio  or In the Zone , says that certain points "do not count toward winning," those points are not counted for determining a winner and loser. The points are not lost or cancelled, and still count for other purposes, such as passing Dead End.

pooling skills

See Blood Screening .

Post Garrison

See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Prefix Code Transmission

You may play this interrupt on your ship if it is firing on a multi-affiliation ship that has an affiliation icon matching yours, even if the target is not currently in that mode.

Prepare Assault Teams

Activating this objective is a valid response to the initiation of personnel battle, activating all its text. You may download a weapon or use SECURITY as a leader even if you do not split your Away Team. If you split your personnel, each assault team must have at least one personnel card in it; it may not consist solely of Equipment cards. If you initiated the battle, your assault team that you choose to participate in the battle must contain a leader (unless counterattacking).

Prepare the Prisoner

See Rulebook 12.13.3: Capturing-Related.

present

See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present".

prevents

See actions - step 2: responses.

Primary Supply Depot

This outpost may be seeded at any non-homeworld Gamma Quadrant mission, regardless of affiliation icons. It may not be built later. See repair, Ketracel-White .

printed

A card's printed features are those that appear directly on the card, without modification or interpolation.

For example, Devidian Door's gametext includes the word "Equipment," which is generally equivalent to the  icon. However, Devidian Door does not have a printed  icon. Since probing only examines printed features, probing for Imperial Intimidation with Devidian Door as probe card triggers the Rebellion outcome, not the Intimidation outcome.

Likewise, Rom's printed CUNNING is X. His special skill allows him to set $X = 4$ or 9 at will, but his printed CUNNING is always X. Thus, Rom is always stopped by Paralyzed By Fear.

Likewise, on Romulan Mind Probes, Stella Mudd's special skill ("🔴 If with Harcourt Fenton Mudd, gains SECURITY and Leadership") does not match either of Ty Kojada's regular skills ("🔴 SECURITY 🔴 Leadership"), even if Harcourt Fenton Mudd is present. Her special skill only matches an identical, printed special skill (for example, on another copy of Stella Mudd).

printed number

Cards that increase each printed number on another card affect number words (for example, "two" becomes "three"), ordinals ("first" becomes "second"), and numerals ("1" becomes "2"). This includes printed numerals on countdown icons (🟢2 becomes 🟢3). It does not include non-numbers such as "an" or "the." See Rascals 🟡.

probing

See Rulebook 8.2: Probing.

Process Ore 🟡

See Ore Processing Unit 🟡.

One of Eleven (Procurement Drone)

This drone may steal any equipment card for the Borg to use, regardless of that equipment's affiliation restrictions. See stealing.

Proficiency Drone

See Seven of Nine 🟡.

Protect Shipment 🟡

See WEAPONS.

protecting cards

When a card, such as Ready Room Door or Intruder Alert, downloads and protects another card from nullification, the card is placed to protect the downloaded card only after the opponent declines or fails to nullify that event. A hidden agenda card may not be protected until after it has been activated.

Protection Racket 🟡

Because this card's controller initiates the main action (the "threat"), and because any resulting death is caused by Protection Racket (not by opponent's probe card), killing Captain Kirk with Protection Racket is not "an action your opponent initiated" and does not trigger Hero of the Empire 🟡's timeline disruption.

Protouniverse 🟡

If you nullify this interrupt, the "Subspace Seaweed" dilemma is discarded also.

"Pup" 🟡

See attribute modifiers, Rulebook 10.2.3.0:1"Disabled" Ship Systems, Birth of "Junior" 🟡.

Q the Referee 🟡

When you use this incident to play a 🟡 card with a Hidden Agenda icon for free, you must show the card to your opponent to verify its 🟡 status before playing it face down on the table. Activating this incident does not suspend play and is not a valid response to any action. You may activate it only between other actions. The incident must already be face up before you may suspend play to download another 🟡 card. See icons in game text.

Q's Fantasy Women

See helps.

Q's Planet

This Q-icon mission is not seeded at the beginning of the game, but comes into play later. (See Q-icon cards.) You may stock it either in your Q-Continuum side deck or in your Q's Tent. When your opponent encounters this card from your Q-Continuum, you immediately insert it anywhere in the Alpha Quadrant spaceline, regardless of where it is encountered and even if there are no missions yet on that spaceline.

Starting with your opponent, both players take turns placing seed cards under the mission (up to 3 each). You may not "pass" during the seeding until you have no cards left to seed. You may place seed cards only face down under the mission and all normal seeding and mis-seed rules apply.

If stocked in your Q's Tent, Q's Planet may be retrieved normally by playing a Q's Tent from hand (or by a card that allows it to be downloaded). You may insert it into the Alpha Quadrant spaceline as your normal card play (or play immediately if downloaded). Players then place seed cards as described above. While it may not be nullified by a counter-card (such as Miss Q), Q's Planet may be destroyed by a Supernova or Black Hole. Once destroyed, its game text requiring an additional 40 points to win is no longer in effect. See nullify.

Treat this mission like a unique mission in case of duplication. If you attempt to play a copy of Q's Planet when your opponent's copy is already on the spaceline, place your copy on top of the one already in play. It is treated by both players as "their" mission for all purposes, including Fair Play. See seed phases.

Like any unique mission, Q's Planet can be solved only once per game. If it is destroyed after being solved, any copy subsequently played by any player enters play already solved, and no cards may be seeded there.

Q's Tent

This doorway requires you to choose a target card to take into your hand as part of initiating the card play. Announce the play of Q's Tent (without naming a target card), look through your Q's Tent side deck and choose a card, and show it to your opponent, who may then respond by nullifying the Q's Tent or revealing a Computer Crash. See actions - step 1: initiation.

After you play this doorway, you may not draw any cards for the remainder of the turn. See card draw.

Q's Tent side deck

This side deck allows you to stock up to 13 different cards (no duplicates) which you can access during play. You may stock any card in your Q's Tent side deck except a Q-icon card (unless allowed by the card), or a Tactic, Tribble, or Trouble card.

Cards that must normally be seeded (e.g., missions, dilemmas, and artifacts) can be placed in your Q's Tent, but you will not be able to use them unless a card allows it (Q's Planet, Hide and Seek, Starry Night, etc.). The side deck is activated during the doorway seed phase by a Q's Tent doorway placed face up on top of the side deck.

There are three ways to retrieve cards from Q's Tent:

You may stock additional Q's Tent doorways in your draw deck. You may then play a Q's Tent doorway from your hand at any time during your turn (subject to normal timing rules) to take a card from your Q's Tent side deck (either randomly or selectively, as described on the card) into your hand. You may then play the card normally from your hand, whenever you may legally play that card. You may not play a Q's Tent from your hand if your Q's Tent side deck is empty.

You may use a card that allows downloading to access cards stocked in your Tent.

Some cards specifically allow you to take cards from Q's Tent (e.g., Q's Planet, Hide and Seek).

If the seeded Q's Tent doorway is closed, you may not retrieve cards from Q's Tent unless a card explicitly allows you to access a closed Tent.

Q-Continuum side deck

This side deck is made up of cards identified by the  icon. You can have as many Q-icon cards in your side deck as you like, even duplicates. The side deck is activated during the doorway seed phase by a Q-Flash doorway seeded face up on top of the side deck.

Force your opponent to face the cards in your Q-Continuum with cards that cause "Q-Flashes," like Q: A Dazzling Flash, Beware of Q, and Q: Enter the Supernova. If you have no open Q-Continuum side deck when opponent's crew or Away Team "has a Q-Flash," the Q-Flash still occurs (nullifying Military Privilege), but no  cards are drawn or played.

If an entire crew or Away Team is killed, captured, relocated, or otherwise unable to continue a Q-Flash, continue to draw any remaining  Q-icon cards, but discard  dilemmas without effect.

Q-Flash

See Q-Continuum side deck, leaves play.

Q-icon cards

Cards identified by the special  icon, representing actions of Q or one of the other Q entities, come into play only through a special Q-Continuum side deck, unless a card's text allows them to be used in another way (e.g., Q's Planet, Hide and Seek, Beware of Q). (If so, you do not need a Q-Continuum side deck, or any seeded Q-Flash doorways, to use these cards.)

Although labeled as interrupts, events, dilemmas, and other card types, they cannot normally be used the same way as other cards of those types. The objective card Beware of Q allows Q-icon dilemmas (but not other Q-icon card types) to seed as normal  dilemmas. Q-icon cards can be nullified in the normal ways (dilemmas by Q2, events by Kevin Uxbridge, and interrupts by Amanda Rogers) unless otherwise specified. See nullify.

A Q-icon card that contains the phrase "until any Q-Flash" has its effect only until the next Q-Flash card occurs, for either player.

Q-Net

As the card says, this event affects only Ship cards. It has no effect on  Self-Controlling Cards, Calamarain, The Nexus, etc. See adjacent.

Q-related dilemma

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

Q-Type Android

When your Personnel card is seeded by your opponent under Q's Planet with the second function of this Q-icon dilemma, it is no longer in play until earned when the mission is solved. See personnel - seeded.

If two copies of the same personnel are seeded there, the second one encountered will be a mis-seed and placed out-of-play (if revealed by your opponent, they cannot solve the mission).

If a Borg is altered by this dilemma, they gain the characteristic "inorganic," their biological distinctiveness or species becomes android and their STRENGTH is + 4 (but they are still Borg). If a dual-personnel card containing an android and a non-android is selected for the first function, the species of both personnel are altered. The android becomes human (species human) and the non-android becomes an android.

Qapla'!

In Federation Standard, the title, lore, and game text of this interrupt would read:

SUCCESS! When threatened, fight. When in doubt, surprise them. Brute strength is not the most important asset in a fight. Real power is in the heart. A Klingon does not run away from his battles. If an opponent attacks you, during that battle your Klingons with Honor add INTEGRITY to STRENGTH. (Not cumulative.)

quadrant rule

See report.

Quantum Fissure

A cloaked or phased ship present does not keep you from passing this dilemma. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Quantum Incursions

Each time this doorway is faced the QR code must be scanned to determine the requirements for that encounter. If this is not possible, a different method for generating a random number 1-6 (e.g. a standard die) should be used. 1: To get past, you must have SECURITY and 2  personnel 2: To get past, you must have an  personnel and 2 SCIENCE 3: To get past, you must have SCIENCE and 2 Empathy 4: To get past, you must have Empathy and 2 Physics 5: To get past, you must have Physics and 2 Navigation 6: To get past, you must have Navigation and 2 SECURITY

Quantum Singularity Lifeforms

Any ship of Romulan affiliation or origin at the mission location will trigger this dilemma (not just the ship attempting the mission). Only ships and personnel at the location when the dilemma is encountered (including personnel aboard a facility at the location) are placed in stasis; ships and personnel arriving later do not enter stasis. Any player may bring in a new ENGINEER or play Emergency Transporter Armbands to cure the dilemma and release all ships and personnel from stasis. See Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

Quantum Slipstream Drive

See full RANGE.

quarantine

See Rulebook 10.2.7: Quarantined.

Quark's Bar

See report.

Quark's Isolinear Rods

This incident nullifies cards preventing you from playing a Q's Tent only when you are actually playing one. For example, it will not nullify a Revolving Door on your Q's Tent side deck when you are trying to download a card from there.

Quash Conspiracy

This mission's special text "No ship-to-ship beaming" does not restrict beaming to and from an outpost or a dilemma (Tarellian Plague Ship ).

Queen's Borg Cube

See Borg Cube .

Quinn

You may play up to three copies of this interrupt per game. Each copy is placed in your bonus point area (if successfully played) or in your discard pile (if nullified) after use. That is, one Quinn does not nullify three cards. See once per game.

Radioactive Garbage Scow

When this dilemma is encountered and placed on the spaceline, the mission attempt ends immediately. (It does not affect Borg scouting.) The ship and crew (or Away Team, when encountered on a planet in the Female's Love Interest & Garbage Scow combo dilemma) are not "stopped," because the dilemma has no conditions.

re-selecting skills

See skills - modifying.

Reaction Control Thrusters

When you move a facility with this event, any docked ships are carried along (this is not normal ship movement), while undocked ships are left behind.

Reactor Overload

There are no conditions for placing this incident on a ship or facility for the second function. The incident is "used" and returns to hand even if there are no androids,  personnel, etc. aboard to affect.

Ready Room Door

You may dispose of this doorway in any of the three ways listed, whether it was used to download a matching commander or a Captain's Order. See protecting cards.

You may download another matching commander to a ship that already has one aboard (though the ship may not benefit from more than one, such as with Captain's Log).

Reassimilate Lost Drone

Once you achieve a successful probe for the first icon in this objective's probe list , and abduct the target, you ignore that probe icon in subsequent probes. Only the second outcome is relevant once the target has been abducted.

Rebel Interceptor

See interceptor.

Receptacle Stones

Since stopped personnel cannot encounter dilemmas, they cannot meet requirements on or be targeted by dilemmas faced due to Receptacle Stones.

Recruit Mercenaries

Both  and  personnel downloaded by this event must have Treachery. The negative points for this event are scored ("paid") at the location where you download the mercenaries. See Altonian Brain Teaser .

Red Alert!

Interrupts may not be played between the individual cards reported, but each card play may be responded to appropriately. See card play, actions - group, actions - "just".

Reflection Therapy

This objective can change a regular skill that was added by an Equipment card, Mot's Advice, etc.

See present, Assign Mission Specialists , skills - modifying.

Refuse Immigration

See WEAPONS.

Regenerate

If seed cards such as dilemmas or artifacts are shuffled into your deck using this event, you may not use or discard them unless a card specifically allows it. See discard pile, discarding.

The Regenerate card is discarded after the deck regeneration is complete.

Regent Worf

When this personnel assigns a new matching commander to a ship, this supersedes the ship's previous matching commander, if it had one. (The assigned personnel must match the ship's affiliation.)

The assignment remains in effect until he reassigns it, even if Regent Worf is no longer aboard that ship or leaves play.

Matching commander assignments are for specific copies of a Personnel card and a Ship card; they do not extend to other copies of a universal ship or personnel.

Reginald Barclay (The Borg)

This personnel scores bonus points only for missions you solve while he is in play.

Remote Supply Depot

This outpost may be built at any mission with a Dominion affiliation icon in either quadrant. It may not be seeded. See repair, Ketracel-White .

repair

If your ship's damage is indicated by your opponent's damage markers, you may remove one damage marker (random selection) at the end of each of your turns that ship remains docked at an outpost that makes repairs or a Docking Pylons site for the full turn.

Whenever a ship or facility is fully repaired by a card such as Defense System Upgrade, Exocomp, or Spacedock, remove all of its damage markers. Damage markers are also removed if the ship or facility leaves play for any reason (for example, being returned to hand or placed out-of-play).

If your ship's damage is indicated by card rotation (because your opponent is not using a Battle Bridge side deck), you may repair it by docking at an outpost that makes repairs or a Docking Pylons site for two of your full turns. Any outpost can make repairs unless its text says it does not. A Spacedock played on a facility allows immediate repair of ships that dock there, even if the facility itself does not allow repairs. Facilities may be repaired only by a card that allows it, such as Defense System Upgrade.

replacing cards

See exchanging cards.

report

Personnel, Ship, and Equipment cards must normally report for duty to a compatible outpost, headquarters, site, or other place that allows reporting (i.e., personnel may not normally be reported directly aboard a ship or to a planet). Place the card face up at the facility or site and announce the card name, then stack the card under the facility or on top of the site. You may not report any card (except a ship) into space.

When a facility or its site allows you to report a card for duty, you may do so only if that card and the facility are both in their native quadrant. (Equipment cards are native to all quadrants and thus may report to any appropriate facility that is in its native quadrant.) For example, your Morn may not report to Quark's Bar or download to Cargo Bay on Mirror Terok Nor.

If the card allowing a card to report for duty is not a facility or site (such as The Emissary or Devidian Door), the card may report to any quadrant (even if it happens to be reporting aboard a facility) unless otherwise specified by the game text. Thus, you may report cards outside their native quadrant using cards such as Assign Mission Specialists, Assign Support Personnel, Spacedoor, Space-Time Portal (report with function), Sleeper Trap, Borg Cube, Temporal Micro-Wormhole, and Barzan Wormhole. (However, if a card requires that a card match the affiliation of a homeworld, it must also match the homeworld's universe. See homeworld.)

A ship, even if landable, always reports in space (usually docked) unless a card specifically allows or requires it to report landed. For example, you may not report a Rebel Interceptor landed, but a Romulan Shuttle downloaded with Hidden Fighter must report landed ("Downloads ... to your Away Team on a planet").

Reporting a card is synonymous with playing a card. Any personnel, ship, or Equipment card "played" by any means (e.g., normal card play, Devidian Door, downloading into play) is "reporting for duty." Any action that may or must take place upon reporting takes place at the time of play.

Personnel seeded under a mission (e.g., with a Cryosatellite, under Rescue Prisoners, Mirasta Yale) have already conceptually reported for duty. Thus, they do not report for duty when acquired, but simply join your crew or Away Team (if your opponent seeded them, you capture them). See personnel - seeded. Actions dependent on reporting cannot take place.

Persona replacement is not a card play or reporting for duty, but an exchange for a personnel who already reported for duty. See exchanging cards.

Selected or shared features or skills do not exist until you have reported the personnel for duty. For example, the card Soong-type Android may not report to a site allowing a certain classification to report, because it has no classification before reporting; skills are not shared by drones being reported to a hive with skill-sharing enabled, until after they have been reported. See skills - modifying. See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

See also Rulebook 6.3: Reporting for Duty, "report to" and "report with".

report to

When a ship reports "to" a ship, it plays somewhere it will be present with that ship (in the same orbit, docked at the same station, aboard the target ship if it can be carried, etc.). When a ship reports "to" a location, it likewise reports somewhere it will be present with the location.

report with

When a card allows a ship to report with certain cards, you may play the ship from your hand with the specified cards (also from your hand) aboard. The cards aboard must be compatible (as usual), but are reporting to a specific destination (the ship) and thus do not need to be in their native quadrant. Each card is reported as a separate sub-action of the report with group action, and may be responded to appropriately. See actions - group.

Playing a ship ordinarily uses your normal card play. Reporting with additional cards aboard does not change that. (However, some cards, like Space-Time Portal, allow you to report a ship with cards without using your card play.) "Report with" text on a ship may not be used in combination with cards that play the ship some other way. For example, if you download Bajoran Raider with Hidden Fighter, or report a Rigelian Freighter for free at Docking Ports, it may not report with personnel.

To report with staffing is to report with cards necessary to staff the ship (and no more).

The "report with" mechanic will eventually replace the "report with crew" mechanic (to which it bears a very close resemblance). It will be expanded in a future rules update.

report with crew

When a card allows a ship to report with crew, you may report the ship with any number of compatible Personnel and/or Equipment cards from your hand aboard (you may not download the cards unless specified). You must report at least enough personnel to meet the staffing requirements. Each card is reported as a separate sub-action of the report with crew group action, and may be responded to appropriately. See action - group.

Reporting with crew replaces your normal card play, except for the reports allowed by Space-Time Portal and Sphere Encounter. You may not replace an additional card play, such as one allowed by Delta Quadrant Spatial Scission.

When a ship's text allows it to report with crew, you may not use that text in combination with game text allowing the ship to report in some other way. For example, if you download Bajoran Raider with Hidden Fighter, it may not report with crew.

If game text does not use the phrase report with crew, it is not a report with crew action, even if it allows you to report a ship with specified personnel aboard (e.g., I.K.C. T'Ong, Retask).

reporting for duty

See report.

Repurposed Outpost

Ordinarily, a  Outpost would allow all compatible personnel to report for duty, using the Outpost's built-in reporting capability. On this card, "Does not allow aligned cards to report" removes that built-in reporting capability for aligned cards. This phrase does not prevent aligned cards from reporting aboard Repurposed Outpost using other reporting abilities (for example, Luther Sloan's "report anywhere" skill, or The Emissary allowing  to report to him).

required action

See action - required.

rescue

See capturing.

Resistance Is Futile

See Harness Particle 010 .

Respond to Distress Call

Since the card provides two possible sets of requirements (MEDICAL + ENGINEER + Honor x2 and MEDICAL + ENGINEER + Treachery x2), the solving crew has "double mission requirements" if it has MEDICAL x2 + ENGINEER x2 + Honor x4 or MEDICAL x2 + ENGINEER x2 + Treachery x4. No other combination of MEDICAL, ENGINEER, Honor, and/or Treachery suffices.

responses

See actions - step 2: responses.

rest of game

When a card has an effect that lasts for "rest of game," the effect continues even after the card is no longer in play (unless another card specifically cancels the effect). For example, Tomalak of Borg says, "For rest of game, all your ships have Cloaking Device." Your ships continue to have Cloaking Devices even if he leaves play. See once in play.

restriction box

Some personnel have limitations listed just above their skills in an area called a "restriction box." These are not skills and are not affected by cards that affect skills.

retaliation

See Kova Tholl.

Retask

When this event is played, any damage (either rotation damage or damage markers) on the Borg Ship dilemma is transferred to the Borg Cube. See exchanging cards.

Replacement of a Borg Ship dilemma with a downloaded universal  Borg Cube and the seven specified drones is not a report with crew action; you may not report additional Borg (or Equipment cards) with the seven drones.

return to a facility

See Rulebook 7.1.4.0.1: "Return to Outpost" and Docking.

return to hand

Cards that are returned to hand always return to their owner's hand. See in play.

Reunion

If you solve this mission with the alternate requirements of Subjugate Planet, its point value (and therefore the STRENGTH requirement of the objective) still depends on whether you have Miracle Worker, Cantankerousness, and/or Spock present in the Away Team.

- If none are present: 0 points, STRENGTH > 0 required.
- If one is present: 15 points, STRENGTH > 30 required.
- If all three are present: 40 points, STRENGTH > 80 required.

See point box, mission attempt.

reveal

When a card such as All Threes tells you to reveal cards, both players are allowed to see the cards. See actions - step 1: initiation.

reverse

When a card is reversed, that card has its game text conceptually changed to work in an opposite way. To ensure consistent gameplay, an official definition is established in each case. See Intruder Force Field , Persistence of Memory .

Revolving Door

See doorway.

Rogue Borg

For the legal equivalency of "Rogue Borg Mercenaries," see Rulebook 12.14: Equivalents.

Rogue Borg can not play as a response to another Rogue Borg play, nor as a response to a battle initiated by (or against) Rogue Borg. Each Rogue Borg may be targeted or responded to individually (for example, by Vulcan Nerve Pinch or Amanda Rogers).

If the entire crew is killed, surviving Rogue Borg remain on the ship, but cannot use the ship.

Rogue Borg affect  cards normally.

romantic partner

See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics: romantic partner.

Romulan

An affiliation and a species. See affiliation and species.

Romulan Ambush

The captive that you take with this interrupt is selected and relocated to your ship before the ship is destroyed. If the crew is saved with a card that plays during the destruction (such as Escape Pod), the captive is not saved. See battle - non-battle cards.

Royale Casino side games

The attribute numbers on the Personnel cards in your hand, used in the Royale Casino dilemma "side games," are not affected by attribute modifiers such as Lower Decks or PADDs. See Rulebook 10.1.0.7: Undefined & Variable Attributes, Mickey D.

Royale Casino: Blackjack

See Royale Casino side games.

Royale Casino: Craps

If you can't show a Personnel card for this dilemma, your opponent wins the points. See Royale Casino side games.

Royale Casino: Slots

If Mickey D. is in the Away Team that encounters this dilemma, he wins 5 points. See Royale Casino side games.

Saavik

See icons in game text.

Six of Seventeen (Sabotage Drone)

While this personnel's special skill of reducing a ship's RANGE or WEAPONS may be used during the opponent's turn ("Once every turn..."), it may not interrupt a mission attempt.

Thus, you may not use a Sabotage Drone downloaded to the opponent's ship with Undetected Beam-In to reduce the ship's RANGE before encountering Abandon Ship! See actions - interrupting.

Saltah'na Clock

While affiliation attack restrictions do not apply (i.e., any affiliation, including Borg, is required to initiate battle), this artifact does not allow or require you to attack your own cards. The requirement to initiate battle is a non-moving required action. See actions - required.

Any personnel aboard the affected ship or facility (whether crew or intruders) must, on their owner's turn, initiate either a ship battle or a personnel battle, depending on what is possible and/or appropriate. For example, if the Clock is on a ship with both a crew and intruders aboard, the crew, on its owner's turn, must initiate either a personnel battle against the intruders, or a ship battle against an opponent's ship or facility at its location (owner's choice). On the opponent's turn, their intruders must initiate a personnel battle against the crew.

Salvage Starship

Searching your opponent's discard pile for a ship is optional and has no effect on scoring the points for this objective. See objectives, special equipment.

Samaritan Snare

On this mission, the phrase "Federation must attempt mission if present" includes any ship and crew containing  Federation cards, even if the ship itself is of a different affiliation. After the mission attempt has ended (even if unsuccessful), they are free to move away (even on a later turn), but are required to reattempt the mission (if unsolved) each time they stop (or undock from a facility) at the location. See actions - required.

Samaritan Snare's specific text overrides the general rule that you cannot attempt or solve an opponent's unique mission showing less than 40 points. It does not override another card's effect, such as HQ: Defensive Measures  or Treaty: Federation/Klingon/Romulan .

same

Copies of a card are not the same card.

Samuel Clemens' Pocketwatch

This artifact allows you to perform now one action which must happen on your next turn (any action that is scheduled to happen, or which you are required to perform by a card or rule). It does not allow you to perform an optional action, such as playing a card. Examples:

- Drawing a card: You may take your next turn's mandatory end-of-turn card draw now. You may not then draw a card at the end of your next turn.
- Showing a Devidian Door: You are required to show the Door during your next turn, so you can use SCP to show it immediately.
- Countdown icons: Your card with a countdown icon must count down at the end of your turn, so you can use SCP to make it count down once now. It will then not count down at the end of your next turn.
- Timed effects without a countdown icon: If the effect is scheduled to resolve on your next turn, you can use SCP to force it to resolve now. You may not "remove" a turn unless the effect is scheduled to resolve on your next turn, because (unlike a countdown icon) nothing is scheduled to happen on your next turn.
- Cytherians: If your ship is affected by a moving required action such as Cytherians, you will be required to move it next turn. You may use SCP to move it now and may not move it again next turn.
-  Self-Controlling Cards: Most of these cards must act at the end of your next turn, so you may give them an extra act this turn with SCP. They will not act at the end of your next turn, but they will still act on your opponent's intervening turn.

Scorched Hand

See counting cards.

scoring points

See points.

Scout Encounter

If you download a scout ship (see Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics) when your opponent encounters this dilemma, you must also download at least one compatible universal crew member. (This is not a report with crew action.)

The downloaded ship may initiate battle (if the ship has a leader, a matching personnel, and no affiliation restrictions), move away (if the ship is staffed for movement), or do nothing. A landable ship may "move away" by landing on the surface of a planet at the same location but may not move to another location and then land. The ship and crew may not perform any other actions until your turn unless a card specifically allows it.

scouted

You have scouted a mission if you have initiated a scouting attempt at that mission's location.

When a card prevents a mission from being scouted, no player may initiate a scouting attempt at that mission's location.

scouting locations

Unlike other affiliations,  Borg make scouting attempts rather than mission attempts. Scouting conceptually represents overcoming resistance (encountering dilemmas) and gathering data.

Before you may begin a scouting attempt at a location, you must have an activated current objective that specifically allows you to scout that location. A dual-icon mission may be targeted as either a space or a planet location, but only one  objective may be completed at any one mission location (either single or dual-icon).

You may only scout a location that has a point box.

Begin scouting the location as you would begin a mission attempt with non-: select and beam your Away Team (of any size) to a planet, or select a ship and crew at a space mission (both at a dual-icon mission), then announce that you are scouting the location. (While an objective that allows you to scout a planet location allows you to form Away Teams for that purpose, you may also use an Away Team already on the planet by other legal means, e.g., Emergency Transporter Armbands, and they may be joined by more of your  Borg.)

 Borg encounter and resolve dilemmas in the same way that non- do during mission attempts (see dilemma resolution), subject to a few additional rules:

- When your  Borg are confronted with a dilemma or Q-icon card which is point related (and does not specify that it affects Borg), play out the card but ignore the points. (Discard the dilemma when you are done with it rather than placing it in your bonus point area.) If that card presents a choice, you must choose an option which is not point-related, if possible.
- Gender-related requirements and targets of non-Borg-related dilemmas cannot be met by  cards. If there is an alternative which is not gender-related,  must try to meet that; otherwise, discard the dilemma.
- Any cards which specifically require or change classifications, such as Scottish Setter, do not affect  Borg. However, a dilemma which specifies a personnel type, such as OFFICER, without specifying classification or skill, will affect the  Borg normally.
- Dilemma text such as "Abandon mission attempt..." or "Mission may not be attempted" does not affect  Borg. Ignore such text, and discard the dilemma if it is wholly inapplicable. However, "Mission continues" means "Scouting continues" for  Borg.

When  Borg are scouting a location, any artifacts encountered there are moved to the back of the seed stack as usual.  Borg must complete an objective that allowed scouting of that location and have a card which allows the acquisition of artifacts before they may acquire any artifact(s) present. (Picard's Artificial Heart is acquired by its owner upon completion of scouting. At a dual-icon mission, space-permissible artifacts may be acquired upon completion of a space objective; planet artifacts may be acquired only after completion of a planet objective.) If you have no card permitting you to acquire artifacts when you complete the objective, the artifacts are placed face up on the mission and may be acquired later by your Survey Drone or by any non- personnel present. (However, the Survey Drone may not beam down to a planet without a card allowing it to do so. Once the objective is complete, it no longer allows scouts to beam to the planet.) Cards seeded like artifacts (e.g., seeded personnel) are acquired in the same way as artifacts.

Like mission attempts, a scouting attempt is one action that may not be interrupted (except by valid responses to dilemmas or Q-icon cards and by actions that suspend play), and may not be aborted unless the entire Away Team or crew is "stopped" or removed from the location.

After a scouting attempt is over (whether scouting is complete or not), your "unstopped"  Borg are free to beam back up to the ship if desired, or remain to acquire artifacts, if any, when the objective is completed. If an objective requires that you have Borg or a counterpart "there" or "at that location" to probe, they need not be on the planet.

Scouting a location is complete at the end of your turn if you have scouted it at least once and no dilemmas remain to be encountered, even if no Borg remain or if they are "stopped" by the last dilemma. (A dilemma that has entered play, such as Friendly Fire or Cytherians, no longer remains to be encountered, and so does not prevent scouting from being complete.) Completion of scouting is permanent. Addition of a seed card (such as a Q: A Dazzling Flash, using Beware of Q) after scouting is complete has no effect on that status.

Your  Borg must complete scouting before you may probe to determine your current objective's outcome. You may not probe on the same turn in which you completed scouting (except with Service the Collective).

You also may not probe if your  Borg participated in any battles at the targeted location during your current turn or during your opponent's previous turn. Probing takes place at the end of your turn.

When an objective calls for scouting a mission location, you must scout even if there are no dilemmas remaining when you begin scouting (because none were seeded, or your opponent cleared them during a mission attempt). In other words, you must bring one scout to a planet mission, or bring a ship and crew to a space mission, and announce that you are scouting that location. When that turn ends, scouting is complete.

If your opponent places a  objective on a mission after you have targeted it, it does not discard your objective.

An objective that allows you to scout a location requires you to complete scouting for that objective in order to probe to complete it. For example, if you scout a mission with Establish Gateway, and then switch your current objective to Harness Particle 010 , you must scout the mission again with Harness Particle 010 , even if you have already resolved all dilemmas beneath the mission.

scouting ships

An Objective card may direct your  Borg to scout a ship. Scouting a ship conceptually represents overcoming resistance and gathering data. Before you may scout a ship, you must have an activated current objective targeting the ship.

Begin scouting an enemy ship by beaming over a single scout. (If you already have one or more  Borg aboard the ship from Undetected Beam-In, Borg Servo, counter-attacking, etc., they may scout the ship.) You must have a drone who allows you to beam through your opponent's SHIELDS. Until the objective is completed or discarded, if at any point you do not have an active  Borg aboard the ship, you may beam another single scout aboard during your turn.

If your opponent attacks your scout during their turn, you may counter-attack during your next turn with any number of  Borg (if the ship remains at the location of the attack). Those  Borg are free to remain on the enemy ship. Scouting an enemy ship is complete at the end of your turn if you have any active  Borg aboard that ship. Your  Borg must complete scouting before you may probe to determine your current objective's outcome. You may not probe on the same turn you completed scouting, or if your  Borg participated in any battles at the location of the targeted ship during your current turn or during your opponent's previous turn. Once scouting is complete, you do not have to complete scouting again (with another delay before probing) if your scout is killed before you can probe (though you must meet the requirements of the objective, such as having Computer Skill aboard). Probing takes place at the end of your turn.

Seal Rift

Seize Wesley

This interrupt may not be played as a response to your opponent encountering the Ktarian Game dilemma. The ship must be "under the influence" of the dilemma, which occurs only if the remaining crew (after one is disabled) does not have CUNNING > 30 or an android to cure the dilemma.

See Rulebook 11.1: Self-Controlling Cards.

Senior Staff Meeting

This interrupt is played "just before" a mission attempt; once played, neither you nor your opponent may take any other action before the attempt begins (except valid responses, such as Amanda Rogers). If nullified, you must still begin the mission attempt and may not play another Senior Staff Meeting.

The first attempt of a mission made by any player is "the initial attempt" of that mission. If your opponent has already attempted the mission, you may not play this interrupt for your first attempt.

If the first seeded card is I Will Not Promise..., then it is treated as a dilemma and is discarded. (See Rulebook 12.13: Equivalents.) Mis-seeds are not encountered.

If the first dilemma encountered is a combo dilemma, only the first part of the combo is conceptually discarded. The crew must immediately face the second part.

side deck

Side decks are optional customized decks of cards separate from, and in addition to, your normal game deck. Each side deck is shuffled and placed face down on the table, then activated or "opened" during the doorway seed phase by a Doorway card. This Doorway card is placed face up on top of the side deck and counts as one of your seed cards (the face-down cards in the side deck are not seed cards and do not count toward the 30/30 rule). The five types of side decks are the Q-Continuum, Q's Tent, Battle Bridge, Tribble side deck, and Dilemma side decks. You may use any or all of these side decks in the same game, but you may have only one side deck of each type.

Discarded cards from your Battle Bridge side deck and Tribble side deck do not go to your discard pile, but instead are discarded by placing them face up under the side deck. (When face-up cards are encountered in one of those side decks, shuffle the face-up cards and place them face down under the seeded doorway.)

You may not look through the face-down cards in any side deck unless a card allows you to. For example, playing a Q's Tent doorway allows you to look through your Q's Tent to choose a target card.

A card type. See Rulebook 2.11: Sites, Rulebook 3.1.2: Site Pile, Rulebook 4.4.3: Seeding Sites skills

A skill is anything that appears in the skills box of a personnel card, including personnel types such as ENGINEER. (The personnel type that appears in the classification box is not a skill.) "All skills" refers to everything in a personnel's skills box, including skills conceptually added by another card. See skills - modifying, use \(skills\).

Regular skills are one- or two-word skills, such as Physics or Stellar Cartography.

Special skills are usually explained in a sentence with a period at the end, such as "Orb artifacts may not be nullified." Special download skills (preceded by the special download icon , fractional skills (such as Toral's Leadership x1/2) and skills with negative modifiers (such as Mortal Q's Leadership -1), are also defined as special skills.

When a personnel is assimilated, their classification becomes their first-listed skill (unless that personnel type already appears as a skill, in which case that skill's level is increased by one).

First-listed skill

A personnel's "first-listed skill" is the first skill printed in the skill box (whether a regular or special skill); or that skill as transformed by another card; or (if assimilated) its former classification. When a first-listed skill is "lost" (e.g., to a dilemma), the skill becomes conceptually blank or "no skill" (the second skill does not "slide over" to become a new first-listed skill).

For example, Seskal is an OFFICER-classification personnel with SCIENCE, Stellar Cartography, and Anthropology skills. His "first-listed skill" is:

- Normally: SCIENCE
- After assimilation: OFFICER
- When present with a Science Kit: SCIENCE x2
- After changing SCIENCE to Biology with Reflection Therapy: Biology
- After being selected for Rascals: Youth
- While aboard a ship affected by Tsiolkovsky Infection: no skill

If a personnel has no first-listed skill because it has been removed by a dilemma, they are not affected by subsequent cards affecting the first-listed skill, and no other personnel has "the same first-listed skill" for purposes a dilemma such as The Clown: Playing Doctor.

Most skills are preceded by a red  icon. However, the number of skills a personnel has is not necessarily the same as the number of skill dots on the Personnel card. Skill dots are not gained or lost when skills are added or removed by a card, and special download skills have a triangular icon instead of a dot. When a card such as Assimilate Counterpart refers to the number of  icons on a personnel, use the actual number of skill dots printed on the card.

Skill Multipliers

A skill with an integral multiplier (x2, x3) is a single skill at a high level (not two or three skills). For example, when a card causes a personnel to lose their first-listed skill of Diplomacy x2, all Diplomacy is lost (it is not reduced to Diplomacy). If a personnel has Diplomacy as a skill and adds another Diplomacy by mindmelding, they combine to give Diplomacy x2.

A skill with a fractional multiplier (x1/2) does not satisfy a requirement for that skill. For example, a personnel with Leadership x1/2 cannot solve a mission that requires Leadership, and does not count as a leader in battle. If they are present with another personnel with Leadership x1/2, together they have a full Leadership skill for these purposes.

A personnel who has a skill with an integral multiplier also has the skill at all lower positive integral multipliers. For example, Rurigan has Computer Skill x3. He can also count as a personnel with Computer Skill x2 for the purposes of Quark's Isolinear Rods.

Negative Skills

A skill with a negative modifier, such as Valeris's Diplomacy -3, is defined as a special skill (not a regular skill with a multiplier).

skills - modifying

Some cards may add, remove, or modify skills.

Removing Skills

When a card, such as Frame of Mind or Impersonate Captive, removes a personnel's skills, both regular and special skills are removed.

Selecting, Adding, Gaining, Doubling, and Sharing Skills

When a card allows you to select (e.g., K'chiQ, Lal, Reflection Therapy, Frame of Mind), add (e.g., Vulcan Mindmeld), double (e.g., Ishka), or share (e.g., Interlink Drone) personnel skills, you may select, add, double, or share only regular skills. If a skill is already present in the skills box, the level of that skill is increased; skills not already present in the skills box are conceptually added to the end of the skills box for purposes of cards such as Fightin' Words. For example, if Lt. D'Amato (Geology x2, Archaeology) adds Geology with a Classic Tricorder, his skills will be Geology x3, Archaeology; if instead he adds Physics, his skills will be Geology x2, Archaeology, Physics.

Selected or shared features or skills do not exist until you have reported the personnel for duty. See reporting for duty, Rulebook 10.1.0.2: Sharing Skills.

When adding or doubling skills (or replacing one personnel's skills with another's, as with Impersonate Captive), skill multipliers are retained. For example, if Sarek mindmelds with Riva, Sarek would have the following skills: Diplomacy x5, Mindmeld. Gaining is equivalent to adding.

When selecting skills, you may select a skill only at the x1 level, and when a card requires you to select two or more skills (e.g., Lal), you may not pick the same skill twice. Thus, if Deanna Troi \(First Contact\) and Sarek were present when Lal was reported, she could gain any two of the following skills: Diplomacy, Empathy, Navigation, or Mindmeld. She could not choose Deanna's special skill or choose Diplomacy twice, nor could she choose Sarek's Diplomacy x3. Similarly, K'chiQ can select Diplomacy (but not Diplomacy x2), and Reflection Therapy can replace Diplomacy x2 with Honor (but not Honor x2).

When selecting skills for the Borg Queen, K'chiQ, Frame of Mind, etc., valid choices include any personnel type and any regular skill that exists in the game. For a list of all current regular (selectable) skills, see Rulebook 14.4: List of Regular Skills.

Reselecting Skills

You may re-select the added skill for only one Classic Tricorder, one Classic Medical Tricorder, and one Classic Communicator each turn, regardless of how many copies of each you have in play. See once per turn. Re-selecting is executing orders and may not interrupt another action (e.g., you may not re-select during a mission attempt).

skills - using

solve

Solving a mission means completing that mission, by meeting the mission requirements. Solving a mission is a subaction of a mission attempt.

Son'a ships

See attribute enhancement.

Soong-type android

A characteristic. See Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics and Rulebook 10.3.0.9: Species.

References to this (e.g. on Malfunctioning Door and Vulcan Nerve Pinch) refer to the characteristic, and not the personnel card with that title.

Soong-Type Android ♦

See:

- Soong-type android (for ambiguous uses of this term on cards)

- Rulebook 10.3.0.8: Gender (for explanation of gender)
- report (for timing of programming)

Soren

Soren is both female and gender androgynous. See Rulebook 10.3.0.8: Gender.

Space

This mission counts as half a card. In other words, two  Space missions plus five other missions count as six missions. (Other universal missions count as a full card.)

It is not attemptable. See mission attempt.

"May insert into spaceline" means that you may seed this mission anywhere on the Alpha Quadrant spaceline, either between two missions already seeded, or at either end of the spaceline as usual. It does not allow you to add the mission to the spaceline during the game. If inserted into a region, it becomes part of that region. See Rulebook 4.2.0.1: Inserting Into a Region.

Span calculations are based on the number of directly adjacent universal mission cards (not just  Space missions).

space - transferring cards into

You may not beam, report, or otherwise transfer any card (except a ship) into space unless a card specifically allows you to do so (e.g., Airlock, Anti-Matter Pod).

space facility

See facility.

Space-Time Portal

This doorway allows you to play only one  card per turn, even if you have multiple Space-Time Portals in play (see once per turn). Its text does not restrict a seeded Alternate Universe Door, which allows you to play multiple  cards each turn (e.g., interrupts, doorways, or multiple card plays allowed by a card such as Red Alert!). Because this doorway allows you to seed or play only one  card per turn, you may seed only one  card under Q's Planet, and only if you have not already played an  card that turn.

You may discard the doorway from the table "at any time" for any one of its functions - during either player's turn, before or after your card play or executing orders, between other actions or as a valid response to an action. It is not a valid response to the initiation of a battle or the encounter of a dilemma; thus, you may not escape from battle or a dilemma encounter by returning a ship to your hand. See actions - interrupting, actions - step 2: responses.

You may report an -icon ship with  crew by discarding a Space-Time Portal even if you have already played the one  card allowed by the Portal for the turn. (See report with.)

Spacedock

This event will repair any of your ships that docks at the outpost where the Spacedock is played, even if the outpost itself does not repair ships. It plays only on a outpost unless downloaded by Construct Starship.

Spacedoor

See in play, outpost, discarding.

spaceline

A row of cards representing all locations (except time locations) within a quadrant. See:

- Rulebook 4.2: Mission Phase
- Rulebook 7.1.7: Movement Between Quadrants

- Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near spaceline end

See Rulebook 4.2.0.4: "Spaceline End" Isn't a New Location.

special download

See downloading - special download.

special equipment

Many ships have special equipment listed in their gametext, like a Cloaking Device or Holodeck. See Rulebook 2.9: Ships and Rulebook 14.5: List of Special Equipment.

special staffing icon

See Crew Reassignment.

species

See Rulebook 10.3.0.9: Species.

Species 8472-related

See Rulebook 12.13: "Related".

Sphere Encounter

See report with crew.

Spock's Brain

See:

- Hippocratic Oath (except discussion of relocation between quadrants)
- Rulebook 7.1.7.0.1: Move Between Quadrants: Which Cards Count?

Spot

This personnel's STRENGTH is an undefined attribute. Whenever Spot is killed, if she has any lives remaining she immediately pops back to life at the same place, but is "stopped." Any cards played on Spot are not nullified by her first eight deaths.

The Squire's Rules

If no personnel remain after the initial stop, reseed the revealed card beneath the mission to be encountered again. See actions - step 1: initiation: dilemmas revealed and encountered.

Because you cannot download dilemmas, you cannot use The Squire's Rules with Obsession (which requires a downloaded dilemma) or the replacement functions of Disrupted Continuum or Beware of Q.

If, after it is encountered, a dilemma is reseeded, even at a different location (e.g. Q's Vicious Animal Things), it is still the same copy of the dilemma and is not a mis-seed.

Your The Squire's Rules makes your personnel you seed (such as with a Cryosatellite) mis-seeds.

staffing

See:

- Rulebook 7.1.3: Staff a Ship (in general)
- Rulebook 7.2.1: Beginning an Attempt (attempt requires matching personnel, not staffing)
- Rulebook 7.4: Battle (ship battle requires matching personnel, not staffing) standard attack restrictions

see Rulebook 7.4.1: Initiating a Battle

Starfleet

An affiliation.

start of turn

See turn.

starting the game

The game begins by choosing a starting player using any mutually agreeable method. Each game consists of four seed phases followed by the play phase. The starting player goes first in each seed phase and takes the first turn in the play phase.

stasis

See Rulebook 10.2.4: Stasis.

Static Warp Bubble

See The Traveler: Transcendence , discarding.

station

A type of facility.

stealing

You may not "steal" Equipment cards, even if unattended, unless a card allows it, such as Reginod or HQ: Return Orb to Bajor.

When a card allows you to steal Equipment cards, they come under your control and you use them as your own, disregarding affiliation and species requirements for use (e.g., "Klingon use only"). (However, a card which enhances only Klingons, for example, still enhances only Klingons, and other requirements for use of the equipment must still be met. For example, a Romulan Cloaking Device only functions on a Romulan ship, or an  ship with 2 ENGINEER aboard.)

You cannot steal cards that you control. All "stolen" cards are returned to their owners at the end of the game. See Procurement Drone.

Stefan deSeve

Both his skills are special skills. See skills.

Stolen Attack Ship

See Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

Stone Knives and Bearskins

This event will affect Artifacts which say "Use as equipment", because those cards are treated as equipment and affected by cards which affect equipment. It does not suspend the gametext which itself says "Use as equipment", nor does it suspend text that says "Not duplicatable."

See Vidiian Harvester.

Stop First Contact

Because this objective does not involve scouting a ship or location, you may probe for this objective on the same turn it enters play. This may even occur the same turn you have completed scouting for Assimilate Homeworld, provided you have a staffed ship orbiting Montana Missile Complex and can play Stop First Contact between the time scouting completes (an end-of-turn action) and your normal card draw (which ends your turn).

If the Borg change history by completing a Stop First Contact (or Build Interplexing Beacon) objective, "timeline disrupted in 2063": Federation and Starfleet history ceases to exist. Cards which are disrupted include:

- All personnel of Human species.
- All  and  affiliation cards (including mutli-affiliation cards, regardless of current mode), such as personnel, ships, and facilities.

However, things from other universes or currently time travelling are not affected by this timeline disruption thus, the following cards are protected:

- cards with a  icon.
- cards with an  icon (unless they also have a , , or  icon).
- cards which have lost their affiliation (e.g. Thine Own Self)
- cards at a time location.

Except for cards which are protected, all disrupted cards in play (in any quadrant) and in any player's hand, draw deck, side deck, discard pile, etc., are placed out-of-play. (Reshuffle where appropriate.) If any cards are aboard (or played on) a disrupted ship or facility (but are themselves not disrupted), those cards return to owner's hand.

stopped

See Rulebook 10.2: Stopped.

Storage Compartment Door

Drawing the three cards allowed by this doorway is executing orders and must take place after the card play segment of your turn. The cards drawn are not part of your hand and must be either played or discarded (face up under your Tribble side deck) immediately. See Rulebook 11.3: Tribbles, card draw, card play.

Strategema

Strategema prevents battle even if other restrictions, such as affiliation attack restrictions, have been removed (for example, by Post Garrison).

strongest

See Rulebook 12.5: Ties.

Study Plasma Storm

This mission's special text, "Computer Skill required to use any equipment here," applies both to Equipment cards and ship special equipment.

If Computer Skill is not present on the ship, Ketracel-White cards cannot be used at this location and thus do not prevent white deprivation. Because the Ketracel-White  is not being used, it does not count down.

Study Protonebula

This mission is a nebula. The owner of this mission, if playing  affiliation, may not normally use the special text allowing the download of One because they may not stock a non- personnel. See [Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-!\[\]\(074da87f0b7a74793bdf823413604aae_img.jpg\) Cards in Your Deck](#).

stunned and mortally wounded

Stunned and mortally wounded personnel may still modify other personnel (for example, by adding to their attributes), but may not use other skills (e.g., stunned MEDICAL personnel cannot run the Genetronic Replicator; a stunned Elim Garak may not avoid the random selection of a personnel to be killed). See Rulebook 7.4.1: Personnel Battle.

Subjugate Planet

You may not download a Remote Supply Depot if you already have a facility at this objective's target location. See dual-icon mission, mission, Reunion , mission attempt.

Subspace Fracture

You score the points if you meet the requirements during the attempt. If you do, place it in your bonus point area.

Subspace Schism

This interrupt may be played to affect any card draw a player makes during a turn (including end-of-turn card draws). It may not be played on a card drawn for an opening hand.

"Subspace Seaweed"

See Protouniverse .

Subspace Transporter

If the personnel beamed aboard an opponent's ship using this event takes a captive (e.g., Ilon Tandro, or using Captured), you may not beam the captive back. Only your Treachery personnel (and any equipment they are carrying) may be beamed. See capturing.

Subspace Warp Rift

A ship that stops at the location of this event to avoid damage is not "stopped" (e.g., it may initiate battle or attempt a mission). A ship that is relocated to or from the location of this event does not incur damage. See passing locations, movement.

Suna

See once per game.

Supernova

For "converts to ", see Rulebook 11.2: Planetary Destruction.

This event plays only on a Mission card, not on any other location. As the card says, the mission loses gametext, point box, affiliation icons, but retains its span and other characteristics. Thus, if in a region, it is still in that region. If it is a corresponding spaceline location for a time location, it remains so; if a homeworld, it is still a homeworld for cards like Strategema and Straight and Steady. However, some homeworld-based cards are no longer usable, like Self-Sealing Steam Bolts, since you can no longer be "on" the destroyed homeworld, and Assimilate Homeworld, since the mission is unscoutable. (See Assimilate Homeworld .)

Any cards not affected by Supernova (for example, staffed Gomtuu, completed Borg objectives, Venus Drug, These Are The Voyages), and any cards in play on them, are not discarded.

"Requires Tox Uthat" means Tox Uthat must be in play (in its Event mode) and in effect when you play Supernova. Moreover, Tox Uthat's own text prevents you from playing Supernova on the same turn that you play it.

Once this event has resolved and destroyed all cards at the mission location, nullifying it with Kevin Uxbridge or moving it with Dr. Q, Medicine Entity has no effect.

support personnel

See Assign Support Personnel .

surface

A card is on a planet's surface if it is on a planet and not in a facility or landed ship.

Sixteen of Nineteen (Survey Drone)

This personnel's special skill allows it to acquire artifacts that have been placed on top of the mission where a  objective has been completed (or artifacts that could not be acquired when a mission was solved because of The Charybdis). It may not acquire artifacts that are still seeded under a mission or steal artifacts in play. See scouting locations.

suspends play

A card which specifically says it "suspends play" may be played at any point during the play phase (even during your opponent's turn) and may interrupt and temporarily suspend any action, including actions at the start or end of turn (see turn). Using a special download icon also suspends play. After the card play or special download has resolved, the suspended action resumes. See downloading - special download, actions - interrupting.

If no action is in progress, an action that may suspend play (such as using a special download icon) does not suspend anything. You may not suspend play during the seed phases.

Taar

See dilemma resolution.

tactic

A card type which comes into play only through a special Battle Bridge side deck (you cannot stock Tactic cards in your draw deck or your Q's Tent). Tactic cards increase your offensive and/or defensive capabilities during ship battles and also indicate specific damage affecting your opponent's ships and facilities.

Some Tactic cards (e.g., Green Energy-Dampening Weapon, Chain Reaction Pulsar) have game text starting with a phrase like "Requires a ship with ... firing." Unlike most tactics, which work for any ship but give bonuses for particular kinds of ships (see Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin), these tactics cannot be used as your current tactic unless you have the required ship firing in the battle.

When damage text takes a casualty, the personnel is selected from all appropriate personnel aboard the ship, including intruders.

take off

See landed ships.

Tal Shiar

See use \(skills\), Rulebook 10.3: Characteristics.

Talosian Cage

See selections, Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards.

Tantalus Field

You may not use this artifact to kill a personnel if either the artifact or the potential victim is aboard a cloaked or phased ship. See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak.

Tarchannen Study

See dual-icon missions.

Tarellian Plague Ship

To overcome this dilemma, a personnel must (1) have MEDICAL, (2) beam over, and (3) still have usable MEDICAL upon arrival. Because a personnel may always carry equipment present when moving, an OFFICER using a Medical Kit can overcome this dilemma (both beam over and are discarded). So may a  Borg with shared MEDICAL. Deactivated holograms cannot use their skills, so a  MEDICAL who beams over must be wearing a Mobile Holo-Emitter or similar. See holographic personnel and equipment.

Barclay Transporter Phobia is a valid response to an attempted beaming. If the first MEDICAL is prevented from beaming over, another MEDICAL may be selected to do so. This dilemma is assumed to provide transporters if your crew or Away Team does not have them available, but it cannot overcome obstacles to beaming such as Distortion Field. See Quash Conspiracy , quarantine.

target

The target of an effect includes every card, every deck (or hand), and every player that is altered by the effect.

A deck (or hand) is only targeted if the entire deck (or hand) is directly altered, not just individual cards within it. For example, Regenerate targets your draw deck or discard pile, but Orb of Prophecy and Change only the top card of your draw deck. Alien Probe targets both players' hands, but Chula: The Lights only targets the personnel returned to hand (not the hand itself).

A player is altered if he or she is permitted or required to take an action (or score points) that would not be permitted under normal rules. This is a continuous effect. A card does not have to explicitly use the word "target" to target something.

Your card may require you to choose a long-term target (other than the card it is played on). If the long-term target leaves play, your card leaves play in the same manner. For example, if the male targeted by Assimilate Counterpart returns to hand, so does Assimilate Counterpart. However, for an exception, see Conundrum.

Targets are selected during the initiation step of an action. You cannot target an action. For example, Barclay Transporter Phobia targets a personnel, randomly selected from a group that is beaming. It does not target the beaming action itself. See Rulebook 12.12: Looking At Cards, actions - step 1: initiation.

Tekeny Ghemor

See playing an affiliation.

Temporal Causality Loop

The owner of each card must re-play (or re-seed) it (if possible). "Seed cards" means those cards that were seeded beneath this mission (either during the seed phase or subsequently).

See Rulebook 8.0.1: Cards That End Your Turn, card play, Rulebook 6.4: Leaving Play, actions - taking turns, Rulebook 7.2.2.0.3: Dilemma Targets, Rulebook 6.3: Reporting for Duty - Special Reporting.

Temporal Micro-Wormhole

This doorway does not allow you to download personnel (other than Dr. Telek R'Mor) or give permission to play a card. As the card says, it provides a destination for a report of a personnel when no destination is otherwise provided (e.g., one played as your normal card play, or certain downloads such as the last function of Defend Homeworld). If any destination is otherwise provided (e.g. a report with crew action, or a special download, or reporting to a ship or a personnel), then this doorway cannot be used to allow the report (and thus the card cannot be made compatible with your other cards). See once per game.

As the card says, a personnel reported to your ship using this doorway becomes compatible even with an affiliation that personnel normally does not work with. However, the doorway does not allow you to stock Borg-affiliation cards in a non-Borg deck, or vice versa. (See [Rulebook 3.0.1: Non-!\[\]\(cbd8541a32dfc32f356f5c6c994b0a21_img.jpg\) Cards in Your Deck](#).)

If you download Dr. Telek R'Mor with this doorway, you may use the doorway's text to report him aboard any of your ships and make him compatible with all your cards (discard the doorway), or his own text to report him aboard your compatible ship without making him compatible with all your cards (do not discard the doorway).

Temporal Narcosis

See double turn, Horga'hn .

Temporal Rift

This interrupt is not a valid response to battle or a dilemma, and may not be used to "escape" them. See actions - step 2: responses, time travel, Black Hole.

Temporal Vortex

When played for its last function, this doorway relocates only one ship, one time. Although it has a countdown icon, it cannot perform any additional relocations during the countdown. (Play the doorway on the ship, and discard it at the end of the countdown.)

If played on a Borg Ship when encountered, the dilemma does not attack (so your cards are not "stopped"), nor does it attack when it reappears after the countdown expires or if the doorway is "closed."

Temporal Wake

This interrupt may not target a docked ship or carried ship to force it to follow a time-traveling ship.

Terok Nor

See Deep Space 9 .

Terraforming Station

This station allows you to "terraform" (redefine) the requirements of a planet mission for a subsequent game with the same opponent. You may choose to replace each requirement with another requirement of the same type. You may replace personnel types with personnel types, other regular skills with regular skills that are not personnel types. and attributes with attributes. In addition, you may redefine the name of a Personnel, Equipment, or Artifact card. You may not redefine numbers, icons, or special requirements such as "3  icon Personnel," or create redundant requirements (such as "Treachery + Treachery"). For example, if a mission requires "MEDICAL + Guinan + CUNNING > 30" it could be changed to "SECURITY + Spock + INTEGRITY > 30."

The redefinition works for both ends of the mission. The mission loses the redefinition after your next game with the same opponent, even if you don't use that mission.

You must define the new requirements immediately after the game ends. In tournament play, give the redefinition to the tournament director in writing, before the cards are removed from the spaceline; it will affect a later match in that same tournament, if you play the same opponent.

A redefinition of mission requirements made outside of a specific tournament cannot affect a match within that tournament.

Terran

A synonym for human.

Terran Rebellion HQ

When this facility is in play at the Search for Rebels mission location, that location becomes a homeworld for all Federation cards with a  Terran Empire icon, and thus may be targeted by cards such as Assimilate Homeworld and Gold-Pressed Latinum. To "match the affiliation of the homeworld," a personnel card must have , , and  icons.

Tetryon Field

A ship without Navigation aboard must stop moving at the location of this event and cannot move for the remainder of the turn, but is not "stopped" (e.g., it may initiate battle or attempt a mission).

there

See Rulebook 12.4: "Here" and "Present".

Theta-Radiation Poisoning

Only one Medical Kit is required aboard the ship or outpost affected by this dilemma to prevent any personnel from dying at the end of each turn.

They Call Themselves The Maquis

Because this card is not a  card, you cannot use this card to report to the Badlands in the Mirror Quadrant. See Rulebook 11.5: The Mirror Universe.

Thine Own Self

This interrupt remains on the "lost" Away Team until they are rescued or captured. See discarding.

The "lost" personnel are still an Away Team and are vulnerable to cards such as Anti-Time Anomaly, Risky Business, or Dal'Rok, but they cannot use any skills or features (as if disabled). They are placed under the mission only as a marker of their "lost" status and are not considered seed cards.

A "lost" Borg scout may not be retrieved when the Borg complete their objective.

If the mission is already completed, the Away Team cannot be recovered.

You may not play it on an Away Team at a time location, because it requires you to place them under a mission.

Third of Five

See drone.

Thorough Debriefing

See overcome.

thrice per game

Three times per game. See once per game.

ties

See Rulebook 12.5: Ties, Rulebook 12.6: Far and Near.

time location

A card type representing a location in the past or future of the Star Trek universe. Time locations may be  or  locations.

A time location is not a mission or spaceline location, but a unique one has a corresponding spaceline location identified by the lore of both cards. For example, the mission Agricultural Assessment corresponds to the time location Sherman's Peak; both are located at Sherman's Planet. You may not seed or play a unique time location unless the corresponding spaceline location is in play.

A time location is placed by itself on the table, creating its own planet or space location separate from the spacelines. The card may have special instructions to be carried out when it is seeded or played; if you cannot carry out all instructions, you may not seed or play the time location. Though they are not on the spaceline, time locations are located in quadrants, as indicated by the presence or absence of a quadrant icon in the lower right corner of the text box. Time locations with no symbol are in the Alpha Quadrant.

Playing a time location uses your normal card play.

Cards that affect a spaceline location, such as Supernova or Black Hole, have no effect on the time location. Cards at the time location are not at the corresponding spaceline location and cannot attempt it. Ships and personnel may travel between the time location and any corresponding spaceline location using a card that allows time travel. The cards listed on a time location (or another card) as "native to this timeline" may be reported directly to the location if it is play. You may choose to report personnel on the surface of a planet time location, aboard any of your compatible ships or facilities at the time location, or aboard any opponent's facility there that you are allowed to use (e.g., Deep Space Station K-7). You may report a ship or facility in space at the location (in orbit of a planet). When reported in this manner, you do not need an open doorway, such as an Alternate Universe Door, to allow you to report  cards. [Rulebook 4.0.1: !\[\]\(cfab2d3ec366ca106873fde352e6317d_img.jpg\) Cards](#).

You are not required to have the time location in play to use cards native to that location, or to report them to that time location if it is in play. They may be reported normally to a facility on the spaceline, or by any other legal reporting method, if you have an open Doorway card which allows  cards to play.

towing

A ship may not tow anything unless a card allows it, such as Activate Tractor Beam or Radioactive Garbage Scow. When a ship towing another ship or Scow moves or relocates in any way (e.g., through the Bajoran Wormhole , with Wormholes, The Traveler, time travel, etc.), the towed ship is also moved or relocated.

A ship in tow cannot tow another ship.

A towed ship may cloak (but not the towing ship). See Rulebook 7.6: Cloak, tractor beam.

Tox Uthat

If you use this artifact to allow the play of a Supernova , it is discarded even if the Supernova is nullified. See actions - step 1: initiation.

tractor beam

A type of ship's special equipment. A tractor beam has no built-in functions, but is activated by other cards, such as Activate Tractor Beam, Engage Shuttle Operations, and Ship Seizure. See towing.

Transporter Mixup

Because a group of personnel beams simultaneously, all four of the personnel discarded by this incident are considered to leave play simultaneously (the cards are still placed in the discard pile one at a time so the opponent can see them). See exchanging cards.

Transporter Skill

See Rulebook 10.1.1.4: Loaded Skills: Transporter Skill.

transporters

See Rulebook 7.1.1: Beam.

Two of Nineteen (Transwarp Drone)

This personnel may download one doorway or interrupt whose title includes "Transwarp," i.e., Transwarp Network Gateway (doorway) or Transwarp Conduit (interrupt).

Transwarp Hub

Transwarp Hub may seed or play at any nebula, even a homeworld. Transwarp Hub may play at Intelligence Operation (but may not seed there, since it is not ).

Transwarp Network Gateway

To move ships through Transwarp Network Gateways, there must already be in play two copies of this doorway at different locations.

You must play another Transwarp Network Gateway doorway or a Transwarp Conduit interrupt each time you wish to move a ship (or group of ships) through the gateway network. This does not use any of the ship's RANGE, but is still normal ship movement, requiring full staffing.

Playing a Transwarp Network Gateway requires a  Borg present even when download (e.g., with the Borg Outpost's special download icon).

The Traveler

This personnel's skill enables normal ship movement requiring full staffing, similar to the Wormhole interrupt, but is restricted to the current spaceline. See Rulebook 7.1.7.0.1: Movement Between Quadrants: Which Cards Count?.

The Traveler: Transcendence

This event nullifies all Static Warp Bubbles in play or played later, either yours or your opponent's.

treaties

Treaty cards make one player's cards of two or more different affiliations compatible and allow them to mix and cooperate. They do not change any card's affiliation or make them matching affiliation.

If a treaty is destroyed, incompatible personnel aboard a ship or facility are placed under house arrest.

Treaties do not "chain." If you have Treaty: Federation/Bajoran and Treaty: Federation/Klingon in play, your Bajorans may not mix with your Klingons. You must also play Treaty: Bajoran/Klingon for all three groups to mix.

A "Federation treaty" is any treaty which includes the Federation (or ) as one of the parties. For example, Treaty: Federation/Klingon, Treaty: Alpha Quadrant Alliance, and Organian Peace Treaty are all Federation treaties as well as Klingon treaties.

Treaty: Federation/Romulan/Klingon

Only your  Federation,  Romulan, and  Klingon affiliations are restricted from attempting your opponent's missions; your personnel and ships of all other affiliations may attempt any of your opponent's missions normally.

Playing on Espionage card will not permit you to attempt (but not solve) an opponent's mission while this treaty is in play. A required action (such as Samaritan Snare) does not compel you to attempt an opponent's mission while the treaty restriction is active. See actions - required.

tribble

See Rulebook 11.3: Tribbles, Rulebook 3.3: Side Decks

Tribble Bomb

Your Barry Waddle must be at the same location as your tribble group to allow you to play this incident (not just to play it for free).

This incident cannot be moved except as allowed by Trouble... in the Transporters, even when Tribble cards from the tribble group where it is played are carried or beamed.

Tribble side deck

See Rulebook 11.3: Tribbles, Rulebook 3.3: Side Decks, Storage Compartment Door.

Tribunal of Q

When you download and/or play  cards you may ignore any game text that would prevent, nullify or modify the cost of downloading and/or playing those cards. This card does not allow you to ignore game text not directly related to the downloading/playing of ref cards.

Examples:

- You may ignore the text of Dial-Up to use the last function of Q the Referee to download a  card.
- You may ignore the text of Amanda Rogers to prevent it from nullifying The Juggler.
- You may ignore the text of Obelisk of Masaka to download more than one  card from multiple draws gained from a single card. You may not ignore to text to download multiple non-  cards.
- You may not ignore the effects of In the Zone while downloading a  card.

Tricyanate Poisoning

You may not substitute or ignore requirements for Tricyanate Poisoning, even requirements that are in principle impossible at the mission you are attempting. For example, if the nearest planet mission has a requirement that something be "in orbit" or that "Away Team" have certain attributes while you are at a space mission, or you are at a planet mission and must meet a requirement like "SHIELDS >8", you will fail to overcome the dilemma.

Trill

A species. Some, but not all, Trill have symbionts; this characteristic is indicated in lore.

trouble

See Rulebook 2.14: Tribbles & Troubles, Rulebook 11.3: Tribbles.

See ...on the Bridge.

Trust Me

A Borg player may use this Q-icon event to place non-Borg personnel or ships in their discard pile and may use them normally if retrieved to hand, but they may not mix with their Borg.

turn

Players alternate taking turns throughout the play phase. During your turn you will do up to five things, in this order:

1. Perform any actions required or allowed by game text that says it takes place at "start of turn."
2. Play a card from your hand. This "normal card play" is optional. All cards except interrupts and doorways may be played only at this time, even those that play "for free," unless a card specifically allows a card play at another time. During this segment of your turn, you may take no actions other than:
 - playing cards;
 - actions that suspend play;
 - actions that may occur at any time (including activating hidden agendas and playing interrupts and doorways);
 - sub-actions of those actions; and,
 - any action that would respond to or replace an allowed action.

Any other action advances you to the "execute orders" segment of your turn).

3. Execute orders. This generally means moving and/or using cards already on the table, and is also optional. See executing orders.
4. Perform any actions required or allowed by game text that says it takes place at "end of turn." (Probing is also defined as an end-of-turn action unless otherwise specified.)
5. Draw a card from your draw deck to your hand. This is mandatory and signals the end of your turn. See card draw. If you are prevented from drawing a card (for example, by the game text of Q's Tent or the Ops site, or because there are no cards left in your draw deck), then you simply announce when you are done with your turn.

Game text that says it may be used "at any time" may be used out of the normal turn order, or during your opponent's turn, even if the card type is normally playable only during your own turn (e.g., an event or doorway). However, such game text may not interrupt an unrelated action. See actions - interrupting.

You may choose the order of start-of-turn and end-of-turn actions. For example, you may process ore either before or after a Rogue Borg battle; you may probe either before or after counting down countdown icons or moving a Borg Ship dilemma. No other actions may take place between start-of-turn or end-of-turn actions, other than valid responses. However, your normal card draw (or any action that replaces it), is always the last action of your turn.

If a card such as 35th Rule of Acquisition or Quark's Bar allows you to draw a card at "end of each turn" or draw an extra card, it is an "end-of-turn" action, which must take place before your normal card draw (which ends your turn). It is not a modification to your normal card draw.

Your separate Away Teams merging at the end of your turn and "stopped" cards becoming "unstopped" at the start of a turn are not actions. They are changes of status that occur automatically when a turn ends or starts. A few other uses of the term "turn" are clarified below:

- A "full turn" is one complete turn of one player, from beginning to end, not including the current turn.
- "Owner's turn" refers to the owner of the card being affected, rather than the card played.
- "Every turn" means every turn of both players.
- "Each turn" means each turn of the subject of the game text (skipping the other player). The subject player is usually indicated by a word such as "you," "opponent" or "owner." ("You" or "your" refers to the person playing the card or encountering the dilemma.) It may also be implied by game text instructing the person who played the card to take specific actions. If no player is specified or implied, then the subject of the game text is the player whom it affects. If it affects both players equally, the subject is the person who played or encountered the card. Examples:
 - Warp Core Breach: "Ship explodes at end of owner's next turn." The subject is the owner of the ship.
 - Telepathic Alien Kidnappers: "At end of each turn, guess a card type..." The subject is the person who played the card, who is instructed to guess a card type.
 - Plasma Fire: "Fire damages ship at end of next turn." The subject is the owner of the ship.

U.S.S. Dauntless

This ship may be fully staffed by Arturis even if it is in Federation affiliation mode.

U.S.S. Enterprise-B

See attribute modifiers.

U.S.S. Enterprise-C

This ship can report to any location, in any quadrant, or to a time location. It may report to a facility, but cannot avoid being damaged. If your opponent is using a Battle Bridge side deck, they apply default damage (two damage markers) when you report the ship.

If reported with crew via Space-Time Portal, damage is applied to the ship before the crew is reported aboard (no casualties will occur).

Ultimatum

To score points with this objective, at least one of your ships firing WEAPONS in the battle that destroys the ship must be a Dominion ship. See Rulebook 10.3.0.11: Ship Origin.

undefined attribute

See Rulebook 10.1.0.7: Undefined and Variable Attributes and Rulebook 10.2.3.0.1: "Disabled" Ship Systems.

Undetected Beam-In

If your opponent encounters this dilemma, you may download up to four Borg drones (to the planet, if any, or to any ship or facility at the location). If you download them to a ship or facility controlled by your opponent, the drones are intruders.

Rogue Borg  downloaded through this dilemma battle for the first time at the start of the next turn, even if more Rogue Borg are played normally on the current turn. They may play only on an occupied ship.

unexamined

A player has examined a mission if that player has revealed, glanced, examined, or peeked at any card seeded face down at that mission, regardless of which player's card caused that player to see the card. If a mission has been attempted or scouted, it has been examined for both players.

unique and universal

Universal personnel, ships, facilities, sites, missions, and time locations are those with the four-diamond  symbol at the beginning of the card name, and each player may have multiple copies in play at a time. Those without the  symbol are unique (unless they have an  enigma symbol). All other card types are universal unless marked "Unique" or "Not duplicatable."

Each player who has in play a copy of a card marked "Unique" in its gametext or any unique or  enigma personnel, ship, or facility may not play another. If another copy owned by the same player is encountered (for example, dilemmas), earned (for example, artifacts), or activated (for example, hidden agendas) by any player, that copy is discarded. This restriction remains even if that player loses control of the unique card (through assimilation, 1962 Roger Maris Baseball Card , etc.) See persona, owner

When any card marked "Not duplicatable" in its game text (or any unique time location) is in play, another copy may not be seeded or played by any player, and, if another copy is encountered, earned, or activated by any player, that copy is discarded. When a player seeds any unique mission which has already been seeded on the spaceline, the second copy is stacked atop the first to create a single location. See Deep Space 9 , seed phase.

Unless otherwise indicated, missions and time locations are not duplicatable. (See seed phases - mission phase).

Unique sites are "unique per station." That is, each Nor is limited to one of each kind of Site card. Universal  sites may exist in multiple on each Nor.

Two of Seventeen (Unity Drone)

This personnel allows your Borg to share CUNNING in the hive.

Example: You have an Away Team on a planet consisting of three Borg, with a total CUNNING of 15:

- Bio-Med Drone, , CUNNING 5
- Tactical Drone, , CUNNING 5
- Talon Drone, , CUNNING 5.

You have a Borg ship at a neighboring spaceline location with the following crew aboard, with a total CUNNING of 17:

- Astrogation Drone, , CUNNING 7
- Guard Drone, , CUNNING 5
- Unity Drone, , CUNNING 5

If you bring the ship to the planet location (in the same hive), the CUNNING of the ship's crew is added to the total CUNNING of the Away Team, giving the Away Team a total CUNNING of 32 when facing a dilemma. Likewise, the Away Team's CUNNING is added to that of the ship's crew, so the crew has an effective total CUNNING of 32. This has no effect on the CUNNING of each individual Borg.

If the Bio-Med Drone is now killed, so there is no longer a  Borg on the planet, the Away Team now has a total CUNNING of only 10, and the ship's crew has a total CUNNING of only 17.

universal

See unique and universal.

universe

See mirror universe.

unopposed

Your personnel are unopposed if there are no opposing personnel on the same planet surface, aboard the same ship, or present with them aboard the same facility. Your ship is unopposed if there are no opposing ships at the same location. A site is unopposed if there are no opposing ships or personnel at that site.

until any

See Q-icon cards.

use (equipment)

When equipment says "[Characteristic] use only," a personnel with that characteristic must be present to activate the rest of the card's gametext. Once a "use only" requirement is met (even by a single personnel present), the gametext applies to all personnel specified by the card. For example:

- If your Cardassian or  personnel is present, Cardassian Disruptor ("Cardassian and Non-Aligned use only") enhances the STRENGTH of all personnel present.
- Bat'leth, on the other hand ("Each of your Klingons present is STRENGTH + 2..."), has no "use only" restriction, but it enhances only Klingons present.

Stealing an equipment removes any "use only" restrictions it has.

Even if some gametext on an equipment card is not activated due to a "use only" restriction, it may still be used for other purposes, like donating to a Kressari Rendezvous, destroying a Bajoran Shrine, running cargo with Bok'Nor, or overcoming Oh No!.

Your personnel are "using" equipment, for Shrouded Assailant, Organ Theft, etc., as long as they are present (any "use only" restrictions on that equipment applying only to its gametext).

See does not use, Echo Papa 607 Killer Drone, Study Plasma Storm, affiliation and species (for the meaning of words like "Cardassian" and "Klingon").

use (ship or facility)

When gametext states that one affiliation (or personnel cards with certain characteristics) may use a ship or facility of a different affiliation, that ship or facility is automatically compatible with those cards. If a ship, it does not need a personnel matching its affiliation to be staffed or to attempt a mission, if its crew contains one of the indicated personnel instead. It is still a ship or facility of its original affiliation, and must abide by that affiliation's attack restrictions.

use (skills)

Regular skills are routinely used to meet requirements, overcome dilemmas, trigger effects, and more, often during the initiation step of another action. When you have more of a regular skill present than a card requires, you may choose which of your personnel contribute skills to it. For example, if Davies and Toby Russel are in a crew that solves Explore Dyson Sphere, you may choose Toby Russel to provide the Physics to solve the mission so she can score points with Assign Mission Specialists .

Special skills that apply general modifiers like, "If on Cha'Joh, it is RANGE + 2," or, "Nullifies Hippocratic Oath  where present," are continuously in effect.

Most other special skills (for example, "May initiate battle against intruders") are used as a normal action. In general, this may be done only on your turn, unless the action is a valid response (for example, "May replace anyone randomly selected to die here") or is expressly allowed on opponent's turn (for example, "May be replaced by another version at any time," "Once every turn, may 'pounce'...").

If a card requires a personnel type such as MEDICAL without specifying a classification or a skill, either suffices. A requirement for multiple levels of a skill, such as Navigation x2, may be met by any combination of Navigation skills on one or more personnel (unless "a personnel with Navigation x2" is specified).

Some cards allow your personnel to "use" a skill like this in place of another skill that they already have. The levels of the original skill may come from any combination of personnel, who are treated as having a fraction of that skill proportional to their contribution. For example, The Art of Diplomacy allows your personnel to use 2 Treachery as if it were 1 Diplomacy. With this card, two personnel who have Treachery can provide 1 Diplomacy (each replaces their Treachery with Diplomacy x1/2), while another personnel who has Treachery x2 can provide another Diplomacy (Treachery x2 is replaced with Diplomacy x1). See skills - skill multipliers. On a mission specialist, this counts as "using" a specialist skill for Assign Mission Specialists. A personnel may not use their skill as the new skill and the replaced skill simultaneously.

V'Ger

You score the points if you meet the requirements during the attempt. If you do, place it in your bonus point area.

Valeris

See Rulebook 7.9: Infiltrate, skills.

Vantika's Neural Pathways

See Rulebook 12.12.0.1: Necessity and Card Inspection.

Versatile Vessel: Crew Transport

As established by Rescue Personnel's gametext, a ship is not a valid target for this event unless it is docked at a facility in the Alpha Quadrant, and the Away Team targeted by the downloaded Rescue Personnel must be on a planet.

version

A "version" of a personnel refers to any true version of that specific persona. For example, Elim Garak, Elim, Mr. Garak, and Plain, Simple Garak are all versions of the Elim Garak persona. Thus, Plain, Simple Garak may be replaced at any time by Elim Garak, Elim or Mr. Garak.

Garak and Security Chief Garak are not true versions of the Elim Garak persona, and may not replace Plain, Simple Garak.

Vic Fontaine

As with most special downloads, the card downloaded must be played immediately; thus, a card which cannot be played (such as a mission) may not be downloaded with this personnel.

This personnel cannot download an artifact or  card. See Rulebook 6.5.3: Downloading.

When a dilemma encounter involving Vic is affected by Mission Fatigue, it is the affected dilemma, not Mission Fatigue , that is responsible for stopping the personnel.

Vidiian Harvester

Warped Space

Any card that moves like a ship with RANGE, such as Calamarain or The Sheliak, uses the span on the end toward the moving card's owner.

Wartime Conditions

This event may be played on any turn after the initial attack (not necessarily immediately after the attack). It applies to both players while in play.

We Look For Things

When you discard this incident to "acquire" a card enhancing the attributes of an opposing ship, you must immediately place the card in play. An Equipment card is relocated to your Pakled ship; an Event card is played on your side of the table or on one of your suitable ships at the location, as appropriate.

Weak Spot

See attribute enhancements.

WEAPONS

You cannot use your ship's or facility's WEAPONS for any purpose unless it is uncloaked, unphased, and undocked, its WEAPONS are greater than zero, and you have a matching personnel aboard. "Using WEAPONS" includes satisfying the requirements of any card requiring WEAPONS, such as Outgunned or Refuse Immigration.

To fire its WEAPONS in battle, the ship or facility must not be "stopped." (A card targeted by an attack is automatically "unstopped" and thus may return fire.)

Unless returning fire or counter-attacking, the ship or facility must also have a leader (Borg must have a  Borg instead) in its crew, and must not have any affiliation attack restrictions that prevent it from firing at the target.

If the requirements to solve a mission include ship's WEAPONS above a certain level (e.g., Ambush Ship), and it does not say "total WEAPONS," then the single attempting ship must provide the WEAPONS requirement. If the requirements to attempt or solve a mission include "total WEAPONS" above a certain level (e.g., Intercept Maquis), that total may be provided by any of your compatible ships at that location.

The Whale Probe

This dilemma places cards in stasis when it is first placed on the mission; when it moves to a new location at the end of every turn; and when any ship or personnel moves to or appears at its location. See far end of spaceline.

Where No One Has Gone Before

Only one copy of this event is needed to affect all spacelines. However, it does not allow movement between quadrants (see Rulebook 7.1.7: Move Between Quadrants).

White Deprivation

Personnel who have a  icon suffer "white deprivation" when this incident is in play, unless they have Ketracel-White  Equipment cards present to prevent it.

Your white-deprived personnel will attack even captives (belonging to either player) if present. You may not prevent them from fighting by using cards such as Emergency Transporter Armbands, Prepare Assault Teams, I'm a Doctor Not a Doorstop, Smoke Bomb, etc.

When your own personnel are attacking each other, even though they are separate assault teams they are still a single crew or Away Team. Thus, cards that affect the battle (such as hand weapons) apply to both teams. Echo Papa 607 Killer Drones do not participate in battles caused by white deprivation.

One Ketracel-White card in a crew or Away Team prevents white deprivation for any number of  personnel.

A disabled Jem'Hadar (including a captive) cannot initiate battle, but if white-deprived is still subject to death by random selection.

works only with

See does not work with.

Wormhole

Wormholes allow movement between quadrants or time travel between the spaceline and a time location (or between two time locations); the movement uses no RANGE. Thus, you may move your ship with Wormholes even if it has no RANGE remaining (but not if affected by a card that says the ship may not move) or if there is no adjacent location to move to.

The same player must play both Wormholes (i.e., your opponent may not "complete" your Wormhole with their own to redirect your ship).

If your second Wormhole is nullified, the first is also nullified unless you immediately play another Wormhole.

A ship always emerges from a Wormhole in space, not landed or in any other place such as a shuttlebay. See exposed.

wormholes - movement through Moving through a pair of Bajoran Wormhole  doorways, or travel through the Barzan Wormhole, can be part of a single movement action to the mouth of the wormhole and through it (continuing along the spaceline upon exit if Wormhole Navigation Schematic is played at Bajoran Wormhole .

worth points

A card that is "worth points" while some condition is met does not score those points each turn; it scores positive points when the condition is first met and scores negative points equal to the earlier point gain if the condition ceases to be met. For example, you score 20 points once with Dr. Tolian Soran, when he is placed under The Nexus. If he leaves The Nexus, you score -20 points because he is no longer worth points. On the other hand, if your opponent plays Khan! when Dr. Tolian Soran first enters The Nexus, nullifying those bonus points, you score 0 points when he enters, and a corresponding -0 points if he leaves.

Writ of Accountability

Activating this incident to place it on a  FCA personnel already in play is a valid response to any of the actions that cause your opponent to lose the game. Activating it to download an FCA personnel is not a valid response to those actions and thus may be done only after your opponent's action is complete, and only if your opponent did not already win the game by completing his action.

For purposes of this incident, you have not used your own dilemma to score points if your opponent's action directly caused you to score points from that dilemma. For example, if your opponent "posts bail" for a captive taken by your Mandarin Bailiff, or his personnel dies with your Vendetta in play on it, you did not use that dilemma to score points.

If you score points by wagering a dilemma with Dabo, you have used that dilemma to score points. See Horga'hn , winning the game, stasis.
